"CANADA" is the only newspaper which has always published each week since the outbreak of war the full official lists of rank and file casualties, without any mutilation or curtailment.

"CANADA'S" biographical notes on officers are by far the most complete that are published, and its records of Canadians serving in Imperial units are a unique feature.

"7 o'clock" Safety Razor.

A really dependable razor at a popular price. It opens flat, and can be stropped without removing the blade. This construction also overcomes the difficulty of cleaning, which is the bugbear of so many safety razors.

Strongly made, heavily silvered, and with blades that cannot be surpassed, it is used by many men who could afford a far more expensive razor, but prefer the simple efficiency of the "7 o'clock." The Standard Set consists of heavily silver-plated stropping razor, six finest lancet steel blades, the whole in handsome case, with strop in hinged partition, and the price is 10/6.

A Stirring Record of Heroism During Attacks.

The Victoria Cross, it was announced in a "London Gazette" Supplement, dated Friday, September 27, has been awarded to the undermentioned seven Canadians

Lt. James Edward Tait, M.C., late Manitoba R.

For most conspicuous bravery and initiative in attack. The advance having been checked by intense machine-gun fire, Lt. Tait rallied his company and led it forward with consummate skill and dash under a hail of bullets. A concealed machine gun, however, continued to cause many casualties. Taking a rifle and bayonet, Lt. Tait dashed forward alone and killed the enemy gunner. Inspired by his example, his men rushed the position, capturing twelve machine guns and twenty prisoners His valorous action cleared the way for his battalion to advance.

Later when the enemy counter-attacked our positions under intense artillery bombardment, this gallant officer displayed outstanding courage and leadership, and, though mortally wounded by a shell, continued to direct and aid his men until his death.

Lt. John Brillant, M.C., late Quebec R.

For most conspicuous bravery and outstanding devotion to duty when in charge of a company which he led in attack during two days with absolute fearlessness and extraordinary ability and initiative, the extent of the advance being twelve miles.

On the first day of operations, shortly after the attack had begun, his company left flank was held up by an enemy machine gun. Lt. Brillant rushed and captured the machine gun, personally killing two of the enemy crew. Whilst doing this he was wounded, but refused to leave his command.

Later on the same day his company was held up by heavy machine-gun fire. He reconnoitred the ground personally, organised a party of two platoons, and rushed straight for the machine-gun nest. Here 150 enemy and fifteen machine guns were captured, Lt. Brillant personally killing five of the enemy, and being wounded a second time. He had this wound dressed immediately, and again refused to leave his company.

Subsequently this gallant officer detected a field gun firing on his men over open sights. He immediately organised and led a "rushing" party towards the gun. After progressing about 600 yards, he was again seriously wounded. In spite of this third wound, he continued to advance for some 200 yards more, when he fell unconscious from exhaustion and loss of blood.

Lt. Brillant's wonderful example throughout the day inspired his men with an enthusiasm and dash which largely contributed towards the success of the operations.

424252 Sgt. Raphael Louis Zengel, M.M., Saskatchewan R.

For most conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty when protecting the battalion right flank. He was leading his platoon gallantly forward to the attack, but had not gone far when he realised that a gap had occurred on his flank, and that an enemy machine gun was firing at close range into the advancing line. Grasping the situation, he rushed forward some 200 yards ahead of the platoon, tackled the machine-gun emplacement, killed the officer and operator of the gun, and dispersed the crew. By his boldness and prompt action he undoubtedly saved the lives of many of his comrades.

Later, when the battalion was held up by very heavy machine-gun fire, he displayed much tactical skill and directed his fire with destructive results. Shortly afterwards he was rendered unconscious for a few minutes by an enemy shell, but on recovering consciousness he at once continued to direct harassing fire on the enemy.

Sergt. Zengel's work throughout the attack was excellent, and his utter disregard for personal safety, and the confidence he inspired in all ranks, greatly assisted in bringing the attack to a successful end.

445120 Cpl. Herman James Good, Quebec R.

For most conspicuous bravery and leading when in attack his company was held up by heavy fire from three machine guns, which were seriously delaying the advance. Realising the gravity of the situation, this N.C.O. dashed forward alone, killing several of the garrison and capturing the remainder.

Later on Cpl. Good, while alone, encountered a battery of 5.9-inch guns, which were in action at the time. Collecting three men of his section, he charged the battery under point-blank fire and captured the entire crews of three guns.

1987 Cpl. Frederick George Coppins, Manitoba R.

For conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty when, during an attack, his platoon came unexpectedly under fire of numerous machine guns. It was not possible to advance or to retire, and no cover was available. It become apparent that the platoon would be annihilated unless the enemy machine guns were silenced immediately. Cpl. Coppins, without hesitation and on his own initiative, called on four men to follow him, and leaped forward in the face of intense machine-gun fire. With his comrades he rushed straight for the machine guns. The four men with him were killed and Cpl. Coppins wounded. Despite his wounds, he reached the hostile machine guns alone, killed the operator of the first gun and three of the crew, and made prisoners of four others, who surrendered.

Cpl. Coppins, by this act of outstanding valour, was the means of saving many lives of the men of his platoon, and enabled the advance to be continued.

830651 Pte. (Actg. Cpl.) Alexander Brereton, Manitoba R.

For most conspicuous bravery during an attack, when a line of hostile machine guns opened fire suddenly on his platoon, which was in an exposed position and no cover available. This gallant N.C.O. at once appreciated the critical situation, and realised that unless something was done at once the platoon would be annihilated. On his own initiative, without a moment's delay, and alone, he sprang forward and reached one of the hostile machine-gun posts, where he shot the man operating the machine gun and bayonetted the next one who attempted to operate it, whereupon nine others surrendered to him.

Cpl. Brereton's action was a splendid example of resource and bravery, and not only undoubtedly saved many of his comrades' lives, but also inspired his platoon to charge and capture the five remaining posts.

445312 Pte. John Bernard Croak, late Quebec R.

For most conspicuous bravery in attack when having become separated from his section he encountered a machine-gun nest, which he bombed and silenced, taking the gun and crew prisoners. Shortly afterwards he was severely wounded, but refused to desist.

Having rejoined his platoon, a very strong point, containing several machine guns, was encountered. Private Croak, however, seeing an opportunity, dashed forward alone, and was almost immediately followed by the remainder of the platoon in a brilliant charge. He was the first to arrive at the trench line, into which he led his men, capturing three machine guns and bayonetting or capturing the entire garrison.

The perseverance and valour of this gallant soldier, who was again severely wounded, and died of his wounds, were an inspiring example to all.

NEARER THE GOAL.

THE news of great and satisfying victory has come from so many parts of the vast battlefield during these last wonderful days that our people might almost have been excused had exultation assumed the place of relief and solemn thankfulness. But, true to our race and to its mighty dead, no foolish shouts have tarnished Press or platform.

After great travail and the heavy crossing during four grievous years of successive valleys of gloom and menace the soldiers of the Great Crusade are at last seen to have reached the uplands where in generous rivalry of valour this great host of Freemen are now surrounding and storming the vital defences of the Blonde Beast. Our thoughts are naturally more particularly concentrated on the few thousand yards of the battle line where the Canadian divisions day by day have stormed onwards to their set objectives. The capture of Bourlon Wood and the storming of the strong defences of the Canal du Nord have added fresh laurels to the corps. The Prussian Guard were employed to check the onrush of our men, but they would not be held or turned back. The price which the Dominion has had to pay for this new blow for peace is not yet fully known, but many brave souls have crowned their life's work in this fierce fighting.

The spectacular victories in the Eastern theatres of war must not lead us to indulge in easy hopes of similar achievements on the Western front. Although the principle of the single command and the co-ordinated offensive is producing such excellent results, there cannot but be much bitter fighting before the Hun feels forced to imitate the Bulgar. Until the Hun is flung back to his own territory we can look for no relief in the strain of our efforts. The brutal arrogance of the Blonde Beast is no whit restrained by his reverses. Callously and deliberately he destroys as he vacates, hoping until the end that such wholesale destruction may extort terms from his foes. He has announced his intention to hang the pilots of enemy machines who carry propaganda into his lines—so greatly does he fear the truth reaching his cannon fodder. Until the wild beast is encaged in double bars there is no security in this world for free and peaceful men.

Canadians in hospital are always asking for "Canada," so that they can follow the fortunes of their pals; therefore, when you have finished with your copy you cannot do better than post it to the Canadian Red Cross Society, York Hotel, Berners Street, Oxford Street, W.1.

THE CANADIAN MARKET.

IN the midst of the war, the report of H.M. Trade Commissioner at Montreal on the trade of Canada is apt to be overlooked. It is, however, of importance not only as a record of the past year (1917), but because of its useful suggestions for the future. The facts and figures it contains will well repay study on both sides of the Atlantic.

Last year was, of course, so far as the commercial situation is concerned, mainly conditioned by war activities. The entry of the United States into the war added to the already large volume of munition and kindred orders placed in Canada. While British manufacturers continued unable to resume their former activities and to supply the demands from overseas, one result of the appearance of the Americans among the belligerents was to make Canada more than ever dependent upon her own resources in industries connected with the manufacture of articles of personal or household necessity.

As is well known, Canada's statesmen and business leaders are not only keeping a watchful eye on the present situation, but are urging the manufacturers of the Dominion to look ahead, and to take steps to organise for an intense production to meet requirements, when the war ceases, of the home and export markets. As the Commissioner rightly points out, the prosperity of Canada will depend upon several factors:—(a) the happy development of its agricultural and natural resources; (b) the extension of its home manufactures; and (c) the development of an export trade in goods, which the Dominion may be able to produce more cheaply and still more economically than its competitors. It must be remembered, too, as the report says, that the extension of Canadian manufactures will depend very largely upon the introduction of foreign capital, and the amount available for this purpose will depend upon the situation which will prevail in the money markets of the world when the general settling day arrives. The export trade which Canada has now secured, after the most laudable and energetic efforts, will depend for its continuance upon the competition met with from other countries.

So far as the British manufacturer is concerned, H.M. Commissioner is of opinion that not only will there probably be large purchasing power available in the Dominion to purchase British productions of a kind suitable for Canada, but United Kingdom manufacturers, when the war ceases and labour is once more available for peaceful purposes, should have no fear that they will not be able to regain the businesses which they have been compelled to relinquish during the war, provided they maintain their system of supplying goods above reproach at reasonable prices. Those British firms who wish to regain their Canadian trade, and those who wish to enter the Canadian market in competition with the manufacturers of the United States and Japan, are urged to obtain a clear understanding of the task which lies before them. With this end in view the Commissioner repeats advice which has been contained in previous trade reports as to representation in Canada, cataloguing, etc., on lines which have often been laid down in Canada in earlier years. Certainly no British manufacturer who desires to extend his business across the Atlantic in happier days can afford to ignore it.

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

Courage and Finance.

A very noteworthy speech was made by the Chancellor of the Exchequer on Monday, when he inaugurated the campaign for the raising of the second thousand million pounds of war bonds by weekly subscription. He revealed the risks taken by the War Cabinet when they agreed that Marshal Foch should weaken the British Front for his strategic defensive in July—a decision of great courage and high confidence. He reminded us that the men of the British Empire since then had restored to France 1,000 square miles of her territory, and had taken 120 000 prisoners.

We have lent our Allies 1,600 million pounds, and, to do so, have mortgaged to America all our available securities. But, not content with bearing the main financial burden of the war, the British Empire has suffered in the common cause more casualties in killed and wounded during the past two years than any of the Allies. When this is remembered, and also the outstanding part played by the British Navy and mercantile marine, we may justly be proud and thankful.

Seven New V.C.s. Everyone knows that, for one V.C. awarded, a dozen have been as gallantly earned, since chance or circumstance may so easily prevent the requisite verification. But those who win the proudest decoration of a soldier are the only ones who will ever question the merit of their achievement. This week we have the pleasure to record the names of seven Canadians who have won the Cross, which brings the total up to 38 won by the Canadian Corps. In addition, several Canadians in Imperial units have also won the supreme distinction.

In all these seven cases the Cross was given for the courage and self-sacrifice shown in attacking machine guns. Each of these men, at the most imminent risk of his own life, succeeded in silencing the guns and saving the lives of many of their comrades. Out of the seven, only four have survived to wear their well-earned distinction. Initiative, leadership and unflinching courage distinguished all these men, of whom their comrades and their country are so justly proud.

* * *

Canadian Nurses. Last week we published the names of six brave Canadian nurses—a matron and five nursing sisters—to whom the Military Medal had been awarded for "gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid." The bare official record of the deeds indicates how deserving they were of recognition. No little surprise and indignation have been expressed, however, at the nature of the decoration awarded.

The Royal Red Cross, it should be noted, is a decoration strictly relating to nursing services. Among soldiers, the Military Medal is given to members of the rank and file, and is a recognition of services not always rendered under fire; whereas Canadian matrons and nursing sisters hold the honorary ranks of captain and lieutenant respectively. The lowest decoration given to commissioned officers in the Army is, of course, the Military Cross. It is surely an absurd anomaly that while medical officers and chaplains are awarded nothing less than the Military Cross, nurses—who, while also noncombatants, are nowadays exposed to such great risks—should be given the Military Medal for bravery clearly within the defined category of "services in action."

* * *

The Air Force in Canada. The announcement that an Air Service is being formed for the Canadian Navy has raised some acute discussions in Canada. Naturally many of the boys training in the R.A.F. at Toronto are anxious to transfer and serve under the Maple Leaf, but this cannot be permitted.

The remedy is obvious. Canada can take over the whole of the R.A.F. plant and aerodromes from the British Government at cost, and thus lay the foundation for its future Air Service, both naval and military, and put an end to a position which is every day becoming more difficult. It is fully recognised that Canada was not well advised in refusing to form its own Air Service and bear its cost in the earlier years of the war, but it is not too late now to remedy the mistake.

Rivalry Undesirable. Rivalry and competition between the R.C.N. and the R.A.F. in Canada for machines, mechanics and pilots is in every way undesirable. Moreover, the experience in this country has shown that the separation of military and naval air services is unwise and uneconomical. Since Canada has seen the necessity of its own air service for its Navy, it should not repeat this mistake, but should inaugurate both services at the same time, and the way to do so is plain.

Training of Our Airmen. The training of our airmen has been the subject of a series of interesting articles appearing during the last few days in the newspapers throughout the Mother Country. They trace the evolution of the flier from his enlistment, through all the different stages that lead to his securing his wings. Not the least interesting of the stages is his first training school, where he discovers that he must become a soldier before he becomes an airman. There, as Canadians well know, he meets a young Canadian General, full of enthusiasm and energy.

General Critchley's ideals and methods (which were recently described in Canada) are admirably set forth in the particularly well-written articles appearing in the Daily Chronicle, whose writer says:—

> No praise is too high for this young General and his passionate zeal, his ringing enthusiasm, his consecration of mind and body, to the Empire's service. He does for "Icarus" in a few weeks what the drill sergeant did for the recruit in a matter of months. He makes splendid soldiers—soldiers of whom the Empire may well be proud.

The writer was particularly struck with the new conception of loyalty presented to the youth—loyalty to the highest in the man himself, loyalty to his nation, loyalty to stern ideas, loyalty to the future of mankind—and the effects of this teaching on morality. His only criticism is that this military zeal should be "tempered by our tradition of Englishness," and that, in learning to become a soldier "Icarus" should not be taught "to hoot a defeated side in a game or to sing monstrous songs of a bloodthirsty character." This exaggeration, no doubt, serves to convey the writer's point of view, but it is hardly just to General Critchley—or to Canadian baseball "rooters."

* * *

Who More Worthy? We are glad to learn that the campaign in Canada for raising money for the Sailors' Fund was so successful. Sir Wilfrid Laurier most truly said that nothing in the way of heroism and sacrifice on the battlefield is superior, if indeed equal, to that of the men of the Mercantile Marine.

When we remember the awful sufferings in open boats far from land of men often wounded by shell fire or explosion before reaching their boats, no words can overpraise the courage and fortitude that have been displayed month after month by British seamen.

Showing the Way. The Daughter Nations have all through the war set an example to the Mother Country in their strong but wise treatment of all forms of enemy interest or defeatist influence. Australia has made a thorough purge of all German trade interests. Canada has sternly dealt with treason or sedition. Recently action has been taken to suppress every kind of publication printed in the language of enemy countries, and a new Order-in-Council proscribes all organisations of a pacifist or anarchic tendency.

It is now a crime in Canada to belong to, or even to attend a meeting of, the I.W.W. and other revolutionary and Bolshevik organisations. These poisonous societies are still permitted to spread their propaganda in the foolishly tolerant Mother Country, which has so long been the paradise for cranks and anarchists.

* * *

Quebec Marriage Laws. That foreign countries have different marriage laws from those prevailing in England is well known. It is not, however, generally realised that the same holds good with regard to the Province of Quebec. It is of importance that this fact should not be overlooked, for not a few officers and men from that Province, like their comrades from all over Canada, marry English girls.

Where there is property in question, a correspondent points out to us, it is of the utmost importance that a properly executed marriage contract should be drawn up before the marriage takes place, in order to establish, without fear of the question being raised in the future, the status of property separately held. According to the English law, both husband and wife continue to have separate estates after marriage; but according to the Quebec law, the property is held in common. As a result, should the husband, for example, happen to get into business difficulties, money that had belonged to the wife would be liable to seizure to meet the husband's business liabilities.

The contract must, of course, be made before marriage. It can be executed by any English solicitor, but it is satisfactory to know that, thanks to the efforts of the Agent-General for Quebec, steps are being taken for the inclusion on the staff of the Estates Branch, O.M.F.C., of a lawyer from the Province familiar with the intricacies of its marriage laws.

FAMOUS CANADIAN SNIPER KILLED.

L.-Cpl. H. Norwest, M.M.

Norwest, the famous Indian sniper of an Alberta battalion, met his death on August 18, while, with two other snipers, he was endeavouring to locate a nest of enemy snipers who had been causing trouble to the advanced posts of our front-line companies.

Norwest's record of 115 observed hits by no means represents the havoc he has caused to the enemy, as on many occasions he doubtless caused casualties and would not claim hits unless his observer was present and confirmed them.

Although a dead-shot, his success was a result of his patience and unusual hunting ability. He would wait for days to get his man, and would never fire unless his position was secure from observation by the enemy. No man's land was his favourite haunt, and on many occasions he actually penetrated the enemy lines under cover of darkness, got in his work at early dawn, and returned safely to our lines.

Before the recent drive he was detailed to remain at the transport lines, as he had never missed a trip in his two years in France, but he pleaded so hard to be allowed to go that he went into the attack and was of invaluable assistance in clearing out many machine-gun posts and putting enemy snipers out of action.

One who knew him well writes: "Norwest is dead. I doubt if anyone in the Canadian Corps, or in the whole British Army for that matter, had a finer record than he—115 hits observed—115 dead or badly wounded Huns, the efforts of one man.

"He was a very peculiar character—very silent, very intent. As delighted as a child at his successes and as grim as the avenging angel when on his work, I have seen him in his position, waiting for a chance to get a shot, and he reminded me for all the world of a pointer pointing—his whole body tense with eagerness, his whole mind set on his work.

Day after day he would lie out in exposed positions—waiting, waiting. His patience was colossal. No place was too dangerous for him to go, no risks too great to take, so long as he was killing. He won the Military Medal and bar, and richly he earned them. His Indian blood possibly helped him in his work; possibly he inherited his patience and cunning from his hunting forbears.

"He fell at last, shot through the head by a German sniper on the 18th of August, 1918, and was buried at Warvillers, a small village he had helped to wrest from the enemy. The most fitting epitaph that can be put on his grave is the remark that was made by many when they heard of his death: 'It must have been a damned good sniper that got Norwest.'"

THE NEW V.C.s.

The late Lt. Tait was born at Dumfries, Scotland, on May 27, 1888, and went to Canada two years before the outbreak of war. He was a civil engineer, and was for some time engaged in Government survey work at Hudson Bay. He was a well-known boxer in Winnipeg, where he resided. Enlisting in that city in the 100th Winnipeg Grenadiers on February 4, 1916, Lt. Tait went to France on February 18, 1917, and had been wounded three times—in April and September, 1917, and in April, 1918. He was awarded the Military Cross for gallantry at Vimy Ridge. He was killed on August 14. His widow lives in Winnipeg, and his mother in Maxwelltown, Dumfries. To the latter, Lieut.-Colonel Kirkcaldy wrote regarding her son: "He was one of the best officers in my battalion, and the last one I should care to part with. He was a splendid officer, and inspired confidence wherever he was. . . . He was a credit to you and to his race."

The late Lt. Brillant was born at Assametunathaun, Que., on March 15, 1890, and was a telegraph operator. He held a commission in the 89th Regt. of Militia, being attached to the Rimouski Company, and enlisted at Valcartier on September 20, 1916, leaving Canada three days later with the 189th Bn. He had served in France since October 29, 1916. He was wounded on May 28 last, and the announcement of the award of the M.C. was made in last week's Canada. He died of wounds on August 18. His father lives at Bic, Rimouski Co. Que.

Sgt. Zengel was born at Fairbault, Minn., U.S.A., on November 11, 1894, and was a labourer. He enlisted at Shorncliffe on July 16, 1915, and went to France on June 21, 1917, to a Saskatchewan unit. He was awarded the Military Medal in March last. His mother lives at Woolford Station, Alberta.

Cpl. Good was born at Bathurst, N.B., on November 29, 1887, and enlisted in the 55th Bn. at Sussex on June 29, 1915. He went to France on April 15, 1916, joining a Quebec battalion. He was wounded in May, 1916. Before enlisting he was a farmer. His father lives at Bathurst.

Cpl. (now Sgt.) Coppins was born in London (England) on October 26, 1889. Before going to Canada he served for four years in the Royal West Kents. He enlisted in the Canadian cavalry at Valcartier on September 23, 1915; and, going to France on May 14, 1917, joined a Winnipeg battalion. He was wounded in August, 1918.

Cpl. Brereton was born at Oak River, Man., on November 13, 1892, and was a barber. Enlisting in the 144th Bn. at Winnipeg on January 31, 1916, he went to France on February 14, 1917, joining the same unit as Cpl. Coppins. His father lives at Strathclair, Man.

The late Pte. Croak was born at Glace Bay, N.S. (where his father still lives) in June, 1892, and enlisted in the 55th Bn. at Sussex, N.B., on August 7, 1915. He went to France on April 15, 1916, and was killed on August 8 last. He was a labourer before enlistment.

Owing to the heavy casualty lists, we have been regretfully obliged to hold over the concluding instalment of Capt. R. J. Renison's article, "Zero plus Twenty-Four Hours."

CANADIANS' ADVANCE ON CAMBRAI.

Their Share in the Great Battle—Severe Fighting

IN the great series of battles that has been taking place this week on the Western Front, the Canadians, advancing on Cambrai, have borne their full share.

In describing the attack which opened on Friday, on a wide front north of the Sensée River, Sir Douglas Haig said:—"In the left centre the Canadian Corps under the command of Lt.-General Sir A. W. Currie, attacking with the 1st, 3rd, and 4th Canadian Divisions, forced the passage of the Canal du Nord, and captured the villages of Sains-lèz-Marquion and Bourlon, together with the wooded heights of Bourlon Hill. Pressing on beyond this line, with the assistance of the 11th (English) Division, they have made substantial progress towards Raillencourt and Haynecourt.''

A later communiqué stated:—" The 1st Canadian Division, passing beyond Haynecourt, reached the Douai-Cambrai road by nightfall. The 11th Division, passing through the Canadians, pushed rapidly forward a distance of over two miles, capturing Epinoy and Oisy-le-Verger."

On Saturday it was reported:—"Lancashire troops are making progress east of Fontaine-Notre-Dame, operating in conjunction with Canadian troops north of the Bapaume-Cambrai road. Here also the enemy has resisted strongly, and has suffered heavy loss in killed and prisoners. North of the Arras-Cambrai road Canadian and English troops have pushed forward steadily on the east and north. At Raillencourt strong hostile counter-attacks launched by the enemy yesterday evening were beaten back with loss. To-day Canadian troops gained possession of this village, and of the adjoining village of Sailly, together with the trench system running through these villages.''

On Sunday morning it was reported:—"North of the Bapaume-Cambrai road Canadian troops have gained possession of the defence system known as the Marcoing-Masnieres line as far north as Sailly.'' Later:—" On the left of the attack Canadian troops have passed through the defensive system covering Cambrai, on the north-west, and have fought their way forward into the outskirts of the town. Farther north they have captured Sancourt, where heavy German counter-attacks have been beaten off, and English troops have cleared the slopes south of the Canal de Sensée.''

Monday morning's report stated:—" West and north-west of Cambrai the enemy was unable to prevent the progress of our troops, whose advanced detachments have reached the junction of the Arras-Cambrai and Bapaume-Cambrai roads, and have entered the northern suburbs of the town. Heavy losses were inflicted on the enemy in the repulse of determined counter-attacks launched by him in this sector.'' The evening report:—" North of Cambrai the enemy has again resisted our advance strongly, employing considerable forces, and counter-attacking frequently and violently. In spite of his efforts Canadian troops have again made progress in this neighbourhood, capturing prisoners and inflicting heavy losses on the enemy."

Tuesday morning's report stated:—" English and Canadian troops are closing in upon Cambrai, and yesterday captured Proville and Tilloy in the face of strong hostile resistance. Cambrai has been set on fire by the enemy.'' In the evening Sir Douglas Haig reported:—" On the left between Cambrai and the River Sensée our troops have been severely engaged throughout the morning in attack and counter-attack with fresh hostile forces brought up to the battlefield. Notwithstanding this we have made progress east of Tilloy (northern suburb of Cambrai) and in the neighbourhood of Blécourt."

The German communiqué stated that in the afternoon a Canadian division, which had newly been brought into action, succeeded in advancing temporarily to the north and beyond Cambrai to Ramillies, but was thrown back on Tilloy

THE CANADIAN ADVANCE.

The Battle for Bourlon Wood

Mr. J. F. B. Livesay, the Canadian Press correspondent at the Front (whose despatches are issued by the Press Association by arrangement with the Canadian War Records Office), says the Canadian Corps opened the battle for Bourlon Wood—which he describes as strategically, perhaps, the best piece of work the Canadian Corps has done—sharp at 5.20 on the morning of September 27, and before noon was reported to be in complete possession, while other of our troops were sweeping north-east, turning the enemy flank on the Canal du Nord. Mr. Livesay writes as follows:—

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 28.

The Canadian Corps penetrated five miles and captured over 4,000 prisoners and over 100 guns, including two complete batteries with horses and limbers.

The attack was anticipated, but not at the point where it took place. The enemy regarded the line of the Canal du Nord as impregnable. Swamps and flooded areas made the line of the Canal impassable, but immediately east of Inchy is a canal stretch of 3,000 yards still uncompleted and therefore dry. The plan decided upon was to use the 3,000 yards as the handle of a fan, whose ribs would open out once the Canal was passed. It was this fanlike movement that netted the bulk of the prisoners.

Those troops entrusted with the storming of the canal had a sharp and bitter contest. Infantry units from almost every Province of the Dominion took part. All reached their first objectives to the minute and entrenched, while fresh troops passed through them on to further objectives. But the efforts by the infantry would have gone for nought had not the Canadian artillery proved equal to the occasion. Hardly had the battle opened before the Canadian Engineers were engaged in pushing in their light railways for bringing up ammunition and taking out wounded. Their greatest triumph was the bridging of the canal.

The 4th Canadian Division was entrusted with the direct assault on Bourlon Wood. The wood was smothered in a smoke barrage by our batteries, reducing the loss from machine-gun fire to a minimum. Among the opposing troops were the 1st Prussian Guard Reserve Division. Many of these surrendered. The intention was to encircle, not to penetrate. Bourlon Wood, and at the appointed time the prearranged signal told that it was in our hands with a heavy quota of prisoners.

The task given to the 1st Canadian Division once the Canal was stormed, was to drive in to the north-east, keeping in touch with the 4th Division on their right. This combined movement, throwing out a semi-circular salient into the heart of the enemy's defences between Cambrai and Douai created a vulnerable flank on our extreme left. Provision, however, had been made for this by the incorporation in the Canadian Corps of an English Division (the 11th), which had proved itself on many hard fields.

In the Suburbs of Cambrai

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 29.

Our advance continued yesterday against a stiffening enemy defence, fresh divisions having been brought up to defend Cambrai. To-day the enemy fought tenaciously, launching a number of counter-attacks, which in one case gained ground temporarily.

The village of Neuville St. Remy, which is, in fact, the northern suburb of Cambrai, was captured very brilliantly by the 3rd Canadian Division this afternoon. It forms an important link in the chain now being drawn in around the city. Fighting has been exceedingly bitter. From the other side of the Canal du Nord to Neuville St. Remy the Canadian Corps has penetrated 13,000 yards on a present frontage of 9,000 yards. The 3rd Canadian Division stormed the village of Fontaine Notre Dame—an essential strategic point east of Bourlon Wood. Up to noon to-day the captures totalled 5,500 prisoners, including officers of high rank, and 140 guns.

Although our infantry was "leap-frogging" in splendid style, there must come a pause to re-organise and consolidate and to bring up the artillery into new positions. Transport difficulties increased as we drove farther forward. Light railways had to be pushed across the canal up to our lines of support. The enemy was alert to take advantage of this pause to bring up fresh divisions, and to throw them into violent counter-attack. The Prussian Guard are being used against us.

The Canadian Corps has reached the west and north-west suburbs of Cambrai. We are looking down upon this great city this afternoon from the ridge west of St. Olle.

The fighting of the past three days has been full of incident. A Canadian brigadier, not satisfied with the appearance of the situation on our right, rode forward on horseback for a personal front line inspection. He had the bad luck to be slightly wounded, but not before he had made his new dispositions.

It was impossible to take and consolidate Blécourt, which lies in front of our 4th Division, because the village is dominated by the ridge farther south. Nevertheless there is a report that five men of a British Columbia Highland battalion went into the village, and, unaided, secured the surrender of the entire garrison of 200 Boches, whom they marched back into our own lines.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 30.

At six o'clock this morning elements of our 3rd and 4th Divisions advanced from the line they held on the Douai-Cambrai road in a double concerted movement along the twin spurs towards Cuvillers and Ramillies, the immediate objective being to take and consolidate the line of railway. This was successfully accomplished, and the defence appearing weak the movement was pushed in some 1,000 yards east, the object being to exploit to the utmost any disposition the enemy might have of falling back in this sector. Smoke barrages were put down on either flank to protect the movement, but, owing to gales from the west, proved ineffective, with the consequence that enemy machine-gunners from Blécourt on the north, and Tilloy on the south, opened a heavy fire on our troops on the hill tops. At the same time three battalions of the enemy's 22nd Division made a frontal attack. Our troops fell back on the railway. Later in the day we established posts in Tilloy.

In these operations the enemy were served by a greater number of machine-guns than have yet been concentrated on the Canadian front. Our losses were correspondingly heavy, and particularly regrettable were casualties among tried regimental officers. An Eastern British Columbia battalion had its colonel wounded, and its two majors and adjutant killed. A Central Ontario battalion lost all its officers but the commander and one other. The majority of the casualties, however, are more or less light wounds from machine-guns. The enemy showed the utmost resolution in his counter-attacks, but could not dislodge us from the railway.

On our left the 1st Division remained quiet during the day. Yesterday they advanced up to the railway station of Abancourt, but owing to intense machine-gun fire from the heights on either flank fell back to their original line. The importance the enemy attaches to the defence of this area is shown by his concentration of troops. Eight divisions—seven Prussian and one Saxon—are opposed to the Canadian Corps, and though some of them are undoubtedly weak, it makes a very tough proposition, especially when the enemy relies mainly for his defence on a dense screen of machine-gun positions which can be only overcome by intense artillery preparation. Where such defence is resolute, infantry advances can only be made at heavy cost. Our casualties since last Friday have been heavy, but in part they are offset by prisoners, not far short of 6,000.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 1.

Re-inforced by the 56th British Division, which has taken over our left flank south of the Sensée Canal, the Canadian Corps thrust forward early this morning a spearhead into the heart of the enemy defence this side of the Canal d'Escaut. At 5 o'clock a great barrage was laid down along the entire line, and under this concentration much of the enemy's machine-gun system wilted and disappeared. Troops of the 1st, 4th, and 3rd Canadian Divisions, in that order from north to south, jumped off instantly. Five minutes later the enemy laid down a barrage along what had been our front, but it was empty. At this hour (11 a.m.) the attack is going well forward on the grand scale. Much of the high ground, which hindered or enfiladed our advance yesterday, is in our hands. Starting at the north we have captured Abancourt, Bantigny and Blécourt Cuvillers, and the line of the road thence to Ramillies, where we have established a bridgehead on the Canal d'Escaut. North of Cambrai we hold the wood of Morenchies and the Pont d'Aire. The line is reported pushing on and wedging the massed enemy defence into the sharp salient formed by the Sensée and Escaut Canals.

CANADIANS' HARD ORDEAL.

Mr. Percival Phillips, the special correspondent of the Morning Post and Daily Express, says that General von Below sent out the order to the German 17th Army on Monday, "Cambrai must not fall." Writing on Tuesday, he continues:—The Canadians took up his challenge at five o'clock this morning, and drove again, with their full weight, behind a moving screen of red-hot metal towards the Scheldt Canal, north of the town. It is indeed a fight to a finish. Despite severe losses and exhaustion after constant counter-attacks, the Germans still show a spirit of determination, even of ferocity, and they are battling to-day like desperate gamblers who have staked everything on a final throw, with their backs against the walls of Cambrai. The Canadians realise this fully. They have as hard a task as any they have undertaken in the war; they have had severe losses, which they do not try to conceal, while knowing that the enemy's have been greater. They have had reverses which have merely stiffened them. I do not think any British troops have undergone a harder ordeal than that of the Canadians yesterday when they failed to get on.

$257,369 FROM WASTE!

The Record of the Canadian Salvage Corps.

During twelve months the administration of the Canadian Salvage Corps in Great Britain has shown an actual saving in cash to the Canadian people of $257,369. This wonderful and very satisfactory result is due to the collection and conservation of all waste material and the disposal of by-products.

It is not only in reclaiming and utilising by way of a financial gain that the Salvage Department plays an important rôle. It goes further and educates the personnel of all military units to appreciate the value of stores and to understand the proper method of handling equipment. By checking careless methods it has effected enormous savings along these lines. Moreover, it has resulted in a marked improvement in the cleanliness and sanitation of the various camp areas by reason of the despatch with which it disposes of all waste materials and discarded stores.

The Canadian Salvage Corps has led the way in carrying on salvage operations on a large scale. The work it has accomplished has earned the praise of the National Salvage Council, the Imperial War Office and other allied administrations. The Imperial Army on the introduction of salvage activities appointed a Commission to investigate the various methods of the Canadian Salvage Department, adopting the latter after a thorough investigation.

Lt. Wm. Shove, D.C.M., of Edmonton, was married on September 21 to Miss Lilian Ratcliff, of Bexhill. Capt. (Rev.) A. Gillies Wilken, C.T.S., was one of the officiating clergy.

Pte. H. B. Guest, E. Ont., who has been wounded, was before enlistment in the Press Gallery at Ottawa, representing two Montreal papers—the Daily Mail and the Evening News.

Miss Dorothy Pearson Twist (30), who came over from British Columbia to nurse, and who died at Cambridge Hospital from pneumonia, was buried at Aldershot with full military honours.

The charge of manslaughter against Pte. John Powers Moore, Canadian Highlanders, who was alleged to have caused the death of a munitions worker by knocking him down with his fist, has been withdrawn by the police, it being stated that, after full investigation, the Coroner's jury had returned a verdict of justifiable homicide.

Lt. Stanley A. Puffer, Alta. Regt. and R.A.F., is at the Shirley Park R.F.C. Hospital, East Croydon, recovering from a breakdown following influenza. The gallant pilot, who holds the French Croix de Guerre, belongs to Lacombe, Alta., and was formerly a student at the University of Alberta. He came overseas with the 31st Batt., was wounded in May, 1916, and on recovering was given a commission. He was flying in France from February to July inclusive, and has eight enemy machines to his credit.

OFFICERS KILLED AND DIED.

Overseas Military Forces of Canada.

Lt. J. Dorney Adams, E. Ont. (died of wounds), was the eldest son of Mr. W. J. H. and Mrs. Adams, 250, Cooper Street, Ottawa. Deceased, who was a well-known athlete, came overseas with the 207th Bn. two years ago. Prior to donning khaki he was on the reporting staff of the Ottawa Free Press.

Lt. Thomas A. Allan, Cent. Ont. (killed), formerly lived in Egremont township, south of Durham, Ont. He was a druggist His uncle, Mr. T. Allan, is principal of Durham High School.

Capt. Gordon H. Applegarth, M.C., Cent. Ont. (killed on August 27), was the son of Mr. F. C. Applegarth, of 538, Avenue Road, Toronto, and a well-known athlete. He was a star hockey player, being a member of the Riversides when they won the Senior O.H.A. championship two years ago, and was also useful in other branches of athletics. He was 23, came overseas with the 180th Bn., and won the M.C. at Passchendaele for his work as a bombing officer. His brother Fred is a driver in the M.T., C.A.S.C., and has been in France nearly three years.

Lt. Reginald J. Backhus, B.C. (killed), was formerly assistant freight agent of the G.T.P. at Victoria, and for a time purser on the liner Prince Rupert. He came overseas with the cavalry, but on receiving his commission was transferred to a Vancouver infantry unit.

Lt. James G. Bole, C.M.G.C. (killed on August 28), was the son of Mr. W. W. Bole, director of the National Drug and Chemical Co. Deceased, who was a graduate of Toronto University, was a promising young lawyer, and was well known in Western Canada.

Capt. Stanley H. Brocklebank, Sask. (died of wounds), was the son of Mr. David Brocklebank, of Arthur, Ont., and was a graduate of Toronto University. He was a law student when he enlisted with the 71st Bn., and was for some time a member of the staff of the Toronto Star. He was wounded in March and April, 1917, and again last July.

Lt. G. Houghton Coghlan, Cent. Ont. (killed), was a Toronto man who enlisted in Lt.-Col. Burton's "Bantam" battalion. Deceased was educated at Parkdale Collegiate.

Lt. A. Ray Crockett, Man. (killed), was the son of Lt. J. M. Crockett and Mrs. Crockett, of Pleasant Grove, Charlottetown, P.E.I. In civil life he was a farmer, and shortly before coming overseas married a daughter of the late Mr. Amos West, of York.

Lt. Ernest C. Dawson, Man. (killed on August 9), was the eldest son of Mrs. Dawson, 284, Runnymede Road, Toronto. Coming overseas with the C.A.S.C. of the First Contingent, he, after two years' work as an ambulance driver, transferred to the infantry. A brother is training with the R.A.F. Deceased was formerly employed by the Rumely Company.

Lt. P. D. Falconer-Stewart, Man., attd. T.M. Bty. (killed on September 2), was the only son of Mr. W. Falconer-Stewart, formerly of Swinton, Baillieston, Scotland.

Lt. E. Arthur Finn, Alta. (killed), was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Finn, of St. John, N.B. He enlisted in Alberta.

Lt. Gerald S. Fogarty, Que. (killed on September 2), was a Montrealer, and a member of the firm of Fogarty and Patterson. A brother-in-law of the late Lt.-Col. J. V. O'Donohoe, Lt. Fogarty came overseas with the Irish-Canadian Rangers, and was subsequently attached to a Montreal Grenadier unit in France.

Lt. A. M. Fraser, N.S. (died of wounds), was the only son of Mr. J. K. Fraser, of Maisonneuve, P.Q., and in civil life was an employee of the Royal Bank of Canada at Sydney, N.S. He enlisted in the Nova Scotia Highlanders, and came overseas in 1916. Lt. Fraser was 22.

Lt. Norman F. Gammell, E. Ont. (killed on August 26), was the son of Mr I. Gammell, vice-rector of the Montreal High School, and Mrs. Gammell. He came overseas as a private in the 4th Universities Company, reinforcing the P.P.C.L.I., was wounded in June, 1916, and subsequently received his commission. His brother, Capt. Allan Gammell, invalided home after long service, is on the staff of the D.A.G. at Ottawa.

Lt.-Col. Stanley Douglas Gardner, C.M.G., M.C. (died of wounds on September 30), until recently commanded the Canadian troops in the Seaford Area. Col. Gardner was a fine type of soldier, and his death will be universally regretted. He had his first practical experience of soldiering as a trooper in the Cape Mounted Rifles, and also saw service in the Natal Rebellion of 1906. As adjutant of the 6th (Duke of Connaught's) Regiment at Vancouver (where he was in the automobile business), he kept close touch with military work, and was one of the first Canadian officers to volunteer for service in the present war. Coming overseas as adjutant of the 7th Battalion, he went through the Second Battle of Ypres and Festabert, sustaining a wound in the lung in the latter engagement. This kept him away from the fighting for about a year, and he returned to France in June, 1916. That month he received his majority, and he was promoted lieut colonel a month later. His old injury reasserting itself, he was evacuated to England, and prior to becoming G.O.C. at Seaford, held commands at Shoreham and Hastings. His C.M.G. was gazetted in June and he was also a Chevalier of the Legion of Honour.

Lt. R. G. Goffin, B.C. (killed), was the son of Mr. B Goffin, managing director of the United Farmers, Ltd., of Port Haney, B.C. He belonged to New Westminster.

Lt. Douglas K. Hamilton, Cent. Ont. (killed), was the eldest son of the Rev. R. D. Hamilton, pastor of Wellington Street Methodist Church, Brantford, from 1912 to 1915. He enlisted in a Brant Battalion in December, 1915.

CAPT. A. M. WILLIAMSON, W. ONT.

Killed.

Lt. D. A. Harris, Cent. Ont. (killed), was the son of Mr and Mrs. Harris, of Oshawa, Ont., and formerly of Browning Avenue, Toronto. Two of his brothers are in France.

Lt. Clifford C. Henderson, C. Ont. (killed on September 2, and previously reported wounded), was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, of Orangeville, Ont., and was 22. Before enlisting in No. 5 Base Hospital in 1915, he was a medical student at Queen's University, Kingston, and was commissioned in the summer of 1917.

Capt. G. Allan McGiffin, Que. (killed), was one of the best known of the younger generation of Canadian newspaper men. He was born in Toronto, the son of Capt. John McGiffin, commodore of the Niagara Navigation Company's fleet. After graduating in political economy he took up journalism, and served on several Toronto journals. Although severely wounded in the chest at Courcelette in 1916, and subsequently invalided home, he insisted on returning to the firing line.

Lt. Harry Stuart Mackenzie, Man. (killed on August 24), came overseas with Lt.-Col. Kirkcaldy's Grenadier battalion. He was a brilliant exponent of hockey, playing in the Allan Cup games of 1914 and 1915. Deceased was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mackenzie, of Kenora, Ont., and has a brother serving.

Lt. C. S. Macpherson, Que. Regt. and R.A.F. (accidentally killed in England on September 17), came overseas with a McGill University Company to the P.P.C.L.I., and later received his commission in the R.C.R., serving with that unit in France until he was seconded for duty with the R.A.F. For some unexplained reason the military authorities did not supply a firing party or band on the occasion of this airman's funeral (on September 21), but all the available Canadian officers attended.

Lt. Clarence G. Weeks, M.C., Cent. Ont. (died of wounds received on August 15), was the son of Mr. C. E. Weeks, manager of the Victoria Loan and Savings Company, Lindsay, Ont., and a brother of Capt. G. A. Weeks, recently invalided home. He was formerly a Toronto druggist, and came overseas in 1916. Gallantry at Passchendaele earned him the Military Cross.

Capt. Adam M. Williamson, W. Ont. (killed on August 30), was at first reported wounded. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Williamson, Tillicoultry, Clackmannanshire, and 26 years of age, he enlisted as a private in February, 1915, and earned promotion to commissioned rank in April, 1917. In October last he married Miss Isa T. Millar, of Tillicoultry, who is at present residing with her parents there.

Lt. H. R. Lindsay Wright, T.M. Bty. (died of wou[illegible] the son of Mr. H. Wright, 584, Avenue Road, Toronto, [illegible] overseas with the 34th Battery in 1915 as a gunner. Imperial Forces.

Lt. Henry Leopold Breakey, R.A.F. (accidentally killed in England), belonged to Revelstoke, B.C., where he was on the staff of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. He enlisted in the infantry early in the war, and was a noted marksman.

Capt. Arthur Paul Forster, K.R.R.C. attd. M.G.C. (died on September 25), was the third son of the late Mr. P. Forster, of Malverleys, Newbury. After taking his B.A. degree at Oxford, he farmed in British Columbia for some years, and returned to England to take a commission immediately on the outbreak of war. Promoted captain in 1915, he was wounded in the lungs the following year, but returned to France five months later. In March, 1917, he contracted pleurisy, but returned to France in August. He was twice mentioned in despatches.

Lt. John C. Fraser, M.C., Grenadier Guards and Guards' M.G. Regt., was drowned last month while proceeding to Canada on leave.

Sec. Lt. H. A. Sutherland, R.A.F. (killed), was formerly a student of the Toronto University. Joining the O.T.C., he was transferred to the R.N.A.S. about a year ago, and received his commission in the R.A.F. last July. His home was in Hamilton.

Sec. Lt. Ralph Frederick Talbot, R.A.F. (killed), was formerly a sergeant in the O.M.F.C. He was given his commission last January.

Capt. Gorge Garden Weir, M.C., R. Scots (drowned last month as the result of enemy action), was the son of the late Mr. Robert Weir, 8, Oswald Road, Edinburgh, director of the Edinburgh Merchant Company. Deceased returned from Montreal (where he had lived for eight years) at the outbreak of war, and rejoined his old battalion, with which he went to Gallipoli, and was mentioned in despatches for gallantry. He was wounded at the second battle of Gaza (Palestine) in 1917, again mentioned in despatches, and received the M.C. last January.

WOUNDED, MISSING, AND PRISONERS.

Lt. L. C. Gilmour, Sask., attd. R.A.F. (Moose Jaw), and Lt. D. G. L. Cunnington are unofficially reported prisoners.

Lt. Douglas G. L. Cunnington, Alberta Regiment (recently officially reported killed while leading his platoon), whose tunic was found on what was believed to be his grave, is, according to a letter from a fellow-prisoner, badly wounded in a German hospital. He comes from Calgary.

The Hon. William Gariepy, Provincial Secretary of Alberta, has resigned from the Cabinet, but retains his seat in the Legislature.

Lt.-Col. T. E. Perrett, of Regina, who was totally blinded by a shell whilst on active service, is returning to Canada, accompanied by his niece, Miss Edina Newlands. Col. Perrett has for some months been in the After-Care Department of St. Dunstan's Hostel, Regent's Park, and it is understood that he will on his return again take up the duties of Inspector of Schools in the Province of Saskatchewan.

Sir Clifford Sifton has arrived in Ottawa from England.

Among the recent departures for Canada have been Mr. F. W. Ashe and Sir Robert Falconer.

Mrs. R. Y. Cory has left England for Holland to join her husband, Major Cory, who has been a prisoner of war since the Second Battle of Ypres, 1915. During her residence in Holland Mrs. Cory will work in the Y.M.C.A. canteen.

Lt.-Col. R. Reid, Agent-General for Ontario, gave a dinner on Friday of last week at the Savoy Hotel in honour of Lt.-Col. the Hon. H. J. Cody, M.P.P., Minister of Education for the Province. Those present included the Lord Mayor of London, the Bishop of London, Lord Beaverbrook, Sir George H. Perley, Sir Gilbert Parker, M.P., Sir Robert Blair, Lt.-General Sir R. E. W. Turner, V.C., D.S.O., Major-General G. L. Foster, C.B., Brig.-General D. M. Hogarth, C.M.G., D.S.O., Brig-General J. G. Ross, C.M.G., Lt.-Col. Donald Armour, C.M.G., Dean Inge, Col. the Rev. J. M. Almond, C.M.G., Dr. W. S. Miller, and Mr. R. L. Defries, of Toronto.

Lt.-Col. H. G. Mayes, Director of the Canadian Army Gymnastic Staff, has been appointed adviser to the Air Ministry on the physical and athletic training of the Royal Air Force. Col. Mayes, whose manual on bayonet fighting has been issued under the authority of the War Office, has largely contributed to the fine fighting qualities of the Canadian Forces, his theory being that no man can be an efficient soldier unless thoroughly fit, and that courage largely comes from confidence in the fighting weapons. A believer in the "spirit of the bayonet," by the constant use and practice of that weapon he brings his men into condition by every kind of sport, notably boxing, as being the best means of cultivating the combative idea. A Winnipeg man, Col. Mayes was before the war a prominent lawn tennis and polo player. He came overseas as a captain in the Fort Garry Horse in 1914, and for the past three years has served in an administrative capacity.

The British Women's Patriotic League, of which Lady Campbell is chairman, has arranged a series of lectures for the autumn dealing with different parts of the British Empire. Lord Morris and Sir George Perley have promised to speak on Newfoundland and Canada respectively. The present series of lectures will be given at South Lodge, Lady Llangattock's house in Rutland Gate, and is under the immediate patronage of Princess Louise.

Mr. Joseph Martin, Liberal M.P. for East St. Pancras, recently adopted Labour candidate for South Islington, writes to a friend: "As the election is adjourned till January, I am off to Vancouver on business, returning in two month

On Saturday last at the Guildhall, after the election of Alderman Sir Horace Marshall as Lord Mayor from November 9 next, Lord Burnham moved, and the Hon. Gilbert Johnstone seconded, a vote of thanks to Sir Charles A. Hanson for his services during his year of office. Sir Charles Hanson, in reply, said his ideal was to maintain untarnished the reputation of his office, to maintain intact the influence of the high office in its relation not only to the Corporation, to the United Kingdom, and the British Empire, but to the wide world. Lord Southwark proposed, and Mr. J. G. Colmer, C.M.G., Master of the Pattenmakers' Company, seconded a vote of thanks to the retiring Sheriffs—Capt. Sir G. R. Blades and Sir H. F. Hepburn.

ENGAGEMENTS AND MARRIAGES.

At the Church of St. Joseph, Quebec, on September 25, Jeannette, daughter of the Hon. Dr. H. S. Béland, was married to Mr. Victor Mathieu. Miss Béland was interned in Belgium for nearly three years.

* *

The marriage took place, very quietly, at St. James's Church, Piccadilly, London, on Thursday, September 19, of Lt. Frederick W. Campbell, Canadian Infantry (Toronto), and Marguerite Pauline Vivian Hicks, of Winnipeg.

Many Canadians will be interested in the engagement of the Rev. W. Jackson Torrance, M.A., Vicar of St. Osmund's, Parkstone, Dorset, to Miss Helen Garham, daughter of Brig.-General Graham, Royal Marines, Chatham. Mr. Torrance, who served as a chaplain at the Front for about a year and a half, is a member of the Torrance family, of Montreal, and has been living in England since he first entered Oxford.

At St. Mary's Church, Reading, on Friday, September 27, the wedding took place of Capt. Colin Mackay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Mackay, of St. John, N.B., and Jeannette Drysdale Bridges, V.A.D., daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Bridges, also of St. John. The bride, who is a member of the First Canadian Contingent of V.A.D.s who left Canada in 1916, is at present a member of the nursing staff of the Reading War Hospital, and will resume her duties there after a short honeymoon. She was married in uniform, and was given away by her brother, Capt. E. Stanley Bridges, at present on leave. Capt. Mackay is acting C.O. of a Canadian Siege Battery in France. The ceremony was of a very quiet nature, owing to a recent bereavement in the groom's family. The only guests present were Lt. Atwood Bridges, brother of the bride; N/S. Ferguson, Q.A.I.M.N.S.; Miss Mary MacLaren, V.A.D.; Miss M. Macgregor Crocket, V.A.D.; and Miss E. Brook Bailey, V.A.D.

CANADA'S OVERSEAS MILITARY FORCES.

Recruiting Passes the Half-Million Mark—Notes for Officers and Men.

IT is officially announced that Canada has passed the half-million mark in recruiting by a very large margin, 581,559 men having enlisted in the Canadian Expeditionary Force since the beginning of the war.

Routine Order 4697 states that paid Lance appointments granted in the Field, with an authorised establishment, will in future be retained, with pay, by the holder until discharge, subject always to reversion at the discretion of the C.O. This does not apply to Lance appointments granted in the United Kingdom, which are acting only.

The Second Canadian Tank Battalion, which has been organising at Petawawa Camp, is now nearly ready (announces the Daily Record). The personnel is drawn from artillery units in training there, and Major M. K. Cameron is in command.

Routine Order 4698 lays down that on arrival from Canada on draft all soldiers holding acting rank will be immediately reverted to their permanent grade. Only soldiers who were previously confirmed in their ranks in England or France are to be regarded as holding substantive rank.

All officers and other ranks who have been awarded the Albert Medal are now entitled to add the letters "A.M." after their names.

Changes at Argyll House

Several changes have recently taken place at Argyll House. Major John A. McAughey, O.B.E., who has held the appointment of D.A.A.G. in the A.M.S. Branch for the past two years, is now in France. Major George A. Ferguson (Saskatoon), late D.A.A.G. in the A.G.2 Branch, has also left for France, Lt. Hume Blake taking his place at London Headquarters. Capt. E. A. H. Martin, of Hamilton, has proceeded Overseas. and Capt. J. W. Coupe, who recently held a Staff appointment in France, has taken over the duties of D.A.A.G. in A.G.3 Branch. Capt. A. B. Smith (Saskatoon), formerly machine-gun officer of a battalion of the Saskatchewan Regt., has been appointed a Staff captain in A.G.1 Branch, and Lt. J. C. Heaton, of Montreal, has taken the place of Lt. George M. Paton, Winnipeg, who is now at the 15th Reserve Bn., Bramshott.

Seaford Cadets' Club.

The cadets of the Seaford Area now have their own clubhouse, which was opened at Telesmaure House on Wednesday. The club has been organised under Y.M.C.A. auspices. The entertaining at the formal opening was in the hands of a committee, of which Cadet C. P. Hotchkiss was chairman and Cadet J. M. Bloomfield was secretary.

Soldiers' Assigned Pay.

An amendment to Routine Orders (says the Daily Record) states that increases or reductions in the amount of assigned pay, due to promotion, reduction or reversion in rank, will be made from the first of the month following that in which the change of rank takes place. Changes in the amount of assignment at the soldier's own request are not permitted more frequently than once in six months.

The Khaki University.

The Khaki University of Canada has this week been granted military establishment. This fact will enable work under the new scheme to make considerably greater progress than in the past. Dr. H. M. Tory, the president, and other members of the University staff will in consequence of the new status be given military rank.

Notes on Officers.

Lt. C. C. Thompson, 1st C. Ont., has returned to Canada for duty.

Lt. F. D. Campbell, W. Ont., and Lt. A. R. Jones, Sask., have returned to Canada, the former permanently unfit and the latter unfit for six months.

H/Lt.-Col. (Rev.) A. W. Woods, D.S.O., Capt. G. F. Wade C.A.M.C., and Lt. D. Douglas, Man., have been returned home on compassionate grounds.

The experience of Mr. Donald Macmaster, K.C., M.P., in growing corn at his home at Merlewood, Virginia Water, proves how erroneous is the idea that the cereal cannot be produced in this country. Numerous Canadians who have tasted the green corn from Merlewood have pronounced it equal to anything they have ever eaten in Canada or the United States.

PELMANISM AT THE FRONT

By "TABS."

I am not the "Forgetful Subaltern," who once wrote about Pelmanism. I don't even know him. Still, I think I must be his first cousin, or, at any rate, a near relative.

But let me tell my story. It is quite a short one:

Some months ago I happened to be quartered in a miserable little out-of-the-way village, close to Ypres. As it is still of strategical importance, I will not give its real name, but will call it Lyngebosche. This is near enough, since practically every place in that unpleasant part of the world begins or ends with "Lynge," and certainly has a "Bosche" in it somewhere (even if only behind barbed wire).

* * * * *

I had been wading about in mud and blood all day, and was feeling dog tired. However, there is no rest for the weary—at any rate in Flanders. That evening, accordingly, the telephone bell rang me up in my billet.

"Where's that return you should have rendered this afternoon?" demanded a choleric brigadier.

"Which one?" I temporised, feeling the preliminary symptoms of "wind-up."

"Sorry, Sir, it slipped my memory."

"Damme, sir, you'll forget your trousers next!" spluttered an angry voice at the other end of the wire. "Just jog that alleged memory—if that's what you call it—of yours, or else there'll be trouble, young man! Forgetful officers are no use here. Another thing——"

I hung up the receiver. It seemed the best thing to do under the circumstances. I had heard enough already. Too much, in fact. Besides, the brigadier was a man of uncertain temper. When heated, there was no knowing what he would not say—or do.

* * * * *

My luck was dead out. Only a month later, I dropped in for another strafing. This time it was in a rest-camp behind the front line. My Company being short of jam, I had indented for a further supply on the approved Army Form. But, being new to the job, and forgetting what I had been expressly told, I committed two serious errors. One was to indent in duplicate, instead of in triplicate; and the other was to demand "Jam, plum and apple, Mark I.," when, of course, it should have been "Mark II.," which, as everybody ought to know, contains an extra pip per 100 tins (fractions beyond six places of decimals being ignored).

Things began to happen.

The Quartermaster-General's branch tackled the matter first, putting in some good work and pursuing the offensive with characteristic vigour. The Intelligence department followed suit by transmitting a peremptory cipher telegram on the subject. Third Echelon contributed a nasty minute; and some bitter observations appeared in Routine Orders about the "slackness" of junior officers. This last was obviously a dig at myself.

Life being no longer worth living, I volunteered to return to the comparative peace and quiet of the trenches.

"Application refused," snapped the C.O., when I bearded him in the orderly-room and proffered my request.

"Why, if you please, sir?"

"Because I say so. That's why. Because of your repeated carelessness. Memory like a sieve. Everybody complains of it. This sort of thing won't do. Let's the battalion down."

* * * * *

In some mysterious fashion soldiers soon get to know everything that happens. By nightfall the news of my strafing had spread all over the camp. Probably the Huns heard of it, too. Consequently, I was not surprised when "Nobby" Clarke, my faithful batman, broached the subject while cleaning my boots.

"Beg your pardon, capting," he began sympathetically, "but ever had a shot at this here Pelman stunt?"

"What's that?" I enquired casually.

"It's the stuff to gie 'em!" was the prompt response. "I haven't tried it myself, but it worked all right with my chum, Ginger Jordan, who's in the R.F.A."

"Yes, but what is it?" I said, beginning to feel mildly interested.

"Stuff for improving the memory, sir—leastways, so I'm told."

"And how did it affect your—er—friend?"

Pte. Clarke smiled reminiscently.

"Like this, sir. Ginger had no memory. Forgetful sort of bloke, he was. Fair chronic. No sort of use in the battery. Might have been an officer, almost. Well, once when we were at Boolong, he borrowed five francs off me. Every time I asked him to pay me back, he had the nerve to say he'd forgot. Enough to make anyone fed-up with him, that."

"Yes, but how does Pelmanism—or whatever it's called——"

"This way, sir. Ginger got shoved on the Staff."

"Army Council?"

"Not exactly, sir. He was made batman to a chaplain. One day the Padre put him up to this Pelman system. Ginger never said a word to any of us, but he studied it hard all the time he could get. Did him a lot of good, too, sir."

"Why do you think that?"

"Because his memory improved so much. You wouldn't believe it, perhaps, but before he'd done the first six lessons he gave me back that five francs—and without being asked. There must be something in it. Don't you think so, sir?"

* * * * *

Pte. Clarke's optimistic views struck me as lacking corroboration. Also, the example he quoted had not been a particularly impressive one. Still, he had said enough to rouse my curiosity. Was there anything in Pelmanism, after all, or was it merely a clever advertising dodge? Having a suspicious nature, I felt it must be the latter. Still, I thought I would find out for myself.

There was no great difficulty about this. As it happened, a brother officer was a Pelman student himself. He was an enthusiastic one, too, and readily lent me a pamphlet on the system, entitled "Mind and Memory," together with the preliminary text book

I read them attentively. As I did so my suspicions began to fade, for I saw that Pelmanism was endorsed by, among others, Admiral Lord Beresford, General Sir Frederick Maurice, Sir James Yoxall, M.P., Canon Hannay, Sir H. Rider Haggard, and Mr. George R. Sims. This circumstance "gave me to think," as our French friends say. what was good enough for these expert-admitted heads, as they were, of the Navy, Army, Education, Church, Literature, and the Drama—was surely good enough for a humble captain like myself. Anyway, I would give it a fair chance. Accordingly, I filled in an application, enclosed the very moderate cheque that was required, and sent for the "Little Grey Books." Despite submarines and the vagaries of the Field Post Office, they arrived safely and promptly.

That was three months ago.

* * * * *

I didn't expect a miracle; and no miracle happened. Still, what did happen was this:—

On the day that I had finished three months' careful study of the system, and had conscientiously practised the series of lessons, my C.O. sent for me.

"I've just been asked to recommend a suitable officer for an important Staff job," he said. "It means extra pay and extra rank. Well, I've submitted your name, and you have been selected."

"It's very good of you, sir," I began, but was promptly cut short.

"Quite so, but I picked you out because you were the best man. Headquarters want someone who was reliable, and who could be depended on in an emergency. Well, I've been watching you closely for some time past, and I'm convinced you'll do my choice credit. Now, just one question——"

"Yes, sir?"

"Speaking quite candidly, you wouldn't have stood a dog's chance when you first came here. Far from it. But you seem another person altogether now. What's the cause of this remarkable difference? Tell me, if you can, in two words."

"I can tell you in one."

"What one is that, please?"

"Pelmanism."

* * * * *

"Mind and Memory" (in which the Pelman Course is fully described, with a synopsis of the lessons) will be sent, gratis and post free, together with a full reprint of "Truth's" famous Report on the Pelman System, and a form entitling readers of "Canada" to the complete Course for one-third less than the usual fee, on application to the Pelman Institute, 21, Pelman House, Bloomsbury Street, London, W.C.1

Canadian Wonder Tales

By CYRUS MACMILLAN.

With an Introduction by Sir WILLIAM PETERSON

GEORGE SHERINGHAM.

These tales have been taken from the lips of Indians, sailors, and habitants. The stylé of the stories is simplicity itself, and Mr. Sheringham in his illustrations has succeeded in imparting to their simplicity a decorative quality all his own—a quality which at the same time is in absolute harmony with the atmosphere of the book, so that it is doubtful if the volume will be valued more for the text or the illustrations.

MILITARY CROSS FOR CANADIAN OFFICERS

Capt. George Watson Anderson.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in a raid, previous to which he had reconnoitred the enemy's front and laid his plans with great judgment. On the night he gallantly led his party forward to the objective, accounted for several of the enemy, besides capturing three officers, three other ranks and a machine gun. He then supervised the withdrawal, being the last to leave. His coolness and leadership were an example to all.

Lt. Thomas Moffett Bell (Rothesay, N.B.).

After getting his men undetected into position he led them to the attack, killed fifteen of the enemy, took one prisoner for identification, and drove the remainder into our barrage, where they suffered very severely. By careful planning and skilful leadership during the operation he assisted greatly in its success.

Lt. James Henry Carson (Medicine Hat).

He led his platoon with great dash and gallantry, capturing six prisoners and one machine gun. He killed three of the enemy himself. At the final objective, which he successfully gained, he was severely wounded. He set a fine example of courage and good leadership.

Lt. Ingvar Edward de Sherbinin, C.F.A. (Toronto).

When the position occupied by the two trench mortars of which he was in command was heavily shelled by the enemy, he displayed great gallantry, moving through the barrage from one mortar to another in the open, controlling the fire, and encouraging the men. Although wounded in the arm and legs he gallantly continued to fight his mortars with coolness and skill until one of them was put out of action and he himself exhausted by his wounds, was taken under cover.

During an enemy attack he saved several cartloads of light railway switches, track material and ammunition from falling into the enemy's hands; and under gas shelling repaired several breaks in the line. His courageous devotion to duty caused a quantity of valuable material to be salved which would otherwise have been lost.

Lt. Henry Joseph Dunlop, Rly. Troops (Ottawa).

When it became necessary for tactical reasons to re-employ some forward light railway lines which had been abandoned, as their maintenance was only possible at an undue proportion of casualties, this Officer, with a section of his platoon, laboured for four days and particularly during the night before the attack most faithfully and persistently under heavy fire and well within the range of the enemy machine guns to bring them again into a serviceable condition. His gallantry and devotion to duty in keeping the lines open well beyond our front line trenches into "No Man's Land" were largely responsible for the complete success of the enterprise.

During a raid on the enemy's positions he worked at the advanced aid post with the greatest gallantry and unselfish courage. Later, he withdrew to the fixed rear aid post and performed valuable duties.

Lt. Isaac Hetherington (Dungannon, Ont.)

During a raid he led his men to the final objective, and personally captured three prisoners single-handed. He showed fine courage and ability to command.

Lt. Frederick Stanley Long (Calgary).

During a raid he led his platoon with great determination, dashing on ahead and clearing up an enemy post, which enabled his party to push on to the objective. After the withdrawal he remained out searching for a wounded officer. He set a fine example of courage and devotion to duty.

Lt. Swinburne Loptson, M.M.

In conducting a daylight patrol into the enemy's trenches he personally killed one enemy, while his party disposed of another. They obtained very valuable information and returned successfully under heavy fire without casualties.

Lt. Alfred Edward Burke Murphy, C.G.A. (Tignish, P.E.I.)

Although suffering from the effects of gas he fought a section of his guns when all the other officers had become casualties. He declined to go to hospital when urged to do so, but continued to do duty, himself laying one of the guns, as the battery had suffered such heavy casualties.

Lt. George Williamson Parker.

Though early wounded, he led his party successfully to the objective. On the way back, meeting several of the enemy, he rushed them and personally killed two, and brought his men safely to the re-assembly positions. He was wounded in seven places. He set a splendid example of courage and endurance.

Lt. Francis May Pearman.

He led his party in the capture of all objectives, and successfully evacuated all his casualties. His gallantry greatly assisted his men in this raid, which was carried out under very trying circumstances.

Lt. Linton Graham Shillinglaw.

He led his party successfully to the objective, destroying many dug-outs and inflicting many casualties. At the objective he was severely wounded, but refused to leave his men until the withdrawal. His fine example of courage and cheerfulness went a long way to cause the success of the raid.

Capt. Park Benjamin Riddell Tucker (Regina).

After being wounded he continued to lead his company in a most determined manner until he fell exhausted. Thanks mainly to his fine example of courage and devotion to duty the company gained their objective.

Lt. Wilfred Whyte (Edmonton).

He led the company through to the final objective, bombing and searching many dug-outs, and capturing two prisoners, besides inflicting heavy casualties. Thanks to his efforts all the wounded of his company were brought out. He set a fine example of courage and determination to his men.

Lt. William Henry Williams.

He led his platoon with great ability to the objective. When his platoon was held up by a machine gun he pushed ahead and single-handed charged the post, killing the crew and capturing the gun. He set a splendid example of courage and determined leadership.

CANADIAN OFFICERS IN IMPERIALS.

Capt. (Actg. Maj.) William Haig Ferguson, M.B., R.A.M.C. (Toronto)

When the advanced dressing station was completely destroyed by shell fire, and everyone was ordered to take cover, this officer left his dug-out and carried several wounded, unaided, some hundred yards to safety, passing through a zone of gas and heavily-shelled area. He did the same thing again later on.

Lt. Guy Basil George Gripper, Herts. R.

During a retirement he organised a party of men, and by his skilful control prevented the enemy bringing machine guns into action. Later he helped to organise another party, and held up the enemy for about two hours, rendering valuable assistance. Throughout he displayed great personal courage, and his example was of the greatest value to the troops under his command.

He carried out several successful reconnaissances under heavy machine-gun fire from the ground, dropping bombs on troops and machine-gunning them, while attacked himself by enemy aircraft. Under very trying weather conditions he brought back most valuable information. He did very fine work.

Temp. Lt. John Ham Perry, Hamp. R. (Whitby, Ont.)

This officer's behaviour in handling transport under heavy fire has always been marked by great gallantry, and has been the admiration of all ranks. On one occasion he was the only transport officer to reach the line with rations, owing to heavy enemy shell fire, and he has never failed to deliver rations to the battalion when charged with this duty. But for the arrival of small arms ammunition, which he brought up, ground would probably have been given up to the enemy in more than one instance.

Sec. Lt. William Frederick Rattle, R.F.A. (Toronto).

This officer remained at an observation post throughout the day exposed to shell fire, and fought his battery with the greatest coolness and efficiency, being largely instrumental in breaking up and dispersing two hostile attacks.

Lt. (Temp. Capt.) Stanley Stanger, R.A.F. (Point St. Charles, Montreal).

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in destroying six enemy aeroplanes. He did splendid service.

Temp. Lt. William MacKenzie Thomson, R.A.F. (Toronto).

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on offensive patrols. In five days he destroyed as many enemy machines. He showed fine determination to close with the enemy, and set a splendid example of enterprise and gallantry.

Assisted by an orderly, he dressed the wounds of several officers on the roadside under heavy shell fire. Later, he established a dressing station in a village which was rapidly being enveloped by the enemy, and succeeded in clearing all his casualties before it was evacuated.

Lt. (Actg. Capt.) George William Sheppard Sutherland, Seaf. Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in leading his company up a steep ridge in face of heavy fire. Seeing that some of his men were being driven back down the hill he dashed across, personally rallied the platoons, and led them forward again. When, later, the enemy counter-attacked it was mainly owing to his gallant and resolute leadership that they were repulsed.

GALLANT CANADIAN AIRMEN.

Missing Toronto Officer's 44 Enemy Machines.

The following additional awards to Canadians serving in the Royal Air Force were announced in the London Gazette Supplement, Sept. 10 :—

[We take this opportunity of impressing upon Canadians holding commissions in the Royal Air Force the desirability of registering their names with Canada, which is the only newspaper that endeavours to publish the records of Canadian officers in the Imperial Services.]

BAR TO D.F.C.

Lt. William Gordon Claxton, D.F.C. (Toronto)—missing.

This officer is conspicuous for his courage in attack. Recently in one day he destroyed six enemy aeroplanes—four in the morning and two in the evening. In thirteen days he accounted for fourteen machines. His utter disregard of danger inspires all who serve with him. (D.F.C. gazetted August 3, 1918.)

DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS.

Lt. (Temp. Capt.) Frederick Andrew Laughlin (Thorold, Ont.)

While bombing an important railway station the formation, of which this officer was leader, was attacked by about twenty enemy scouts. In the engagement that ensued two enemy aeroplanes were destroyed and a third driven down out of control. These results were largely due to his excellent leadership. He has taken part in forty bomb raids, the objectives of many being far over the enemy lines. His knowledge of navigation and skill as a leader have been invaluable in enabling the formation to reach the objectives.

Lt. Roy Manzer.

While carrying out a solitary patrol he observed a two-seater below him; diving on it he opened fire, and following it down to 1,000 feet, caused it to land outside the aerodrome. During his return to our lines he saw a hostile kite balloon; attacking it as it was being hauled down, he closed to point-blank range at 300 feet altitude; on reaching the ground, the balloon burst into flames. In addition to the above, this officer has accounted for seven enemy machines, four of which were destroyed and three driven down out of control.

Lt. George Thomson, K.O.S.B. (British Columbia).

A brilliant and intrepid observer in whom his pilot places implicit confidence when engaged in action. He has personally accounted for nine enemy machines. On one raid, when acting as escort, 15 enemy aeroplanes were encountered; of these this officer shot down two, which crashed, and one out of control

OUR LIBRARY TABLE.

Messrs. Hutchinson announce that the first seven editions of "Yellow English," by Dorota Flatau, are now exhausted. A large eighth edition is at press, and for this the price will be raised from 6s. to 6s. 9d. net. This stirring novel, on the peril in our midst, will shortly make its appearance as a cinema production.

In "Canadian Wonder Tales" Capt. Cyrus Macmillan has collected a number of charming fables and other folk-tales, mostly taken from oral tradition, belonging to the Indians, habitants, and other earlier inhabitants of Canada. They are full of the best flavour of romance, and are told with an appropriate simplicity of language. Besides their attraction in this respect, they are interesting from the point of view of the student of folk-lore. In a "foreword," Sir William Peterson explains that Captain Macmillan interrupted his teaching work in Montreal to go overseas with one of the McGill batteries. The work is beautifully produced, being illustrated by 34 pictures, mostly in colour, by George Sheringham, who has admirably adapted his decorative style to the subject-matter. ONTARIO PROVINCE.

OTTAWA.—The report of the Superintendent of Insurance on Fire Insurance Companies shows that in 1917 the amount paid for fire losses in Canada was $16,179,102, which was an increase over the previous year of over $1,000,000.

Twenty-eight notices of applications for divorce have already been made, some of which were before the Senate last year. A number of the applications are filed by men returned from overseas.

— Ordinary time will be resumed throughout the Dominion at 2 a.m. on Sunday, October 27.

Steps are being taken by the Government through the Canadian War Trade Board, to secure the establishment in Canada of an industry for the manufacture of linen thread and yarns. At present a variety of commodities are produced from flax grown in the Dominion. Hitherto, however, linen thread and yarns have not been manufactured.

——Mr. Douglas Stewart, inspector of penitentiaries for the past 24 years, has been presented with a cabinet of silver by members of the staff. The presentation was made by Brig.-Gen. W. S. Hughes.

——The St. Lawrence Power Co. has already started work on the submerged weir in the Long Sault Channel. As soon as the official decision of the International Waterways' Commission granting the company the right to build is received, the Canadian Government will, says the Times correspondent, formally protest and refuse to recognise the validity of the decision.

TORONTO.—Upwards of 10,000 troops are likely to be quartered in this district during the winter, and the majority in this city.

Judge McDonald, of Brockville, has resigned the treasurership of the Anglican Synod, and Mr. L. A. Hamilton, of this city, succeeds him.

——Mr. J. F. Scholes, former proprietor of the Athletic Hotel, left estate valued at $44,325. The hotel is left in equal shares to his sons, Captain Louis and John F. Scholes.

——At the directors' luncheon at the Canadian National Exhibition the guests of honour were Hon. G. S. Henry, Provincial Minister of Agriculture, and Mr. W. A. Dryden, president of the Dominion Shorthorn Breeders' Association, who quoted statistics recently completed showing the work done by 80,000 farmers of Ontario. Ten million acres are under crop this year, an increase of 261,000 over 1917.

——Mr. J. M. McCutcheon, B.A., has been appointed Provincial Civil Service Commissioner.

BROCKVILLE.—Mr. J. A. Ruddick, Dominion Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner, states that just before the war the production of cheese reached the lowest point since 1914, but, stimulated by high prices, there has been a substantial increase during the past three years, and exports of cheese from Canada in 1917 were greater by 37,000,000 pounds than the 1914 exports.

BEAVERTON.—The United Farmers of Northern Ontario in convention here have nominated Mr. R. H. Halbert as a candidate at the bye-election caused by the death of Colonel Sam Sharpe, M.P.

QUEBEC PROVINCE.

QUEBEC.—On the occasion of the inauguration of the monument to Louis Hebert, the first Canadian colonist, at Quebec, on September 3, the University of Laval conferred the title of Doctor in Agricultural Science upon the Hon. J. E. Caron, Minister of Agriculture in the Quebec Government; Mr. J. G. Grisdale, Director of Experimental Farms of the Dominion; Mr. A. F. Charron, Chief Chemist of the Quebec Agricultural Department, and Mr. Abbe Adolphe Michaud, curé of St. Roch des Aulnais, who is the president of the Agricultural Missionaries of the Province of Quebec.

At the meeting of the Trades and Labour Congress here Mr. Thomas Moore, of Niagara Falls, was elected president, defeating Mr. J. C. Watters, of Ottawa. Mr. James Simpson, of Toronto, lost his position as a vice-president, but Mr. J. Russell, of Winnipeg, was re-elected secretary. Mr. Watters was appointed fraternal delegate to the British Trades and Labour Congress and delegate to the Labour Peace Conference.

The War Sorel, 3,000 tons, the second of the standard wooden steamers built by the Quebec Shipbuilding and Repair Co. at their shipyard on the St. Charles River, was successfully launched on September 8.

MONTREAL.—The official opening of the great $3,000,000 Canadian Northern Railway tunnel took place last week. The new direct line between Ottawa and Montreal runs via the south shore of the Ottawa River to Hawkesbury, where it crosses to Grenville and proceeds to Montreal via St. Andrew's, St. Eustache, and Cartierville, where the tunnel section begins. The line is electrified into the metropolis. It has taken six years to complete the contract. The first passenger trains will commence running this month.

——There are three times more French-Canadians in Montreal than there are English, Scotch and Irish combined. A classification of the citizens compiled at the City Hall shows that Montreal's population of 685,539 is made up as follows:—French-Canadians, 442,675; English, 90,368; Irish, 51,522; Scottish, 29,518; other nationalities, 71,456.

NEW BRUNSWICK.

FREDERICTON.—The Minister of Agriculture, after a tour of inspection, is enthusiastic over the wheat crop. From his observations and figures given he believes there will be more than enough flour ground to supply the local demand. He has arranged for development of the mills, and to stimulate greater production has arranged a larger bonus.

ST. JOHN.—The Dufferin Hotel has been gutted by fire. All the 175 people on the premises were got out safely.

NEWCASTLE.—The little hamlet of Beaverbrook, on the C.G.R., about nine miles north of here and directly opposite Chatham, is to have a new schoolhouse, thoroughly equipped and furnished by Lord Beaverbrook.

NOVA SCOTIA.

HALIFAX.—The chief topic before the conference of Maritime Province members here was the Dominion legislation referring to the settlement of returned soldiers on land grants, which is applicable to the West, but not to the Maritime Provinces. It is understood that, as the result of the conference, the Dominion Government will be approached with regard to amending the legislation.

—Mr. G. T. Milne, H.M. Trade Commissioner in Canada and Newfoundland, has been on a visit to Halifax, St. John and Quebec, to address the Boards of Trade on subjects connected with the after-war problems of Imperial commerce.

—Immediate provision for additional drydock facilities at Halifax to permit of the fullest utilisation of ship tonnage in the transportation of troops and supplies to Europe is an urgent need, according to Mr. Roy M. Wolvin, managing director of Halifax Shipyards, Ltd. The port is experiencing an era of tremendous activity. The entered tonnage of 1,000,000 in 1914 grew to 17,000,000 in 1917. For the first six months of 1918 it exceeded 12,000,000 tons.

SYDNEY.—Mr. W. A. Winfield, district superintendent of the Maritime Telegraph and Telephone Co., of Cape Breton has been appointed superintendent of all the company's plants with headquarters at Halifax.

BANKING AND FINANCE.

Canadian Railways turning the Corner.

In considering the results of the Canadian railways for the month of August, it must be borne in mind that the increase in rates recently sanctioned was, of course, only operative during a part of the month. The C.P.R. gross receipts were $13,109,753, or $695,215 more than in the corresponding month of 1917, but as working expenses were $1,304,122 higher, the net results—$3,208,631— were $608,907 lower. The Grand Trunk Railway has done better than this, for whilst it has a gross increase for the month of £313,000, its expenses were only £178,150 higher, so that net revenue is £134,850 up as compared with last year, reducing the decline in net earnings for the eight months to £776,300, which it is probable may be extinguished before the end of the present year, and even converted into a balance on the right side of the account. In the case of the Canadian Northern gross earnings are $528,100 higher, but as working expenditure has continued to outstrip receipts, the net revenue is $93,600 behind that for the same period of 1917, increasing the decline on net receipts for the two months of the current fiscal year to $721,800. These results have been practically negligible from a market point of view. C.P.R.s actually advanced, and Grand Trunks have remained subjective to the uncertainty as to the result of the recent negotiations between the company and the Government, and the impending half-yearly revenue statement.

A Pending Momentous Decision.

Whilst the forthcoming dividend announcement of the Grand Trunk Railway Co. of Canada is naturally anxiously awaited, its effect has been largely discounted by recent events, including the well over-subscribed new issue of 3-year 6 per cent. secured notes, and no one will be surprised if the directors have to administer another disappointment to the long-suffering stockholders, who are now inured to the passing of their dividends. Indeed, it may be said that the financial outlook of this vast undertaking has been well nigh adumbrated by the anxiety as to the outcome of the negotiations between the Government and the directors for the acquisition of the system. Recent advices from the Dominion clearly indicate the intention of the Government to acquire the system and, indeed, the Premier's recent statement on the nationalisation of the Canadian railways predicates even the eventual acquisition of the C.P.R. itself and the only question to remain to be settled is that of the terms which are to be offered to the stockholders. We can only, at the present juncture, hope that sane counsels will prevail at Ottawa, for nothing but disaster to Canada's good name in the Mother Country could follow from any attempt to impose inequitable terms upon those who provided the capital to build this vast system, and who have, by circumstances beyond their control, been robbed of a just return upon their capital outlay

INVESTMENT NOTES.

In noting in Canada from time to time the issue o securities by Canadian Provinces and municipalities' bearing increasingly high rates of interest we have done so mainly as a matter of record and interest, for owing to the Treasury regulations against the investment of fresh money Overseas British investors have for the most part been debarred from participating. An opportunity is, however, now afforded by the issue by the Union Bank of Canada of £650,000 5½ per cent. debentures of the Government of the Province of Saskatchewan, of which we publish full particulars elsewhere in this number of Canada. These debentures are offered for subscription at £99 per cent., and the principal is repayable at par on January 1, 1934, the Saskatchewan Government having the option of redeeming them at par on or after January 1 1924, on giving three months' notice. This new loan is mainly for the purpose of replacing the 4½ per cent. debentures which mature January 1, 1919, holders of which may convert the whole or any part of their holdings into an equal amount of the new 5½ per cent. debentures, receiving a cash payment of £1 per cent. and retaining also the coupon due January 1 1919, for payment on that date. The debentures may be converted into registered stock at any time up to January 18 1919, without charge.

It will be noted also that both the debentures and stock and the interest thereon will be entirely exempt from all Saskatchewan Provincial, municipal, or school taxation. This, in these days of necessarily heavy taxation, is a point worthy of attention by investors. In this connection it may be noted with interest that, according to a recent decision by the Toronto Court of Revision, income derived from the Canadian Victory Loan bonds, though specially exempted from Dominion income-tax, is not exempt from income-tax imposed by municipalities. In the case in question the Massey-Harris Co. and the Canadian General Electric Co. appealed against an income assessment in respect of their holdings of war bonds. The Court of Revision held that their holdings were properly assessed, a ruling which, unless it is reversed on appeal to a superior tribunal, will considerably affect a large number of concerns which have invested heavily in Canadian War bonds.

Lord Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, declared on his return from an 8,000-mile journey over the system, that for the Dominion Government to take over the Grant Trunk Railway would be "an act of stupendous folly."

Pte. R. E. Cruickshank, V.C., London Regt., was at the Down Hills Recreation Ground, Tottenham, last Saturday, presented, on behalf of Messrs. Lipton, with a gold watch. Lt.-General Sir R. Baden-Powell recalled that Pte. Cruickshank had been a Boy Scout

THE LONDON MARKET.

Stock Exchange Settling Days :—

CONSOLS PAY DAY, Monday, Nov. 4.

Ticket Day.	Pay Day.
Thurs. Oct. 10.	Fri. Oct. 11.

LONDON, Tuesday.

Business on the Stock Exchange dur- ng the past week has been on an increasing scale, but despite the great military successes of the Allies and the surrender of Bulgaria, nothing in the nature of a "boom" has developed. Specialities are strong, however, and the general temper of markets is very healthy and confident. The launching of the new War Bond campaign tends to restrict investment business.

Canadian securities have been cheerful without displaying much sustained animation. Quotations have favoured holders here and there. The securities of the Dominion Government have been firm without change. The old Fours hold at 82, the 4½ per cents. at 86, and the 3½ per cents. around 73. Among Provincial Government issues, Saskatchewan ssues are better on support in connection with the new issue. Corporation issues have not varied much, but there has been good rise in Victoria 4½ per cents. to 74.

In the railroad group, Canadian Pacifics are firmer at 174, despite the publication of an August revenue statement, show- ng a decrease of $609,000 in net earn- ngs. Grand Trunk issues record some mixed changes of ¼ to ½, though August net revenue in this case was £134,850 heavier.

Industrials have been quietly firm. Canada Cements have not varied, but the pref. at 95 is a dollar up. Canadian General Electrics are about unchanged at 12½, after allowing for the dividend deduction. Canadian Car and Cockshutt Plow issues have not varied. Brazilian Tractions have continued a good market and are up to about 51 on the strength of the exchange, but there has been a decline of 2 to 40 in Mexican Light and Power pref.

Dominion Steel is 61¼ xd.; Steel of Canada, 71; Scotia, 66; Forgings, 209; Dominion Bridge, 127½; Canada Car, 34; Pref., 83½; Cement, 66½; Canada Locomotive, 66; Canadian General Electric, 102 xd..; Brompton, 59; Laurentide, 175; Laurentide Powe., 57; Lake of the Woods, 150; Maple Leaf, 119; Ogilvie, 190; St. Lawrence Flour, 88; Dominion Textile, 95¾ xd. Among inactive stocks, Canada Steamships Common and Pref. are quoted 44¼ and 77 respectively; Ames-Holden Pref., 67; Riordon, 117½; Spanish River, Pref., 51; Macdonald, 19. In regard to Ames-Holden, it is stated that, at their meeting this month, the directors will consider the question of commencing to reduce the company's arrears of preferred dividends, but it is expected that the president's known desire to conserve the company's cash resources to finance its big volume of business will result in the postponement of any declaration for several months yet.

In contrast to the stock markets, business in mining shares has been fairly active and firm. Trading on the Standard Exchange yesterday included a wide range of shares. Dome Mines sold at $9.25; Hollinger, $4.95; McIntyre was in some demand, at $1.48. Kirkland Lake, whose mill is now nearing completion, advanced to .39. Among the Silver shares, Nipissing sold at $9, Temiskaming is firm, at .30¾; La Rose at .52 and McKinley at .41½ were slightly lower, and there was some activity in very low-priced shares at fractional advances and declines.

Several interesting annual financial statements have become available during the past week or so. That of the Laurentide Co. shows total net revenue for the year of $2,593,834, which is an increase of $373,174, or about 17 per cent. over the corresponding figure for 1917. After all deductions, net profits were $1,704,655, from which a surplus of $744,655 remained after payment of dividends. The company's total assets are shown to have increased by nearly $1,000,000, to $14,805,905, and the profit and loss surplus is $2,425,548. The big company is, therefore, to be congratulated on a thoroughly satisfactory year.

Hudson's Bay.—For the past quarter the sales of farm lands amounted to 45,690 acres, realising £155,770, contrasting with 52,400 acres for £190,000 for the corresponding period of last year, while the town lots sold yielded £350, as against £105. For the six months to September 30 the farm lands sold were 165,270 acres for £601,100, comparing with 164,935 acres for £609,800 for the same half of last year, and, as the sales of town lots rose from £220 to £630, the total receipts were £229,030, as against £227,300.

OUR TORONTO LETTER.

TORONTO, September 14.

The Canadian security markets during the past week were quieter than for some time past, being evidently under the restraint of the continued weakness in New York. Still, price changes, though generally in a downward direction, have been unimportant. The steel stocks have been moderately active and fairly steady, though in yesterday's trading Scotia declined a point. In Toronto Brazilian Traction was the only stock which recorded an actual gain yesterday, though Canadian General Electric, selling ex div. of 2 per cent. at 102, was fully equal to its former cum dividend price of 103½. In Montreal, Brazilian, Dominion Textile, Laurentide . and Dominion Bridge were moderately active, and Asbestos Pref. was noticeable for a gain of one point, to 57.

FROM EAST TO WEST.

MANITOBA PROVINCE.

WINNIPEG.—By an overwhelming majority the electors have voted to abolish the Board of Control. Only a small proportion of the electorate voted. The present board will remain in office until the end of the year, and in the intervening period the City Council must decide what form of civic administration is to replace the old system.

—In October the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council will hear the case of Walker v. Walker, on which hinges the entire question of Provincial jurisdiction in respect of cases dealing with divorce, and will also decide as to the validity of the recent Act of the Provincial Legislature authorising direct legislation.

—The Winnipeg Telegram has been bought by Messrs. Davidson and Smith, grain dealers, who have of late acquired important newspaper publishing interests.

—One hundred and fifty-nine building permits, representing 164 buildings, to cost $382,350, were taken out in the city during August, making a total of 1,011 permits issued, representing 1,028 buildings to cost $1,747,900.

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE.—The tax rate for Portage la Prairie has been fixed at 39.4 for the current year.

ALBERTA PROVINCE.

EDMONTON.—Mr. J. F. Boyce has been appointed Registrar of the Department of Education. Lt. L. L. Johnson, a returned veteran, has been named by the Dominion Government Vocational Officer for Alberta in place of Mr. Boyce.

CALGARY.—This city has now 62 miles of paved streets, 10 parks (area in acres, 577¾), 38 public schools (226 teachers, 10,566 pupils), 6 separate (27 teachers, 1,104 pupils). 83 churches, 21 banks and branches, 24 hotels.

LETHBRIDGE.—Members of the Southern Alberta Wool Growers, with headquarters at Lethbridge, shipped 1,700,000 pounds of wool up to August 9.

——Mr. Chas. T. Roland, of the Land Settlement Board, at the conclusion of the sitting here, said that next to the Edmonton land district the Lethbridge district equalled any other in the West in point of the number of applications and interest shown by the returned men. Mr. Roland stated that the work of the Commission had split its forces, Major Ashton taking charge in the East and himself in the West. So far over 400 soldiers had been helped and about $500,000 loaned.

SASKAT-CHEWAN.

REGINA.—Mr. Joseph P. Parker, of Regina, has been appointed District Court Judge for Yorkton.

SASKATOON.—The Union Hotel has been closed by order of the Canada Food Board because it was operating without a licence. The proprietor was fined $500.

——At the meeting of the University Board of Governors the purchase of 270 additional acres of land was reported by President Walter C. Murray. This makes the University site over 1,600 acres, of which about 300 acres is campus space, leaving 1,300 available for use by the College of Agriculture. An additional 560 acres at Dundurn has been bequeathed to the University, which will use the land for stock purposes.

MOOSE JAW. The whole of the business portion of Mawer has been destroyed by fire.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

VICTORIA.–Lt.-Governor Sir Frank Barnard presented to Mrs. R. G. Tatlow the Military Cross awarded to her son, the late Major John Garnett Tatlow. Mrs. Tatlow's younger son, Kenneth, has been accepted by the Royal Air Force, and goes Overseas.

VANCOUVER.—During the first eight months of 1918 city building permits to the aggregate of $1,011,318 were issued, while the same period of last year the total was only $405,920.

The Okanagan fruit crop is unusually good.

The Council of the Vancouver Board of Trade gave a luncheon to Mr. F. C. Wade, K.C., the new Agent-General, upon his return from a tour of the Province.

Ontario after the War—WATER POWER.

The whole industrial success of Ontario may be said to depend upon the development of its water power.

The water power of Ontario is cheapened and made generally available by Government control and operation, and nearly every city and town in Ontario has already been provided with hydro-electric power both for lighting and manufacturing purposes.

The importance of this phase of development may be realised from the fact that Ontario to-day has 16,000 factories depending upon water power, with an annual output amounting to $579,000,000.

The enormous reserve of Ontario's water power may be realised from the fact that, of the many millions of horse-power available, only about 10 per cent. has, up to now, been brought under control.

NEWFOUNDLAND The Norway of The New World.

A LAND OF SURPASSING BEAUTY AND RARE INTEREST FOR THE TRAVELLER.

For the Photographer, the Artist, and the Lover of the Beautiful in Nature, its attractions cannot be exaggerated.

THE SPORTSMAN'S PARADISE.

Abounding in game of the finest, in fin, fur, and feather. Lordly Caribou in countless herds. Rivers teeming with salmon. Lakes filled with trout. Forests alive with birds and furry creatures. All sport free except Caribou hunting, which requires a licence fee of $50 (£10), and salmon fishing, which involves a rod tax of $10 (£2).

FOREST, MINE, AND FARMLAND WEALTH.

Splendid opportunities to acquire lands for Farming, Mining, Lumbering and Pulp and Paper Making on reasonable terms, with generous concessions from the Government of Newfoundland in the way of free entry for all machinery and equipments requisite in establishing new industries.

Copper and Iron Mines in active operation.

For information respecting SPORT apply to Mr. John S. STONE, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, St. John's, N.F.; respecting LANDS, to Hon. W. W. HALFYARD, Minister of Agriculture and Mines, St. John's, N.F.; and otherwise to—

Hon. R. A. SQUIRES, K.C., Colonial Secretary, St. John's, Newfoundland.

A number of descriptive booklets issued by the Reid Newfoundland Company have been placed in the hands of Messrs Thomas Cook and Son for distribution.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

N.B.—All letters asking for information or advice must contain an enquiry coupon from the current issue of "Canada," except when the enquirer is an annual subscriber.

Detailed replies by letter are not made except to annual subscribers. Non-subscribers desiring detailed or exhaustive replies by letter must enclose a P.O. for 5s., which will cover three questions.

Copies should be kept of questions, and these should be numbered when more than one is asked.

The fullest particulars of special investment opportunities in Canada mentioned from time to time in the column headed "Investment Notes and Opportunities" are supplied on request to readers who are annual subscribers.

H. J. S. (Seaford).—Unsuitable.

C. W. J. (Bramshott).—Apply to your C.O. to be nominated for the work you mention.

E. B. N. (London).—The Officers' Repayment Store is at 34, Great Pulteney Street, W.

H. K. H. (Egham).—Your letter has been passed on to the Canadian War Records Office.

J. W. M. (Seaford).—We hardly think your claim for repayment will be upheld. Write, through your C.O., to the Overseas Minister, O.M.F.C., 34, Grosvenor Street, London, W.

VANCOUVER (B.E.F., France).—There has been no suggestion, so far, as to original members of the Second Division returning home on leave. Canada will keep you in touch with all such movements. Thanks for your kind words.

PATRIOT (France).—We doubt if there is any specified ruling on the question of repayment of fares in the O.M.F.C., but would advise that you write (through your C.O.) to the Overseas Ministry of Canada, 34, Grosvenor Street, London, W.1.

M. G. A. (2nd Western General, Manchester).—A "casualty" who has passed through a clearing station and been reported in the casualty lists is entitled to the wounded stripe. As you were thus reported you are fully entitled to the distinction.

T. E. K. (The Hague).—As a First Contingent man, you are entitled to wear one red and four blue service chevrons. We know nothing of any Army Order which prevents Canadian prisoners-of-war wearing all the chevrons they are entitled to. Such a restriction would be the epitome of injustice. Put up the chevrons forthwith.

M. D. (Folkestone).—It cannot be justly urged that there should be any discrimination in favour of men of the Permanent Force, therefore the Government put all men on active service on an equality from April 1. Though the special Permanent Force allowance was discontinued from that date, members of the P.F. were allowed to claim separation allowances. We regret delay in our reply.

CANADIAN PRIVATE (Seaford).—There are good grounds for asking for alteration in the practice which is the matter for your second complaint, and we are bringing it before the proper authority. Your first complaint seems to be less easy to remedy, as it would cause, we are told, more trouble than the comparatively few cases affected would justify. We will, however, look into the matter more fully.

F. D. B. (R.A.F., France).—(1) It is most improbable that you will be able to secure your commission in the O.M.F.C., but there is no harm in making application to your C.O. (2) So far as we know, the Army Order giving permission to Canadians to wear the "Canada" shoulder badge applies to other ranks as well as to officers. (3) You are not entitled to the red chevron. (4) The question of leave is a matter for the Imperial authorities.

COMPANY MEETING.

MOND NICKEL COMPANY.

The adjourned fourth ordinary general meeting of the Mond Nickel Co., Ltd., was held on September 26 at 39, Victoria Street, London, S.W., Mr. Robert Mond, J.P. (the chairman) presiding.

The Chairman, in moving the adoption of the accounts, congratulated the shareholders on the satisfactory results obtained by last year's trading. He said that if the company's developments had not been hindered by the war the profits might have been considerably improved, assuming that they had been able to place their products at pre-war prices. He wished to emphasise the fact that they were essentially a mining, smelting and refining company. The company possessed good mines and was one of the pioneers in developing the mineral resources of the British Empire.

Dealing with the balance-sheet, the Chairman said that the balance to the credit of the profit and loss account was £531,840, which was an increase of £195,000 over the previous year's figure. The available balance was £616,851, as compared with £410,198 last year. An interim dividend on the Ordinary capital at 1s. per share was paid on February 5, 1918, subject to deduction of income-tax, and a further dividend was paid on July 30 at 3s. per share, free of income-tax. The directors proposed to place £250,000 to reserve account and to carry forward, including provision for part of war taxation, £118,251. In view of the very uncertain conditions which might prevail after the war, the directors felt that it was in the best interests of the shareholders to provide for any unforeseen contingencies by strengthening the position of the company.

As to the general situation, the industry carried on by the company was one of those "key industries" which were of vital importance to this country. Not only did the company employ British labour, but they provided a large reserve of those essential materials which would safeguard this country against any temporary interruption of the regular supply from any cause whatsoever. During the past year they had been free from any serious labour troubles.

In conclusion, the Chairman said that if we were to be successful in our efforts to supplant German trade, both in home and foreign markets, we should get ready to do so now. This company was ready to do its full share in that direction, and to enable it to do so they only wanted a fair field and no favours.

Sir Robert A. Hadfield, Bart., seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

CANADIAN MILITARY SPORT.

Season's Record of Headquarters' Cricketers.

Epsom's Wind-up Dinner.

The Canadian Y.M.C.A. on September 25 entertained to dinner the officials and members of the Woodcote Park (Epsom) baseball team, the function taking place in the Y.M.C.A. Hut. Those present included Lt.-Col. F. Guest (Commandant), Major H. E. MacDermott (second in command), Major E. G. Rogers (team president), Captain P. J. S. Bird (Adjutant), Captain L. M. Matthews (umpire), Captain F. J. Moore (senior chaplain), Lt. S. W. Collins, Y.M.C.A. (team manager), R.S.M. H. Nightingale (W.O.) and S/Sgt. H. E. Pearson (members of committee), and the following members of the team:—Sgt. Blackadar (Capt.), Cpl. "Red" Chalmers, Cpl. Eagles, L.-Cpl. Rafferty, Ptes. Benns, Greene, Robinson, Masters, Dutton, Burrows, Thorniston, and McNaughton. After dinner and the usual toasts, recitations were given by Mrs. Jones and baritone solos by Mr. Meid. Club choruses were also sung, and a very pleasant evening was spent.

The team's record has been an excellent one. Thirty-eight games were played, 27 of which were won. The total runs scored were 234 against 110. The team won the Canadian Hospital championship, were runners-up in the O.M.F.C. championship, and finished third in the Anglo-American League. Last year Epsom won the O.M.F.C. championship, and in 1916 the Canadian Hospital championship title.

The second gala of this club, to be held at the Great Smith St Baths, Westminster, to-day (Saturday), at 3 p.m., will partake the character of an international event. One of the big attractions is a water polo match between the Overseas Dominions and the Royal Naval Depôt (Crystal Palace), and there will be displa of swimming and diving by J. A. Jarvis, ex-champion, and Mi Belle White (Olympic champion) respectively. Ladies are special invited. Canadian officers figured prominently in the golfing competition held over the Sandy Lodge Club course last Saturday. Capt. R. M Gray won the morning medal competition with 83 (40 out and 43 home), the afternoon round against "Bogey" (Lt. W. T. "Pay 2" Soccer Game.

The officers of Pay 2 Branch having challenged the superintending clerks of the Pay Office to a friendly game of Soccer, the encounter took place last Saturday. The game was very ragged, most of the players being palpably out of training. In the evening, at the sign of the "Cheshire Cheese," the friendly spirit was further developed, despite the drawbacks of rationed foodstuffs, light, and heat. Lt.-Col. Lobley was in the chair, and the guests included Col. Regan and Major Goodeve.

The London Canadians will inaugurate their Rugby season to-day (Saturday) by a workout with the New Zealanders. Their first match will be against a Services' side.

The London Area Soccer League will this season comprise about thirty teams, and the majority of the games will be decided after office hours on the Vincent Square ground, Westminster.

At the regatta for blinded soldiers and sailors from St. Dunstan's Hostel, held at Putney on Thursday last week, three of the events were won by Canadians. Rhodes took the junior single sculls (light weights), Guthrie the single sculls (maiden heavy weights), and Cooper helped to win the double sculls (maiden light weights).

Athletes for Siberia.

The Siberian Expeditionary Force will contain several well-known Canadian athletes. Among the number are Major "Dolly" Swift, Quebec, a noted hockey exponent; Capt. Lou Scholes, Toronto, diamond sculls winner; Harry Westwick, Ottawa, a veteran lacrosse and hockey player; Frank Shaughnessy, Montreal, baseball manager and football coach; Jack Hughes, Winnipeg, hockey player.

THE PROVINCE OF PROSPERITY.

Vast natural resources and an industrious, thrifty, and enterprising population have brought unexampled prosperity to this Province.

No Province of the Dominion offers more startling opportunities for the investor. Immense water powers, now running to waste, will produce electricity for industrial purposes in unlimited volume; vast forests will supply an enormous cut of timber and wood pulp; rich mineral deposits hold out alluring opportunities to the prospector; extensive tracts of fertile land suitable for general farming and dairying await settlement. Next to its lands and forests, the Fish and Game of the Province are among its most valuable assets, providing splendid commercial opportunities and incomparable sport. Quebec is the Sportsman's Paradise, the Holiday-maker's Elysium, and a land of opportunity for all.

THE BEAST AT BAY.

THE first-fruits of the stubborn and inspiring gallantry of our men is seen in the peace cries from Berlin. This carefully prepared "eye-wash" by the new Chancellor—a puppet of the Prussian autocracy—will deceive only those among the Allies who wish to be deceived. To all others it is merely the first howling of the wild beast, who realises that his hunters have at last run him to ground. The sweet reasonableness of the frightened Hun, as portrayed by Prince Max, is only the beginning of a long chapter of lies and hypocrisy which will issue from Berlin in an increasing stream as their Western defences continue to be breached by the indomitable Allies. It is treachery to our dead in the cause for which they died and for which their comrades fight on, even to treat these vapourings from the besotted criminals who speak for Germany as worthy of any serious consideration.

At the very time when this double-faced German princeling was declaiming to the Reichstag his new principles, which are so entirely at variance with his well-known private sentiments, he knew that British and other Allied prisoners were being done to death in German mines, in prison camps, in hospitals, and behind the lines. He knew that at that moment by the express commands of the general staff all French towns which they intended to evacuate were being plundered and burnt. He knew also that at that moment the pirate submarines of the Hun were attempting to sink on sight all ships, regardless of nationality or cargo. This brazen hypocrisy can be answered only in the way that we and all our gallant comrades in arms have been answering them since the masterly offensive directed by Marshal Foch started in August.

The Canadian people will receive the first whimperings of the frightened Hun with scant patience. They are awaiting the toll of their dead—their splendid men who, under their beloved commander, have carried every objective that has been set before them. The fighting of all units in the British Army in recent days since the Hun was pushed up against his last and strongest defences, has been most bloody and stubborn. In the whole long history of this war it is doubtful whether any advance has been quite so stubbornly contested and so long continued. Every unit under the command of Sir Douglas Haig has won great glory. The French, Americans, and Belgians have also played their full part and earned their full share in an achievement which the Hun in his truculent arrogance deemed impossible. And in these last days, great for the surpassing valour shown by war-worn troops, but sad beyond others on account of the grievous sacrifices, Canada mourns for her dead, but is proud of the fresh glory won by her sons.

The justice of an outraged world demands punishment and reparation, and there is no section or area in all the Allied nations now in arms against the Hun where there is a clearer or more determined intention to accept only unconditional surrender than in Canada.

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

Sacrifices and Achievements. While the open confession of defeat by the Hun cheers and encourages all the Allies, Canada is to-day thinking sadly and bitterly of her own share of the heavy sacrifices paid to achieve it. A dreadful toll has been levied on the best manhood of all the nations who have taken up arms for Freedom.

Those great and gallant souls who, many of them, have been fighting in the Canadian Divisions for over three long years did in the hard school of war learn much of leadership and self-control which would have been of invaluable benefit to their country in the days of peace. Strengthened in faith and stronger in character, these fine souls have passed on and their loved country is the poorer but for their memory and their example.

As the burden of our sorrow is added to day-by-day while armed evil keeps the field, so must our determination harden against the offender. The infamy of Prussian Kultur, insensible to honour, or truth, or pity, must be destroyed and utterly swept away so that in the new world after the war the fragrance of the memory of our splendid dead may be no longer marred by any taint of the Prussian Beast.

The achievements of Canada's citizen army in the last two months are as notable and meritorious as have been accomplished by any equal body of men during the whole four years of war. When General Currie tells us that they and the British divisions which were joined to his command have in these few weeks met and defeated 47 German divisions—all must agree with him that it is "a mighty achievement."

Cousins and Allies. From the earliest days of the war Americans were never left in doubt as to the reasons why Canada took her place in the Western front with all the other men of our wide-spread Empire. On scores of platforms in American cities Canada's action was explained by statesmen and others, whose names were as familiar in the States as in the Dominion. Though there is no longer need for such propaganda now that Americans and Canadians are fighting side by side, such addresses as those recently given by Sir Edmund Walker and Mr. T. B. Macaulay develop the sympathy between the two peoples and stimulate the common effort.

"Canada likes to think of you as our Allies, you whom we have so long been in the habit of calling our cousins," said the President of the Sun Life Assurance Co. recently to a representative gathering in New York, which was greatly stirred by the terse phrases in which he summarised the extent to which the resources of the Dominion had been devoted to the single purpose of achieving victory ever since August 4, 1914. It is noticeable, too, that no sentence in Mr. Macaulay's address was more heartily applauded than his declaration that "We from Canada feel that we have done well, but we take off our hats to the Mother Country. One of the lessons we have learned from the war is to appreciate the Scotsman, the Englishman and the Frenchman as we never did before, and we appreciate them now because we know them now."

The Valour of the Yank. The inspiring accounts of deeds of great gallantry performed by the young Americans at the Front evoke a thrill of affectionate pride throughout Great Britain. We know that many of these troops, who in their impetuous ardour are storming the greatest strongholds of the Hun, are not of our race, but they speak our common tongue and share our common standards and ideals. It is a matter of just pride and national satisfaction that under the inspiring influence of old British thought and tradition, German- and Austro-Americans are fighting with such ardour and devotion in our common cause. The free air of Western democracy is helping powerfully to purge the old world of narrow caste and reactionary privilege, and there is the same generous admiration and pride felt in the Old Country for the valour of the Yank, whatever his race, as there is for her own sons from home or overseas.

From Personal Knowledge. A most interesting report appears in the Times, from its own correspondent, of the result of the visit of Canadian Editors to Great Britain and France. Those who met the representatives of the public Press of Canada during their visit here know how strongly they were impressed by the abounding signs of the unsparing effort and stern determination of their kin in the Old Country and of our staunch allies in France.

Now that this fuller knowledge and appreciation is widely made known throughout the Dominion and percolates from there through the United States, a very valuable result has been achieved. The old lie that Great Britain was shirking its full sacrifices is now killed and informed public opinion will not brook calumny or veiled treason. Another highly important result of this visit referred to by the Times correspondent is the cordial appreciation which the Editors brought back of the value of the Monarchy in the British Empire—a point so wisely emphasised by General Smuts. A strong tribute is paid by the Times to the " vision and real political sagacity " shown by Lord Beaverbrook in bringing over these visitors from the Dominions.

Canada's Khaki University. As mentioned last week, the Khaki University of Canada has now been placed upon an official and permanent basis. There has been established a Department of Educational Services Overseas, which will be a branch of the General Staff, and will be under a Director of Education, who will be responsible to the Overseas Minister. He will be assisted by a Deputy Director, and there will be an Assistant Director for the work in France and another for that in England. An Advisory Senate will also be part of the organisation. The cost to the Dominion Government is estimated at approximately $363,000, and it is stated that some $500,000 has been raised in the Dominion by private subscription towards the carrying on of the work—a gratifying recognition of its importance.

The new establishment is the logical outcome of the success of the Khaki University, towards which the officers of both the Canadian Y.M.C.A. and the Chaplain Services have so willingly contributed. It was a novel experiment, in keeping with Canada's reputation for enterprise and initiative. The extent to which its example has been followed—notably by the Imperial authorities, who have also just set up an educational department—is not the least notable tribute to its success.

The Wearing of Uniform. The military authorities are naturally on the lookout for the wearing of uniform by unauthorised persons. In these days, when khaki is so widely worn, they are difficult of detection, but every week several cases of this nature are brought before the London courts. One heard the other day was in a somewhat different category from most, and it has attracted a good deal of attention. A Canadian, a former officer in the Royal Flying Corps, was charged with wearing his uniform when no longer entitled to do so. His excuse was delay on the part of his tailor in providing him with the necessary civilian clothes. The magistrate, however, while acquitting him of any criminal intention, would not countenance his way of escape from his dilemma, and fined him £20.

In Canada the same difficulty has been experienced, and a well-known ex-officer was recently tried upon a similar charge. In order to settle the question, and to give a reasonable opportunity for securing civilian clothes, an Order-in-Council has been passed at Ottawa regarding the wearing of uniform. Under this Order, it is a military or naval offence to wear uniform except within one month from the date of retirement or discharge, or on occasions of ceremony approved by the senior Naval or District Officer Commanding, or when permission is obtained in writing.

Murdering Prisoners. While the hypocritical Hun is declaiming before the world his deep humanitarian sentiments, his treatment of his prisoners is a continuing infamy. Only on Tuesday the Duke of Connaught publicly stated that the country is hardly aware what a terrible time our prisoners are having in Germany.

Pte. C. H. Lochead, of Alberta, who recently succeeded in escaping into Denmark, testifies from his own knowledge how our men are being deliberately starved to death or killed by shell-fire while forced to work behind the trenches. In his own party of British prisoners 140 died out of 300 in two months. The perpetrators of these deliberate and calculated murders are now asking for an armistice. Unconditional surrender and retribution for crimes is the only possible reply.

* * *

The Seamen's League. We most warmly commend the appeal of the Merchant Seamen's League, which is so ably governed by Mr. Havelock Wilson, to the notice of all of our readers who can afford a donation to a very patriotic purpose. The fact that Great Britain is an island gave to the Hun his highest hopes of crippling his most formidable antagonist by his dastardly submarine murder campaign. He quite forgot to consider the result of a possible failure. Mr. Havelock Wilson has now clearly told them what it means. No German or German goods will enter British ports for five years after the war—or longer, as his crimes continue.

This matter is entirely in the hands of the Merchant Seamen's League, and as the feeling of the people is unquestionably in favour of Mr. Havelock Wilson and his Union, no Government dare attempt to coerce them. What is it worth to help them to keep the Old Country free of the hypocritical and treacherous Hun for at least five years? Send in your subscriptions.

A Newspaper Transfer. The passing of the London Daily Chronicle into other hands is of some interest to Canadians, on account of its attack on certain well-known Canadians connected with the British Cellulose Company, which has been referred to in the Press as " The Great Dope Scandal," and also of rumours that Lt.-Col. Grant Morden was one of the syndicate which purchased the newspaper. To the truth of this rumour we are glad to see that Lt.-Col. Grant Morden has given a prompt and most explicit denial. As the gallant Colonel is standing for a constituency at the next election in the Conservative interest, it would be obviously impossible for him to seek to control a Liberal organ, and one, in addition, which had seriously impugned both his patriotism and business integrity.

General Currie has caused to be denied in Canada a report to the effect that he intends to take a British command.

A few weeks ago we received a letter from Lt. D. Gibson, Cent. Ont. Regt., pointing out that his portrait had been published in our issue of 14th ult., and described as that of Lt. D. Gibson, Sask. Regt., who had been killed. " I am very much alive," he added. His name appears in this week's casualty lists as having died of wounds.

In regard to our Note last week on the marriage laws of Quebec, it is pointed out to us that it is incorrect to say—as we did on the authority of the correspondent referred to—that the contract can be executed by any English solicitor. The contractual relations between man and wife, when settled by special contract, must be in particular form and subject to certain attestations to give them authenticity, and this can only be carried out by a lawyer having authority from the Province of Quebec. It is for this reason that a properly qualified Quebec lawyer is being attached to the Estates Branch, O.M.F.C.

GENERAL CURRIE'S PRIDE.

Achievements of the Canadian Corps.

The following Special Order, dated October 3, has been issued by Lt.-General Sir Arthur Currie, Commanding the Canadian Corps:

I wish to express to all troops now fighting in the Canadian Corps my high appreciation of the splendid fighting qualities displayed by them in the successful battle of the last five days.

The mission assigned to the Corps was the protection of the flank of the Third and Fourth Armies in their advance, and that mission has been carried out to the complete satisfaction of the Commander-in-Chief.

In your advance you overcame the very formidable obstacle of the Canal du Nord; you carried by assault the fortified Bourlon Wood, the Marcoing line, and seized the high ground extending along the Douai-Cambrai road. The towns of Oisy le Verger, Epinoy, Haynecourt, Marquion, Sains lez Marquion, Sancourt Bourlon, Fontaine Notre Dame, Raillencourt, Sailly, St. Olle, Neuville St. Romy, and Tilloy are now ours, and your patrols have entered Cambrai itself.

How arduous was the task assigned to you, and how valuable to the enemy was the ground that you captured, can be judged by the fact that whereas in the operation of the First, Third and Fourth British Armies 36 enemy divisions have been engaged to this date, 12 of those divisions, supported by 11 independent machine-gun units, have been met and defeated by the Canadian Corps.

As you formed the flank, you suffered enfilade and frontal artillery fire all the way, and the hundreds of machine guns captured testifies to the violence of the opposition from that source. Every evidence confirms the fact that the enemy suffered enormous casualties. He fought stubbornly and well, and for that reason your victory is the more creditable.

You have taken in this battle over 7,000 prisoners and 200 field and heavy guns, thus bringing the total captures of the Canadian Corps since August 8 of this year to 28,000 prisoners, 500 guns, over 3,000 machine guns, and a large amount of stores of all kinds.

Even of greater importance than these captures stands the fact that you have wrested 69 towns and villages and over 175 square miles of French soil from the defiling Hun.

In the short period of two months the Canadian Corps—to which were attached the 32nd Division for the Battle of Amiens, the 4th and the 51st Divisions for the Battle of Arras, and the 11th Division for this Battle of Cambrai—has encountered and defeated decisively 47 German Divisions; that is, nearly a quarter of the total German forces on the Western front.

In the performance of these mighty achievements all the arms and branches of the Corps have bent their purposeful energy working one for all and all for one.

The dash and magnificent bravery of our incomparable infantry have at all times been devotedly seconded with great skill and daring by our machine gunners, while the artillery lent them their powerful and never-failing support. The initiative and resourcefulness displayed by the engineers contributed materially to the depth and rapidity of our advances. The devotion of the medical personnel has been, as always, worthy of every praise. The administrative services, working at all times under very great pressure and adverse conditions, surpassed their usual efficiency. The Chaplain Services, by their continued devotion to the spiritual welfare of the troops and their utter disregard of personal risk, have endeared themselves to the hearts of everyone. The incessant efforts of the Y.M.C.A. and their initiative in bringing comforts right up to the front line, in battle, are warmly appreciated by all.

The victories you have achieved are the fruit of the iron discipline you accepted freely, and of the high standard you have reached in the technical knowledge of your arms, and the combined tactical employment of all your resources.

You must therefore with relentless energy maintain and perfect the high standard of training you have reached, and guard with jealous pride your stern discipline.

Under the lasting protection of Divine Providence, united in a burning desire for the victory of right over might, unselfish in your aims, you are and shall remain a mighty force admired by all, feared and respected by foes.

I am proud of your deeds, and I want to record here my heartfelt thanks for your generous efforts, and my unbounded confidence in your ability to fight victoriously and crush the enemy wherever and whenever you meet him.

THE CANADIAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCE.

Its Record from the First Division's Arrival.

On Monday, October 14, Canadians will celebrate the Fourth Anniversary of the arrival in England of the First Canadian troops after the outbreak of war in 1914.

The record of the Canadian Expeditionary Force is remarkable, both in regard to its steady growth and the engagements in which Canadian troops have taken part. Its growth is best recorded in the following table, which has been compiled from the latest official figures:—

Regular Canadian troops at outbreak of war	3,000
Number of First Contingent	33,000
Canadian soldiers sent overseas up to September 1, 1918	400 000
Troops in training	60 000
Canadian soldiers killed in action	50,000
Casualties	over 175,000
Wounded returned to the Front	40 000
Returned to Canada	50,000
Number who have received decorations	10,000
Awarded the Victoria Cross	39

The First Division went into training on Salisbury Plain about the middle of October, 1914, and sailed for France on February 9, 1915. The Canadians arrived in Flanders in time to bear the brunt of

THE SECOND BATTLE OF YPRES (April, 1915).—A terrible experience, which culminated, however, in a German defeat and the winning of much glory for Canada.

Since then their fighting record may be briefly summarised as follows:—

FESTUBERT (May, 1915). The initial stages of the Aubers Ridge offensive. The Canadians, attached to the First Army, continued the sanguinary fighting for La Quinque Rue, K 5, and the Orchard.

LOOS (September 1915). The Canadians played a small part only in this battle, but, by artillery work, minor attacks, and a simulated offensive prevented the movement of German reserves.

ST ELOI (April, 1916) Throughout the whole month the men of the Second Canadian Division fought a terrible and inconclusive battle for the possession of the mine craters before the village

SANCTUARY WOOD HOOGE (June, 1916) The third great German attempt for Ypres. On June 2 the enemy attacked and pressed our men back but on the 13th the Canadians counter attacked and regained the lost positions.

THE SOMME: COURCELETTE (September, 1916).—Here the Canadians gained a brilliant victory, capturing the village and penetrating beyond their final objectives.

REGINA TRENCH (October-November, 1916).—The scene of some of the bloodiest fighting of the war. Regina Trench was captured by the Fourth Canadian Division on November 11.

VIMY RIDGE (April, 1917).—The Germans deemed this position impregnable. It was captured by the Canadian Corps in one of the most carefully-conceived and brilliantly-executed enterprises of the war.

HILL 70: LENS (July-August, 1917).—In many weeks of close fighting the Canadians prepared the way for the capture of Lens. The final assault was postponed by the Passchendaele operations.

PASSCHENDAELE (October-November, 1917).—There were four distinct battles in this operation, and the final attack upon November 10 gained the Canadian Corps the whole object of the offensive.

VILLERS-BRETONNEUX (March, 1918).—At this point the Canadian Motor Machine-Gun Batteries materially assisted in the first real check to the great German advance.

AMIENS: MONCHY: CAMBRAI (1918).—The series of battles which resulted in the final check of the German armies has not yet been properly recorded. The victory of Monchy is assured. The fighting about Cambrai is undecided, though there is no doubt of the final issue.

Apart from her fighting men, Canada has furnished various special corps which have proved of inestimable value to the British Armies. The Canadian Forestry Corps has brought the craft of lumbering to Europe, and at times has supplied the armies of three countries with necessary timber for the thousand-and-one purposes of war.

The Canadian Corps Salvage Companies have supplied numerous munition factories behind the lines with raw material gathered from the battlefield. And on the whole of the Western front the Canadian Railway Troops have been employed, handling French, Belgian, English and Canadian munitions and supplies, pushing their railways forward through mud and shell fire, and delivering the goods with the best of them.

In Memoriam

In proud and honoured memory of the Officers, N.C.O.s and Men of the 1st Battalion of the Central Ontario Regiment (O.M.F.C.) who fell in action at Regina Trench (Somme), October 8, 1916.

This issue of "Canada" is increased by 8 pages in order to enable us to give the full and complete casualty lists, our biographical notes on officers and all the regular military news of the week. This is the only newspaper providing this service for Canadians in khaki. The postage on this issue to Canada is 1d.

CANADIAN CORPS' BITTEREST BATTLE.

Heavy Casualties—Cambrai Entered After Midnight Attack.

IN his despatch of Wednesday, October 2, Sir Douglas Haig reported:—"As the result of their operations yesterday and last night in the neighbourhood of Cambrai Canadian troops now hold the suburb Neuville St. Remy and the high ground west of Ramillies."

The following day it was reported:—"Yesterday evening the enemy attacked our positions north of Cambrai and was repulsed, leaving prisoners in our hands."

On Wednesday morning Sir Douglas Haig reported:—"Shortly after midnight Canadian troops attacked north of Cambrai. Ramillies has been captured, and the crossing of the Canal de l'Escaut secured in the neighbourhood of the village. Our troops have entered Cambrai."

The bitterness of the fighting in which the Canadians have been engaged before Cambrai is graphically described in the following despatches from Mr. J. F. B. Livesay, the Canadian Press Correspondent at the Front:—

Huns' Determined Stand.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 1, 10 P.M.

Later reports do not verify all the gains our troops were reported to have made. At the jump-off early this morning, under the screen of a heavy barrage, we anticipated the enemy in a concerted counter-attack, for he had massed his shock troops and laid down his own barrage almost on the instant we went forward. Our momentum carried us through his organisations, which were thrown into temporary confusion from which we reaped at the outset over 1,000 prisoners. These were from an unprecedented number of units.

Local attacks by battalions and regiments of the enemy divisions have taken place, and our artillery and machine-guns and bombing squadrons have been most active on innumerable targets of enemy personnel, our artillery all day long unceasingly engaging targets, in many cases by direct fire over open sights. Regimental officers who have been through Ypres, the Somme and Passchendaele agree that the enemy has never fought more determinedly, and we have taken from him to-day a great toll in killed and wounded. The reason for this is not far to seek. In fighting for the Cambrai line the Hun at last is fighting for his fireside.

"The hardest day's fighting the Canadian Corps was ever in," remarked a Western Brigadier. "It was ding-dong all day long. We made three or four attacks and beat off numerous enemy counter-attacks. He had a great concentration of heavy artillery behind the canal, and his machine-guns were innumerable. We estimate he had a division on every thousand yards of our front."

Our artillery officers said it was their biggest day. The enemy came up the valleys in dense masses, upon which our guns of all classes played all day long. He was evidently determined to recapture Bourlon Wood as the key to Cambrai, but the close of the day finds us with our line well advanced over what it was at dawn. We have an outpost on the outskirts of Cambrai, on the canal.

It was inevitable that in such desperate fighting our casualties must be heavy. With the battle still in progress it has been impossible to evacuate all our wounded. Individual battalions have suffered severely from the loss of officers, though the junior ranks are being satisfactorily filled by old non-commissioned officers who have returned to their units after qualifying for commissions. The drain of two months' offensive warfare on our veteran leadership is, however, severe and difficult to replenish. Nevertheless the Canadian Corps stands proudly on the ground it has wrested from the enemy. If it has suffered severely, it is because in its assault on the enemy's strategic flank it has attracted to itself the pick of his arms, and has thus made lighter the task of our victorious armies elsewhere. During the past month the Corps has accounted for 33 per cent. of the guns and 20 per cent. of the prisoners captured by the British on the West Front.

A Savage and Sustained Battle.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 2, NOON.

Our line was quiet last night so far as the infantry was concerned, though both sides carried on a heavy artillery strafing, and the enemy bombing planes were particularly active. We are still looking down upon Cambrai, which lies in the hollow south of the highly situate village of St. Olle, which we hold, this being, in fact, a suburb. In his retirement the enemy set booby traps in this village and in Raillencourt, resulting in the blowing-up of the churches and some larger buildings the night before last. No damage resulted to our troops, who gave the villages a wide berth.

Beyond question yesterday's battle was the most savage and sustained in which the Canadian Corps has ever engaged. Only the utmost heroism and tenacity of our infantry, including battalions from Quebec, Central Ontario, Western Ontario, Manitoba and Eastern and Western British Columbia, enabled us to cling on to the salient we had driven into the heart of the enemy's defence in face of wave after wave of counter attack by almost overwhelming numbers. Never, either, have they faced such a tremendous concentration of artillery and machine-guns. The enormous losses we inflicted on the masses of the enemy must have crippled him. All day long our artillery, machine-guns, and riflemen had targets such as seldom offer. The slaughter went on from dawn to dark, but the situation is still critical. The enemy may elect to pay the price of another desperate hazard.

Our casualties are now heavier in the present operation than in the battles of the previous seven weeks before Amiens and Arras, and when we went through the Quéant-Drocourt line.

So far we have attacked and beaten the enemy out of his prepared positions when he had a numerical superiority in men of three to two, and much greater in machine gunners. His men have fought with the utmost resolution, and have thus extorted the admiration of our soldiers. Their grey waves, lapping over each other to destruction, recall the bitter fighting of 1915 and 1916, when the enemy moral was at its highest.

Enemy's Severe Punishment.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 10 P.M.

Our line was abnormally quiet to-day until three o'clock this afternoon, when the enemy artillery started to strafe St. Olle, but nothing further came of it. Early this evening a counter-attack, local in character, developed against our Tilloy positions, but was easily put down by our artillery and infantry. We took some prisoners. It becomes increasingly doubtful whether the enemy is in any shape to launch a powerful thrust against our positions, so severe was the punishment he received yesterday, when he threw in no fewer than 33 battalions. He cannot have more than nine in reserve unless he is to draw from new elements.

Canadian Engineers have unearthed no fewer than 245 anti-tank land mines on the canal south of Marquion. Various expedients were resorted to in order to conceal them, a simple apparatus such as innocent looking pieces of lumber left lying in the roadway setting off the detonator.

Blécourt is still a debatable point, both our own and enemy posts being reported in possession. From time to time the village has had the fate to be the crux of bitter fighting. On last Sunday morning it fell to the lot of a British Columbia Highland battalion to storm Sancourt, and they then pushed on towards Blécourt. A lieutenant and four men actually entered Blécourt, where over 100 Boches surrendered. These they marched out in column of fours, and the prisoners were astounded to find that there was no further support. All four men were wounded, but they brought in their capture. "This is the first time we have had to chuck anything we have got hold of," they remarked, referring to Blécourt, "and we don't like it." This battalion lost heavily, because many of its men, inexperienced in tactics of retreat, died at their posts even when surrounded.

The same kind of thing was repeated on a larger scale both on Monday and yesterday. Once our men get their teeth into position they would sooner die than let go. The alternative of surrendering does not seem to enter their head, wonderful stuff that they are! That is the quality that stemmed the torrent of the enemy counter-attack yesterday.

Canadians' Wonderful Stand.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 6.

Saddened though they be by the heavy price of victory, the people of Canada will thrill with pride when they come to read the full story of the wonderful stand their troops made during the early days of last week against enemy masses determined to wrest from them their conquests. Gallant and heroic episodes are innumerable. Battalions, companies, and little knots of men stood their ground against waves of assault supported by the greatest massing of machine-guns this war has produced.

It is the penalty of storming troops, such as the Canadian Corps, that they sometimes create for themselves in their impetuous advance unprotected flanks. The salient they drive into enemy lines becomes enfiladed, and if power is not at hand to widen it out into a practical front, the troops in the apex must either fight it out against overwhelming odds or fall back. The latter is not a lesson the Canadian Corps has learned, and it was this desperate clinging to positions, tactically untenable, that contributed to our heavy casualties. Incidentally it was just such stands that stemmed the enemy waves and frustrated his savage efforts to win back Bourlon Wood.

Such a situation was brought about on Tuesday morning when a famous Ontario regiment, having reached its objective, south of Cuvillers, found that its left flank was exposed and shattering enemy masses were advancing upon it. A retirement would have been perfectly justified, but such a movement would have uncovered our centre and imperilled all the gains on our right, brilliantly made in the early morning. So the battalion, much weakened as it was, stood fast. At the end of the battle, the gallant Colonel, formerly of the Canadian Engineers, was the only officer unwounded.

Holding a vital trench on the flank was a party of 17 of this unit, whose command had been taken over by a Staff Captain attached to Intelligence of the Brigade. He had been sent forward by the Brigadier to help fill the depleted ranks of officers. He had been recalled hastily after only three days of leave to take his place in this battle. This little party was entirely isolated, but for hours they held on. The trench was the key to the position. They were still grimly carrying on, taking great toll of the enemy, when supports were pushed into them. Few were unwounded. The Captain, an M.C. with Bar, died of his wounds. The Intelligence Officer of another Brigade engaged in like operations, particularly distinguished himself by brilliant reconnaissance work, pushing out beyond our outposts under continual fire.

A lieutenant in a Manitoba Battalion, a D.C.M. and M.M., formerly a non-commissioned officer, by his devoted example inspired his men to stand fast under extraordinarily heavy punishment. Though wounded in both legs he carried on until he fainted from loss of blood and was carried out. The Commanding Officer of a Nova Scotia Battalion, though wounded in the cheek, temporarily losing the sight of an eye, refused to be evacuated, and stayed by his unit throughout the operation, contributing greatly to its success. The Colonel of an Ontario Battalion, though fatally wounded in the hip, directed his command until he lost consciousness. His brilliant leadership had proved a great asset in a critical part of the struggle.

These are but few haphazard cases. Never have the Canadians fought harder nor to better purpose. In those five days of battle they dealt a blow at the enemy from which he still reels. Above everything else it was the unconquerable spirit of all ranks that gained the decision, the effects of which are hardly yet realised. Notwithstanding the Hun's lavish and repeated outpourings of blood, he has not shaken a whit our strangle-hold on his vital pivot of Cambrai.

Holding the Line

MONDAY, OCTOBER 7.

Troops from the Maritime Provinces, Quebec, and the four Western Provinces, as well as former Canadian Mounted Riflemen, are holding our line north of Cambrai with men of the Imperial troops on our left. This line is in parts improvised and the main object of much harassing enemy fire.

CANADA'S "NEW" TROOPS.

Mr. Fred James, official correspondent of the Canadian Overseas Ministry with the Canadian Forces in France, writes:

Thousands of men who enlisted in the Canadian Expeditionary Force this year have been in the recent battles in which the Canadian Corps has figured prominently, and on the testimony of those who may rightly be termed veterans in the C.E.F., they have absorbed the spirit of the Corps from the moment they joined it and displayed it under the stern and exacting trials of battle.

These new troops, as they are popularly termed, have found on their arrival in France a warm welcome as comrades or pals in arms, or as brothers from home, to contribute their share to the success of the Cause. The spirit of pride radiated by every officer and man in the Corps, and the splendid morale exhibited in so many ways have been absorbed by the newer arrivals. They got their first real baptism of fire in the Battle of Amiens, and even the veterans themselves have not shown more courage and initiative in the strenuous engagements that have been fought since that fight began on August 8.

Among those who have been awarded decorations and recently recommended for such are the names of many men who left Canada this year and arrived in France since May. On the little crosses, too, that stand row on row in the cemeteries here and there on the new battlefields are the names of men who left Canada a few short months ago. They are silent, yet eloquent, testimony of the service they have given for their country.

ROMAN CATHOLIC CHAPLAINS' CAPTURES.

Forty-seven Germans and a Field Gun.

Information concerning the rôle played by the Roman Catholic section of the Canadian Chaplain Service in the Arras-Cambrai fighting of the past month reveals the fact that one priest captured unaided and unarmed 47 Germans, and another led a party and captured a field gun. Three priests were wounded, two gassed, and one buried, though fortunately none was killed. It was Capt. (Rev.) J. F. Nicholson, of Kingston, Ont., who captured the 47 Germans. Advancing with his unit, a C.M.R. battalion, he walked alone, armed only with a walking-stick, to a German dug-out. A German officer came out and said that he and his men would surrender if their lives were spared. This was, of course, agreed to, and a total of four officers and 43 men came out of the dug-out. At this stage the senior German officer said to Capt. Nicholson, "You are unarmed." Father Nicholson, who as a chaplain carried no arms, answered by putting his hand to his hip, and saying "Am I?" At this critical moment the M.O. arrived, who also was unarmed, and Father Nicholson told him to disarm the 47 Germans. Two Canadian runners came up, armed with revolvers, and this slender escort conducted the prisoners to the collecting post. A week later Father Nicholson was gassed, but he has now returned to duty.

An equally romantic episode was the capture of a field gun by some soldiers of a second Division unit led by Major (Rev.) R. C. McGillivray, of Antigonish, N.S. Father McGillivray went over the top with his battalion, and got caught with another officer and some men by gun fire. The officer was killed and the party took refuge in a shell hole. Here they were still under fire. So Father McGillivray, taking command of the party, decided that they might as well die fighting. With a blood-curdling yell, he led the men against the German gun, which was firing point-blank. The Germans, hearing his yell and seeing soldiers coming, ran, and the words "Captured by the —— battalion" were at once written on the gun.

Ministering to the Wounded.

These warlike episodes did not interfere with the purely religious work of the chaplains. Before going into action all chaplains worked zealously with their various units, and felt their men were prepared for the trials ahead. The chaplains of the various Infantry Units went with their men into the attack and worked with battalion M.O.s and stretcher-bearers. While their first aim was the administering of the Sacraments, yet they also profited by every opportunity to minister to the wounded, and after the heavy actions they assisted in burying the dead. The Artillery and Infantry chaplains took their places at the various dressing stations. Of the 21 Roman Catholic chaplains in the Corps, two devoted all their time to assisting burial parties, six devoted most of their time to dressing stations, 12 devoted most of their time to wounded on the battlefield, and Lt.-Col. (Rev.) F. L. French, D.S.O., the senior Roman Catholic Chaplain, kept in touch with the chaplains at the important points.

The casualties among the Roman Catholic Chaplains during the Arras-Cambrai fighting up to October 2 consist of Major (Rev.) A. Madden, M.C. Vancouver, wounded (a second time this year) on August 8; Major (Rev.) T. McCarthy, M.C., London, buried by a shell, but remained at duty; Capt. (Rev.) J. J. Desjardins, Ottawa, gassed, but remained at duty; Capt. (Rev.) J. F. Nicholson, Kingston, gassed, but returned to duty; Major (Rev.) M. N. Tompkins, M.C., Professor of Chemistry at Antigonish University, wounded on October 1; and Capt. (Rev.) J. J. O'Reilly, Kingston, wounded on October 1. None of these casualties is considered to be dangerous.

ZERO PLUS TWENTY-FOUR HOURS II.

A HUMAN EQUATION.

By Captain R. J. Renison, Chaplain, Canadian Forces. (Concluded from September 28

"OVER the top" is an expression which has been thoughtlessly desecrated by civilians all over the Empire. Whether it be a Y.M.C.A. whirlwind campaign, a Red Cross dance or a municipal bond issue, any special effort is dignified by a name which to the soldier signifies the apotheosis of war. He may have gone through months, or even years, of routine warfare, but he measures all things and all men by that hour when he crouched in the trench waiting for zero. Before lies the grey mist of No Man's Land. Ere noon it will be over—the objective, Blighty or R.I.P. The man has yet to be born whose pulse does not beat faster at the words "Over the top with the best of luck."

It is only half an hour to zero, and as the oval three-quarter moon dives into an east-bound cloud, ghostly figures are creeping from the trenches through the cruel wire tresses of the Calypso of No Man's Land. There is not a sound as a battalion in perfect formation crouches on the mark for the pistol shot. There is perfect liaison on right and left for miles.

Suddenly the snore of a German aeroplane draws near, and a moment later the staccato of machine guns tells of an encounter right over the lines. Our airmen evidently have no intention of allowing Fritz to make a reconnaissance. The combat in the dark behind the clouds was the sort of thing that Doré would have liked to picture. The eye, the ear and the imagination all contributed colours. It ended in a scene seldom witnessed, even in France. The German 'plane burst into flames and dropped from the moon like a June bug from a gas jet. Five hundred feet from the ground the wings flew off, and the unfortunate victim fell like Lucifer into the Boche lines. The petrol, the flares and ammunition exploded. The whole episode made the last few minutes like years to the throbbing figures crouched in the woods and shell holes along the front.

Following the Barrage.

A modern barrage is a thing of mathematics. In all but its perpetuity it is as irresistible as the march of the Equinox. Its first herald is the scream of the heavies, fired miles behind the line and timed to land with missiles which made a shorter journey. From the Olympus-shaking 9.2 to the rattle of machine guns, everything is there. It creeps along, minute by minute, from furlong to furlong, while in the cool of its shade the line advances.

When the last wave has gone Headquarters party follow. The line of contact is already a mile away, but the Germans are now pounding our trench area in a most annoying manner. The Colonel, who leads the way, has a pace like Tom Longboat. In peace times he would be considered a promising youth, and might be second in command of a company in a Militia regiment. He has a most unfair advantage of the rest of the section, for his stride just covers a shell hole and the others every minute had to do a half circumference. In passing he points out a celebrated town which for three years alternately has been the target for the batteries of both sides. "When in doubt, strafe N——— V———" seems to have been a motto faithfully followed. Nothing but an occasional iron gate or a squared stone would tell that houses ever stood there.

The Huns certainly heeded the Apostolic injunction to "lay aside every weight," for the ground is littered with cowskin knapsacks, water-bottles and rifles, while greatcoats are seen everywhere. But they never drop their steel helmets until the last moment. As the sun came up, a wide ravine on the right gave a wonderful view of the advancing battalions on the other side. For a few minutes it looked like the picture of a pitched battle from the Franco-Prussian war. Then three Tanks hit the line, going over machine gun posts, and the wave passed on.

The Sub and His Batman.

There is a certain sub who has some of the tendencies of Joab, the son of Zeruiah. He carries two revolvers and a Celtic temperament. His sole German vocabulary is "Heraus mit dir." At the first reserve trench a long line of "Kamerads" appeared, like Agog, "walking delicately." Disdaining to send an escort with them, he waved them to the rear. The only prisoners in the first two miles who did not have their hands up were four who had their hands in their pockets of their baggy trousers, and that was because they had been relieved of their "Gott mit uns" belts.

The sub's auburn head was a very oriflamme in the first wave of the battle. His little French-Canadian batman followed him like a shadow, and was in every shell hole a step behind him as he led his company against the machine guns. When the trench was captured, they investigated dug-outs with a Mills bomb and "Heraus mit dir" ("Out with you"). "Pardon, Kamerad," was the response, and a platoon of Germans filed up the steps. All encounters were not so peaceful, for the machine gunners fought with desperation. In one mêlée one might have heard a cool voice "Put on your helmet Heine; I want to see whether it is bullet-proof." So they went from trench to trench, company vying with company and platoon with platoon for pride of place.

Within two hours Battalion Headquarters were established three miles within the German lines, and the Colonel was calmly carrying on his administrative work. The red-banded runners attached to Headquarters were fearlessly carrying messages under heavy shell fire. These men are among the best in all that goes to make an ideal soldier. In certain stages of an offensive operation their work is of priceless value. They are absolutely oblivious to personal danger.

The M.O., leaving the work in the rear for the dressing station, has established a regimental aid post in the same trench. His first case was an amusing one. He had been asserting that no German wounded should be brought until our own men were cared for. As he sat with an anti-Tank gun on his knee, wondering how big a hole it would make, a Prussian officer appeared with his face streaming with blood. The doctor leaped out of the trench and began to dress the wound. He was promptly hit in the arm by two pieces of flying shrapnel. A look of injured innocence came over his face, and when he came to himself he began swearing with great unction. The German disappeared in the storm, but the Medical Officer refused to leave, and continued ministering to the long stream of wounded and dying during the day.

A PRISONER NEWLY CAPTURED IN THE CAMBRAI ATTACK MAKES HIMSELF USEFUL.

Canadian War Records Photograph.

His First Battle.

One of the stretcher-bearers was a little boy just out from Canada. It was his first battle. He was so short that one corner of the stretcher drooped, so a stalwart Heine was pressed into service, and the boy was instructed to plant a flag and act as guide to the bearers. At once the post became the most unhealthy spot in the area, shells dropped all around. The little boy quietly came close to the doctor and said, "Doc, I am going to stay near you for I think I will need you"—and he did!

I hope that in the future, whatever national paintings are secured to commemorate this war will not omit its terrible side. There are many people who object to reality. But it would be an insult and desecration to those who have suffered and died if Canadian records do not show war as it is. Victories must be paid for, and although, comparatively speaking, the Canadian casualties were few, they were enough. Thank God for the manhood of those boys who passed through on their way to hospital!

There was one, a boy of twenty-one, who had risen from the ranks to command a platoon. He was the life of the mess. Whenever the boys gathered in the evening his trained tenor voice led the song—to hear him lead the "Miserere" chorus told you that he had a poet's soul. When all the officers of his company were casualties he carried on, and his cheery voice over the telephone reassured his commanding officer. He was hit while trying to reach a wounded comrade, and was carried out to die in a casualty clearing station.

Another man, Dobson, of Paisley, whose leg was shattered with a shell, completed the amputation with his own jack-knife, and dressed his own wound. He thought his other foot was gone, but when the doctor told him that it was only broken, he said "I'm glad; that's Jake-a-loo."

When the news began to crystallise it became certain that Canada again had not failed. In the following days the work was completed which was so auspiciously begun. Before they rested, the Canadian Corps had pierced the Wotan Line and looked down upon the Canal du Nord.

The Company Officers' Experiences.

Later in the day the four company officers gathered to tell their story. Three of them were seriously, but not dangerously, wounded. They were full of praises for their men. One may pause here to pay a tribute to the private soldier in this and every war—the cheerful, fed-up, fighting, buck private whose character makes the dreams of the commanding officer come true. As a matter of sober fact, decorations can only be by decimation; for every one that is gazetted ten are earned.

Phil May and his company were supposed to be in support, but it is a theory of his that the best support is in front, and he reached his objective along with the others. He was on the point of capturing "a little town" for extra measure when he was shot through the shoulder by a sniper. His helmet had the same tilt and his eye the same sparkle as before. The Grand Duke was wounded early in the day, but led his company to their resting-place before he admitted it. Keen, cool and reliable, he had not time to get wounded. He went over the top twice more in the next three days.

Everyone admitted that it had been "B" Company's day. Mac came in minus a big toe, looking twenty years older. He said that things had not been "very rosy" at times. He had arrived in his trench on schedule time. His first action was to take the sign post and send it to Headquarters. A pigeon—another forethought—carried the good news to Division. But before Mac could settle down there was work to be done. His flank was unprotected, and three German field guns enfiladed the trench. "They were giving some trouble," he said, "until they stopped." On being asked why they stopped he admitted that he had to stop them, which was done as narrated earlier in this story. "Then there was the clearing of the trench on the flank." This was not done with shovels and a fatigue party. A sergeant and a signaller volunteered as No. 1 and No. 2 bayonets. They went ahead, and Mac followed with a haversack full of bombs, tossing around the corners, then following up No. 1 and No. 2 bayonets, "and helped the Heines over the parapet right and left."

The Quartermaster and Transport Officer.

The Quartermaster and the Transport Officer have come into their own in this war. Perhaps there is no Military Department which has won such unanimous approval as the marvellous system which unfailingly supplies the trenches with the finest food of the Allied world. During an advance the daily journey of the transport train is an Odyssey of Adventure. Whenever the Hun retreats he shells the roads and water supply and mines the paths if he has time, much in the same spirit as a small boy chased out of an orchard throws stones at the farmer over the fence. Young Brady, the Transport Officer, came into the dugout smiling to-night with mail only seventeen days from Canada. He detected two mines on the way up and serpentined his column through a harassing fire of shells. About 3 a.m. one of the officers, lying in his bunk, dreamed of having his name spelt out by the signaller at the wire. A moment later a pink slip was placed in his hand and he read, "A boy—all well." War has many aspects.

A Dead Soldier's Last Wishes.

One more story, and I have done. There were some who did not reach the line and who did not come back. In a shell hole on the battlefield they found one of the men of the battalion dead. Pinned to his tunic was the following letter, which had been written after he had been wounded :—

August 26, Shell Hole 999.

To whom it may concern.

If you find this on my body, please write to the address on the back and tell them that I have stopped a south-bound German bullet, and you guess I have settled down. Be sure and write, for this is a dead soldier's last wish.

CANADA'S OVERSEAS MILITARY FORCES.

Monday's Commemoration Service and Dinner.

Canadian Headquarters in London have now completed arrangements for commemorating on Monday next the fourth anniversary of the arrival of the First Canadian Contingent in England on October 14, 1914.

In the afternoon there will be a special service at St. Margaret's Church, Westminster, which will be held at 5 p.m., in order to enable officers and men on duty in the London district to attend. Major D. V. Warner, Senior Canadian Chaplain, London Area, will conduct the service, and Col. (the Rev. Canon) J. M. Almond, C.M.G., Director of Canadian Chaplain Services, will deliver an address.

In the evening there will be a dinner, when Lt.-General Sir R. E. W. Turner, V.C., will preside over a re-union of about 400 Canadian officers, representing all departments of the Canadian Overseas Forces, from survivors of the First Division down to those who have recently come overseas.

Notes on Officers.

Lt.-Col. W. A. Bishop, V.C., D.S.O. (with Bar), M.C., D.F.C., has been made Chevalier of the Legion of Honour (first class),, and been awarded the Croix de Guerre (with Palm Leaf) for distinguished service in the zone of the French Armies.

Capt. R. H. Warden and Lt. A. R. Merrill, Man., have been retained in Canada.

Nursing Sisters J. W. Cochrane, K. Adams and G. M. Ferguson, C.A. M.C., have resigned their appointments.

N/S. M. M. Parker, C.A.M.C., has been retained in Canada for further medical treatment.

Capt. H. W. MacDonnell, E. Ont., a repatriated prisoner of war, has returned to Canada.

Capt. (Rev.) N. A. MacEachern has returned to Canada on compassionate grounds.

Capt. C. G. Imrie, C.A.M.C., has returned to Canada to resume his civil occupation, and Lt. W. C. Little, M.M., C.F.A., and Lt. G. C. Anderson, C.M.G.C., have returned to resume their medical studies.

Nursing Sisters M. M. Muir and J. M. Smith, C.A.M.C., have resigned their appointments in England.

Capt. S. R. Farquharson, Alta., has been transferred to the B.C. Regt.

Capt. W. Nickle, A.D.C. to General Turner, has recovered from his recent illness, during which he was an inmate of the I.O.D.E. Hospital, Hyde Park Place. Curiously enough, Lt. Robin Watt, General Currie's A.D.C., occupied the next bed. The latter is making excellent progress.

Appointments.

Lt.-Col. F. W. G. Anderson to be O.C., 54th Forestry District, vice Lt.-Col. W. S. Featherstonhaugh; Major J. E. Swinburn to be O.C., 53rd District. Major A. J. R. Parkes, C.M.G.C., has ceased to be an instructor at the C.M.G. School. Major E. A. C. Wilcox, D.S.O., Man., has been appointed an instructor at the School of Military Engineering, vice Major J. H. I. Brown, D.S.O., Que. Major W. M. Macaw, M.C., Man., is appointed an inspector of P. and B. T., C.A.G.S., from an instructor. Major H. W Niven, D.S.O., M.C., E. Ont., to command Officers' Casualty Company, C.T.S.

Recent Secondings.—Capt. (Q.M.) G. Bawden, E. Ont. (Dept. of Gen. Auditor), Capt. F. Caldwell, M.C., Lt. R. C. J. de Satge, Que., Lt. J. H. Gainor, M.C., Alta., Lt. (Acting Capt.) R. A. Normandin, Capt. A. J. Plant, M.C., and Lt. J. M. Stephenson, D.C.M., Que. (C.T.S.); Major G. C. McLean, Man. (Hqrs., O.M.F.C.); Lt. P. G. Might, W. Ont. (Y.M.C.A.).

Returned to Canada.

Capt. D. W. Rowat, M.C., C.M.G.C.; Lt. C. F. Carnegie, C.F.C.; Lt. C. F. P. Faulkner, B.C.; H.-Lt. A. S. Jarvis, B.C.

For duty.—Col. F. G. Finley, C.B., Lt.-Cols. J. C. Meakins and T A. Starkey, and N/S. D. McL. P. Cotton, C.A.M.C.

Invalided.—Lt.-Col. G. McCombe, D.S.O., Que.; Capt. J. H. Fisher, Capt. G. B. Wiswell, M.C., and Lt. (Q.M.) J. B. Showler, C.A.M.C.; Lt. S. Johnston, Man.

According to Mr. W. E. Duperow, general passenger agent of the G.T.P. and Canadian Government Railways, in spite of some discouraging reports, conditions in Western Canada may be described as excellent. One of the most encouraging features of the 1918 season in the West is the splendid volume of home-seekers flowing into the newly opened-up lands in Central British Columbia.

At the recent general meeting of the British Passenger Agents' Association representatives of the Australian States and leading steamship companies expressed their unanimous approval of the past work of the Association and strongly supported the claims of agents to effective recognition in the future. Sir George Perley also gave his support on behalf of the Dominion of Canada.

OFFICERS KILLED AND DIED.

Overseas Military Forces of Canada.

Lt. Solon Albright, C. Ont. (died of wounds), belonged to Kitchener, Ont., came overseas with the Canadian Scottish, and subsequently joined a battalion of the 48th Highlanders.

Lt. Charles V. Allan, C.F.A. (died of wounds on August 31), was the only son of Mr. J. C. Allan, of 829, Lorne Crescent, Montreal. Deceased enlisted as a gunner in the First Contingent, and was commissioned last April.

Lt. Ernest W. Auld, Eng. (killed), was the son of the late Mr. G. E. Auld, of Charlottetown, P.E.I., and stepson of Mr. A. Pomeroy, formerly manager of the Queen Hotel, Halifax.

Lt. W. L. Brassey, M.M., E. Ont. (killed on September 27), was the son of Mrs. Brassey, 517, Balliol Street, Toronto, and came overseas with the First Contingent. In addition to winning the Military Medal, he held the Croix de Guerre. Lt. Brassey had been four times wounded.

Major James G. Burns, Corps Artillery (killed on September 28), was the only son of Capt. (Rev.) R. N. Burns, Chaplain Services, and Mrs. Burns, of 486, Jarvis Street, Toronto. An honours graduate of, and later a demonstrator in analytical chemistry at the University of Toronto, deceased came overseas in February, 1916, and had been in France 27 months. He secured his majority last December, and was 27. Numerous letters have been received from officers, N.C.O.s and men revealing the great devotion and affection which they entertained for Major Burns as a leader and as a comrade.

Lt. Ernest L. Doidge, Man. and R.A.F. (killed or died of wounds), was the son of Mr. L. G. and Mrs. Doidge, 528, Lonsdale Avenue, North Vancouver. Deceased, who has served in France for over three years, had been missing since July 31. Three brothers are serving.

Lt. R. W. Eaton, B.C. (killed), left Victoria, B.C. (where he was employed in the Union Bank of Canada), as a sergeant in the 103rd Bn. He was serving with the Canadian Scottish.

Lt. Cyril A. Evans, N.S. (died of wounds), was the son of Mr. C. A. Evans, insurance agent, of Halifax, and was a 1915 graduate of Dalhousie University.

Lt. Douglas B. Gilmour, Que. (killed on September 29), was the son of Mr. W. B. Gilmour, 256, Prince Arthur Street, Montreal. He came overseas with the 73rd Highland Bn., was 24, and had previously been wounded.

Lt. John Randolph Hubbard, Que. (killed on September 29, aged 35), was the second son of Mr. W. R. and Mrs. Hubbard, 6, Broomhill Avenue, Partick, Glasgow. Deceased came overseas with a Montreal unit.

Capt. William Francis Jamieson, D.S.O., Man. (killed on September 28), was the son of Dr. Jamieson, of Edmonton Street, Winnipeg. He was severely wounded in the shoulder on February 6. Capt. Jamieson was awarded the D.S.O. early this year for gallantry when, as a lieutenant, he reorganised his men after they had been driven back, and led them forward in a successful attack.

Lt. C. E. Kinton, N.S. and R.A.F. (killed or died of wounds), was previously reported missing. Deceased, who was an observer officer, formerly held a Militia commission in the Stony Creek Company of the 77th Wentworth Regt.

Lt. R. B. Lloyd, D.C.M., N.B. (killed), formerly held the rank of company sergt-major, and was awarded the D.C.M. for good work on the Somme in 1916. His mother, Mrs. Marcus Lloyd, lives at 51, Harrison Street, St. John, N.B. He was 25, and before enlistment was employed by Scovil Bros., Ltd. A younger brother came overseas with the First Contingent.

Lt. Alexander McCormack, M.M., Alta. (killed), was the eldest son of Mr. Robert McCormack, 155, Hyndland Road, Glasgow, and was 29. Originally a C.P.R. employé, he enlisted in 1914 as a private.

Lt. Victor Henry McElroy, Eng. and R.A.F. (killed on September 2), and previously reported missing, was the son of Mr. Wm. McElroy, of Richmond, Carleton County, Ont., and was 21 Given his commission in March, 1916, he came overseas the following July. Subsequently he was seconded to the R.A.F., and went to France as a scout pilot. His only brother, Lt. Frank C. McElroy, of an Ottawa battalion, was wounded on September 2, and is now convalescing at Matlock Bath. It has since been announced that the deceased officer has been awarded the D.F.C.

Capt. Martin W. McKinnon, N.S. (killed), belonged to Beaver Cove, Cape Breton. He came overseas with the Nova Scotia Highlanders.

Capt. T. M. McLean, N.S. (died of wounds), was the only son of Mr. J. A. McLean, K.C., of Bridgewater, N.S. He was for some time adjutant of the Nova Scotia Highlanders.

Lt. R. S. Machum, Man. (died of wounds), was the son of Mr E. R. Machum, of St. John, N.B

Lt. Mackay Mackay, E. Ont. (died of wounds), was the son of Mr. R. Mackay and Mrs. Mackay, crofter, Skinnet, Melness, Tongue, Sutherlandshire. Deceased, who was 27, enlisted in Winnipeg, and came over with the original P.P.C.L.I. Severely wounded in 1915, he was for a time with the C.A.P.C., and later received a commission with his old regiment. He received fatal wounds in the battle of Parvillers.

Capt. Charles Stuart Martin, M.C. (killed on September 29), was the son of Mrs. Martin, 11, Murray Avenue, Westmount, P.Q., and enlisted as a private in Lt.-Col. Baker's M.R. unit. Before enlistment he was attending McGill University. He was awarded the M.C. early in 1917 for gallantry in a raid, and had been twice wounded.

Lt. F. J. S. Martin, Cent. Ont. (died of wounds), was formerly Crown Attorney for the district of Algoma, Ont., succeeding the late Judge McFadden in 1914. He lived at Sault Ste. Marie, and came overseas in 1916 with the 119th Bn.

Major G. H. Musgrove, D.S.O., C. Ont. (killed on August 28), belonged to Hanover, Ont., and had seen almost continuous fighting since February, 1915. Shot in the left elbow at Festubert, he practically lost the use of his arm, but he consistently refused to take a position which entailed his leaving a fighting unit. The remarkable bravery of this officer, handicapped as he was by the loss of one arm, subsequently earned him the D.S.O. Deceased, who leaves a widow, was 36 years of age.

Lt. C. A. Neelands, Man. (killed), was born at Barrie twenty-six years ago, but prior to enlistment in 1915 was in charge of the retail department of the C. H. Enderton Company, Winnipeg. He served in Lt.-Col. Kirkcaldy's Grenadier battalion.

Lt. Mortimer A. Neelon, C. Ont. (killed), was the son of Mr. G. M. Neelon, 23, North Sherbourne Street, Toronto. He came overseas in March, 1916, and had been twice wounded.

Capt. Fleming P. O'Reilly, M.C., C.M.G.C. (died of wounds at a C.C.S. on September 27), was the second son of the late Mr. F. P. O'Reilly, of Beckenham, Kent, and Mrs. O'Reilly, 2, Crowstone Road South, Westcliff. He won his M.C. last January for gallantry in volunteering to remain at his post after being relieved and for reorganising his batteries under difficulties.

Lt. Richard H. O'Reilly, Eng. and R.A.F. (killed on September 29), was the son of Mr. John O'Reilly, barrister, of Winnipeg, and was 31. A graduate in electrical engineering of Manitoba University (1912), he was an associate member of the I.E.E. and of the C.S.C.E., and was connected with various hydro-electric projects and isolated plant installations in Western Canada. Prior to enlistment in the Engineers as a sapper he was with the firm of Kerry and Chace, Toronto. He was invalided to England in June, 1916, and returned to France the following year as an officer in a Tunnelling Company. He became associated with the R.F.C. last December. Lt. O'Reilly was well known in Winnipeg sporting circles.

Lt. W. C. Ostic, Cent. Ont. (died of wounds on August 8), enlisted in a Simcoe unit in May, 1916, and came overseas in April, 1917. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ostic, 844, Yonge Street, Toronto, and before enlistment was an accountant in the Collingwood branch of the Royal Bank of Canada.

Lt. Roger Morrow Porter, E. Ont. (killed on August 30), was the only son of Mr. E. Guss Porter, K.C., M.P. for West Hastings, and Mrs. Porter, of Belleville, Ont., and was 23. He came overseas with the 155th Bn. in 1916, and went to France last April. Lt. Porter was married last year to Edith Kathleen, daughter of Mr. Arundel-Smith, P.W.D., Bengal, India, and Mrs. Arundel-Smith, and leaves a son.

Lt. E. V. Power, Que. (killed on August 8), was a son of Mr. N. J. Power, formerly of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, and at the time of his death was 36. Enlisting in Vancouver in May, 1915, as a private, he was awarded a commission in the Suffolk Regiment and was wounded on the Somme. On recovering he rejoined the Canadian Army.

Lt. Harold Brant Preston, C. Ont. (killed), was a Brantford man, and the son of Mr. T. H. Preston, ex-M.P.P. He was an Arts graduate of Toronto University, and came overseas with the 125th Bn.

Lt. William Proudfoot, M.C., C. Ont. (killed on September 27), was the only son of Mr. W. Proudfoot, M.P.P. (of Proudfoot, Duncan and Grant), leader of the Opposition in the Ontario Provincial Government. He came overseas with the 33rd Bn. and transferred to a First Division Highland unit. A graduate of Trinity College and Osgoode Hall, deceased was 29, and was a member of his father's firm. He had been wounded four times.

Lt. W. F. Scott, W. Ont. (killed), was formerly assistant to Principal Elliott at Earl Grey School, Toronto. He was 25, and had been in France nearly three months. His parents live at Brussels, Ont.

Lt. W. W. Sharman, C. Ont. (killed), was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sharman, 535, Bannatyne Avenue, Winnipeg. He came overseas with the Fort Garry Horse in 1914. His brother, Lt. Harry Sharman, M.D., R.A.M.C., recently died in Canada after a long illness, contracted whilst on service.

Lt. Ernest Gordon Shepherd, Que. (killed on October 1), was the only son of Dr. F. J. Shepherd, of Montreal. He had previously been invalided from France with trench fever.

Lt. Lindsay McN. Sinclair, Eng. (killed on August 18), was a son of Mr. P. M. and Mrs. Sinclair, of Perth, Ont., and was a graduate of Toronto University. He came overseas in 1916, and was 31.

Lt. Edward Slattery, D.C.M., M.M., Cent. Ont. (killed on Aug. 30), was the oldest son of Mrs. Slattery, of Magdalen Street, Point St. Charles, P.Q., and came overseas as a private with Lt.-Col. Gascoigne's unit. He had been awarded the D.C.M., M.M., and two bars to the latter, and was given his commission last April. In civil life he was a C.P.R. employé.

Lt.-Col. Charles J. T. Stewart, E. Ont. (died of wounds on September 28), was the son of Col. C. J. Stewart, of Halifax, and is the third commander of the "Princess Patricia's" to be killed. He had been twice wounded.

Lt. W. E. Tait, B.C. (died of wounds), belonged to Kamloops, where he was in the boot and shoe business. He was prominent in the social life of the town. Lt. Tait, who came overseas with the 102nd Bn., and was wounded in 1916, leaves a mother and two sisters.

The Duke of Devonshire has purchased about 100 acres of land on the west side of Blue Sea Lake, P.Q., which includes a small trout lake, and intends erecting a summer home there in the near future. Their Excellencies, with the members of their family and the Vice-Regal staff, have been spending the summer at Blue Sea Lake under canvas, there being about twelve or fourteen tents and a large marquee, which is used as a dining room.

* *

The Hon. Michael Patrick Cashin, Minister of Finance, Newfoundland, has been made a Knight Commander of the Order of the British Empire, for services in war matters, and particularly finance. Mrs. Adeline Elizabeth Browning, O.B.E., and Mr. Walter Baine-Grieve, O.B.E., also of Newfoundland, have been promoted to be Commanders.

* *

Sir Thomas White opened the Canadian Victory Loan campaign at Winnipeg on Tuesday, and will tour the West in the interest of the campaign.

* *

The Bishop of Birmingham has arrived at Ottawa. He will address a series of meetings throughout Canada on "What Great Britain is doing in the War and intends to do until Victory is Won."

* *

Brig.-General W. Hilliam was recently asked to accept nomination as a candidate for the Holland Division of Lincolnshire, which includes Spalding, his birthplace, but has declined the honour.

* *

Col. H. M. Tory left this week for France, to supervise the organisation of the units of the Khaki University of Canada.

Brig.-Gen. W. A. Logie, of Hamilton, has been appointed a Judge of the Supreme Court of Ontario.

Mr. F. A. McKenzie, the well-known Canadian Press correspondent, has left for Canada, where he will deliver a series of lectures. Mr. McKenzie will spend the first week in Newfoundland, the war history of which Colony he is now compiling. He expects to return to England at Christmas.

"A keen sense of satisfaction will be felt," says the Liverpool Journal of Commerce, "at the appointment of Mr. George M. Bosworth as Chairman of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services. In devoting his whole time to the shipping interests of the Canadian Pacific he will bring to bear on the Ocean Services in Canada and in the Pacific that support and influence which Major Maitland Kersey, D.S.O., brings to them in the Atlantic trade from London. Major Kersey has improved the position of the Canadian Pacific in the Atlantic trade to Canada and to the United States in a measure exceeding their most sanguine expectations, and in the short lapse of time in which he has been so actively identified with the company he has earned for it a valuable prestige in business and Government circles."

MAJOR H. MAITLAND KERSEY, D.S.O.,

Managing Director, Canadian Pacific Ocean Services, Ltd.

The appointment is announced in Montreal (says the Record) of Lt.-Col. F. A. Gascoyne, D.S.O., as secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services. Col. Gascoyne has entered upon his new duties. Previous to the war he was assistant superintendent of the car services on the C.P.R. Eastern lines. He went overseas in command of the 50th (Victoria Rifles), returning to England when the battalion was disbanded.

* *

CANADIANS IN IMPERIAL FORCES.

To the Editor of Canada.

SIR,—As a reader of your popular and interesting paper I would like to express my warm approval of the suggestion put forward by "One of the 3888," that all Canadians who have been commissioned in Imperial units be allowed to wear "Canada" cloth shoulder badges. Some of us have over three years' service, and I think the request is only reasonable, for, speaking personally, I have always felt the loss very keenly of having to give up the badge of my country when I was given a commission. I trust that others may lend their support, and that we may soon hear that the concession has been granted.—Yours, for a glorious peace,

CANADIAN IMPERIALIST.

OFFICERS' SEPARATION ALLOWANCES.

To the Editor of Canada.

DEAR SIR,—Is it not time that the Canadian Government considered the question of increasing officers' wives' separation allowances, or at least made some provision for children? The cost of living increases daily, but our allowance remains fixed.

Take the case of three of us at present in England, living either in rooms or furnished houses; one has one child, I have two children—one 7, the other 4—while a third has five children, yet we all have $30 a month separation allowance, or the same as the wives who have no children. Surely this is an injustice.

Then our husbands' pay is the same as that of the unmarried officer. One cannot but think that either the unmarried officer receives more than is necessary, or else the man with a young family to feed, clothe, and educate is sadly underpaid.

Surely with our husbands away in France our worries and anxieties are enough without financial worries.—Yours truly,

FAIRPLAY.

Six Winners of the D.C.M.

Five infantrymen and an ambulance driver of the C.A.S C are mentioned in the London Gazette supplement of October 3 as having been awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal for gallantry and distinguished service in the Field. In the case of one man, that of C.S.M. Jordan, the decoration has been won for the second time.

BAR TO D.C.M.

During a raid he was of great assistance in organising and directing various parties for the attack. Single-handed, he disposed of an enemy bombing post, and then directed an attack on another post, personally killing the officer and capturing a N.C.O. prisoner. Under very heavy machine-gun fire, he displayed marked coolness and disregard of danger, thereby setting an excellent example to his comrades. (D.C.M. gazetted October 22, 1917.)

DISTINGUISHED CONDUCT MEDAL.

75763 Sgt. V. Bogichevich, M.M.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during a night raid, when he led his section against three strong hostile posts, clearing each out and overcoming heavy resistance. He personally accounted for five of the enemy and captured two prisoners, as well as accounting for an unknown number of the enemy in a large dug-out with Stokes bombs. His fine leadership and great courage carried his section through to their objective, and entailed heavy losses on the enemy.

512078 Pte. R. R. Edwards, C.A.S.C.

This man was driving his motor ambulance through a village when he was severely wounded by a shell, a piece of which penetrated his lung; he also had a finger taken off, and suffered other injuries. In spite of his condition, he stopped his ambulance and went into a house, where he helped to dress the wounds of a civilian and carry him to the ambulance. A little further on he stopped again and picked up a wounded soldier. and finally reached an area of safety, where he collapsed at the wheel. His admirable example of self-sacrifice and resolute determination to perform his whole duty was one for which no praise can be too high.

213203 Armr. Cpl. D. A. Kelly.

This non-commissioned officer went forward alone to attack an enemy "pillbox," which he approached from the rear, crawling through the wire defences. Entering the place, he shot two men and seized another, firing his revolver into a party of six as he emerged with his prisoner, whom he brought back to our lines under heavy fire from the enemy posts, that by now were thoroughly alarmed. He completed his enterprise in an hour's time, displaying intrepid coolness and gallant determination that were a fine example to all who witnessed his action.

57294 Sgt. C. Shaw.

On one occasion, during a reconnaissance, he located a hostile machine gun, and during the subsequent raid made it his personal objective. Single-handed he rushed the gun, killing two of the crew, took one prisoner, and brought the gun and his prisoner back. His personal example and courage were a source of inspiration to all about him, and did much to make the operation successful.

79969 C.S.-M. H. G. Sheasby.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during a raid on the hostile defences, when he showed a splendid example to the men of his company owing to his great determination and courage. After the objective was attained he remained until every man had retired and he had satisfied himself that everything was all clear.

KHAKI UNIVERSITY SWIMMING GALA.

In addition to netting a handsome sum for the Maple Leaf Tobacco Fund for Canadian Prisoners of War, the swimming gala held last Saturday, under the auspices of the Khaki University (London College), proved a splendid entertainment in every way. Each item was brimful of interest and excitement, and the exhibitions by Mr. J. A. Jarvis, Master Harold Tilton, Miss Belle White and Miss Winnie Smith were worth going miles to see. The afternoon's excitement reached its highest pitch when Cpl. A. W. Barry, under the great handicap which the loss of a leg entailed. won the 44 yards' championship of the Australian Forces in Great Britain by a touch in the fast time of 24 1-5 secs. Miss Vera Johnson, the 100 yards lady champion, won (from scratch) the two lengths' ladies' handicap. In the Empire relay Canada took fourth place, Australia proving far too speedy for the other five teams entered. In the water polo match three members of the Dominions' team were Canadians—Sergt. A. E. Hill, the Ottawa city policeman, who is an English International and British Olympia player; Sergt. E. Karagianis, C.R.C.R., of Saskatoon, a former Welsh International; and Sergt. G. Sanderson, of Winnipeg. The officials and results are given below:—

Judges: Col. J L. Regan, Lt.-Col. Struan Robertson, Lt.-Col. Logie-Armstrong, Lt.-Col. J. Obed Smith. Accommodation Steward: Lt. G. D. Patterson. Whips: R.S.M. Stevens, R.S.M. Love, and G.Q.M.S. Thomas. Programme Steward: R.S.M. Posse. Secretary: S.Q.M.S. Kapadia; assistant, Sergt. A. E. Hill. Trainer: Pte. W. J. Mitchell. Committee: Capt. A. G. Sleep (Chairman), Major A. H. Fisher and Capt. J. G. Rhys.

Results.—Adjutants' race: 1, Capt. Rhys (Montreal); 2. Capt. W. W. Muir (Montreal). Members' handicap: 1, Cpl. E. Wood, 5 secs. start (Vegreville, Alta.); 2, S/Sergt. Anderson, 12 secs. (Chatham, N.B.); 3, Pte. D. Farquharson, 6 secs. (Toronto); 4, Pte. R. K. Roe, 6 secs. Won by a foot; touch. Inter-departmental relay: 1, General Auditors' Department (Major Fisher, Sergt. Hill, Ptes. Beaton and Roe); 2, C.A.S.C. (Sergt. Louden, Ptes. Russell, Farquharson and Kevins); 3, C.A.P.C. (Sergt. Armstrong, Cpl. Phillips, Ptes. Quinn and Anderson).

"CANADA" IN THE HOSPITALS.

A Canadian Red Cross hospital visitor writes

You have for some time past sent me a copy of Canada weekly, as a gift from the Canadian Bank of Commerce for Canadian soldiers in hospital. Would you please let the kind donors know how greatly their gift is appreciated at the th London General Hospital? I know no paper that my men like so much or are so glad to see. In the photos they recognise old friends; in the casualty lists, alas! they find news of the battalion; and the articles are as much enjoyed by myself as by them.

"Allow me to congratulate you on the excellence of your publication, and please accept my renewed thanks on behalf of the men to whom the paper goes."

One of the first actions of the new Canadian Northern Railway Board will be to co-ordinate its Eastern and Western lines for operation purposes. It is believed that greater economy will be effected by centralisation.

THE LONDON MARKET.

Stock Exchange Settling Days:—

LONDON, Tuesday.

There has been some diminution in the volume of business on the Stock Exchange during the past week. The fine successes of the Allied armies on the various fronts keep the general undertone healthy and confident, but the new War Bond campaign tends to restrict the amount of available investment support, and the feeling of distrust engendered by the German Peace Note, has operated in the same direction.

In the Canadian section the tendency has been steady, but there has been an absence of vigour. The gilt-edged issues of the Dominion have marked time. The 4½ per cents. hold at 96, and the Fours and 3½ per cents. are both unaltered. Alberta 4½ per cents. at 81 and Saskatchewan 4½ per cents. at 83 keep steady. Montreal 4½ per cents. at 83 are slightly better, after allowing for the dividend deductions. Toronto 4½ per cents. and Winnipeg 4½ per cents. have each risen 1 to 84 and 83 respectively.

In the railroad group Canadian Pacifics have been marked up to 177, mainly on New York advices. Grand Trunk issues have hardly varied, the passing of all half-yearly dividends owing to a shrinkage of nearly a million in net earnings for the first six months of the year, having been expected. The 3rd Preference exceptionally at 26¼ is a fraction down.

Hudson's Bays, in the land group, mark a slight improvement to 7 13-16. The industrial group has ruled quietly steady.

Shawinigan Water has risen 1 to 122. General Electrics at 112½ and Canadian Cars at 56 have not moved. Cockshutt Plow Pref., ex div., are rather easier. Cities Services have fallen 1 to 289. Brazilian Tractions have been strong, rising over 5 to 55. Mexican Light and Power and Mexico Tram issues have also improved 4 to 5 points.

Canadian silver mining shares have ruled dull, but Mining Corp. of Canada at 12s. 6d. is about 1s. better.

Prospects at Harvest-Time.

An experienced officer of the Department of Immigration and Colonisation, who has been travelling in Western Canada, says, in a letter to Lt.-Col. J. Obed Smith, commissioner of Emigration:—

"Cutting time has arrived and the farmers are at it hard. One or two disappointing things are noticeable in the crop besides the very heavy drought which prevailed through most of the summer, but which the crops faced with a persistence almost unbelievable. These disappointing things are—a very hard job to cut what crop there is owing to its shortness, nearly everyone here resorting to the method of tacking six-inch strips of canvas along each reel slat of the binder so that the short stuff is urged to fall on the table; then the Hessian fly is at work, but somewhat late; it is nevertheless breaking down a lot of the wheat, and besides this the rust has appeared—too late to materially damage the yield, but at a sufficiently early stage to prevent further ripening, so that everyone has decided to cut it anyway. During the past week ripening has gone very slowly, and now the definite appearance of the rust shows why the crop was suddenly checked in ripening.

"Copious showers during the past month, while not materially helpful to the wheat crop, have nevertheless so advanced the feed and root crops that we are not worrying over these as we were for most of the late summer.

"On the whole, the crop is going to pay very well indeed, and even where the frost did so much damage in the north, they are gong to have plenty of feed for the stock. There were very grave prospects of having to dispose of a lot of the Western live stock, but this has now been remedied, I think, in the improved state of the feed crop."

Ogilvie Flour Mills.—A dividend has been declared of 3 per cent. and bonus of 15 per cent. (together $18 per share), less tax, on Common shares for the quarter, payable October 1.

Asbestos Corporation of Canada.—A dividend has been declared on the Preferred stock for quarter ending September 30 of 1½ per cent., payable October 15 to holders of record October 1.

Toronto Railway.—A dividend has been declared on Ordinary shares of 1 per cent. for quarter ending 30th inst., being at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum, payable October 1, to holders of record 14th inst.

ONTARIO PROVINCE.

OTTAWA.—The population of this city is 120,032, and the combined population of Ottawa and Hull 145,000, according to figures published in the 45th annual volume of the City Directory, just issued. The population of Ottawa has increased by 2,288 since the last directory was published in 1917. The population of Hull is approximately 25,000.

The Dominion Customs receipts in the six months to September 30 show a decrease of $6,639,523 compared with the same period of 1917. The total receipts for the period were over $82,000,000.

Every member of the capital's police force, from the chief down, receives an increase of $10 a month from October 1. The new schedule provides for a minimum wage of $112.50 for all first-class constables.

Three million dollars over and above ordinary salaries, it is estimated, will be required to meet increases recently granted to Post Office employees in the outside service. Of the 5,947 employees in Eastern Canada, 4,990 get a total increase of $350 a year, including the increase granted in the appropriation of last session; of 3,005 men in Western Canada, 2,774 get a total additional grant of $300.

TORONTO.—Mr. J. A. Ellis, of Ottawa, a former member of the Legislature, has been appointed a member of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board. The vacancy was occasioned by the resignation of Mr. Kittson some time ago.

Salvation Army Headquarters announce that a national campaign will be inaugurated in November to raise a fund of $1,000,000 with which to finance the war work of the organisation.

——The St. Michael, 4,500 tons, built by the Dominion Shipbuilding Company, has been launched. She is designed for transatlantic service if necessary. The company is to build five smaller vessels.

The assessment rolls show that Sir William Mackenzie pays municipal taxes on the highest income on Toronto's rolls. His assessment for 1919 is $225,000, so that his income tax to the city will be over $6,650, apart from his Federal tax.

The Provincial Fuel Administrator, says the Times correspondent, has recommended that in rural districts combined services should be held by different sects in the churches, and that in large communities services should be held in the basements. The estimated saving would be 25 to 50 per cent. less coal during the winter.

HAMILTON.—The religious census issued by the Assessment Commissioner shows that the Anglicans lead, followed in order by Presbyterians, Methodists, Roman Catholics, Baptists and Hebrews.

PETERBORO. The Hydro-Electric Power Commission is to spend $1,250,000 in the erection, at Ranney's Falls, Campbellford, of a power plant to produce from 8,000 to 10,000 horse power. The completion of the work, which is to commence at once, will relieve the power shortage in this district.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

CHARLOTTETOWN. When the new drastic Prohibition Act was planned last spring a clause whereby clubs and societies previously exempted were to be prohibited from handling liquors was held in suspense till a proclamation should be issued by the Governor. This proclamation was issued on October 1.

Since the beginning of the war up to August 12, 220 Prince Edward Island soldiers were killed in action, 67 died of wounds, 40 died on service, 28 are missing, 26 prisoners and 675 wounded

QUEBEC.—About 86 acres of land at St. Malo, a suburb of this city, has been sold by the Dominion Park, Ltd., for $104,000 to a U.S. syndicate, which proposes to establish an industrial plant on the site.

MONTREAL.—McGill University's contribution to the C.E.F. was detailed in an address delivered by Dean Moyse. Of the graduates, 1,360 enlisted, of whom 148 had been killed in action or died of wounds, and 217 had been wounded. 122 had won the M.C. or the M.M., 70 had received the D.S.O., D.C.M., or D.S.C. 25 received either the C.M.G. or the C.B., while 20 had been awarded other honours. 750 names of undergraduates were on the honour roll of the University, and of these 100 made the supreme sacrifice, 130 had been wounded and 80 had won decorations. One undergraduate, Fred Fisher, and one graduate, Dr. Scrimger, had gained the V.C.

——The deaths during 1917 were 10,496, and the rate per 1,000 only one-half of what it was 40 years ago. The birth-rate was slightly lower, and a decrease is shown in the marriages, particularly since 1914. Infantile mortality is becoming less.

The Mechanics' Institute building in St. James's Street, one of the city's landmarks, having been sold, the Institute removes next March to a new $100,000 building on Ativata Avenue.

ST. HILAIRE.—A stone drinking fountain is being erected here in honour of Major Hamilton Gault, D.S.O., by the citizens of the parish and village of Redstone.

NOVA SCOTIA.

HALIFAX.—Col. Ballantyne, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, declares that Halifax Harbour is especially suitable for shipbuilding, and announces that Government contracts for steel ships will also be placed at New Glasgow (says the Times). He also states that the Royal Naval College will be permanently established at Halifax. At the next Session of Parliament $500,000 will be placed on the Estimates for the building and equipment of the college.

SYDNEY.—Col. Ballantyne recently paid a visit to inspect the new plate-rolling mill being constructed by the Dominion Steel Corporation. It is expected that the work will be completed by July next, and that the plant will be able to supply the needs of Canada's permanent shipbuilding industry.

NEW BRUNSWICK.

FREDERICTON.—The Advisory Board of the Crown Land Department which examines candidates for appointment as forest rangers will give returned soldiers the preference.

——Mr. Charles A. Magrath, Fuel Controller, has been appointed Director of Coal Operations for this Province and Nova Scotia.

ST. JOHN.—The schooner Celina K. Goldman, 477 tons, built by Hon. W. E. Foster, Premier of New Brunswick, Mr. S. E. Elkin, M.P., and others, has been launched at St. Martins on the Bay of Fundy coast. His Honour Wm. Pugsley, Lt.-Governor of the Province, took part in the ceremony.

Ontario after the War—TIMBER.

Ontario has 202,000 square miles of forests, which yield timber to the value of $26,775,000 per annum.

After the war, vast quantities of timber will be required for rebuilding purposes in the ravaged cities, towns and villages of Europe.

Ontario, with its vast forests of pine, birch, maple, beech, and other valuable hardwoods, can, with the aid of British capital, supply the timber demand of the world.

There is also a great future in store for the wood pulp and paper industry. Huge plant already exists, but new factories are needed to cope with the inevitable demand for paper that will arise immediately after the war.

MANITOBA PROVINCE.

WINNIPEG.—At the annual meeting of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—President, Mr. Fred. J. Anderson; vice-president, Mr. J. E. Botterell; secretary, Dr. Robert Magill.

——Bank clerks have organised a union containing 150 memmers, and intend asking for a minimum wage of $100 a month.

——The Canadian Pacific Railway gives official figures which show that in Manitoba 20,000,000 bushels of foodstuffs were grown in excess of past records, which means that the farmers have $40,000,000 over the amount they received last year. There will be 51,000,000 bushels of wheat valued at $105,000,000 as compared with last year's record of $87,500,000. The three crops of barley, wheat and oats are valued at $200,000,000, with other crops correspondingly successful.

SASKATCHEWAN.

REGINA.—Justice Taylor has given a judgment that the Saskatchewan Courts have no jurisdiction in the matter of divorce.

——Among Saskatchewan communities loyally supporting war work is the town of Grenfell, which has raised over $6,000 for the Red Cross, or $2,600 more than the district was asked to collect by the Provincial Executive.

Mr. Ed. McCarthy, of this city, and his associates disposed of 2,880 acres of land in crop, ten miles north of Osage, at $45 an acre. The purchaser was Mr. P. E. Ketchersid, of Kansas, who has purchased other land in the vicinity.

SASKATOON.—The Advisory Council of Scientific and Industrial Research has appropriated $1,500 to establish a plant near here for experiments to be made during the coming winter. About 20,000,000 tons of straw go to waste annually in the West, and it is stated that with the installation of a $500 plant it is possible in one hour and a half to produce enough gas to last an ordinary farmhouse three weeks.

ALBERTA PROVINCE.

EDMONTON.—The Hon. A. G. MacKay, Minister of Municipalities and Public Health, has been re-elected by acclamation in Athabasca.

——The 1918 exhibition netted a profit of $20,000, not taking into account administration expenses. The total income was $76,828 this year, as compared with $68,515 last year.

Several valuable guano deposits have been located in the Far North, including one at Pelican Island, Alberta, valued at upwards of £1,000,000. Hitherto fertilisers have been largely imported from Peru, but a domestic industry of this nature will be fully developed by the Dominion Government.

CALGARY.—Building permits for 1918 to July 31 total $858,800, as against $243,200 for the period ending July 31, 1917. The grand total is brought up by the inclusion of the permit for the Alberta Flour Mills, valued at $500,000, in the 1918 figures.

LETHBRIDGE.—The population is 14,476, according to the estimate of the publishers of the Henderson directory for 1918, an increase for the year of 1,573.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

VICTORIA.—Statistics compiled at military headquarters show that in the four years there have gone overseas from British Columbia and the Yukon, from August 4, 1914, to July 31, 1918, 1,300 officers, 42,000 other ranks. The actual number of men recruited in Military District No. 11 from August 4, 1914, to July 15, 1918, has totalled 52,202. The number who have come back to British Columbia wounded or disabled is approximately 10,000, of whom some 8,000 have been discharged as unfit for further service.

Filling operations are under way on a foreshore site in the inner harbour preliminary to the establishment of a new shipbuilding and ship-repairing plant and dry dock on the site, located to the south of Pendray's Soap Works, for the repairing of small vessels.

Improved Grand Trunk Outlook.

As we remarked recently in commenting upon Grand Trunk Railway development interest in the forthcoming dividend announcement had been practically adumbrated by the negotiations between the company and the Government and speculation as to the effect of the further increase in rates. The actual announcement last week that, owing to the exceptionally severe weather in Canada during the first three months of the present year, and the consequent decrease in receipts and resultant increase in working expenses, plus the enormous increase in the prices of labour and materials owing to war conditions, the net earnings for the half-year to June 30 showed a falling off of no less than £955,000, can really have taken no one by surprise, and was, as a matter of fact, received with the apathy which we had anticipated. In such circumstances, it was inevitable that no dividends could be paid on either the Guaranteed or Preference stocks for the half-year under review. It was not until the middle of March that the inadequate—many people did not hesitate to call it paltry—increase in rates of 15 per cent. was sanctioned. Happily, the Railway Commission has since recognised the tremendous disabilities under which the company has been labouring, and as from August 12 rates have been advanced another 25 per cent., and these increases are now being reflected in current earnings, and although it is not possible to form an estimate of their effect upon the total results for the whole year, it is reasonable to indulge the hope that an increase of 40 per cent. for four and a half months will help materially to lessen the ghastly decrease in net revenue recorded in the first half of the current year. Certainly, Grand Trunk shareholders should not sacrifice their holdings at present prices. It is a long lane that has no turning, and disappointing as has been the results achieved by this railway during recent years, its misfortunes, which have hitherto seemed accumulative, must eventually come to an end, and a happier era open for those whose faith in its future has enabled them steadfastly to endure the evil days through which the company has passed.

Investment Corporation of Canada.

The annual statement of the Investment Corporation of Canada shows that the revenue for the year which ended on April 30, after payment of management expenses, taxes in Canada and British Income-Tax, amounted to £36,988. Of this, interest on Debenture stock absorbed £11,687 and dividend of 4½ per cent. paid on the Preference stock takes £13,500, leaving a surplus of £11,800. To this there has been added the sum of £3,595, representing income-tax recovered in respect of over-assessment in previous years. It is proposed to pay a dividend of 5 per cent. on the Ordinary stock, and this will absorb £10,000, leaving a balance of £5,395 from the year, which, with the addition of the balance brought in from the previous year, gives a total balance of £8,526. Of this sum, £1,000 has been applied in writing down investments and £5,000 has been transferred to reserve fund, leaving a balance of £2,526 to be carried into the current year. The directors announce that no sales of real estate were made during the year, and, therefore, as before, only the realised proportion of profit on sales formerly made has been brought into profit and loss account. This amounted to £2,644, and there still remains £6,401 of profits on real estate already sold to be realised in future years. Of the company's assets, totalling £836,772, £560,225 are represented by loans on mortgage, £69,072 by real estate, taken at cost price, and £49,940 by real estate taken over under foreclosure, the increase of £43,670 in this latter item, as compared with last year, being due to the company having acquired possession of a large property in Winnipeg on which it held a mortgage, and which is stated to be of a value more than sufficient to secure the original loan and all accumulations of interest. Cash position is strong, as, against cash amounting to £35,541, sundry creditors only figure at £2,009. The reserve fund is now £30,000, and the special reserve against arrears of interest is £6,000. The seventh annual meeting of the company is to be held on October 18 at Winchester House, E.C.

W. J. P. (France).—We have passed on your enquiry to the Khaki University authorities.

A. W. A. (London).—Write the Secretary, O.M.F.C., Argyll House, Regent Street, London, W.1.

C. E. S. (Hastings).—Write to the O.C., Estates Branch, O.M.F.C., 133, Oxford Street, London, W.1.

J. St. G. H. (Great Missenden).—Write Captain McKay, A.G.1A., Headquarters, O.M.F.C., Argyll House, London, W.1.

A. M. M. (Sidcup).—We are unable to say, as the Order emanated from Ottawa. Presumably it was in connection with the question of readjustment of pay.

C. W. (Shrewsbury).—Write to Officer-in-Charge, Estates Branch, O.M.F.C., 133, Oxford Street, London, W.1, forwarding full particulars as to dates, etc.

S. T. H. (Boscombe).—As you are resident in this country, you have no claim on the Patriotic Fund, which is a purely Canadian fund administered in Canada.

Bramshott.—We cannot see that objection to the giving of commissions to nurses affects the argument for granting them the decorations appertaining to the ranks they hold.

H. B. (Bramshott).—If you are discharged through physical disability incurred on service you will receive a pension. The Board of Pension Commissions will fix the amount of your pension after an examination of your case.

W. C. B. (Folkestone).—The clause was evidently inserted to legalise discharge of men rendered unfit, etc. The authorities will certainly endeavour to return all troops to Canada within six months after peace is declared, but it follows that a man will still be liable to discipline if not discharged within that period.

HOUSTON'S "ANNUAL FINANCIAL REVIEW."

Volume xviii. of Houston's "Annual Financial Review, Canadian," dated April, 1918 (Toronto: W. R. Houston), brings up to date the carefully revised data concerning Canadian companies and securities of all kinds and classes, which are annually presented in this indispensable work of reference. The edition now under notice contains particulars of capitalisation, latest available balance-sheets and reports, and records of highest and lowest prices of securities of nearly 450 Canadian banks, and assurance, guarantee, industrial, land, loan and mortgage, light and power, mining, navigation, railway, electric railway, telegraph, telephone and cable, trust, and miscellaneous companies. It also gives lists of members of the Montreal and Toronto Stock Exchanges, with particulars of rates of commission and the monthly record during 1917 of prices of securities dealt in on these exchanges. Details are also given of the existing Canadian and British War Loans and the Anglo-French War Loan.

American Dentistry for Canadians.

at 137, Oxford Street, London, W.1.

The wonderful advance which has taken place in dental methods in recent years is strikingly illustrated by the work of Mr. L. D. Botibol, the West-End Dental Specialist, whose moderate fees have brought modern scientific dentistry within the reach of all.

Mr. Botibol studied under a famous Russian Professor before taking up a practice, first in America, where he became thoroughly au fait with American bridgework, and then in London, where his skill and knowledge rapidly established for him an influential connection.

What Mr. Botibol does not know about stopping, crowning, and painless dentistry generally is not worth knowing.

The Overseas Forces can therefore place full confidence in Mr. L. D. Botibol, whose dental surgery is at 137, Oxford Street, London, W.1 (next door to Pembroke House, Headquarters of Canadian Overseas Medical Services). Canadian Forces receive special and immediate attention, and they and their friends will always receive a downright Canadian welcome. Telephone: Museum 2736. [Advt.]

CANADIAN MILITARY BASEBALL.

A Sensational Wind-up.

Billed as the "championship of the British Isles"— a ponderous announcement not strictly in line with truth—the final baseball game of the season between the U.S. Army and Witley (Canadian Reserve Artillery), at Stamford Bridge on Sunday, provided a sensational wind-up to an excellent season. The Americans were evidently determined to win (although the real championship was actually won two weeks ago by the Canadian Engineers of Seaford Area), and to make assurance doubly sure they reinforced their infield by the inclusion of Callahan (of the Navy line-up) at second base. La Fitte pitched for the Yanks, and Fred Saunders was on the mound for the Artillerymen. The game was purely a pitchers' battle, and proved to be one of the best of the season, the players of both sides being right on their toes. At the end of the ninth there was no score, and an extra innings also proving non-productive in the matter of runs, the game ended in honours even. La Fitte pitched excellent ball, and struck out eleven men, but he spoiled an otherwise all-round performance by childish girding at Umpire Latham. In the ninth Latham benched Carmel, F. Garrett (a Toronto man) taking the place of the latter. The game was called at the end of the tenth. The League Executive has been successful in obtaining the Chelsea ground for a return game to-morrow (Sunday).

Now that the season is closed, it is pertinent to offer a word of congratulation to Mr. Booker (the manager) and the Anglo-American Baseball League on its first successful season in this country. The League games have provided innocent recreation for thousands of baseball enthusiasts—mostly soldiers who would otherwise have been at a "loose end"—as well as realising a large sum for war charities. Whether next season's games will be entered upon with the world still in the turmoil of Armageddon it is unsafe to prophesy, but certain it is that the foundation of baseball in England has been well and truly laid. Congratulations, therefore, to Mr. Booker and his coterie of enthusiasts.

The Witley team on Sunday was as follows:—F. G. Saunders, pitcher and captain; L. Carmel, r.f.; J. Graham, 1b.; T. Smith, 2b.; D. Croft, c.; H. Crilly, l.f.; H. Samuels, c.f.; W. Richards, 3b.; and R. Scruton, s.s. With the exception of Saunders, who belongs to Kingston, and Carmel, of Montreal, the members of the team are all from Toronto.

BLADE
Economy

The "Valet" AutoStrop is the only safety razor with a self-contained automatic stropping device, and for this reason its blades last, on an average, four times as long as those of the "no-stropping" type. Probably because of this advantage, and also of the cheapness of "Valet" blades, the public do not always exercise economy in their use. The following hints will enable users to get even more than the two months' service which is claimed as the average life of a single "Valet" AutoStrop blade.

There is no shortage of "Valet" blades at present, but in view of constantly increasing manufacturing difficulties, reasonable judgment and economy should be exercised in their use.

BURBERRY SAFEGUARDS

made in materials which, whilst as impenetrable as leather, ventilate naturally, so that the moisture condensed on the inner surface of air-tight fabrics is avoided.

The BURBERRY AIR-WARM

provides a lightweight, yet warm and dependable defence against rain, mist or cold.

The inside is of luxuriously soft, thick Camel Fleece. The coat is workmanlike in every detail, and has nothing about it to catch in any part of the machine.

Its two parts can be worn separately or together—the outside alone providing a Weatherproof that excludes wet or wind without rubber or other airtight material; the Fleece lining, a smart British Warm; and the two together, the staunchest self-ventilating safeguard available for high flying.

JUNKERDOM IN A DILEMMA.

THE request for an armistice by the Hun, who had suddenly discovered that President Wilson's fourteen points were acceptable, took the world by surprise. The general public might almost have been excused if they had misinterpreted the value and meaning of the enemy's overture and voiced their relief and satisfaction without reserve. It is a good proof of the temper and understanding of the Allies that premature rejoicings were so rare. The malevolent hypocrisy of the Hun is now too well known throughout the world for any words from Berlin to be accepted without deeds.

The reply of Mr. Wilson to the Huns' overtures for peace proves that he is as capable as he is determined. Naturally, in making their attempt to win breathing time to recover from the blows inflicted by the masterly strategy of Marshal Foch, the Hun addressed himself to the United States as the least outraged of his foes on the Western Front. He has done well for the Allies in so doing.

When he is forced—though the time is not yet—to accept and realise that every one of these fourteen points will be insisted on and must be fulfilled to the letter, he still has to deal with the other Allies, who have particular and definite claims and intentions. Canada's voice will carry its full weight in the Empire's councils, and Sir Robert Borden has clearly shown that the Dominion will only be satisfied with the most stringent guarantees. The other leaders of public thought in Canada have expressed themselves quite definitely on the necessity for a dictated peace which will insist on restitution and reparation.

Germany has put up the flag for parley, but not for surrender. Many hard blows must yet be struck before her army is sufficiently attenuated and demoralised for it to accept the Allied terms, which are virtually unconditional surrender. Depending on the war weariness of the Allies to accept the shadow of a democratic settlement without waiting for proof of its substance, the Army chiefs of Germany have risked the disillusionment of their own people which must follow from their appeal to President Wilson.

The first round in the encounter between chicanery and stern justice has ended very awkwardly for the War Chiefs. The puppet they put up to represent a chastened and humane Germany was quickly discredited. Turkey seems unwilling to let her big partner in crime negotiate for her and is likely to follow Bulgaria's example with little delay. Austria is only kept hanging on to her larger conspirator by force of threats. The blessed word "armistice," which rang so sweetly in German soldiers' ears, is not to be achieved at the wish of their All-Highest. There are guarantees and the cessation of pillage and arson and U-boat murder to come first. Can the War Chiefs, by submitting to these demands and so publicly acknowledging the guilt of Germany to her own people, still hope to maintain the autocracy?

The Germans are brutes and have been brutes ever since their tribes were known to history. It is a matter for speculation whether their clever brutes will be torn in pieces by their stupid brutes when they now realise that none of the plunder and profit promised by their drill masters, and which at one time seemed so abundantly assured, can be retained, or whether all the German brutes will stick together until the avenging sword of the Allies reaches their own towns.

AN HISTORIC ANNIVERSARY.

THE fourth anniversary of the arrival of Canada's troops in England to take their part in the Great Crusade, was commemorated on Monday by a service at St. Margaret's, Westminster, and a dinner at which some 400 officers were present. The war marked the turning point in the history of Canada—and of the whole British Commonwealth of Nations—and the direction of the turn was not that hoped and plotted for by the Hun. In this gathering of some 400 Canadians it was easy to perceive the fuller consciousness of nationhood now evolved at the end of four years of stress, of discipline, and of effort. The whole tone of the gathering, the words of the speakers, even the selection of the music, showed how far this microcosm of Canada assembled within that hall had travelled since August, 1914. No individual gathering of men from any part of the world had more just grounds, perhaps, for self-congratulation and satisfaction than these Canadians. The Corps had just won the greatest and bloodiest of all its fights at Cambrai—the enemy was seeking peace, and the prospect of getting back to the good things at home seemed measurably near, but there was no desire of self-glorification among these men who have so efficiently "carried on" under strange and often terrible conditions.

The wide lands and crisp air of Canada have done well with the seed received from Britain. Nothing that was best in the race but has been preserved and often improved, and the pick of her manhood has come over and measured up to the full stature of the men of Agincourt, of Waterloo, and Inkermann. In soldierly words, the chief of the O.M.F.C. in England acknowledged the excellence of the work done by the various units of the Canadian military organisation, and the warmth of his reception signified the affection of his officers. The words addressed by the High Commissioner to his fellow citizens were serious and worthy of the occasion. Both they and he knew well what the Dominion had done in these four years. So well have they done, and so filled-out and grown in character and knowledge of men, that he would have them remember the importance of the work that awaited them in Canada. He urged them to take up the duties of citizenship most seriously on their return, and to fill that place in the public life of Canada which their fellow citizens would desire and expect.

From his intimate knowledge of inside affairs, Sir George Perley was able to tell of the gigantic achievements of the Mother Country when caught all unprepared in the whirlpool of war, and he narrated remarks made to him on the subject by Lord Kitchener. No statements made during the evening were received with more generous applause than those referring to the whole-hearted efforts of the Motherland. A high note was also touched by Lord Beaverbrook in his forceful and able speech. He referred to the now definitely recognised position of Canada in the Councils of the Empire, and the important part which she must play, from her geographical position, as the link between the two great English-speaking peoples. Out of all the sorrow and waste and destruction of the great war will come good to all peoples—to Canada a finer pride of race, a higher conception of citizenship, wider views, and greater opportunity.

Cambrai

It is now becoming generally known and recognised that the capture of Cambrai was the principal factor in the successful advance which is bringing the Hun to heel. The part that the Canadian Divisions took in that stubborn fighting is well known. Ypres and Cambrai will ever be associated with the badge of the Maple Leaf in the annals of the Great War.

Ill-Treatment of Prisoners.

The British Government have at last issued an ultimatum to Germany demanding that her maltreatment of our prisoners shall cease. Why has this action only been taken now in the fifth year of the war? The atrocities have been glaring and consistent from the very first, and there has been a strong public demand for reprisals. Have we only now discovered a suitable form of reprisals, or has the voice of the people only now reached the Government? The long hesitation and timidity shown by the Government in this and certain other matters have not favourably impressed the Dominions or our Allies.

A Good Example.

The Government of Canada sets a good example in its vigorous handling of the threatened strike of railway employees. Strikes in war time are declared by Order in Council to be unlawful, and any man of military age who breaks the law is to be drafted into the Army.

This is the only logical attitude of any sane and well-governed democracy in time of war. Every citizen owes his fullest personal service to his country. If he will not continue to serve in the work of national importance in which he is placed, he must be drafted into the Army. It is noteworthy that such coercive legislation has been enacted and accepted in Canada and the United States.

The Victory Loan.

Canada's fifth War Loan was launched by Sir Thomas White at Winnipeg last week under the most favourable auspices. The Canadians' great victory at Cambrai has stirred everyone to fresh pride and enthusiasm; and more recent events have but tended to confirm the Finance Minister's words, that this is in very truth a Victory Loan. This does not mean, of course, that all the money asked for will not be required. However short the war may last, demobilisation and many other necessary steps will take a long time to effect. The Allies, therefore, as Sir Thomas White points out, will necessarily be on a war basis, so far as expenditure is concerned, for a considerable period after the war. All the money asked for will be required for war expenditure and the establishment of credit in the purchase of agricultural and other products.

The Government is fully justified in looking to the strength and resolution of Canada's national spirit to make the loan a triumphant success. The economic conditions in the Dominion also warrant their confidence. Sir Thomas White pointed to the increased savings deposits in the chartered banks, the prosperity of agriculture and activity of business, and also to the fact that wages are high and there is no unemployment. The means are abundantly present; the interest attractions of the loan itself should make the result of the appeal a foregone conclusion.

A Great Administrator.

The career of Lord Shaughnessy has been remarkable, and his retirement from the Presidency of the Canadian Pacific Railway is an event of general interest, especially occurring as it does at a time when the nationalisation of railways is a burning question in the Dominion. Of Irish descent and a native of the United States, he was in his 30th year when Canada became his adopted country and provided the opportunity for the exercise of his great talents as an organiser and administrator of wide views which he has so well utilised.

The history of the development of the Canadian Pacific Railway since Lord Shaughnessy joined its staff as purchasing agent in 1882 still reads like a romance. Each stage of that development afforded fresh scope for his executive ability and foresight. He was assistant manager at the time of its completion as a transatlantic highway, a director and vice-president when Canadian Pacific Railway steamships completed the first All Red Route between Britain and the Orient. Since he became president, nearly twenty years ago, Lord Shaughnessy's reputation as a man of affairs has steadily risen. His elevation to the peerage met with general acclaim, and in the anxieties of the last four years Lord Shaughnessy, on platform and in Press, as well as through the medium of the great corporation he controlled, has rendered inestimable services to the Allied cause. His second son was killed in France in 1916 and his elder son is still on active service at the Front.

Land for the Soldier.

Canada is realising that the question of soldiers' settlement is not so simple as some of its most enthusiastic advocates think. Because there are millions of acres of fertile unoccupied land in the Dominion it does not follow that it is an easy matter to find a homestead for every applicant in a location where he is likely to establish himself as a successful settler. The great boom which followed the completion of the first transcontinental railway in 1886 has placed in the hands of corporations or speculators most of the best acreage which is at all accessible to railways and the amenities of modern civilisation.

Only a small proportion of discharged soldiers, notwithstanding their hardships and experiences, are likely to be content with the mode of existence which satisfied the pioneer settlers in the West in pre-railway days. A certain proportion, after so many months of outdoor life, will no doubt welcome such an adventure, and to some it may bring great rewards. If the scheme is to succeed on a large scale, however, we believe that the Dominion Government, in co-operation with the Provincial executives, will do well to acquire blocks of favourably situated good land which have passed into the hands of absentee owners who merely hold it for speculative purposes. It will be easier for Parliament to deal with the problem now than later on—but sooner or later it must be grappled with and settled.

Newfoundland and its Wealth.

Lord Morris, the Prime Minister of Newfoundland, in his new sphere continues to devote himself to giving the people of the Mother Country a better conception of the Island Colony and its potentialities. He was the lecturer under the auspices of the British Women's Patriotic League in London on Monday, and he profitably compared one of the popular pictures of Newfoundland with the reality. Instead of being " somewhere near the North Pole," and " a land of fogs, dogs, and bogs," it has a climate similar to that of the North of Scotland, and anything in the way of agricultural or horticultural production that can be grown in Great Britain can be grown in Newfoundland.

The native industries of Newfoundland have been largely added to by the establishment of the Anglo-Newfoundland paper mills, and the development of its national resources promises to be still further enhanced by the Department of Natural Resources just started by Mr. H. D. Reid, the new president of the Reid Newfoundland Railway Company. Lord Morris advocates the exportation of fresh fish on a larger scale, and confidently looks forward to a new era in which Newfoundland's natural wealth will be expanded and developed in the interest of the Empire.

Comparative Prices. How true it is that a comparatively minor trouble or annoyance will cause far greater outcry than a more serious matter. There has been very strong comment lately in the Canadian Press on the rise in the price of news print. Paper that before the war cost 2 cents a pound is now costing 3½ cents, and this rise in the price of their raw material is by some of our contemporaries acclaimed as little short of a national calamity.

As it is sometimes comforting to know that the other fellow is worse off than oneself, we would congratulate our contemporaries on their comparative good fortune and mention for their comfort that coated paper such as we used in Canada in 1915 at a cost of 2½d. per lb. cannot be bought to-day under 1s. 6d.

SIR ARTHUR PEARSON'S THANKS.

Sir Arthur Pearson, Chairman of the Blinded Soldiers' and Sailors' Care Committee, St. Dunstan's, writes to the Editor:—" A few words to thank you for the kind help which Canada gave to St. Dunstan's Flag Day. The success achieved was, I feel, very largely owing to your kindly sympathy, and I hope you will believe that both I and the blinded soldiers who benefit by this, are very grateful to you."

WARNINGS AGAINST GERMAN WILES.

Sir George Foster's Strong Denunciation.

In a statement regarding President Wilson's reply, Sir George Foster, Acting Premier, asks:—" With red hands and flaming torches floating amid the ruin they have wrought, do they now simply propose to cry ' Kamerad,' and be mercifully allowed to march out with military honours to shorter lines, to strengthen the defences of their own territory, chanting hymns of victory to begin anew their plans of world conquest? Would it not be well before this is allowed, and before interminable discussions begin at the Peace Table, to administer the final decisive blow and make sure of being able to demand and enforce the reparation which is due to the countries ravaged by the German Armies, and ensure the peace for which the world longs?

" If I read aright the sentiment of the Canadian people," he continues, " they do not so greatly desire peace as to wish to conclude it before the Kaiser and his fellow conspirators are placed beyond the possibility of beginning anew the deadly game they have so successfully played during the past three decades. The price paid so far in blood and sacrifice is far too precious and costly to be satisfied by an inconclusive result.

" The real issue appears in definite clearness. After this the great contest will go straight forward until the Kaiser and his clique disappear as a factor in German nationality and their wicked and menacing influence is eliminated from the councils of the nations."

Dominions Day in Trafalgar Square.

Monday was Dominions Day in Trafalgar Square, London, in connection with the "Feed the Guns" campaign. The bands of the Royal Newfoundland Regt. and the Canadian Cavalry helped to provide the music, and Lord Morris and Col. G. McLaren Brown (European manager, C.P.R.) represented Newfoundland and Canada respectively among the speakers.

Lord Morris said victory was in sight. We had brought the Kaiser down on his knees, and he was now begging us for the love of God to give him peace. He would banish the German Emperor to St. Helena in the same way that Napoleon was banished. The Kaiser bore the mark of Cain, and wherever he went every man's hand would be turned against him. We had to be very careful in the final settlement. He heard no one speaking or talking of who was going to pay the bill for the British taxpayer. We had to take care that we did not tie a millstone round our necks which would crush British industries for years to come.

Col. Brown said Germany was indeed tottering, but still possessed power of resistance in the remnants of her armies. Her peace talk did not mean for one moment that we could allow any cessation of hostilities, nor relax in the slightest degree our efforts to defeat finally and completely this force for evil. The Allied Governments must walk warily lest those hell-hounds pluck victory out of defeat in their negotiations for peace. Until Germany was brought to her knees she would fail to understand and would not be ripe for reformation.

CANADA'S FIFTH WAR LOAN.

The terms of Canada's Fifth War Loan, as announced by Sir Thomas White, Minister of Finance, at Winnipeg, on October 8, are substantially the same as those of the last issue (says the Morning Post). The amount, $300,000,000, is issued at par, maturing in five or fifteen years, with interest working out at 5½ per cent. Provision is made for payment in five instalments, with accrued interest. The last payment is due on March 6 next year. The proceeds are to be spent in Canada for war purposes. As intimated previously, the bonds are not subject to Dominion income tax.

Sir Thomas White, in inaugurating the loan campaign, said that it was expected that the subscriptions would amount to $500,000,000, and that the Government reserved the right to accept all or any part of the amount over-subscribed.

The Anglican Church throughout Canada is undertaking to raise $250,000 for the purchase of Victory Loan bonds through Sunday school scholars.

Judge MacLennan, who was appointed by the Dominion Government to make the investigation, completely exonerates the military officers at St. Johns, Quebec, from charges of perjury committed during the General Election, which were made by Mr. Archambault in Parliament (says the Times).

Pte. R. E. Cruickshank, V.C., of the London Scottish (a native of Winnipeg), was presented with a silver tea service from his colleagues of the London office staffs of Messrs. Lever Brothers, Ltd. He is also to be presented with a gift of War Bonds from the directors of the firm at Port Sunlight.

A service of music for men and women in uniform and their friends is held at the Church of St. Martin-in-the-Fields, Trafalgar Square, London, every Sunday afternoon. One of the bands of the Guards will play on each occasion. Soldiers and sailors from the British Dominions and America will be particularly welcome.

CANADIANS' ENTRY INTO CAMBRAI

IN his night report of Wednesday, October 9, Sir Douglas Haig reported: "The whole of Cambrai is in our possession. Canadian troops of the First Army entered the town from the north at an early hour this morning, while at a later hour English troops of the Third Army passed through the southern portions of the town." In a tribute to his troops, the Field-Marshal added: "By their heroic action in defence and in attack our men from all parts of the British Empire have proved themselves soldiers of the highest order."

Since that date the Canadians have borne their share of the fighting that has attended our advance east of Cambrai.

Canadians Enter Cambrai.

WEDNESDAY, October 9.

Early this morning Canadian troops penetrated Cambrai and are now in complete possession of the city. Thus is fulfilled the legitimate ambition of the Canadian Corps for the achievement of which they have been fighting hard ever since they stormed the Canal du Nord and took Bourlon Wood on September 27. Even if the Imperial troops who yesterday so gallantly advanced south of Cambrai had had the good fortune to capture the city, the fall must still have been attributed to the sledge-hammer strokes of the Canadian Corps, before which the defence of the enemy crumbled. The capture of Cambrai fittingly crowns the record of the Corps since August 8.

Cambrai fell to a night attack. We "kicked off" at 1.30 in the morning in pitch-dark, but careful preparations resulted in all the troops getting to their destinations without a hitch. Our Third Division had the honour of crossing the canal and penetrating into the city. The element of surprise assisted in overwhelming the enemy defence in the streets. Once the Place d'Armes was reached, we spread out over the entire area, and by daylight had passed through the city to the south-east, well out on the Avenue de Valenciennes, while on the south-west they had established themselves at the corner of the Boulevard de la Liberté and the Porte de Paris. Some enemy elements were apparently caught between the city and Imperials further south.

Our troops are now working desperately to save the city from the fires that have broken out at various points. The Allies have not fired a single shell into Cambrai, and these fires must be incendiary.

Meanwhile, our Second Division swept out due east to the line of the Scheldt Canal, securing all bridgeheads as far as Eswars, and capturing Morenchies, Ramillies, Blécourt, Bantigny and Cuvillers, with many hundred prisoners.

The victory is complete and glorious.

THURSDAY, October 10.

A Central Ontario battalion was taking part in an attack on St. Olle, the suburb of Cambrai commanding the city from the north. It had gained a footing in the western edge of the village on the Cambrai road, but advance was held up by a formidable trench line manned by machine-gunners from the apex south-easterly athwart the advance of our men.

A lieutenant, formerly in the ranks, who holds the Military Medal, lined his men in front of this position under a rise in the ground, and then worked round on his left into the village with one machine-gun, which he established to enfilade the trench. With one man he proceeded from this point along the entire rear of the trench, his man in the trench itself and he leaning over the back of it, bombing as they went. The two of them compelled the surrender of 54 Germans and eight machine-guns. Later, when this battalion pushed out almost into Ramillies, this lieutenant led his men to the bridgehead, but, meeting there the point-blank fire of enemy batteries, was forced to retire. He reached the furthest eastern point attained at the time by any of our troops invading Cambrai.

FRIDAY, October 11.

Engineers, aided by battalions of infantry and by the dropping of the wind, have succeeded after desperate efforts in checking the Cambrai fires, but the heart of the city has gone, and the suburbs on the east side. Those on the west and south escaped by mere good luck.

Very careful investigation of the past two days establishes beyond question that Cambrai has been destroyed deliberately. This is borne out by civilians who have been rescued, as well as by our troops who first entered the city.

No sooner were the civilian population evacuated to Valenciennes that their homes were given over to sack of the soldiery. Outwardly the streets and houses bear a respectable appearance; within all is litter and ruin, where the lust of loot led to senseless, wanton destruction, such as the kicking in of furniture and the smashing of heavy mirrors. Almost every little back garden is a scene of brutal vandalism, where women's clothing, children's toys, pictures ripped from frames, broken services of china, ripped-open feather beds, books, bed-linen, private papers, and so on are piled in one common ruin. On to this mass everything portable in the house has been piled, possibly with the intention of setting the whole on fire. Not an article of intrinsic value remains that could be carried away. Particularly malevolent has been the gutting of the museum and religious houses.

When the Canadian troops were in complete possession of the city at about 7 o'clock it was practically intact. Thereafter at rapid intervals time-fuse explosions occurred, setting off incendiary bombs. These first destroyed streets fronting on and bordering the Place d'Armes, and later in the day began detonating in a wider circle. Some of these were secured before explosion by the Canadian Engineers, but it was impossible to locate more than a small percentage.

SUNDAY, October 13.

After strenuous and continuous fighting, culminating in the capture of Cambrai on Wednesday last, it might be supposed that the Canadian Corps had earned and needed rest. In those days, and particularly on September 30 and October 1, when our infantry threw back counter-attack after attack of the enemy, who vainly sought to unloose our hold on the city, this Corps went through the hardest ding-dong fighting of its history, but so far is its spirit from being quenched that during the past three days its elements engaged have lived up to its highest traditions and reaped fresh laurels. Animated by the Corps' spirit and habituated to victory, our gallant infantry has proved itself capable during the past fortnight of almost incredible exertions. They are determined that the enemy shall not slip from their grasp.

FORESTERS AS FIGHTING MEN.

For some time past (says Mr. Fred James) the directing authorities of the Forestry Corps have been inundated with applications from officers and men of the C.F.C. to be allowed to transfer to the Canadian Corps in order to have a hand in the fighting. The pressure became so great that it has been decided to allow a certain number of transfers to be made. The first draft of officers and men from the Forestry troops have reached the Corps Reinforcement Camp, and in a very short time will be ready to take their place in the line.

Capt. Roy J. Snider, M.B., R.A.M.C. (wounded), is a Toronto man. Formerly a lieutenant in the C.A.M.C., he was given his commission in the R.A.M.C. in July, 1916, and promoted to his present rank a year later.

Lt. Vernon G. Snyder, R.A.F. (wounded), is the son of Mr. N. Snyder, 433, Walmer Road, Toronto. He was an instructor in Canada for some months before coming overseas in charge of a draft of airmen. He had been in France since April.

Lt. William S. Stephenson, M.C., D.F.C., R.A.F. (prisoner), is at Karlsruhe, according to a postcard received last week by a friend in London. The young pilot is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson, of 175, Syndicate Street, Winnipeg, and possessed a fine record as an aggressive airman. In pre-war days he was an employé of the Great North-West Telegraphs Company at Winnipeg. He was reported missing as from July 28.

Lieut. Dixon Park Wagner, M.C., R. Dublin Fus. (wounded), is the son of Mrs A. D. Wagner, of Cornwall, Ont., and a nephew of the late Sir James P. Whitney, Premier of Ontario. Lt. Wagner graduated from Toronto University in 1911, and before coming overseas was secretary of the Provincial Good Roads Commission. He was awarded the M.C. this year.

Sec. Lt. Jack Ernest Walker, R.A.F. (missing), was an acting corporal in the O.M.F.C. when he was entered as a cadet. He received his commission in December.

Lt. Gordon Shaw Wilkin, R.A.F. (accidentally killed in England last month), was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilkin, 2017, Twelfth Avenue West, Calgary. He was buried at Ipswich with full military honours.

Officer Prisoners.

Information has now been received that Lt. L. C. Gilmour, Sask. and R.A.F. and Lt. C. R. Hall, Que. and R.A.F., are prisoners at Karlsruhe; Lt. J. G. Murray, B.C., at Salzerbad; Lt. J. B. Harvey, C. Ont. and R.A.F., at Clausthal; and Capt. P. R. White, E. Ont. and R.A.F., at Stralsburg.

Lt. L. R. James, B.C. and R.A.F., and Lt. G. B. Field, who were missing, are reported prisoners.

Capt. A. F. Crossman, C.M R. (Sask. Regt.), formerly a prisoner at Schweidnitz, has arrived in Holland for internment.

Sec. Lt. Joseph Guy Holt, M.G.C., repatriated from Germany, was farming in Canada on the outbreak of war. He sold out his holdings and came overseas, enlisting as a ranker in the Public Schools Bn., later joining the M.G.C. He was given his commission in 1917, and was captured last March. Sec. Lt. Holt is an old Conway boy, and his parents live in Cheshire.

Missing Chaplain's Body Found.

The body of Capt. (Rev.) D. G. MacPhail, who was reported "missing, believed drowned" after the torpedoing of the hospital ship Llandovery Castle, has been washed ashore and buried in France

CANADIANS IN THE GREAT CRUSADE.

A Four Years' Retrospect—Commemoration in London.

THE fourth, and probably the last, meeting of its kind in London to commemorate by a service and dinner the arrival in England of the First Contingent differed in one vital respect from its predecessors. Hitherto these gatherings have been confined to officers who wear the red chevron, but this year any Canadian officer was privileged to attend.

A review of the work of all branches of the O.M.F.C. during the four years which have elapsed since Canada's first large body of troops set foot on English soil conjures up many memories. Many glorious pages have been written in the Dominion's history since then, and the concrete achievements of its citizen-army need no reiteration here. On the other hand, there are memories which are sad and sombre. Every achievement, in peace or war, whether by individuals, communities, or nations, is only attained by sacrifice. Canada's blood sacrifice has been heavy. Of that first and gallant thirty thousand, how many are alive to-day? Yet as the war goes on, Canada's resolution is unweakened by vain regrets. The tenacity of purpose, the will to continue to suffer, if need be, are daily-proven attributes of the young Dominion. These virtues are the surest stepping-stones to a future national greatness which will be the more secure because it is broad-based upon national sacrifice.

The Service at St. Margaret's

The service of prayer and thanksgiving, held at St. Margaret's Church, was attended by 1,200 officers and men, representative of every arm of the Service. Major (Rev.) D. V. Warner, Senior Chaplain in the London Area, conducted the service, and the sermon was preached by Col. (Rev. Canon) J. M. Almond, Director of the Chaplain Services. Col. Almond suggested that the soldier who returned to Canada physically fit and thought his country still owed him something had not learnt the first lesson of the great sacrificial spirit of this war. The first national care would be for the widows and orphans and for the men incapacitated.

CANADIANS LINED UP OUTSIDE ST. MARGARET'S FOR THE COMMEMORATION SERVICE.

Among those present at the service were Sir George and Lady Perley, Lt.-General Sir Richard Turner, V.C., Major-General Foster (D.M.S.), Brig.-General J. G. Ross, the Bishop of New Westminster (Rt. Rev. A. U. De Pencier), and Bishop Taylor Smith, Chaplain-General to the Forces.

The Glory of the Canadian Corps.

The solemnity attending the service was lifted later in the evening, when 400 officers attended the dinner held in the Criterion Restaurant, presided over by General Turner. There were present very few officers from France, as the unremitting pressure on the Hun makes leave practically impossible.

General Turner, in reviewing Canada's efforts during the four years, said its army in the field had increased by six times the original force which landed in England in 1914, in addition to replacing all casualties and wastage.

The fighting of the Canadians, from the Second Battle of Ypres to the late Battle of Cambrai, would be a proud and enviable record for any nation. In all the war no heavier fighting had taken place than that near Cambrai; in the near future Canada's success there would be seen in its right perspective—little in proportion to their achievement had yet been said. They were up against the enemy's key position, and they captured it.

The Canadian successes in two months represented 28,000 prisoners and over 500 guns, and the German dead in proportion. The British 32nd Division at Amiens, the 4th and 51st Divisions at Arras, and the 11th Division at Cambrai had the honour of fighting under the Canadian Corps, which had in that period encountered and defeated 47 German divisions.

To Sir Arthur Currie and his gallant men Canada owed a deep debt—a debt that must be remembered by all Canadians in the future. In glorying in their successes, they must not forget the individual suffering. As one wounded lad in hospital had recently told him: "Only those who have taken part in the front line know what a wall we were up against."

In the air, Canadians had been equally successful. Thirty-five per cent. of the R.A.F. flying officers were Canadians, and Bishop, Mulock, Collishaw, McKeever and Lawson were a few of the most distinguished.

Hospital's Wonderful Record

The speaker then went on to pay handsome tributes to the efficiency of the Railway Troops, under Brig.-Gen. Jack Stewart; the Forestry Corps, under Brig.-Gen. Alex. MacDougall, and the Medical Services. "There is no parallel," said the General, "to the record of No. 3 Canadian Stationary Hospital. In the critical days of last spring this hospital acted as field ambulance, casualty clearing station, and stationary hospital. In less than eight months it cleared 49,000 patients."

A tribute was paid by the speaker to the 3rd Division, the troops of which were the first to enter Cambrai. Our troops were on the north, south, east and west of the city, so there was no doubt that the Canadians had captured Cambrai.

"Victory Within Our Grasp."

The work in England also received its meed of praise from the chairman. In conclusion, and before proposing the toast of "Canada and Our Army," General Turner said :—"Please God, it may not be many months before our lads will be able to look forward to an early return home, and to a conclusive peace. Pray that our statesmen and politicians be not misled in the peace snare now being set by the wily, degenerate Boches.

A telegram from General Currie was read, eliciting a remarkable outburst of applause, in which he said :—"We pray that our young nation shall raise its voice and assert its full strength to defeat the devilish ingenuity of German diplomacy. Victory is within our reach."

The Call for Further Service.

In proposing "Our Guests," Sir George Perley said that in the last six months the Canadian Corps had a record which would stand for all ages, and that record was a proof of the courage and discipline of the Corps. Sir George paid high tribute to what had been accomplished by the Mother Country. The excellent war news encouraged him to think that that gathering would be the last anniversary to be held in this country.

He saw before him in that gathering the best sample of citizenship. They would be called on to make further sacrifices for the heritage they wanted to hand down to their children. There were many problems before them in the future. When they returned to Canada they would have to continue the service they had already so willingly given, for democracies depended for their existence on the most able men.

Canada's Place in the World.

Lord Beaverbrook, who replied, referred to the administration of the Militia Department overseas as being entirely praiseworthy. Concerning the war situation, he believed events were rapidly drawing to a conclusion. The German reply to President Wilson did not carry us much further. It must be clear to thinking men that the armistice asked for must make provision against the Germans setting up positions under the guise of an armistice. Sir Robert Borden was expected, said the speaker, to take part in any deliberations which might ensue, and it was safe to leave in his hands the objects for which they had fought. When the war broke out Canada was not consulted, but was entirely satisfied. He suggested the situation must never again arise. Canada must have her right to take a vital decision of peace or war.

Mr. Donald Macmaster, K.C., M.P., declared that we must not grasp too hastily at the 14 points of President Wilson, because there was no reference in them to reparation and compensation. It was essential that we should retain the German Colonies in order to prevent the Germans from establishing submarine bases and suddenly attacking our commercial marine and sea routes.

Sir George Foster's Message to General Currie.

Sir George Foster, Acting Prime Minister in the absence of Sir Robert Borden, has sent the following message to General Sir Arthur Currie:—

I desire on behalf of the Government, and people of Canada, to send you a message of sincere congratulation and deep appreciation of the high courage and steadfast valour displayed by the Canadian troops, in their initial combats with the enemy on the fields of Flanders and France, qualities which have continued ever since to characterise their arduous contests and never more gloriously than in these later wonderful and splendid achievements at Lens, Drocourt, and Cambrai, which have covered these divisions with imperishable glory, in which we are all proud to share.

To yourself, their trusted and indomitable leader and the brave officers of all grades by whom you are so ably served, I tender the grateful thanks of our young nation in whose cause you are so valiantly fighting. Standing as you now are in the clear light of well-earned success, and in the full promise of coming complete victory, Canada bids God speed to you and your incomparable comrades in arms

General Currie on German Diplomacy

All ranks in the Canadian Corps acknowledge with grateful hearts your inspiring message of congratulations and appreciation of their strenuous and victorious effort Four years ago the first Canadian Contingent landed in the Mother Country as a vanguard of Canada's contribution to the defence of the British Empire. To-day Canada's Army in France, larger than the original British Expeditionary Force, realises more than ever the peril our Empire has withstood, and in danger of which we still stand.

Four years of horrible war, of almost hourly contact against the fiendish Hun, have engraved into our very soul the fact that unless Germany is decisively crushed now and reduced to military impotency she will not be ensured the peace and happiness of civilisation, and the safety of mankind will be in danger, the security of our national existence will be jeopardised, and the heritage of our children for ever prejudiced.

Conscious of the lurking danger of the present situation, from the battlefield drenched with the blood of their comrades, the men who may die in the battles of to-morrow expect and pray that our young nation shall raise its voice and exert its full strength to defeat the devilish endeavours of German diplomacy. Complete victory is within our reach. Let us have it so that the blood of our bravest and best shall not have been spent in vain and that the sacrifices we consented to make and the bitter sorrows we endured have not been without justification or purpose.

Ontario's Message to General Currie

Sir William Hearst, Premier of Ontario, has sent the following message to General Currie:—

The people of Ontario are rejoicing over the Canadians' glorious advance at Cambrai. The dogged determination, dauntless courage, and heroic achievements of your wonderful troops inspire our deepest admiration and gratitude. God speed you to final victory.

CANADIANS IN HOLLAND.

Sir Edward Kemp, before leaving for Washington and New York en route for London, made public a joint report by Major Blake and Col. Birks, of the Y.M.C.A., on the condition of Canadian prisoners interned in Holland (says the Daily Record). This stated that the food the men were receiving was good, and that the conditions in this respect had improved since the supplementary British rations had begun to arrive.

ANOTHER AEROPLANE FOR CANADA.

The necessary funds having been raised by citizens of Glasgow to enable an Imperial Air Fleet aeroplane named "City of Glasgow," to be presented to Canada, and handed over to the Royal Air Force for service at the Front, the public presentation will take place at Glasgow on 26th inst. Sir George Perley will accept the 'plane on behalf of the Dominion Government, and Lady Perley will attach the mascot. This will complete the three I.A.F. units presented to Canada and organised by the Imperial Air Fleet Committee, of which Mr. C. J. Fairfax Scott is organising secretary.

It is impossible to gauge the ever increasing demands for "CANADA." Orders must be placed in advance. The issue of October 12 is entirely sold out, but a few copies of October 5 & September 28 & 21 can be obtained from the Publisher at Craven House, 113, Kingsway, London, W.C.2.

WESTERN OFFICER'S THRICE-WON D.S.O.

("London Gazette" Supplement, October 15.)

Lt.-Col. Donald John MacDonald, D.S.O., M.C., Cav. (Netherhill, Sask.)

This officer commanded the advance guard regiment of his brigade in an attack. He led his regiment with the greatest determination and with absolutely no regard for his own safety. It was largely due to his splendid leadership that the operation, which resulted in the capture of several miles of enemy territory and large numbers of prisoners and material, was entirely successful. (D.S.O. gazetted January 1, 1918; Bar gazetted June 22, 1918.)

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE ORDER.

Major Colin Keith Lee Pyman (Kelowna, B.C.)—died of wounds

This officer was in charge of a raiding party of considerable importance, and the success of the operation was largely due to the thorough manner in which he had thought out and supervised every detail beforehand. He directed the operations with a courage and complete disregard of danger that inspired the greatest confidence in the officers and men under his command.

Major Percival Victor Torrance, Cav. (Winnipeg).

He commanded the advanced squadron of the regiment during an attack His great dash and determination enabled the regiment to capture more than 180 prisoners, several guns, and many machine guns, and to attain its objective. His conduct throughout the day was splendid, and his gallant leadership greatly inspired those under him.

BAR TO M.C.

Lt. William Johnstone, M.C.

After making a series of daring reconnaissances he led a raiding party to secure an identification. With great skill he penetrated 300 yards inside hostile lines, and then concealed his party until an enemy party with fixed bayonets appeared down their communication trench. In the fight that ensued Lt. Johnstone was wounded, but shot two of the enemy, and the latter, after suffering several casualties, ran away. He then returned with all his party, having secured the required identification. His courage and initiative throughout were most marked. (M.C. gazetted January 18, 1918.)

He was in command of a battle patrol and engaged and defeated a superior force of the enemy who were advancing to raid our outpost line. He inflicted heavy losses with Lewis gun-fire and bombs, and eventually withdrew, bringing all his casualties back to our positions. He displayed great personal gallantry and tactical ability, and set a very fine example to his men. (M.C. gazetted July 26, 1918.)

Lt. Frank George Rump, M.C.

This officer has on many occasions shown much gallantry and enterprise in the conduct of patrols, and has obtained valuable information. On one occasion, having marched through the enemy's outpost line, he and his patrol of two N.C.O.'s and four men entered an enemy dug-out in rear of his posts, and nearly a mile from our front line. In the fight which ensued the enemy garrison were killed and valuable information obtained; with great skill and resource Lt. Rump brought back his patrol without casualties. (M.C. gazetted May 13, 1918.)

CANADIANS IN IMPERIAL FORCES.

Capt. (Actg. Maj.) Charles Frederick Carson, M.C., R.E.

He was responsible for building a cavalry track enabling the cavalry to pass through and beyond the infantry during an attack. Having successfully completed his work under heavy artillery fire, he went forward and reconnoitred a crossing over a river under very heavy fire of all kinds, and brought back most valuable information. His fearless example and determination throughout were admirable. (M.C. gazetted January 1, 1917.)

Temp. Capt. John Nelson Humphrey, M.C., M.B., R.A.M.C. (Toronto).

As bearer officer he repeatedly led his men up to the front line under very heavy fire. When the normal line of evacuation was broken he carried out a reconnaissance in full view of the enemy, and established a new means of communication, himself assisting to remove a tree across a road which was being heavily shelled. By his courage and resource he contributed largely to the rapid evacuation of the wounded, and saved many lives. (M.C. gazetted January 1, 1918.)

Lt. James Reginald Stratton, M.C., R.E. (Peterboro).

When a party of volunteers was organised to salve two 18-pounder guns, which had been abandoned some months before and were lying in front of the lines, he accompanied the officer commanding operations and displayed the utmost resource and courage in preparing the track and making the necessary bridges. These had to be constructed in front of the front line and under harassing machine-gun fire. It was largely due to his coolness and initiative that the operation was successfully carried out. (M.C. gazetted December 11, 1916.)

MILITARY CROSS.

Lt. Edgar Gerald Birtles, E. Surrey Regt.

This officer was in command of raiding parties on two different occasions, and it was owing to his leadership that both raids were successful. In withdrawing his parties he saved many casualties by the way he superintended the retirement himself, taking good advantage of the ground to shelter his men from the enemy barrage fire.

An instance of the kindliness which is one of the attributes of General Turner occurred at London Headquarters a day or two ago. Cpl. Alex. Brereton, V.C., of the Manitoba Regiment, called at Argyll House, and whilst there met the Chief of the General Staff. Noting that the gallant Corporal was not wearing the V.C. ribbon, General Turner took his own from his tunic and pinned it on the breast of Cpl. Brereton.

An incident of work being stopped at G.H.Q. with Sir Douglas Haig's concurrence while a Bishop asked for Divine blessing on the operations about beginning, is only one instance of the belief of our commanders that more things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of (says the Evening News). Among those who were confirmed by Bishop De Pencier on a recent visit to the Canadians in the field was Lt.-General Sir Arthur Currie, commander of the Canadian Corps.

The engagement is announced of Major A. O. Meredith, D.S.O., Canadian Divisional Infantry, and Jean Grahame, daughter of the late Dr. Henry P. Wright, of Ottawa, and of Mrs. Wright, 101, Clarence Gate Gardens, N.W.1.

CANADIANS HAVING THEIR MID-DAY MEAL IN THE OPEN DURING THE ADVANCE.

OFFICERS of the O.M.F.C. who desire to secure honorary membership of the Royal Automobile Club (Pall Mall, London, S.W.1) should register their names at the Information Bureau in the club.

Important notices respecting subsistence allowance appeared in Routine Orders under date October 10.

Authorisation is announced of the newest organisation within the O.M.F.C., viz., the Tobacco and Supplies Sales Department. The personnel on the provisional establishment includes 16 officers, 18 sergeants, staff sergeants, or S.Q.M. sergeants, 20 corporals, 12 civilians, 12 C.A.P.C. attachments, and 56 privates, or a total personnel of 134.

Increased Separation Allowances.

In reply to urgent representations from British Columbia for increases in allowances to the dependents of soldiers, Major-General Mewburn, Minister of Militia, has agreed to suggest to the Canadian Government (says the Times) that separation allowances to the dependents of non-commissioned officers and men should be increased by $5 monthly.

C.T.S. Cadets to Rank as Sergeants.

All cadets (below the rank of sergeant) nominated as candidates for the C.T.S. will be granted the acting rank of sergeant, with pay, from the date fixed for the commencement of the course. This acting rank will be granted by the cadet's regimental depôt, and will be held until gazettement to commissioned rank, or until the candidate fails in his examination or is removed from the course for any reason.

The Canadian War Loan

The securities of subscribers of the O.M.F.C. who have requested delivery of their bonds in the United Kingdom, have now been received from Ottawa, and will be delivered in accordance with the request of subscribers. Arrangements have been made whereby the coupons may be cashed free of income tax. The present market value of the bonds is approximately par, with accrued interest from June 1.

No Further Transfers from the Infantry.

Routine Order 4752 states:—"Until instructions to the contrary are issued, no further transfers will be permitted from the Infantry to any other arm or branch of the Service, unless the circumstances are most exceptional; and no officers fit for general service will be seconded for duty without the O.M.F.C. either to the War Office or the Royal Air Force. Transfers which have been finally approved, prior to the publication of this order, will be completed. Officers who have been examined and definitely accepted by the Royal Air Force prior to the publication of this order, but who have not yet proceeded for attachment, will be permitted to proceed on receipt of instructions through the usual channels."

Notes on Officers.

PELMANISM AND PEACE.

By ARTHUR F. THORN. Author of "Richard Jefferies and Civilisation," "Social Satires," etc.

THE truth that civilisation has been strained almost to breaking point by the war will not be denied by those who are able to recall the cataclysmic events of the past four and a-half years. Nothing less than a revolution has taken place in society, but its progress has been too gradual for immediate realisation; the spectacular horrors of modern warfare have largely detracted the public consciousness from the social changes which have come about as a result of world conflict, but when peace comes these things will need to be appreciated in their true perspectives. The future will consist mainly of social problems that will demand the concentrated mental effort of every individual brain. Vital national issues directly affecting the lives of the people will demand serious consideration and successful treatment, not only by a few men of genius, but by the people themselves. There will be a vacuum in the social atmosphere that will draw all mentalities into its vortex, and if those mentalities are insufficiently equipped for the strain which will be put upon them, then the wisest plans of the minority will prove ineffectual.

How few are able to grasp mentally the significance of the present moment, or to visualise the intensely dramatic possibilities of the near future? How few are able to perceive that the war has, in the sense of destruction, set civilisation back a century, and that it will be absolutely necessary to repair the wreckage as soon as possible after peace is declared? The emotional reaction of joy that will inevitably succeed the birth of peace will, for a time, subordinate every other public emotion. One can quite clearly visualise a condition of happy chaos that will laugh in the face of serious thought and be quite unable to appreciate the fact that grave danger still threatens civilisation; that nothing short of collective intelligence and collective thinking will assure a sane future for democracy. The future needs thought as the human body needs food; it needs dynamic ideas and ideals, it needs effectively applied mental science, and it needs human understanding. The failure of the past to secure for the people a general high standard of living and social security which might leave man free to become aware of his higher mental self; this failure has been due to the absence of collective thought—the failure, in fact, of the average undeveloped mind. Let us examine this question closely. Great ideals and schemes for the betterment of mankind have been conceived and expressed by thinkers whose sole motive was the uplifting of their fellow men. They had no axe to grind—men like Ruskin, William Morris, Tolstoi, Emerson, and many others, whose life work was directed towards the elevation of mankind. These great men were not in themselves failures; they expressed their ideas very clearly; it is humanity that has failed, not the men of genius who have pointed a way to emancipation. Why have these mental pioneers been unable to produce a full and satisfactory result? Why has humanity failed to utilise the ideals of its great teachers? There is no excuse for humanity; humanity has consistently refused to think: it has neglected its mind; failed to realise the importance of ideas, and, in so doing, has allowed the paralysing forces of ignorance to overwhelm it. False dignity cannot point a flaw in this argument; it is as clear as the sun in mid-heaven.

Thought, rightly directed and intelligently applied to the complex problems of human life, can alone lift the race beyond the devastating effects of mental apathy and intellectual inertia. We have neglected our brains: we have failed to apprehend the infinite power of mind, and we suffer in consequence. Then, it will at once be said, education is also a failure. What has education been doing all these years? What is wrong with our educational system that the average person is not, in the highest sense of the word, educated? The answer is, that educationists have been much too anxious to provide a utilitarian education; an education purposely designed to fit in with conventional ideas of life, and with things as they are. Educationists have not properly appreciated the fact of individual psychology. Conventional education may impart much valuable technical knowledge, and at the same time fail to draw out those vital qualities of personal initiative and individual thought which are alone able to develop the pupil's highest potentialities. The result of such education is not a mind alive to the colour and joyous possibilities of life, but a mind encumbered with a certain mechanical arrangement of facts that are, within limits, quite useful, but which are also narrowly restricted, and do not as a rule enable the individual to become intimate with the possibilites of his or her own unique personality.

The whole problem of the future, in which it is generally admitted that reconstruction shall be the most important task, is a problem which involves the mental response of the people to the idea of reconstruction in all its phases. People in all classes of society will need to think and analyse for themselves; they will have to discuss national affairs, and bring their minds to bear intelligently upon the various aspects of social reconstruction. They will have to be mentally awake not only to their own personal interests, but also to the interests of others. The future will demand a clarified perception of right values and sane ideals; it will need clear, energetic brains and sensitive imaginations—mental qualities which do not develop without systematic exercise and rightly directed interest and concentration. The need for the healthy activity of these mental faculties exists increasingly, and the Pelman System of Mind and Memory Training has evolved side by side with this need. The Pelman System of mental education is nothing more nor less than a proved developer of every healthy and progressive activity of the human mind. There would appear to be no other system of Mind and Memory Training more likely to stimulate the latent powers of the undeveloped brain and prepare it for the intense intellectual battles of the future. The Pelman System invariably produces that requisite mental vitality and keen perception that can alone prove successful in a world fighting for existence with ideas. The Pelman System is more scientific and more certain of its ground than any other system which claims to provide an incentive to thought and a stimulus to imagination. It has psychology for its basis, whereas conventional education regards psychology as a mere branch of mental science, and does not normally include it in the popular curriculum. This oversight has caused the failure of conventional education just as the recognition of the psychological basis of mental life has proved the success of the Pelman System.

Briefly, then, the coming of peace will demand collective thinking; it will demand the serious consideration of, and creation of, ideas; it will demand intelligence. Nothing less than efficiently educated brains will be qualified to deal with those supreme national issues which must affect the race generally. Nothing short of national mental education will be of any practical value in the enormous task of social reconstruction. Pelmanism will play a much greater part in the shaping of our national future than many of us imagine. The world cannot become safe for the people and for posterity until each individual unit in society fully realises the possibilities of their own particular mentality and its power over the conditions of life which form its environment. The hopes which mental education holds out for the future are stupendous. There is no limit to the happy possibilities of the future if only humanity will collectively realise the divine potentialities of thought, and awaken to the necessity of creating a condition of human life which shall bless the children of to-morrow and justify the sacrifice and sorrow of to-day.

"Mind and Memory" (in which the Pelman Course is fully described, with a Synopsis of the lessons) will be sent, gratis and post-free, together with a full reprint of "Truth's" famous Report on the Pelman System, and a form entitling readers of CANADA to the complete Course for one-third less than the usual fees, on application to The Pelman Institute, 21, Pelman House, Bloomsbury Street, London, W.C.1.

MEDICAL SOCIETY AT THE WOODCOTE PARK HOSPITAL.

At a general meeting of the medical officers of the Militar Convalescent Hospital, Woodcote Park, Epsom, on October 9 it was decided to form a Medical Society in the hospital. It has been felt that there are constantly numbers of interestin cases passing through the hospital which it would be valuable to specially chronicle. Lt.-Col. F. Guest, commandant, ha consented to be hon. president of the Society, with Major St John as president, Major McDermot as secretary, and a committee consisting of Major Cameron Smith, M.C., and Capts Ireland and Johnston. It was decided to hold meetings onc a week, and to extend invitations to the medical staffs of neighbouring hospitals.

CANADIAN MILITARY SPORT.

The tied game between Witley and the U.S. Army for the baseball "championship" (i.e., the championship had already be won by the Engineers of the Seaford Area) was replayed at Chelse last Sunday, in the presence of the biggest crowd of the seas La Fitte pitched practically air-tight ball, but lost his head in the seventh inning over a fancied grievance. The Canadian Arti lerymen were then leading 3—2, and Umpire Latham called the game. As an exhibition of baseball the last game of the sea was not a brilliant one. Fred Saunders' men put a run over in their second session at bat, and in the sixth inning a pass on ball-allowed by Saunders was followed by errors which enabled th Yanks to cross the home plate twice. Next time at bat the Canadians put the game on ice by adding two runs.

The C.M.G.C. defeated an R.G.A. Rugby team at Maresfield Park on Saturday by 14 points to nothing

(By Fred James, Official Correspondent, Canadian Overseas Ministry.)

HERE and there across the territory recently captured from the Germans in front of Arras are little plots, neatly fenced in, on which stand serried rows of plain wood crosses. These plots are the new cemeteries for our honoured dead. They express in one way the inevitable price of victory in battle. To each cross is attached a plate on which is inscribed the brief epitaph "Killed in Action"; and the officer or man's number, rank, name and unit, with the date of his death. Each grave is neatly mounded over and a peg is fixed at the foot giving the number of the grave and the letter of the row it is in. A large board erected at the entrance to the cemetery gives in detail its exact location and the reference map.

The burial of our soldiers who fall in battle, or die anywhere in France, is carried out according to very carefully prepared regulations. Our authorities are insistent that these regulations are punctiliously observed, and have a system of checking and rechecking to ascertain that there is no departure from them in the slightest. Enemy soldiers, too, are buried in plots set apart for them, and their graves are marked with the same kind of crosses as are used for our own men.

Canadian War Records] [Photograph.

PART OF A CANADIAN CEMETERY AT THE FRONT.

The regulation cross stands 2 ft. 6 in. high out of the ground and is 1 ft. 4 in. across the arms. Temporary wooden crosses erected by regiments themselves must not exceed 3 ft. 6 in. by 1 ft. 9 in. Nothing except wood crosses—or the recognised sign used by non-Christians—must mark a British soldier's grave in France while the war is on. This applies not only to what are strictly military cemeteries, but to graves of soldiers in communal cemeteries, churchyards or isolated graves.

During an advance the clearing of the fallen from the battlefield is done in the first place under arrangements made by each Division engaged; but a Division has not the authority to open a cemetery, except under very special circumstances, such as in extremely heavy fighting where casualties are many, or where the operations necessitate hurried burial. Corps Headquarters, except under the conditions mentioned, decide where a new cemetery shall be established, in consultation with the officer of the Army Staff responsible for the registration of graves and acquisition of cemetery sites. Then its location is carefully registered.

Personal Effects.

The graves in the cemeteries are arranged in rows; each row is designated by a letter and the graves by numbers running serially. If crosses are not available at the time of interment then pegs are used pro tem. The personal effects taken by the burial party from a soldier who has been killed are placed in a small bag, with a return showing the number, rank, name, unit, together with other remarks of particulars available. The bag is then sealed and sent to the Corps burial officer, who sends it forward through the official channels, until it ultimately reaches the next of kin of deceased.

At the cemeteries chaplains commit the bodies to the ground with proper religious service. No soldier is buried without some becoming ceremony, even under fire, if it is at all humanly possible. During what is known as ordinary trench warfare fatal casualties are generally taken out to an authorised cemetery, usually in a small French village or some secluded resting place.

It is, of course, not always possible to identify a body. Under these circumstances all particulars are noted about the clothing and effects. These are sent to the Corps burial officer, who at once proceeds to try and establish the identity. Every soldier is required to wear round his neck on a cord two identity discs, giving his number, rank, name, unit and religion. If he is killed one disc is cut off and placed in the bag with his effects, and the other is buried with him.

All over France and Belgium the graves of the soldiers of the Allies are kept in the best condition possible, by whichever of the Allied Armies is holding that part of the line. When the Canadians first went to the Vimy Ridge sector in the autumn of 1916 they found little cemeteries where French soldiers were buried that shell fire had disfigured to some extent. In places there were isolated graves, for over the ground in the neighbourhood of Ablain St. Nazaire, Carency, Souchez, and what is known as the Labyrinth, some of the bloodiest fighting of the war took place in 1915, and it was not then possible to apply as thorough a burial system as it is now. The Canadians, out of love and respect for their French comrades, beautified those cemeteries and isolated graves so well that the French Government expressed its thanks on behalf of the nation for such a thoughtful compliment.

The exact spot where lies almost every Canadian buried in France is recorded in at least three different places, one of which is the Canadian Record Office in London, so that it is an easy matter to locate registered graves of Canadians buried in France.

All the cemeteries in France or Belgium within the zone of the British Armies are administered by the Director of Graves Registration and Enquiries at General Headquarters, or through his representatives in the different Army areas.

Reports on all burials give the name of the cemetery, number of the plot, number of the row, number of the grave, number, rank and name of the deceased soldier, if ascertainable, and the map location of the grave.

From the seaboard on the Belgian coast to south of Amiens Canadians are buried in cemeteries on several famous battlefields; their graves are in Central France, in the Vosges Mountains, in the balmy South, and in scores of different places on French territory. They are the most eloquent testimony of Canada's contribution in a war for freedom, justice, equity—for simple righteousness.

CHRISTMAS PARCELS FOR PRISONERS.

The Canadian Red Cross Society is ordering a special 15s parcel to send to each Canadian prisoner of war for Christmas. The next-of-kin will have the right to subscribe for these parcels, or to nominate someone in their stead. Parcels thus paid for will be sent in the name of the subscriber. Next-of-kin residing in the United Kingdom are requested to send subscriptions and details to the Prisoners of War Department, Hotel York, Berners Street, Oxford Street, London, W.1, before October 30. Those prisoners for whom no subscription is received will be sent their Christmas parcel in the name of the Canadian Red Cross.

The bride of a Canadian named Frizelle, who had been married the day before, was lost by the torpedoing of the Irish mail steamer Leinster.

Orders have been issued by the Militia Department authorising the formation of a third Tank Battalion in Canada for service Overseas (says the Daily Record). It is proposed to recruit the new battalion among French-Canadians.

To prepare soldiers on Overseas service for their return home to civil life, and to lay before them their duties as citizens, a party of clergymen and social workers, to the number of about half a dozen, will shortly proceed to England and France, under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. and the Canadian Chaplain Service (says the Daily Record). The members of the party will include Rev. Dr. Herbert Symonds, rector of Christ Church, Montreal, the Rev. D. C. MacGregor, of London, Ont., and Mr. Raymond Robins, a well-known social worker.

Speaking at a luncheon at the Frascati Restaurant, Mr. T. P. O'Connor, M.P., said that the tremendous progress which Pelmanism had made in the last few years in no way surprised him. He was prepared for even greater developments in the coming years. Pelmanism, it seemed to him, was bound to be a factor of great potency in the reconstruction period after the war.

Weekly Reports from Our Own Correspondents.

Stock Exchange Settling Days :—

CONSOLS PAY DAY, Monday, Nov. 4.

Tues., Oct. 29.	Wed., Oct. 30.

LONDON, Tuesday.

The Canadian section has enjoyed a firm undertone, but with the rest of the House it has not been very animated. Dominion Government issues are firm at last week's levels, the Fours at 73 and the 4½ per cents. at 83. Alberta 4½ per cents. have risen 2 to 83. There has been little movement among Canadian Corporation issues, but Victoria 4½ per cents. at 75 are 1 better. We refer to the disappointing Saskatchewan loan result in "Banking and Finance."

Canadian Pacifics have been strong in the railroad group, rising to 180 mainly on New York advices. Grand Trunks rule dull, and junior stocks are about ¼ down, the effect of the recent passing of the half-yearly dividends not being fully offset by the improved character of current earnings. Among land shares, Hudson's Bays are harder at 7⅞.

The industrial group keeps cheerful. Canadian Cars are unchanged at 56, but the pref. has gained 1 at 97½. Canada Cements and General Electrics are fully up to recent levels. Spanish River Pulp pref. has jumped 5 to 57½.

The rise in South American traction issues has persisted. Brazilian Tractions at 57¾ are 2½ higher, while Mexican Light and Power and Mexico Trams descriptions are 3 to 5 higher.

Canadian silver mining shares have ruled steady to dull again. Mining Corporation of Canada has reacted to 12s., but Burnsides are up to 16s.

TORONTO, Sept. 28.

After the substantial rise in prices of last week, when several stocks registered new high levels for the year, some profit-taking was inevitable. This duly occurred this week, but, though the markets were somewhat irregular, the undertone remained strong. In the last day or two markets, being influenced by the favourable war news, have again been characterised by a good deal of strength, with a notable broadening of the list of active stocks.

Among features of trading from day to day, Steamships common was at one time notable, being in strong demand upon a rumour that it is likely to be put on a dividend basis next month. Asbestos has also shown strength, first on the rumour and then on the announcement that the preferred dividend is to be raised from a 5 to a 6 per cent. per annum basis. You will remember that the dividend basis was only raised to 5 per cent. from 4 per cent. a few months ago. This new advance is of direct importance to the common shareholders, as the ordinary stock participates in dividend disbursements after the preferred dividends reach 6 per cent. It is suggested that the common stock may soon be placed on a 4 per cent. per annum basis. Brazilian, which would naturally be influenced by a prospect of peace, has also at times been the feature of activity, but the most consistent strength has been shown by the paper and flour milling groups. Of the former, those which are directly interested in news-print have naturally been most influenced owing to the new prices which have been set for this paper.

Several of the flour milling stocks have reached new high prices. Ogilvie Flour Mills has declared a bonus of 15 per cent., payable along with the regular quarterly dividend of 3 per cent. on October 1. Maple Leaf, in regard to which anticipations have been running high for some time, has only declared a bonus of 1 per cent. extra to the usual 2½ per cent. quarterly dividend on the common, but in some quarters the distribution of an attractive bonus is looked for with the dividend for the final quarter of the year.

There has been some revival of interest in the steel stocks. In Toronto Dom. Canners common is selling at 37½, and Standard Chemical common at 17½.

Among current prices Dom. Steel Corp. is 62½; Steel of Canada, 72½; Cement, 68½, pref. 94⅝; Can. Locomotive, 64; Can. Car pref., 86½; Brompton, 61¾; Riordon, 120; Laurentide, 183; Spanish River, 14; Wayagamack, 52; Price Bros., 149; Maple Leaf, 128; Lake of the Woods, 162; Ogilvie, 197½; St. Lawrence Flour, 92½; Steamships, 47½, pref., 76½; Brazilian 45½; Asbestos, 32, pref., 61; Dom. Textile, 96⅜; Penmans, 82; Shawinigan, 117½; Laurentide Power, 60.

The Shawinigan Co. has announced that its issue of $2,500,000 5 per cent. notes, maturing on October 1, will be paid off on that date. Of the $4,500,000 6 per cent. notes due, in 1919, it is stated that more than $500,000 has been retired by holders having exercised the option of conversion into stock of the company, and the directors believe that ultimately a large proportion, if not the whole, of the issue will be similarly converted.

The mining markets have lately been fairly active and strong, the gold stocks being influenced by the favourable war news and by the possibility of Government action towards assisting production. Dome Mines was the feature of the Standard Exchange yesterday, selling up to $10.25. Hollinger, which has announced a dividend of 1 per cent., payable October 7, is $4.90 bid; McIntyre is strong at $1.48; Kirkland Lake is .39, and Lake Shore .74. Among the silver shares La Rose, which sold up to .55 a few days ago, has reacted to .53½; Nipissing, which on October 21 will pay a bonus of 5 per cent. in addition to its usual 5 per cent. dividend, is quoted $8.55 xd.; Temiskaming has been in some demand at .30; Beaver is .39½, McKinley .40. Hillcrest Collieries, Ltd., has declared an initial dividend of 1 per cent. on the common stock.

ONTARIO PROVINCE.

OTTAWA.—In retail prices, the average cost in 60 cities of a list of staple foods for a family of five was $13.41 at the middle of August, as compared with $13.00 in July, $11.68 in August, 1917, and $7.68 in August, 1914.

TORONTO.—The challenge cup, presented by Lord Shaughnessy, representing the championship of the Seniors' Golf Association of Canada, has been won by Mr. George S. Lyon, of the Lambton Golf Club. The cup presented by Mr. F. A. Rolph, president of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, goes to Dr. R. F. Ruttan, a former president of the Royal Montreal Club.

——The Industrial Institute for the Blind is to be opened here shortly, and the Provincial Government will submit an estimate to equip the buildings and workshops so as to carry forward in Ontario such reconstruction work for the blind as is being accomplished at St. Dunstan's in England. The constitution of the Institute requires that the governing council must be composed of at least one-third blind members.

——The tax on every man, woman and child in the city levied by the civic Government amounts to $37.40 this year. If the taxes for war purposes were subtracted from this the per capita tax would be $27.32. Taking five as an average family, the tax per family in the city now amounts to $187.

HAMILTON.—Mr. John P. Macleod, Assessment Commissioner, reports an increase of 2,311 in the population during the year, making a total of 110,137. The total actual value of land and buildings is $89,380,700.

——At the tenth General Conference of the Canadian Methodist Church held here, the General Superintendent said that 500 ministers and probationers of the Church—one-third of the total of those of military age, health and strength—had answered the call to the service of the Canadian Army. He also spoke in favour of the closer union of churches. In four years the Methodist Church of Canada has raised nearly $25,000,000 for all purposes.

LONDON.—The American Hole-proof Hosiery Co. has purchased a site at the corner of Bathurst and Clarence Streets, on which to erect a $250,000 Canadian branch factory.

NIAGARA FALLS.—At Chippewa Creek, the largest mechanical shovels in the world are now in operation. One of them has a 90-ft. boom, picks up four wagon loads of earth at each operation, and deposits its contents on railway cars 45 ft. above its own level.

KINGSTON.—Inspection has been made by Brig.-Gen. Hemming and Lt.-Col. R. J. Gardiner, A.D.M.S., of the island home of Mr. Corrigan at Morrisburg, offered to the Government as a convalescent hospital.

——Capt. Clyde Scott has been operated upon in the General Hospital here for the ninth time, as the result of a shrapnel wound at Ypres in April, 1915, when he was serving with the 2nd Battalion. Capt. Scott is now Casualty Officer for No. 3 Military District.

——Lt.-Col. "Trooper" Molloy, the blind South African veteran, has been appointed to an important position under the Department of Soldiers Civil Re-establishment.

KENORA.—The tax rate has been placed at 37 mills in the dollar, an increase of 5 mills on last year.

COLLINGWOOD.—On September 6 the steel steamer War Witch was launched here at the yards of the Collingwood Shipbuilding Co. (length, 361 feet; beam, 23.6 feet; depth, 20.2 feet), a sister ship to the War Wizard, recently launched.

QUEBEC PROVINCE.

QUEBEC.—The War Matane, the fourth standard wooden steamer built by Quinlan & Robertson at their Limoilou yards, was launched on September 20.

MONTREAL.—Twenty industrial concerns are about to construct new factories in this city.

——The four judicial vacancies in the Province have been filled as follows:—Chief Justice, King's Bench, Mr. Justice Lamothe; King's Bench judge, Mr. J. E. Martin; Superior Court judges, Mr. L. J. Loranger, K.C., Joliette; Mr. A. E. de Lorimier, K.C., Montreal.

——Mr. W. R. Baker, C.V.O., president of the Royal Montreal Golf Club, has been notified by the Governor-General that he will present a trophy, to be competed for annually in an international match between the Seniors of the United States and the Seniors of Canada.

VERDUN.—In the grounds of the Hospital for the Insane chestnuts from Verdun, France, have been planted, and eventually some will be transplanted to the city streets.

NOVA SCOTIA.

HALIFAX.—The premises of Messrs. Frank Reardon & Co. have been totally destroyed by fire. Estimated loss, $200,000.

The provincial fruit crop report estimates the yield at 400,000 barrels, rather more than half of that of 1917.

——"The fishing industry on the South Shore is still in its infancy," states Mr. Maurice A. Nickerson, M.P.P., of Clark's Harbour, Cape Sable Island.

NEW BRUNSWICK.

FREDERICTON.—The Provincial Department of Agriculture believes that a number of men in different sections of the province will shortly go into sheep breeding on a larger scale. About 500 orders have so far been received for pure-bred stock for breeding purposes by the Department.

ST. JOHN.—The Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Minister of Marine and Naval Affairs, speaking here, said that he was in sympathy with the demand that St. John should be made a national port, and he would so advise the Government. He intimated that the annual output of steamships was now 250,000 tons, while contracts were under consideration for 22 steel ships, at an aggregate cost of $25,000,000. The total cost of the shipbuilding programme next year would be approximately $35,000,000. The sizes would range from 10,500 to 3,750 tons, and these ships would be owned and operated by the Government. The Government's policy was confined to steel ships, but contracts for approximately 100 wooden ships of from 2,500 to 3,000 tons had been awarded.

The Hon. William Currie, Speaker of the Provincial Legislature, has been exonerated by Mr. James H. Friel, the Royal Commissioner appointed by the Provincial Government, of making false returns respecting lumber. The Commissioner states that under the present system the Province has been robbed of millions of dollars in the last 40 years, and strongly recommends placing Crown lands in control of an Independent Commission.

MANITOBA PROVINCE.

WINNIPEG.—The Manitoba Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society has decided to grant $150,000 to the Joint War Committee of the British Red Cross Society and the Order of St. John, on October 24, when the Red Cross makes its special appeal.

——Major E. K. Eaton, R.C.R., from Halifax, succeeds Lt. Col. Grassie as A.A.G. in Military District No. 10. Capt. A W. Tremaine has been appointed G.S.O.

——Manitoba won the silver cup for the highest scoring butter at the National Exhibition, Toronto, with every Province in Canada competing. The winner is the Russell Creamery, with 98.16 out of a possible 100 points.

Mr. W. H. Carter, of Messrs. Carter, Halls & Aldinger, contractors, has been elected president of the Board of Trade, Mr. A. B. Hudson vice-president, and Dr. C. N. Bell treasurer. Mr. D. H. McFarlane, who organised the campaign for the Greater Winnipeg Board of Trade, was appointed secretary pro tem.

Ontario after the War—AGRICULTURE.

The Province of Ontario is eight times the size of England and twice the size of Germany. With a land surface of 230,000,000 acres in extent, there has so far been brought under cultivation only 13,500,000 acres. On this area are produced crops and stock yielding $750,000,000 per annum.

Everything will be done to encourage settlers after the war. Free gifts of 100 or 200 acres of land; cash advances by Government; Government building of highways; liberal aid for the erection and maintenance of schools; Government experimental farms and agricultural colleges, etc.

No country in the world offers such wonderful agricultural opportunities as the Province of

REGINA.—A new branch line on the Grand Trunk Pacific—that between Talmage and Mewburn, about 18 miles in extent, has been opened for traffic. This is an extension of a branch line south from Regina to the international boundary line at Northgate, and is 145 miles in length.

——The Provincial crop estimates anticipate 98,500,000 bushels, which, at $2.24 a bushel, is scarcely $5,000,000 less than the total value of the wheat crop last year, as estimated by the Hon. Charles Dunning in his last Budget speech.

——Statistics with regard to the fire loss in the Province during the first six months of 1918 have been compiled by the Fire Commissioner, showing loss of $1,250,000. During the corresponding period of last year the reported loss was $801,000. The Ashdown fire at Saskatoon, with its loss of $400,000; the Shaunavon fire, with a loss of $350,000; Cabri, with a loss of $65,000; Carievale, with $70,000, and Craik, with $80,000, added materially to the losses. There were 53 prairie fires reported, in which approximately 30,000 acres of hay or pasture were destroyed.

ALBERTA PROVINCE.

EDMONTON.—The Minister of Education has changed the name of the Berlin School District of the Province of Alberta to the Jutland School District.

Mr. J. W. Mitchell, ex-Mayor of Calgary, secretary of the Provincial G.W.V.A., has been appointed to take charge of the organisation of the Provincial Government Labour Bureau.

The Grande Prairie Electric Light Co. has arranged to purchase a plant and equipment for a civic light and power service.

LETHBRIDGE.—Mr. Sam G. Porter has been appointed Superintendent of Operation and Maintenance of this district irrigation system.

RED DEER.—At the Provincial by-election Mr. J. J. Gaetz will be the Liberal and Mr. F. W. Galbraith Independent candidate. The election is caused by the appointment of Mr. Michener to the Senate.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

VICTORIA.—The apple crop in the inland valleys is expected to average about 10 per cent. less than in 1917, but of better quality and size. Pears, plums and prunes show a big increase.

——During this season 978 whales have been taken by the combined fleets of the Consolidated Whaling Corporation of British Columbia. This exceeds the catch of any previous season, except that of 1911.

——A fine lead of grey and yellow copper has been struck at Legate Creek, near Pacific.

VANCOUVER.—The Vancouver World is issuing a special weekly supplement, named the Soldiers' World, containing a resumé of news designed to interest British Columbia men overseas.

——The last of the wooden fleet, the War Ewen, was launched from the New Westminster shipyard on September 24.

——The Y.M.C.A. Canadian National Council has offered to give $100,000 towards the fund of $450,000 required to finish and furnish the Y.M.C.A. building here.

PRINCE RUPERT.—According to the recent registration, the population of this city is 4,571. The total population for the Skeena district, male and female over 16 years, is 20,670.

BANKING AND FINANCE.

A Question of Unpaid Calls. A stockholder in a Canadian financial and investment company sends us a copy of the institution's annual report, and calls our attention to the fact that although something like 40 per cent. of the total subscribed share capital remains unpaid there is apparently no statement as to any interest being charged on this large outstanding amount. We have studied the report very carefully, and certainly we can find no such credit entry. Our correspondent wants to know if it is customary for the directors of Canadian companies to adopt this generous attitude towards their stockholders, and reminds us that in this country it is usual in such cases to give notice to the defaulting stockholders, and if the amount is not paid up within a definite period to forfeit the stock. We agree with his views, and can only advance in justification of the unexampled leniency of the directors of this particular company the absolutely abnormal financial conditions which have arisen through the war. Whether or not such defaulters would be protected by the operation of a moratorium we cannot say definitely, but we think that the directors of any company would be fully justified in offering every assistance to those who subscribed for their stock before the war in the belief that they would be able to pay up at due dates. All the same, we consider that it is only just to their fellow-stockholders that they should be called upon to pay a reasonable rate of interest on the amount of their holdings still in arrear, or, in the alternative, be placed in a less favoured position from a dividend point of view than those who have paid up their stock in full.

Saskatchewan Loan Result. It is too early yet to dogmatise as to the ultimate effect of the war upon Canadian Provincial Government securities, but it is quite obvious that the new investment standard resulting from war finance must leave its mark upon all classes of Colonial investments. This week the result of the Province of Saskatchewan Loan for £650,000 5¾ per Cent. debentures demonstrates this very clearly, for it is stated that the underwriters were saddled with as much as 40 per cent. of their subscriptions. As of the total offered £619,800 represented 4½ per cent. debentures, maturing in January, it is obvious that a large proportion of the old holders have elected to be paid off. No doubt the new intensive war bond campaign is largely responsible for this rather unexpected result, but it is not altogether surprising in view of the relatively high yields now obtainable on many first-class British securities, such as Railway Preference issues, and other investments ranking in status with even the very best Colonial Government stocks. We should certainly be disposed to regard this as the truer explanation of the comparative failure of the issue rather than that put forward by the Times, which thinks that it is possible that the default on the Prince Albert debentures may not be unconnected with the comparatively poor response made to the issue. If market sentiment has militated against the issue it is possible that it may be due to the growing resentment in some quarters to the apathetic attitude adopted by the Railway Commission in Canada to the interests of stockholders in Canadian railways and the delay in the announcement as to the outcome of the recent negotiations between the Government and the Grand Trunk Railway Co. The Prince Albert default was a nasty shock, but it was, after all, a small and quite isolated instance, that cannot have any serious effect upon Canada's deservedly high repute in the market. Indeed, bearing in mind the very generous manner in which many Canadian municipalities discounted the future in the years immediately before the war, it is matter for congratulation that the Dominion has so splendidly kept faith with those who so unsparingly provided her with the funds she needed for her development in pre-war days. In further reference to the Saskatchewan new loan it may be recalled that the principal "is repayable in 1934," and also that the stock is free from all Provincial taxation, including succession duty. When this market is once more open to Canadian borrowers it is to be hoped that other Provincial Governments will be equally frank, especially in connection with this question of succession duty, which has recently been somewhat unpleasantly prominent owing to the attitude adopted with regard to this impost by the Province of Quebec.

The Hon. J. D. Reid, Minister of Railways, announces that Vancouver is to be connected with Liverpool and the Canadian Atlantic ports by steamers running viâ the Panama Canal, and promises an extension and readjustment of shipping facilities.

The Order-in-Council has been signed by the Governor-General which sanctions the amalgamation of the Bank of British North America with the Bank of Montreal, to which the business of the former bank was transferred as from last Saturday, though certain details of the amalgamation remain to be completed.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

N.B.—All letters asking for information or advice must contain an enquiry coupon from the current issue of "Canada," except when the enquirer is an annual subscriber.

Detailed replies by letter are not made except to annual subscribers. Non-subscribers desiring detailed or exhaustive replies by letter must enclose a P.O. for 5s., which will cover three questions.

Copies should be kept of questions, and these should be numbered when more than one is asked.

The fullest particulars of special investment opportunities in Canada mentioned from time to time in the column headed "Investment Notes and Opportunities" are supplied on request to readers who are annual subscribers.

Would the sender of the portrait (by Chesney) of a Canadian captain kindly furnish the name of the officer?

L. C. (Margate).—We are making enquiries.

M. S. (W. Hampstead).—Sorry your enquiry was overlooked last week. The answer to your question is "No."

A. F. C. (Shorncliffe).—As you did not come overseas with the First Contingent you are not entitled to the red chevron or blue shoulder-straps.

W. D. McA. (Brighton).—(1) He does not receive transportation for his wife. (2) Separation allowance is paid as soon as evidence of marriage is received by the Pay Office.

N. B. R. (Devonport).—The regulation insists that separation allowance is paid to a widowed mother only if the latter is solely dependent upon a son. The Pay and Allowance Board, at Ottawa, have apparently decided—and your evidence supports this—that you are not your mother's sole support. We are afraid we can offer no useful suggestion.

S. M. Q. (Shorncliffe).—(1) The Provincial Government does not control the taxation levied by cities and municipalities, consequently you are liable on the assessed value of your property. Some municipalities have extended certain privileges to men on active service. (2) We can express no opinion, as so much depends upon the real estate situation after the war.

Dominion Textile.—A quarterly dividend of 2 per cent. has been declared, against 1¾ per cent. a year ago.

Imperial Bank of Canada.—A dividend has been declared at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum for quarter to 31st inst.

P. Lyall and Sons Construction (Montreal).—A dividend has been declared of 2 per cent. for the quarter ended Sept. 30, 1918, on the Common stock.

Dominion Steel Corporation.—The directors have declared a dividend at rate of 1½ per cent. on Preference shares, payable November 1. Coupon No. 27 share warrants to bearer will be paid on and after that date at the office of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, 2, Lombard Street, London, E.C.

Furness, Withy and Co.—The profits for the year ended April 30, including the balance brought forward, and after providing for excess profits duty, amount to £781,672. The directors have transferred £200,000 to depreciation account, and they recommend a bonus of 10 per cent., free of tax, on the Ordinary shares for the past 12 months, which will represent a total distribution for the year of 20 per cent., free of tax; carried forward, £125,422.

American Dentistry for Canadians.
at 137, Oxford Street, London, W.1.

The wonderful advance which has taken place in dental methods in recent years is strikingly illustrated by the work of Mr. L. D. Botibol. the West-End Dental Specialist, whose moderate fees have brought modern scientific dentistry within the reach of all.

Mr. Botibol studied under a famous Russian Professor before taking up a practice, first in America, where he became thoroughly au fait with American bridgework, and then in London, where his skill and knowledge rapidly established for him an influential connection.

What Mr. Botibol does not know about stopping, crowning, and painless dentistry generally is not worth knowing.

The Overseas Forces can therefore place full confidence in Mr. L. D. Botibol, whose dental surgery is at 137, Oxford Street, London, W.1 (next door to Pembroke House. Headquarters of Canadian Overseas Medical Services). Canadian Forces receive special and immediate attention, and they and their friends will always receive a downright Canadian welcome. BARCELONA TRACTION, LIGHT AND POWER COMPANY, LTD.

A MEETING of the HOLDERS of the 5 PER CENT. FIRST MORTGAGE 50-YEAR BONDS of the above Company WILL BE HELD at Cannon Street Hotel, London, England, on THURSDAY, the 14th day of NOVEMBER, 1918, at 12 o'clock noon, and a Meeting of the Holders of 5 per cent. 10-year Notes of the above Company (including Interim Certificates representing the same) will also be held at the same place, on the same day, at 12.30 o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose in each case of considering and, if thought fit, passing as Extraordinary Resolutions, Resolutions to the intent that such Resolutions shall be binding on all the Bondholders and the Noteholders respectively (whether present or not present at such respective Meetings), approving and adopting, with or without modification, a Conditional Agreement of Reorganisation dated the 21st day of September, 1918, and generally providing for the modification and alteration of the rights of the Bondholders and the Holders of the coupons attached thereto, and the Noteholders as contemplated by the said Conditional Agreement, and by Supplemental and Trust Deeds as the same may respectively be submitted to the Meetings of the Bondholders and the Noteholders, with any such modifications therein as may be authorised by the Meetings respectively.

Holders of Bonds to Bearer and of Interim Certificates representing 5 per cent. 10-year Notes desiring to vote at the Meetings thereof respectively must either produce their Bonds or Interim Certificates at the Meetings respectively, or deposit the same with a recognised Bank or Trust Company, who will issue a Voting Certificate in respect thereof entitling the holder thereof, on presentation of such Voting Certificate at the Meetings, to attend and vote at the Meetings in respect of the Bonds or Interim Certificates so deposited.

Registered Bondholders may attend the Meeting personally without production of their Bonds, but if they desire to authorise any other person to attend and vote for them, they must deposit their Bonds and obtain a Voting Certificate in the same manner as if such Bonds were Bearer Bonds.

A copy of the Notice convening the Meetings, copies of the forms for depositing Bonds and Scrip and of the Voting Certificate, a Report of the Bondholders' Committee to the Bondholders and Noteholders and the Conditional Agreement of Reorganisation, can be obtained in England, at the Company's Office, 3, London Wall Buildings, London, E.C.2.

Dated the 10th day of October, 1918.

3, London Wall Buildings, London, E.C.2.

British Empire Trust.—A dividend has been declared on the 5 per cent. Cumulative Perpetual Preference shares for the half-year to October 15, at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, payable on 15th inst.

C.P.R. CHANGES.

Lord Shaughnessy has resigned the Presidency of the Canadian Pacific Railway (announces a Reuter's cablegram from Montreal). He retains the chairmanship of the Board, and will be succeeded by Mr. E. W. Beatty, the present Vice-President. Sir George Bury is retiring from the Vice-Presidency on account of ill-health. He will be succeeded by Mr. Grant Hall.

Lord Shaughnessy's resignation is due, it is stated, to his conviction that, in view of the extensive programme planned by the company for the reconstruction period after the war, its best interests will be served by a younger man assuming its active direction.

MR. E. W. BEATTY,
The New President of the C.P.R.

The following statement regarding the changes is made by Col. G. McLaren Brown, European manager of the C.P.R. :—

The changes at the Headquarters of the Canadian Pacific Railway are not altogether a surprise, for if any man deserves a rest from successful and continuous labours it is Lord Shaughnessy. His decision will be universally regretted by every Canadian Pacific employee, from the highest to the lowest. For thirty-six years, almost since the inception of the company, he has been the outstanding figure in the successful conduct of the affairs of the corporation. During that period, no man has endeared himself more to the rank and file than Lord Shaughnessy. The influence of his wise counsel in Canadian affairs generally is acknowledged from one end of the country to the other. His retention of the chairmanship of the company will be an added strength to the able man who has been selected as his successor. If his retirement from the active administration means that he will now be free, as a member of the House of Lords, to take part in the affairs of the British nation, then we are to be congratulated.

The appointment of Mr. E. W. Beatty, K.C., as Lord Shaughnessy's successor, will be very popular throughout Canada, and with the employees of the company. He will be the first Canadian-born president of the company (born at Thorold, Ont., October 16, 1877), and he has won this position at the early age of forty as a direct result of his remarkable ability and untiring energy. He is a son of the late Henry Beatty, one of the best known steamship men in Canada, who was for many years closely associated with the Canadian Pacific Railway. Mr. Beatty graduated from the Toronto University and was called to the Bar in 1909. He joined the legal branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway in 1901 as chief assistant to Mr. A. R. Creelman, then general counsel, whom he succeeded twelve years later. In 1915 he was appointed vice-president of the company and elected to a seat on the board of directors.

Sir George Bury's retirement from the post of vice-president, on account of ill-health, is to be regretted. His successor, Mr. Grant Hall (born at Montreal, November 27, 1863) is a Western man, and was until this change vice-president and general manager, Western Lines, Winnipeg. He has grown up in the service of the company, and is a very able and experienced executive railroad officer. A mechanical engineer, he passed through the several branches of railroad management and operation until he has now reached the position of vice-president of the Canadian Pacific in charge of operation and construction.

THE PROVINCE OF PROSPERITY.

Vast natural resources and an industrious, thrifty, and enterprising population have brought unexampled prosperity to this Province.

No Province of the Dominion offers more startling opportunities for the investor. Immense water powers, now running to waste, will produce electricity for industrial purposes in unlimited volume; vast forests will supply an enormous cut of timber and wood pulp; rich mineral depo its hold out alluring opportunities to the prospector; extensive tracts of fertile land suitable for general farming and dairying await settlement. Next to its lands and forests, the Fish and Game of the Province are among its most valuable assets, providing splendid commercial opportunities and incomparable sport. Quebec is the Sportsman's Paradise, the Holiday-maker's Elysium, and a land of opportunity for all.

Safety Razor.

A really dependable razor at a popular price. It opens flat, and can be stropped without removing the blade. This construction also overcomes the difficulty of cleaning, which is the bugbear of so many safety razors.

Strongly made, heavily silvered, and with blades that cannot be surpassed, it is used by many men who could afford a far more expensive razor, but prefer the simple efficiency of the "7 o'clock." The Standard Set consists of heavily silver-plated stropping razor, six finest lancet steel blades, the whole in handsome case, with strop in hinged partition, and the price is 10/6.

JUNKER EYE-WASH.

THE Prussian Junkers who uphold the Hohenzollern just so long as he fully upholds their privileges have dictated the reply to President Wilson which they consider will most favourably influence their army. At present it is a war of words and we can safely leave Dr. Woodrow Wilson to indite his searching questions and lofty replies. Officially the Hun is a colossal but clumsy liar. His pained denial of U-boat atrocities and other offences against the laws of God and man are merely eye-wash for his own people. When the Hun prates of "the honour of the German people" an opportunity is open to the President of expressing the scorn of honest men in such words that perchance the seared conscience of the ravishers of Belgium may be stirred.

There is one point in the lying statement signed by "Solf" which will be unanimously agreed to by all the Allies. He asks for a "Peace of Justice." This he is fully entitled to. Stern and implacable justice must be done in the name of outraged humanity for all his crimes. To mention but one—the deportation after unspeakable outrage of women from the captured cities of Belgium and France. What penalty does justice demand for this alone?

In this exchange of words across the Atlantic some people are asking where do we and France come in? We both come in at the bed-rock; there is some gravel to be washed away first. There is no fear that anything will be said at Washington that will embarrass the Allies. Although President Wilson has refused to make himself a party to the Declaration of London he is as fully convinced of the imperative necessity of utterly destroying Prussian autocracy as any of those who fight to-day against the Hun.

He is like the skilful surgeon who carefully and deliberately cuts down to expose the diseased bone—it is then obvious that it must be excised. Twist and turn as the Hun may in his pretences and lies, the scalpel of Dr. Wilson will exhibit even to the German people their septic condition and the absolute necessity for an operation. This it is hoped they may wish to do for themselves. The reign of terror of the Bolsheviks will be nothing to that of the Field-Greys when they once begin.

THE OBLIGATION OF CITIZENSHIP.

A STRONG protest has been made in the Manitoba Free Press against the entry into Canada of any emigrants who do not "unreservedly accept all the obligations of Canadian citizenship." This protest, we well know, will be most heartily acclaimed by all Canadians in khaki. Their Canadian citizenship means more to them to-day, it has entailed great sacrifices but it has also brought great honour. Never again will Canadians countenance any bargain with alien immigrants where, to secure settlers for unoccupied lands, release would be granted from the full duties of citizenship.

The protest we refer to has lately arisen owing to the arrival in Winnipeg of a number of settlers from the United States, who had to leave the Republic owing to their unwillingness to accept military service. Apparently they have been permitted to enter Canada with the assurance that they will be exempt from such service. An eye-witness of the arrival of one these bands of immigrants testifies to their undesirable appearance. The mere fact that they were of such poor physique that Canada would not ask or desire their military service does not make them in any way desirable citizens, much as the Dominion may need additional settlers.

It is true that Canada has not scrutinized too carefully in the past those who claimed admission to her broad free lands. Some of them have still to be assimilated and it will take time to do so. The general feeling now is strongly against indiscriminate immigration and it would perhaps be as well if the boys in khaki who have so splendidly upheld the name and honour of Canada would express in their letters home just how they feel on this question. After the war we can count on an ever-increasing number of first-class settlers from the United States, and it is a poor compliment to them and to Canada to accept their undesirables. In the future Canada can afford to pick and choose those to whom she will grant the honour of her citizenship. It would be well to commence right now.

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

A Heroic Canadian Piper. On the honourable roll of winners of the Victoria Cross there are the names of several pipers—most famous among them, perhaps, Piper Findlater, who played "The Cock o' the North" when the Gordon Highlanders stormed the heights of Dargai. The latest of the awards of the Victoria Cross to members of the Canadian Corps—now numbering 40—adds another to the gallery of brave pipers who have, by their coolness and heedlessness of danger, though themselves at the time non-combatants, done so much to win the fight.

There is no finer example of the power of the pipes to stir men to their utmost than the record of Pte. James Richardson, of a Manitoba battalion. Not only his action in the face of the enemy, but his end is in full keeping with the Gaelic traditions of the master-pipers of old.

Canadians in hospital are always asking for "Canada" so that they can follow the fortunes of their pals; therefore when you have finished with your copy you cannot do better than post it to the Canadian Red Cross Society, York Hotel, Berners Street, Oxford Street, W.1.

Having been detailed to take back a wounded comrade and some prisoners, he left his pipes behind. Although strongly urged not to do so, he insisted on returning to recover them—and "he has never been seen since."

Repressed by the Censor.

Inaccurate statements are made by the censor, by war correspondents, and by the newspapers themselves, but, except in the case of the first, it is difficult to believe that they are made intentionally. It is nevertheless galling to Canadians to see the capture of some village or strategic point conceded to some other division when the credit belongs to them. In the hard fighting from Arras to Cambrai, on which the success of the whole British offensive so largely depended, the Canadian Corps took a most prominent part. It was a spear-head on which Foch could and did safely rely.

In the capture of men and of guns the Canadians have to their credit a very important percentage of the whole British gains. But the fact has either been overlooked in the British Press or repressed by the Censor. Canadians have won their full share of glory, and the price has not been light, as our columns for weeks past have testified. There is no desire to vaunt their achievements unduly—the Army knows—but Canadians should be given credit in the British Press for their own captures.

Lipsett of the 3rd and Reid of Ontario.

This week we have to report the sudden loss of two men who have both done good work for Canada. General Lipsett was a very able soldier, who enjoyed the confidence and esteem of everyone who was brought into contact with him. Under him the 3rd Division won deservedly a very high reputation, and quite recently he had been given the command of a British Division. Thorough in all he did, keen and active, he took many risks in order to see things for himself, and his zeal cost him his life. He did valuable work in the Canadian Militia before the war, and, but for the well-known prejudice of Sir Sam Hughes against Imperial officers, he would have had fuller scope for his great abilities earlier in the war.

The death of the Agent-General for Ontario was a shock to his many friends, although his health had been precarious for some time. Richard Reid worked indefatigably for the interests of his Province before the war, and since its outbreak he was most active in seeing that the very generous contributions of his Province were always well and usefully expended. He will be much missed both in official and private circles.

Huns as Coal-Miners.

Cannot Canada lend the British Government a few men who have been accustomed to handling alien labour, and so help to get out the much-needed coal? There are plenty of German prisoners, many, no doubt, with previous experience of coal-mining, but the Under Secretary for War in the House of Commons on Tuesday excused the non-employment of Germans in the coal mines on the grounds of the language difficulty, and that British miners would not work with them.

This silly excuse was apparently accepted. The language difficulty can be overcome by the use of interpreters, and no one would ask a British miner to work with the Hun, but he would be very willing to boss the Hun at work. If the British Government really wants coal got out, and will allot the prisoners and the mines, there are plenty of Canadians in khaki who would guarantee that the coal was produced.

A Canadian Preacher in the Shipyards.

A striking article by a special correspondent of the Times tells of the fine service performed by a Canadian preacher in the shipyards of the United States. This is Dr. Charles A. Eaton, pastor of the Madison Avenue Baptist Church, New York, who, as head of the National Service Section of the United States Shipping Board, has proved himself one of the great driving forces in the present American shipbuilding effort. Not only is Dr. Eaton a born orator, but he can organise as well as preach and speak. He himself has delivered many a stirring address to the shipyard workers, driving home in the most telling fashion the meaning of the war and the objects for which it is being fought. Moreover, he has collected a corps of speakers who tour the shipyards in pairs, one of each couple being a layman—often a parson and the other a soldier—often a Canadian.

"The Pacific Coast, where ships are now being very rapidly built, is a long way from the seat of the war," says the Times writer, "and I know that by his sincerity, his generosity, and his oratory Dr. Eaton has rendered magnificent war service to the Allies." It is a fine tribute to a fine work, and we only regret that something of the kind was not done here long ago. We might then have heard less of "grievances" and of strikes on the Clyde and on the East Coast of England. It is some time now since Canada suggested the sending of Canadian soldiers on a tour among the munition and shipyard workers of the United Kingdom. Dr. Eaton's success shows what a good opportunity has been missed.

The Duke of Connaught's Forecast.

The Duke of Connaught made a particularly interesting speech at the meeting held on Monday night to inaugurate the closing appeal for £50,000 for the Archbishops' Western Canada Fund. As one who had been in the Dominion when war broke out, he paid a moving tribute to the magnificent way in which Canada had rallied to the side of the Mother Country, and the astonishing feeling of devotion then displayed, and he touched upon the probable effects of the war upon Canada and the Canadians.

On the part of the men who have been fighting in Europe, his Royal Highness anticipated a greater affection for England, which will make them more than ever part and parcel of the Empire. As for the country as a whole, he is convinced that Canada has a greater future in front of it even than it had before. He looks forward, as we all do, to Canada attracting a very large proportion of the overflowing population of this country, especially of those now in the Army.

The Church in the West.

His Royal Highness joined with the two Archbishops in bearing testimony, from his personal experience, to the good work accomplished in the West by means of the Fund on whose behalf the meeting was held. Those who went from this country to Canada for the Fund, he said, had done a noble work, and he commended the appeal to all those who wished to see that work continued and extended.

The position at the present time was explained by the Archbishop of Canterbury, who presided. They had spent £150,000; they had acquired 168 sites for missions and churches; they had spent large sums in training men for ordination; and they wanted at the end of the ten years to hand over to the Canadian Church a capital sum which would enable the work to endure.

SIR DOUGLAS HAIG AND CANADIANS.

In his despatch, just issued, Sir Douglas Haig pays a tribute to the services, during the Cambrai fighting in March last, of the Canadian Cavalry Brigade and those Canadian Engineers who formed part of General Carey's mixed force. He mentions the taking of measures for the employment of the Canadian Corps for counter-attack, "in the event of the enemy succeeding in piercing my front."

In the course of their visit to Liverpool last week the Royal Italian Carabinieri Band were the guests of the Cunard Company at the Cunard Building.

Quite a number of men who have seen service overseas and have been wounded and discharged (says the Daily Record) have joined the R.N.-W.M.P.

Canada's Trafalgar Day tribute to British sailors who have fallen in the war was in the form of a maple leaf, 8 ft. high, made of bronze chrysanthemums.

Lt. Wesley F. Robinson, R.A.F., who was incorrectly stated in our last issue to be missing, is now in England awaiting his discharge. He returned from France in July.

Lt.-Col. W. A. Bishop, V.C., who is visiting his home at Owen Sound, Ont., predicts (says a Daily Record cablegram) that Canadian airmen will bomb Berlin before the spring.

Approximately 700,000 cups of tea, coffee and cocoa are given away monthly by the Canadian Y.M.C.A. in France, under normal conditions. The "Y" concerts entertain over 100,000 men monthly.

CANADIAN PIPER WHO DISAPPEARED.

V.C. Awarded after Lapse of Two Years.

For most conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty when, prior to attack, he obtained permission from his Commanding Officer to play his company "over the top."

As the company approached the objective, it was held up by very strong wire and came under intense fire, which caused heavy casualties, and demoralised the formation for the moment. Realising the situation, Piper Richardson strode up and down outside the wire, playing his pipes with the greatest coolness. The effect was instantaneous. Inspired by his splendid example, the company rushed the wire with such fury and determination that the obstacle was overcome and the position captured.

Later, after participating in bombing operations, he was detailed to take back a wounded comrade and prisoners.

After proceeding about 200 yards Piper Richardson remembered that he had left his pipes behind. Although strongly urged not to do so, he insisted on returning to recover his pipes. He has never been seen since, and death has been presumed accordingly owing to lapse of time.

The late Piper Richardson was the son of the Chief of Police at Chilliwack, B.C. He was born in Scotland in 1895, and enlisting in the 16th Bn. ("C" Coy.) came over with the First Contingent in 1914. He was wounded on October 9, 1916, during the Somme fighting, and was reported missing the same day.

The gross cash value of material salvaged by the Canadian Corps in France during August and September, 1916, and from March, 1917, to August 31, 1918, was $18,233,678.

Capt. W. N. Gilmour, M.C., R.A.M.C. (a son of Mr. W. A. Gilmour, Collector of Customs at Brockville, Ont.), was a passenger on the torpedoed Galway Castle. Capt. Gilmour was saved, but lost all his personal effects.

OBITUARY.

Death of the Lieut.-Governor of Quebec.

At Quebec, on Sunday last, the death occurred of his Honour Sir Pierre Evariste Le Blanc, who had been Lt.-Governor of the Province of Quebec since February, 1915, and had been in ill-health for some months. He was born August 10, 1854, being the youngest son of the late Mr. Joseph Le Blanc, of St. Martin. A graduate of McGill University, he was called to the Bar at Montreal in 1879, and entered the Quebec Legislature in 1882, and from 1892 to 1897 he acted as Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, and led the Opposition from 1904 to 1908. He was created K.C.M.G. in 1916. He is survived by his widow, Hermine, daughter of the late Mr. T. Beaudry, of Montreal, whom he married in 1886, and leaves a son and two daughters. (Portrait on page 125.)

Death of the Agent-General for Ontario.

We regret to record the death of Lt.-Col. Richard Reid, Agent-General for Ontario, which occurred at his residence, Briar Court, Uxbridge Road, Hampton Hill, on Monday last. He was born at Millbank, Perth County, Ontario, and educated at St. Catharines and Ottawa, and for some time farmed near Berlin (now Kitchener), Ont., specially interesting himself in cattle breeding. In conjunction with Mr. W. H. Massey and Mr. R. J. Fleming, he originated the Canadian Jersey Cattle Society. He interested himself in educational work, and was Chairman of the Board of Education in Berlin. In March, 1913, he was appointed Agent-General by his friend, the late Sir James Whitney, and prior to the war conducted an energetic emigration campaign. Since August, 1914, he had mainly devoted himself to soldiers' welfare work. The establishment of the Ontario Military Hospital, Orpington, was largely due to Lt.-Col. Reid's initiative, and he was an active member of the Committee of Lady Drummond's Maple Leaf Clubs, of which the Ontario Government has been a munificent supporter. His services were recognised by his appointment as Hon. Lt.-Colonel of the 108th Bn. Canadian Militia.

THE LATE LT.-COL. RICHARD REID.
Agent-General for Ontario in London.

Col. Reid's sympathetic nature and kindly disposition endeared him to a large circle of friends, by whom he will be greatly missed. He was a member of Canada Lodge and the Canada Club, and on the Executive of the recently-founded Canadian Association.

In 1886 he married as his first wife Miss Alice Woodsend, of Nottingham. His eldest son was killed in action on October 10, 1916; other sons are Lt. Gilbert S. Reid, M.C., New Brunswick Regt., and Lt. Douglas C. Reid, C.F.A., and two sons and a daughter are in Canada. His second wife, Miss Mulholland, of Toronto, whom he married in 1914, and their son, born in 1915, survive. Lt.-Col. Reid was a brother-in-law of Mr. F. W. Sumner, Agent-General for New Brunswick.

At Moncton, Mr. C. F. Burns. At Sherbrooke, Mr. William Farwell (83); Mr. L. C Belanger, K.C. (78). At Montreal, Mr. H. H. Fred Hughes (72); Mr. W. O. Farmer (80); Mr. A. H. Dalrymple; Mr. Emile Lamarche, ex-M.P. At Ottawa, Mr. Charles Spencer, for 45 years in the service of the C.P.R.; Mr. B. S. Hastey (34), ex-alderman. At Toronto, Mr. R. B Fudger, a director of the Robert Simpson Co., Ltd. At Calgary, Mr. J. M. Spence. At Revelstoke, Mr. A. B. Clabon. At Vancouver, Mr. R. F. Wallis, M.P.P. for Alberni; Dr. F. F. Wesbrook, President of the University of British Columbia.

Capt. Chatton Stephens (32), formerly of the Stock Exchange, whose death is announced from Montreal, was a son-in-law of Sir Edward Kemp. He was gassed at the Second Battle of Ypres. His mother and his little son were drowned on the Lusitania

CANADIANS TAKE DOUAI AND LE CATEAU

BETTER than any general descriptions are the bare records of individual acts of gallantry for bringing home to the reader a true picture of the conditions under which the Canadian Corps has waged, since September 27, this terrible battle of Cambrai (writes Mr. J. F. B. Livesay, the Canadian Press correspondent). The following cases, gathered almost haphazard, are entirely typical of the general character of the fighting, which frequently resolved itself into single-handed attacks on enemy strongholds.

In the attack on Bourlon Wood on September 27, when heavy rifle fire developed from Quarry Wood, a private rushed the position alone and drove the enemy into a dugout, holding them there till help arrived. One hundred and forty-six of all ranks, including a Battalion Headquarters Staff, were captured. In subsequent fighting on the same day this gallant soldier was fatally wounded.

In a night attack by a Quebec battalion in the Marcoing line, a lieutenant, who won his Military Medal in the ranks, found his platoon held up by machine-gun fire from a railway embankment which lay in front of the objective. Realising that unless silenced the entire advance must be held up, he called for two volunteers and attacked. Under continual heavy fire and blinded by flares the enemy was throwing up, the little party crawled the entire distance. Awaiting his chance, the lieutenant ordered bombs to be thrown and rushed the post, killing two of the crew and capturing a third, the remainder falling victims to the bombs. Owing to the heat caused by their intense fire he was unable to remove the machine guns, but after putting them out of action sent word back that the advance might be resumed.

A Fine Record of Captures.

While leading a platoon against Bourlon Wood, a lieutenant of a British Columbia battalion found himself held up by machine-gun fire from a sunken road. Taking his men round the flank, he captured the stronghold, killing the crew and capturing one officer and ten other ranks, with one field gun and four machine guns. Later, having passed through our front wave, his party was checked by a strong enemy post south of Bourlon Wood. Many of his own company by this time were casualties, so after gathering together details from another company he rushed the post alone, killing an officer and capturing 45 prisoners with five machine guns. Pushing on to the final objective, the party captured two officers and 45 other ranks.

On October 1, at Blécourt, this intrepid officer found himself in command of a company now reduced to 50 of all ranks. With this little band he captured 80 prisoners and 17 machine guns. In two days' fighting his record was 3 officers, 180 other ranks, 1 field gun and 26 machine guns captured.

Enemy Withdrawal—Canadians in Douai.

Wednesday, October 16.

Beyond sending patrols across the Sensée River at Aubigny-au-Bac, the front of the Canadian Corps has been practically static during the past two days. This does not mean that the line is quiet; on the contrary, it is very active. The enemy harasses us continually with machine-gun fire from across this watery waste, and last night shelled heavily. His snipers are busy, and altogether our men would prefer getting forward to holding the present line, which extends from south-west of Douai, on the west side of the Canal de la Sensée, to the south bank of the Sensée River, and thence east to where we have contact with the British troops. It is merely a matter of time before the enemy must get out.

Heavy rains add to the discomfort of the troops, but at the same time render more difficult the enemy problem.

Friday, October 18.

The anticipated withdrawal of the Boche from this sector took place yesterday morning, and by evening we had pushed on several miles in pursuit. The 1st Canadian Brigade claim to be the first troops to enter Douai.

Either by luck or through his excellent meteorological science the enemy was favoured with the same conditions of fog that enabled him to make his famous retreat of 1917. Our airmen were unable to do effective work, and our infantry in pushing forward had a narrow range of vision. This morning the fog settled down very heavily, obscuring the sun.

An Admirable Piece of Bluff

The enemy put up an admirable piece of bluff when at five o'clock yesterday morning he made a false attack on the line of the Canal de la Sensée, which we held south of Douai, employing a large number of machine guns. We replied with a counter barrage, but before noon it became apparent that the front was not strongly held. The 1st Canadian Brigade crossed the canal at Ferin and rapidly pushed up to the outskirts of Douai. Meantime the Canadian Brigade crossed the canal further south and advanced through Goeulzin and Cantin, but, contrary to expectation, the enemy was nowhere to be found. Another Canadian Division on the right crossed at Brunemont, and east of the chain, and by night we had established a line well to the east from which to-day we advanced to the line Montigny, due east of Douai, Lewarde, Monchecourt, and Marquette, to which last point other Canadian troops advanced this morning after crossing the Scheldt. Our cavalry outposts are seeking touch with the enemy, but possibly he is still in full retreat. Except around Marquette the enemy resistance has not been serious, but he may yet make a stand west of Valenciennes.

HOUSES FIRED BY THE GERMANS IN CAMBRAI ARE IN CONSTANT DANGER OF FALLING.
Canadian War Records Photograph.

Canadian engineers again did fine work on the canal, throwing over cork pontoon bridges and establishing bridges for heavy traffic by nightfall. They discovered several booby traps, including an immense mine of over 200 shells. At the approach to Le Moulin the canal is very deep and protected by high wooded hills on the east slopes, so that the enemy might easily have held the position almost indefinitely.

The Capture of Le Cateau.

Friday, October 18.

It was known that at the time the Canadian infantry were fighting for the possession of Cambrai a Canadian infantry brigade attached to an English cavalry division was sailing off into the blue further south, and it now transpires through an official French source that it was the Canadian brigade which effected the capture of Le Cateau, together with two field guns, 132 machine guns, and 500 prisoners.

The attack was made from Montigny, due west of Le Cateau, the cavalry working through a series of villages where heavy opposition was encountered, and it was during this advance that a colonel of a Canadian Dragoon Regiment was killed.

Le Cateau itself was strongly defended by machine-gun posts, as our captures show, and was only stormed after the brigade had paid heavily in casualties. The city was found intact, though it has since been subjected to enemy shell fire. Both in the villages and in the city the civilian population was rescued.

In passing through the villages, the peasants, in their passion of joy, mobbed our horsemen, kissing the troopers, and the officers only extricated the units with considerable difficulty.

Though Le Cateau was not systematically destroyed, there were individual acts of vandalism. Perhaps the whole war has not produced so vile an act as an incident here related, which is vouched for by French official investigators. In Montigny a German officer lived 18 months with a French family. He was a pleasant fellow, taking meals with the family and playing the piano. One evening he failed to turn up for dinner, and they waited some time, but at midnight went to bed. At three o'clock in the morning the house was blown up by a mine, every one of the large family being killed. With the exception of an 18 months old child, they were old people, women and children.

Motor Machine Gunners' Good Work

Saturday Night, Oct. 19.

After capturing a series of villages on our right flank, including Lourches, a Western Ontario battalion to-day entered the Denain line, being established solidly thence east of Escoudin, east of Hornsing, to the east of Wandignies-Hamage.

Good work has been done by a Canadian independent force of motor machine gunners and cyclists, who pushed out east along the roads. Except on our right around Bouchais, which the enemy made the pivot of his withdrawal, the resistance encountered was not formidable, it being a fringe of machine gunners, of whom a certain number were captured.

Owing to the continued dense fog, now turning into rain, it is impossible to take aerial photographs or to do air scouting. We have gone fifteen miles forward in the past two days, practically blind. The Canadian Red Cross is rushing up lorry-loads of comforts for the afflicted population.

Huns Sack Douai.

A visit to Douai shows that the city has not been destroyed, but sacked. A half-hearted attempt was made to burn down part of the Grande Place, but as a whole the buildings are intact, including the wonderful old Hotel de Ville, with its superb Middle-Age decoration and frescoes. But here the hand of the Hun is evident. Many historic pictures have been removed from their frames. Its archives and files of its various business departments lie trampled on the floor in common ruin. Everything movable has gone in the Cathedral. Rich vestments litter the aisles, and stripped lead from the roof lies in piles awaiting removal. A clean sweep was made of the entire city; even those things not worth removing or too bulky have been trampled and broken. Perhaps to provide sacks to remove loot, feather beds have been emptied and tickings removed. The shell is perfect, but the contents have gone. It is a city of echoing silences, peopled only by starving cats.

Approaching Valenciennes.

We are now everywhere in contact with the enemy, but whether it is his main force or a rearguard it is impossible to determine. It has rained steadily for the past two days, adding much to the difficulties of our troops, who yet, with the highest spirits, push forward on long marches. The enemy has blown up almost every bridge. Craters on corner roads make transport difficult, though the Canadian Engineers and railway troops are working night and day without intermission to restore communications. All this makes it extremely hard to get up rations. Here, however, the French civilians we have delivered have come to the help of our tired soldiers, taking them coffee at the outposts and overwhelming them with kindnesses.

The Canadian Corps has now rescued over 50,000 of these unfortunates. Sir Arthur Currie, the Corps Commander, yesterday visited the recaptured area, and was everywhere greeted enthusiastically. Nothing is too good for the Canadian deliverers. "I cannot believe it," said one woman whose sons escaped and have died for France—"I cannot believe it. I fear I shall wake. It has been one long nightmare; not so much of ill-usage as of fear. To think that you Canadians should have crossed the seas to be our deliverers!"

Our line this morning is pushed out east of Rouvignies, Herin, Oisy and Bellaing. Outposts are within two or three thousand yards of Valenciennes. Though the opposition is light and spasmodic, this advance is making great demands on the powers of our men, who nevertheless march blithely.

HUNS SCATTER SKELETONS.

Mr. Fred James, the official correspondent of the Overseas Ministry, states that in the cemetery at Ecourt St. Quentin he saw the tomb or vault of one of the former leading families of the place deliberately destroyed. Not content with desecrating the exterior of the vault, the Huns had entered it and torn out the ends of the compartments where the bodies of the deceased members of the family were consigned, smashed open the caskets or coffins, and scattered the skeletons about the place

CANADIAN RAILWAY TROOPS AND CAMBRAI.

In the week that Cambrai has been in our possession a great change has been brought about in and about the town, and I saw to-day what an important part the Canadian Railway Troops have contributed to this (writes Mr. James). The magnitude of the work they have accomplished in the few days since men from the two Canadian Divisions—the 2nd and 3rd—first entered the town in the darkness of the morning of October 9 is remarkable.

What the men call the "Cambrai Express" steamed into a yard drawn by a big engine that had probably been on the London-Manchester run a short time ago. It was made up of a long line of cars loaded to the gunnels with all kinds of supplies, from ammunition to bully beef and biscuits. Over all the lines running over the captured ground a regular schedule of trains is running from the lateral and feeder systems that lead forward from the seaboards. A network of lines has been woven over the whole area of territory that has been reclaimed in the past few eventful weeks.

CANADA'S OVERSEAS MILITARY FORCES.

Notes on Officers, etc.

The Royal Agricultural Society (16, Bedford Square, W.C.1) extend an invitation to officers of the O.M.F.C. to use the library and reading-room at the above address, and to inspect the Society's Experimental Farm at Woburn. Visits to farmers and livestock breeders throughout the United Kingdom will be arranged by the secretary upon application.

The 18th course C.T.W.S. will assemble to-day (Saturday). Vacancies have been allotted for 27 officers and 200 other ranks.

Capt. Charles Allen Yates, C.A.M.C., has been cashiered by General Court-Martial for knowingly making false statements regarding his professional qualifications, and for wearing wound stripes and a military decoration to which he was not entitled.

Brig-General J. H. Elmsley, the commander of the Canadian contingent of the Siberian Force, is gazetted temp. Major-General while specially employed; and Lt.-Col. G. E. McCuaig temp. Brig.-General vice Brig.-Gen. R. Rennie.

Lt.-Col. R. P. Clark, D.S.O., M.C., of Victoria, B.C., has been appointed to command a Brigade, vice Brig.-General Loomis, who has taken over the late Major-General Lipsett's Division. Col. Clark, who is a veteran of the South African war, was formerly identified with the 5th Regiment (Militia) at Victoria, and came overseas in 1914 as staff captain to Sir Arthur Currie (then commanding the Second Brigade). The new Brigadier's subsequent appointments, in rotation, included G.S.O.3 at Corps, O.C. the R.M.R., O.C. a First Brigade unit, G.S.O.1 at Bramshott (where he achieved great success), and G.S.O.2 Corps (Training).

Lt.-Col. H. E. Pense, D.S.O., M.C., of Kingston, arrived from France last Saturday on short furlough. Col. Pense, who is a well-known Kingston journalist, recently succeeded to the command of a battalion of the Eastern Ontario Regiment on the death of Lt.-Col Elmer W. Jones, D.S.O., of Brockville.

Capt. Frank McLorg, M.C. (Saskatoon), D.A.A.G. at London Headquarters, is at the Queen Alexandra Hospital, Millbank, recovering from a severe attack of influenza. Lt. W. H. Matcham, M.B.E. (Moose Jaw, Sask.), M.S.1.C., has also been a recent victim of the prevailing epidemic. Major C. W. MacInnis, chief intelligence officer at London Headquarters, is recovering from an attack of pleurisy.

Capt. F. L. Turnbull, of Saskatoon, who is attached to a Tunnelling Company of the Canadian Engineers, returned to France last week after spending short leave in England.

Lt. N. J. L. Davy, M.S.M., who recently received his commission, being promoted from the rank of Warrant Officer, Class I., is employed in the A.M.S. Branch at Argyll House. Lt. Davy enlisted at Winnipeg in October, 1914, and saw service in France on the headquarters staff of the Second Division, going to London Headquarters last December. He has held all N.C.O. ranks.

Capt. W. E. Ainley, C.A.M.C., has been invalided to Canada.

Capt. G. McPherson, C.F.C., has been returned to Canada on compassionate grounds.

N/S. M. Parks, C.A.M.C., has resigned her appointment and returned to Canada.

Lt. P. C. Thomson, E. Ont., has been retained in Canada, as has Capt. E. Bassett, E. Ont. (for duty). Lt.-Col. J. Y. Reid, Man., is retained on compassionate grounds.

Nursing Sister E. Vice, C.A.M.C., has resigned her appointment in England.

Appointments.

Overseas Military Forces of Canada.

Lt. Archibald C. Bain, C. Ont. (killed), was referred to in our issue of September 21. He enlisted as a private in the 67th Western Scots at Vancouver. Before enlistment he was employed on the office staff of the B.C. Electric Railway.

Nursing Sister Miriam Eastman Baker, Nursing Services (died at Taplow Hospital, Bucks., on October 17, of pneumonia), belonged to Winnipeg. After a year's service with the Q.A.I.M.N.S.R., N/S. Baker joined the C.A.M.C. a year ago. Her brothers, Major E. G. Phipps Baker, B.C. Regt., and Capt. Ralph Baker, a squadron commander in the R.A.F., attended the funeral, which was held at Taplow. Deceased was the daughter of the late Mr. G. W. Baker, K.C.

Lt. Russell H. Boulton, Eng. (died of wounds), was the youngest son of the late Lt.-Col. and Mrs. Boulton, of The Manor, Russell, Man., and, prior to coming overseas in April, 1917, was a lawyer in Brandon. He leaves a widow and young son.

Lt. T. H. Broad, C. Ont. (killed), is the third son of Professor and Mrs. Broad, of Summerland, B.C., late of Calgary, to lay down his life. Deceased left Calgary in August, 1916, prior to which he was employed by the Alberta Farmers' Co-operative Elevator Company.

Lt. Robert Elliott Brown, M.C., Sask. (died of wounds on October 1), formerly resided with his parents at Oakville, Ont., and was 30. He came overseas as a sergt-major with the 8th C.M.R., and on receiving his commission transferred to a Saskatchewan unit. His brother, Major Walter T. Brown, is serving with the Imperial Army.

Lt. F. J. Burke, E. Ont. (died at a C.C.S. in France on October 11), was a native of Ottawa, but for four years prior to joining the 195th Bn. was city editor of the Regina Province. He had previously been wounded.

Lt. Walter F. Cole, W. Ont. (killed), belonged to Walkerville, Ont., and came overseas as a private in a Second Division unit in 1915. He was 41, was a former employé of the Dominion Bridge Co., and leaves a widow and five children.

Lt. Sidney B. Cooper, M.M., C. Ont. (killed), was an employé of the Bank of Ottawa in Toronto prior to enlistment in 1915. He was wounded at Courcelette in 1916, and later won the M.M. and his commission.

Capt. H. A. Culham, C.A.M.C. (killed on October 4), was a Toronto doctor who came overseas two years ago. His mother resides at 88, Alderley Avenue, Toronto. Deceased, who was 35 and unmarried, was a native of Hamilton, and graduated from Toronto University in June, 1910. He had served in France with a Field Ambulance for about a year.

Lt. Norman Eden Denham, N.B. (killed on September 27), was the third son of the late Mr. W. E. Denham, solicitor, of Leeds and Harrogate, Yorks. He enlisted as a private in 1916, and in November, 1917, was given his commission for gallantry in the field.

Lt. William F. Ferguson, E. Ont. (killed on September 3—the tenth anniversary of his wedding), was the son of the late Mr. J. P. Ferguson and Mrs. Ferguson, of Yonge Mills, Ont., and was 34. He was for several years train despatcher in Ottawa for the G.T.R.

Capt. T. Fleck Graham, C.A.M.C. (died on September 20), was the third son of the late Mr. Alex. Graham and Mrs. Graham, of Brantford. A graduate of Toronto University, he came overseas as M.O. of a Hamilton machine-gun battalion, and for some time served in a Canadian hospital in France.

Nursing Sister Matilda Ethel Greene, C.A.M.C. (died of pneumonia on October 9), was the daughter of Mrs. James Greene, Girdwood Farm, Harmsworth, Man., and graduated at the Medicine Hat General Hospital in November, 1916. She came overseas the following May, and had served at the Ontario Hospital, Orpington, and with No. 7 General in France.

Major William Y. Hunter, Man. (killed on September 28), was the son of the late Dr. Wm. Hunter, of Margate, and a nephew of the late Surgeon-General Cornish, C.I.E. Deceased was a graduate of Saskatchewan University at Saskatoon, and held a captaincy in the C.O.T.C. there. His widow is a daughter of the late Hon. J. R. Middlemiss.

Lt. Hugh Stanley Johnson, Que. (killed on October 4), was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, of Ashern, Man., and was 20.

Lt. Hugh D'Alton Livingston, C. Ont. (killed in August), was the elder of the four soldier sons of Magistrate Livingston, of Brantford, and the second to have given his life. The other two brothers have both been severely wounded. Deceased came overseas with the 125th as scout officer, and whilst at Witley was highly commended by the G.O.C. for his topographical work. He went to France last April, and was killed whilst leading his platoon. Deceased, who was a graduate of Toronto University, had been twice erroneously reported killed.

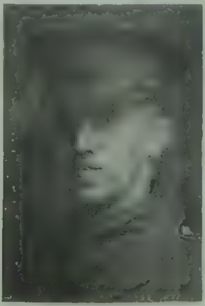
Lt. John O. MacLeod, N.S. (killed), belonged to Pictou, N.S., and, prior to enlistment, was a student at Dalhousie University. He came overseas with the N.S. Highland Brigade.

Capt. James Grant MacNeill, M.C., C.A.M.C. (killed on October 12), was a native of St. Stephen, N.B., and was 25. He graduated at Queen's University in 1916, and came overseas the same year. His M.C. was awarded last February.

CAPT. J. F. MACINTOSH, M.C., SASK.
(Killed).



LT. A. M. BRIGHTON, B.C.
(Killed).

LT. M. MACRAE, MAN.
(Killed).

LT. H. S. WILSON, C. ONT.

Major Huntly W. Macpherson, M.C., R.C.H.A. (killed on October 10), was the only son of Lt.-Col. Duncan Macpherson and Mrs. Macpherson, 548, Besserer Street, Ottawa. He was 27.

Lt. J. N. Mee, Alta. (killed), was a well-known athlete and hockey player, and was formerly on the staff of the Canadian Bank of Commerce in Calgary and at Macleod.

Nursing Sister Henrietta Mellett, Nursing Services (killed by enemy action at sea on October 10), was a passenger on the torpedoed Irish mailboat Leinster. Deceased belonged to London, Ont., and was a graduate of the Victoria Hospital there. N/S Mellett came overseas in May, 1915, and had served for two years with the British Red Cross in England and Egypt before receiving an appointment in the C.A.M.C. last January. Since then she had been a member of the nursing staff at Taplow. At the time of her death Sister Mellett was returning from leave in Ireland.

Lt. A. C. Mills, N.S. (died of wounds on September 28), was the eldest son of Mr. James Mills, 3227, Elgin Avenue, Calgary, and was a student at Alberta University. He enlisted as a private in the P.P.C.L.I. in the summer of 1915, coming overseas with the 2nd University Company. Wounded at Sanctuary Wood in June, 1916, he later received his commission in the R.C.R., and at Passchendaele was again wounded, his injury necessitating six months' hospital treatment. He returned to France last August. A brother is Sec. Lt. Ross A. Mills, R.A.F., who is stationed at a balloon base in Ireland.

Lt. David Milne, Alta. (killed), was an ex-member of the Calgary police force, and came over as a sergeant in Lt.-Col. Nasmyth's battalion. He leaves a widow and daughter.

Lt. John Mott, Sask. (killed), was formerly a farmer at Swan River, Man., and enlisted in November, 1914, as a private, receiving his commission this year. He is survived by a widow, and two sons have served, one having had a leg amputated as a result of wounds.

Lt. Ralph Nevill, Man. (died on September 30 of wounds received the same day), was the elder son of the late Mr. Sydney Nevill and Mrs. Nevill, of Dropmore, Man.

He was a law student at the time of his enlistment in the 25th Battery in March, 1915. He returned home in December, 1915, and was then given his commission in the 126th Bn. He was the stepson of Mr. Charles Elliott, librarian of the Osgoode Hall Law School

Capt. A. Alan Parker, M.C., C.A.M.C. (died of wounds on October 12), was born at Mimico twenty six years ago, and was in practice there for two years, after graduating from Toronto University in 1914. He came overseas in May, 1916, and was serving with a Field Ambulance at the time of receiving his fatal wounds. His M.C. was awarded just a year ago.

Capt. Charles B. Robinson, M.C., B.C. (killed on September 2), enlisted as a chaplain, but became a combatant officer and was awarded the M.C. last November. He was well known in Canada as a Salvation Army officer.

Lt. John Shaw, Man. (killed on October 1), was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Shaw, McMillan Avenue, Winnipeg, late of Troon, Ayrshire. Enlisting with the Cameron Highlanders at Winnipeg in December, 1914, he came overseas the following May, and was wounded in the Somme fighting in September, 1916. He leaves a widow.

Lt. Kennet C. Stairs, C.F.A. (killed on September 30), was a son of the late Mr. Edward Stairs (of Wm. Stairs, Son and Morrow, Ltd., of Halifax), and grandson of the late Hon. Wm. J. Stairs. Deceased came overseas in 1915 as a corporal, and, prior to the war was for some time a bond salesman with the Royal Securities Corporation, Montreal. He later took a course at the Ontario Agricultural College, and established a creamery at Victoria, B.C. He secured his commission a year ago, and only returned to his battery from leave a week before his death. Lt. Stairs was one of four brothers on active service in France, the other members of the family being Lt. Philip B. Stairs, T.M. Btty. (recently wounded and now on sick leave); Lt. Hugh M. Stairs, C.S.A., and Cpl. E. G. Stairs, of No. 2 Stationary Hospital.

Lt. Wm. Gordon Tough, C.G.A. (died of wounds at a C.C.S. on September 15), was the only son of Mr. R. J. Tough, 170, Crescent Road, Toronto. He was formerly an engineer on the staff of the Roman Stone Company.

Lt. James C. Watson, C. Ont. (killed on September 30), aged 25, was the only son of the late Mr. J. C. Watson, Amherst, N.S., and grandson of the late Mr. James Watson, historian of Jedburgh Abbey. He belonged to Toronto.

Lt. L. A. Welsh, M.C., Cav. (killed on October 9), was a cadet of the Military College at Kingston, and after residing some time in Winnipeg left that city in 1915 in charge of a draft of the Strathcona Horse.

Capt. Francis M. Whitlow, C. Ont. (killed), came overseas from Vancouver with the 225th Bn., and reverted to private in order to get to France. He was a South African war veteran, and is survived by his widow and two children, who live at Nak, on the Skeena River, B.C.

Lt. Harold S. Wilson, C. Ont. (killed on October 11), had lived both in Ottawa and Montreal, and was an undergraduate of Queen's University. He enlisted in the 146th Bn. in 1915, and crossed to France in September the following year. He was wounded in July, 1917, during a raid, and during his convalescence he returned home and was married last March to Miss Edwina Verity, who lives at Bloomfield Avenue, Outremont, Montreal. He leaves two sisters and five brothers, one of the latter being Capt. Frank B. Wilson, overseas adjutant of the Canadian Y.M.C.A.

Capt. A. H. Young, C.A.P.C. (killed on September 7), was the son of Ven. Archdeacon Young, of 729, Wellington Street, London, Ont. He came overseas with the 144th Bn. from Winnipeg, and at the time of his death was serving as a Brigade paymaster. Prior to coming to England he was manager of the Portage Avenue (Winnipeg) branch of Molsons Bank. His widow is living in England.

Imperial Forces.

Lt. J. M. G. Bell, M.C., R.A.F. (died on October 3 of wounds received on October 1), was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Bell, of Sooke, B.C., formerly of Belfast. Deceased came overseas with the First Contingent, and later joined the R.F.A. He was awarded the M.C. for gallantry at Cambrai a year ago. Lt. Bell, who was 27, afterwards transferred to the R.A.F.

Sec. Lt. E. G. A. C. Lane, Leinster Regiment, attd. Royal Irish Rifles (killed), was the son of Mr. Justice Lane, of Montreal, and graduated from the Royal Military College, Kingston, last April.

Major-General Louis James Lipsett, C.B., C.M.G. (killed on October 14, whilst commanding an Imperial Division), was until a few weeks ago G.O.C. the 3rd Canadian Division. The gallant soldier, who was 44 years of age, was the only surviving son of the late Mr. Richard Lipsett and Mrs. Lipsett, The Cottage, Merthyr Tydvil, was born in Co. Donegal, Ireland, and was educated at Bedford Grammar School. He entered the Army in October, 1894, as a subaltern in the R. Irish Regt., served on the North-West Frontier of India, 1897-8 (medal with two clasps), and as D.A.A. and Q.M.G. in South Africa, 1905-7. He was later A.D.C., Eastern Command, and Aldershot Command, 1907-8, and in July, 1911, he was appointed to the Canadian Militia as G.S.O.2 for Western Canada, with headquarters at Winnipeg. He relinquished that position on the outbreak of war to come overseas as officer commanding the 8th Bn. (" Little Black Devils "). He was gazetted Brig.-General on May 24, 1916, and was given the command of a Division the following June. General Lipsett is the second Canadian officer of his rank to be killed in the present war. On the day General Lipsett was gazetted a major-general he received intimation that he had inherited a fortune of £200,000. The manner of General Lipsett's death was typical of his total disregard for his own safety. He was forward reconnoitring previous to making an attack, when he was shot through the jaws by a sniper. He struggled to his feet and was again shot through the breast by the sniper, who was 300 yards away. The Brigadier accompanying him urged the General to reach cover, which was only a few yards away, and by a supreme effort he got to his feet and made a struggling rush to the adjacent woods, and then fell dead.

Sec. Lt. J. Ellis Love, Manch. Regt. (killed on September 2), was the second son of Mr. John Love, of Bournemouth, one of Western Canada's pioneer business men, and formerly managing director of the Winnipeg Elevator Company. Deceased joined the Army two years ago, and at the time of his death was 20.

Lt. W. A. Mackenzie, K.O. Lancs. Regt. (died of wounds on September 29), was 24, and had been four years at the Front. A bank employé, he returned from Canada on the outbreak of war and joined his old Territorial battalion, the Cameron Highlanders.

Capt. Donald A. M. Main, M.C., H.L.I., attd. R. Scots (missing, believed drowned, since September 5), was the youngest son of Capt. W. S. Main, R.N.R., C.P.O.S., and Mrs. Main, of Madoc, Ibroxholm, Glasgow. Deceased, who was a Mons veteran, was 24

Lt. James A. Prevel, M.C., Northumbrian Regt. (killed) was formerly assistant to Mr. G. H. Morris, of the Allan Line, and was very active in Canadian passenger and emigration work. Deceased enlisted in the Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry on September 1, 1914, went to the Front the following December, and obtained his commission in March, 1915. He had been awarded the M.C. for conspicuous gallantry in action

Sec. Lt. Eric de Wolf Rounsell, Leinster Regt., attd. R.I. Rifles (killed), was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Rounsell, of Vancouver. Deceased, who was a graduate of the Military College at Kingston, was 20.

Capt. F. M. Sheard, M.C., King's Liverpool Regt. (died of wounds as prisoner in German hands), was wounded at St. Quentin on March 21, when he was taken prisoner, and died in a German Field Hospital on April 2. He was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Sheard, of Great Crosby, Lancs., and was in the employ of the West India Co., Ltd., of Montreal, when war was declared. He returned to England in November, 1914, and joined the King's Liverpools, in which regiment he obtained his commission.

Lt. Clarence E. Sherlock, R.A.F. (killed whilst flying), was the younger son of Mrs. R. E. Sherlock, of Lethbridge. He came overseas early in 1915, and was twice wounded whilst serving in France with the Artillery. He transferred to the R.A.F. last January

Sec. Lt. H. W. Stewart, G. Gds., attd. Gds. M.G. Regt. (killed), was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Stewart, 459, Willard Avenue, Toronto, and came overseas with the Mechanical Transport in September, 1914, subsequently obtaining a commission in the Imperial Forces. He had been twice wounded, and was 24 years of age when he met his death.

Sec. Lt. Ralph F. Talbot, R.A.F. (killed on September 2), was the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Talbot, 778, De l'Epee Avenue, Outremont, Montreal, and the second son to be killed in the war. He went to France with the Victoria Rifles in 1915, and was wounded at St Eloi. He obtained his commission last August.

Sec. Lt. Alfred Home Tomlin, R.A.F. (died from burns sustained in a flying accident in England), was the son of Mrs. Tomlin, 369, Sunnyside Avenue, Toronto, and was 25. He came overseas as a private with the 36th (Peel) Battalion in 1915, and was a sergeant when he transferred to the flying arm.

Lt. Robert O. Spreckley, C. Ont. (wounded in the ankle), is at Anstie Grange Hospital, Holmwood, Surrey. An Ottawa civil servant, he is a First Contingent man, having come overseas with the 1st Field Ambulance. He served 26 months in France as corporal, and in conjunction with Lt.-Col. Boyce inaugurated the Iodine Chronicle, one of the best-known Canadian trench journals. He received his commission in July, 1917

Lt. William Percy Venn, M.M., C. Ont. (severely wounded in the right side), belongs to Sault Ste. Marie. He enlisted in November, 1914, and came overseas the following May. He has 36½ months' service, was awarded the M.M. whilst in the ranks, and prior to his latest casualty had been wounded on four occasions.

Imperial Forces.

Sec. Lt. J. Beverley Abraham, R.A.F. (injured), is the son of Mr. C. A. Abraham, formerly general manager of the Winnipeg Telegram, and now of the Vancouver World. Lt. Abraham came overseas with the Motor Transport in January, 1916, later transferring to the Motor-cycle Corps in order to get to France. He returned to Canada in March, 1917, to get his commission in the R.A.F. His wife lives at 595, Broadway, Winnipeg.

Sec. Lt. James Serling Card, K.R. Rifles Corps (wounded), is a Canadian who obtained his commission last April. He was formerly a sergeant in the Canadian Forces.

Sec. Lt. Harold Taylor Cliffe, R.F.A. (wounded), is the second son of Mr. George J. Cliffe, 34, Law Street, Toronto. He graduated from the Royal Military College, Kingston, in June, 1917. A brother, Capt. Norman V. Cliffe, M.C., was killed in France last August.

Lt. Clinton C. Conover, R.A.F. (missing since September 24), came overseas in November, 1917, and went to France the following March. His parents live at 38, Alhambra Avenue, Toronto.

Lt. James Darroch, M.C., King's (Liverpool) Regiment, attd. S. Lancs. (wounded), comes from Winnipeg, and was a corporal in the Manitoba Regiment when he obtained his commission in the Imperials. He was previously wounded in May, 1917, and his M.C. was gazetted the following January.

Lt. Clifford Dean, R.A.F. (wounded), belongs to Clarenceville, P.Q., and came overseas last April. He had been serving with a scout squadron.

Sec. Lt. Harold Alfred Finney, Tank Corps (wounded), obtained his commission in the Tank Corps in April last, prior to which he was a corporal in the O.M.F.C.

Sec. Lt. W. N. M. Girling, London Regiment (wounded), is the son of Mr. R. H. L. Girling, principal of Cloverdale Superior School, Surrey, B.C. Prior to obtaining his commission in the Imperial Forces, Lt. Girling served with the 54th Kootenay Battalion, and has been on active service for three years.

Sec. Lt. J. H. Howson, Northumberland Fusiliers, was gassed during the fighting on August 20, but his condition is not serious. His parents reside at 43, Law Street, Toronto, and he was educated at Humberside Collegiate and Toronto University. Transferring from the Buffs, which regiment he joined in March, 1916, he came overseas with a draft of the University O.T.C. early in 1917, and went to France after having obtained his commission.

Lt. C. B. H. Lefroy, R.A.F. (unofficially reported wounded and prisoner at Karlsruhe), was reported missing on August 8. The young pilot is the eldest son of Lt. C. B. L. Lefroy, Forestry Corps, of Vernon, B.C. and enlisted as a private in the 11th C.M.R. He was commissioned in July, 1917, and was gazetted a flying officer the following October.

Sec. Lt. Clarence H. Living, R.A.F. (missing), is the son of Capt. Alfred Living, who is at present convalescing in the Sir Sandford Fleming Home, Ottawa. Unofficial reports lead to the belief that the missing airman, who was formerly well known in cadet circles in Calgary, is a prisoner.

Lt. George C. MacKay, D.F.C., R.A.F. (wounded whilst flying in France), is the younger son of the Rev. G. J. MacKay and Mrs. MacKay, of 11, Victor Avenue, Mimico Beach, Ont. He is only 19, but already has a dozen enemy machines to his credit.

Lt. A. W. Manby, R.A.F. (wounded), enlisted as a seaman in the Royal Canadian Navy, later transferring to the Royal Air Force. He is the son of Mr. Cyril Manby, of Niagara Falls South, and was a science student at Toronto University prior to enlistment.

Lt. C. R. Gailey Scott, Cam. Highlanders (wounded and gassed on September 28), is in hospital at Manchester. Lt. Scott (whose brother, Lt. H. J. Scott, Camerons, an Alberta man, was killed at Loos in 1915), is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Scott, of St. John's, Annan, Scotland. After being educated at Sandbach College (where he was captain of the school), he went to Canada, where he was employed as a bank clerk. He came overseas in October, 1914, and enlisted as a private in the H.L.I., and after eight months' service obtained his commission in the Camerons and went to France early in 1916. He has been three times wounded.

Lt. R. E. Taylor, R.A.F. (prisoner at Karlsruhe), is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, 4260 Thirteenth Avenue West, Point Grey, Vancouver. He had been missing since August 9. Lt. Taylor enlisted in the 6th Field Company, Engineers, in 1915, and later went to the R.F.C. He is described as "an excellent pilot, and most courageous over the lines."

Sec. Lt. C. N. Wylde, R. Fusiliers (wounded October 11), is the son of Col. C. F. Wylde, C.A.M.C. He passed through Sandhurst and obtained his commission in September, 1917.

GAVE HIS LIFE FOR HIS BROTHER.

The doctors at Queen's Hospital, Sidcup, recently decided that a transfusion of blood was necessary to save the life of Pte. Girling, Canadian Scottish, who had been severely wounded in France. His brother Leonard Girling, a young engineer employed at Woolwich Arsenal, offered himself. The operation was performed, and the soldier is recovering, but Leonard Girling has died.

THE BLUE BOYS' CLUB

Canadian soldiers in hospital are asked to make a note of the fact that the new "Blue Boys' Club," opened by the International Hospitality Committee of the Y.M.C.A. in Leicester Square Gardens, is for the use every afternoon of the wounded men. In the evenings all soldiers are welcome from the camps and from the Front, but it is hoped that a great many wounded men will make the club a meeting-place in the afternoon, when there will be books and papers, music and a cup of tea, as well as comfortable chairs and sofas, for the benefit of the guests of the club. As it happens, the lady in charge of the hut, Miss Elma Llewelyn, knows Canada well which should help to make Canadian soldiers feel at home The club, which was opened on Tuesday by General Sir Ian Hamilton, is a delightful spot, and the whole atmosphere is friendly and homelike.

CANADIAN GENERAL AND OFFICERS' DANCES.

At Surrey Quarter Sessions at Kingston, last week, Brig. General F. W. Hill, of the Canadian Army, appealed against a conviction at Farnham for permitting petrol to be used for a motor-car in which he had driven to a dance at Bourne. It was stated that Major Stern, who appeared to the summons, had pleaded "Guilty" for the defendant, and a fine of £ was imposed.

General Hill, in evidence, said that Major Stern had no authority to appear for him (says the Times report). He went to the dance at Bourne in a Government car as part of his duty. In view of the limited means Canadian commanding officers had of meeting their junior officers socially it had been found advisable as a matter of policy to encourage such gatherings, which gave the general officers opportunity of estimating the qualities of the juniors newly arrived from Canada

The Chairman said that the Court had decided to grant the appeal on the ground that the car was in the exclusive use of a Government Department, to which the Order did not apply The Bench approved of the policy of organising gatherin where Canadian officers might meet together.

On Monday Mr. G. C. Cassels, on behalf of the Canadian Red Cross Society, forwarded a cheque for £50,000 (1,303,875.5 francs) to the President of the French Republic, accompanied by a letter asking him to accept the same as a gift from the Society, to be applied, at his discretion, for the benefit of French refugees.

The Editor of "Canada" invites photographs and brief biographical notes of Canadian officers whose names appear in the casualty lists (Canadian and Imperial). Photographs will be returned after use

When peace returns "Canada" will require to incre its staff. There will be openings which offer good opportuniti to initiative and ability. The General Manager will be v glad to discuss the matter either personally (by appointment or by letter with anyone interested.

Sir Robert Borden has returned to Ottawa after a brief holiday, and the Ministers who have been touring the West returned on Monday. It is expected here (says the Ottawa correspondent of the Times) that if a peace conference is held this autumn, Sir Robert Borden will return to England to represent Canadian interests.

* *

Vice-Admiral Sims, of the American Navy, speaking in London last week, said he had a sister who had two sons serving in his own forces, and he had seventeen Canadian cousins on the Western Front or what was left of them.

Capt. C. W. Simpson and Lt. A. Young Jackson have (says the Daily Record) been appointed to accompany the Canadian Siberian Expedition in the capacity of official artists.

Sir George Perley is to be congratulated on the happy thought of entertaining the first party of American editors on the eve of their return. A number of prominent men, including Mr. Walter Long and Lord Northcliffe, as well as representatives of the Overseas Ministry and the Ministry of Information, were invited to meet the visitors. The speeches made by both Sir George Perley and the American editor who spoke in reply touched a very high note of international amity and understanding, expressing broad and far-sighted views as to the future relations between the two great English-speaking peoples, which such gatherings do much to assist.

Col. John S. Dennis, C.M.G. (of the C.P.R.), Director of Transportation for the Canadian Siberian Expedition, has (says the Daily Record) been appointed Commissioner for the Canadian Red Cross in Siberia.

An engagement is announced between Lt. Charles Craig, Royal Montreal Regiment, younger son of Mr. Charles Craig, Edinburgh, and Janie Brenda, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Turle, Hindhead, Surrey.

The marriage took place at Holy Trinity Church, Folkestone, on October 16, of Lt. G. Drummond Burn, C.A.S.C., son of Sir George and Lady Burn, of Ottawa, and Audrey Katharine Howard, daughter of the late Lt.-Col. Tidswell, C.F.A., of Hamilton, Ont., and Mrs. Tidswell, "Trenholme," 33, Westbourne Gardens, Folkestone. The bride was given away by her brother, Lt. J. E. Howard Tidswell, and was attended by her cousins, Miss Beryl Kidd, as bridesmaid, and Master Howard Beauchamp, as page. Lt. Leigh Bishop, of Ottawa, acted as best man.

Mr. Thomas Sterling Bertram, youngest son of Brig.-General Sir Alexander and Lady Bertram, was married on September 25, in Toronto, to Miss Ruby Gertrude Deacon, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Chas. Deacon, of Toronto.

Lt.-Col. George J. Boyce, D.S.O., of Quebec, commanding the 1st Field Ambulance, was married on October 8, at the University Church, St. Stephen's Green, Dublin, to Mrs. Eileen O'Reilly, daughter of Mr. John Farrell, of Dublin. Col. W. T. Workman, A.D.C.S. (R.C.), officiated. The bridegroom came overseas with the First Contingent, and has seen long and distinguished service at the Front.

There was a large and fashionable assembly at St. Michael's, Chester Square, on Tuesday of last week, at the marriage of Major-General Percy de B. Radcliffe, C.B., D.S.O., son of the late General Sir W. P. Radcliffe, and Mrs. Riversdale-Walrond, daughter of the late Sir John Swinburne, of Capheaton, Northumberland. Sir Hubert Swinburne gave away his sister and there were three bridesmaids and three pages. The Rev. J. G. McCormick, vicar, officiated, and Major-General W. H. Greenly, D.S.O., was best man. Among those present were Prince Arthur of Connaught, who was attended by the Master of Sinclair; Viscount Milner, Field-Marshal Sir Evelyn Wood, General Sir Henry Wilson, Lt.-General Sir John Cowans, General Sir William and Lady Robertson, Lt.-General Sir Richard Turner, V.C., and Major-General and Mrs. Harington. The bridegroom, who is now Director of Military Operations at the War Office, was for nearly two years attached to the Canadian Corps as B.G.G.S. A cordial invitation was extended to members of the London Headquarters Staff to be present at the church.

CANADIANS' OPENING RUGBY FIXTURE

The London Canadians' first Rugby game of the season was played at Old Deer Park, Richmond, last Saturday, against St. Thomas' Hospital, and the Canadians won by 7 goals (1 dropped) and 4 tries to a try. Canada played three substitutes, owing to the non-arrival of the regular players. These substitutes strengthened the team, and barring a solitary try—the most spectacular play of the match, Humphrey intercepting a pass—the Medicos were outplayed in all departments. The most prominent players were Major Deedes, Thomas, Phillips, Thomson, Johnson, Perry and Yeomans. This initial success should have the effect of increasing enthusiasm among Canadians in London, and enable a full team to be put in the field for each subsequent fixture. Men who would like a work-out with a view to donning the maple leaf jersey are invited to communicate with Capt. Butler, at the Pay Office, Millbank.

The Canadian team was :—N. Thomson, full back ; Bjornson, J. D. Johnson, C. Perry (capt.) and Cpl. J. D. Phillips, three-quarter backs ; M. Thomas and Stuart Orchard, halves ; Major Deedes, Capt. Binnie, S.Q.M.S. Yeomans, S.Q.M.S. J. Shine, Pte. Dan Jones, Cpl. Tugnett, Cpl. Loveday and C. Shaw, forwards.

collected last year, because THE NEED THIS YEAR IS SO MUCH GREATER. Food prices are high. It is no easy matter to feed a small family. Imagine what it must be to provide for THE LARGEST FAMILY IN THE WORLD — over 7,000 Children.

10,072 Barnardo boys are fighting for you.

Cheques and Orders payable "Dr. Barnardo's Homes Food Bill Fund," and crossed (Treasury Notes and National War Bonds should be Registered), and addressed to the Honorary Director, William Baker, Esq., M.A., LL.B., at

THE "TANK" COMMANDER.

We caused 'some' stir amongst our boys when we first rumbled up behind our lines, but we created more stir when we had a look round Fritz's sleeping quarters. They thought anything we produced was a 'washout,' but we caught them napping for once. 'Egbert' as my Tank is nicknamed, acts as a tonic upon the boys, and with a good cig., say an 'Army Club' for choice, we can go anywhere and over anything.

CANADIAN OFFICERS' BRAVERY.

MILITARY CROSS.

Lt. Thomas Cuthbert Anderson, Cav. (Winnipeg).

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty while in charge of a small patrol detailed to locate crossings over a river for cavalry and tanks. He pushed on in front of the infantry, found a suitable crossing, and then acted as guide to the tanks. Owing to his bold, determined work the brigade was enabled to cross the river and launch its attack before the infantry had reached its second objective, thus contributing largely to the success of the cavalry action.

Lt. John Butterfield, Cav. (Toronto).

He led the advance guard of his squadron and skilfully negotiated trench crossings through wire in a very difficult country under heavy fire. By his coolness and good leadership he set a fine example to his men, whose numbers had been greatly reduced, until he was subsequently wounded.

Lt. Thomas Baird Chapman, M.M. (Edmonton).

Though wounded in the hip soon after the start [of a raid] he declined to give up, but led his men with great dash to the final objective. On the signal to retire being given, after he had completed his task, he attempted to walk back, but was again wounded, and was carried home by his men, who had followed him during the raid with complete confidence, inspired by his fearless example The operation was carried out in the most successful manner largely owing to his fine leadership.

Lt. Thomas Willis Cogland (Herdman, P.Q.)

This officer was in charge of the supporting party of an important raid, and was charged with the duty of accounting for any elements of enemy resistance who might have escaped the assaulting troops. His party followed closely behind the assaulting troops and captured six prisoners and a machine gun. Guided by one of these prisoners, at the point of his revolver, Lt. Cogland visited the enemy dug-outs and collected much useful information before destroying them and the gun-pits. His fine example of cheerful disregard of danger had a most exhilarating effect on the men under his command.

Lt. Ronald Rainey Counsell, Man. Regt. (Winnipeg)

This officer commanded a raiding party, which he led with complete success. He secured valuable identifications. His personal example of courage and initiative greatly contributed to accomplishment of the object of the enterprise, and his skilful management of the different parties enabled him to bring them back without casualties notwithstanding the heavy fire of the enemy.

Lt. Alastair John Crerar, R.C.D. (Hamilton).

He led his advanced troops with great dash and ability under very heavy machine-gun fire and took his objective. He then skilfully organised his position, which he held until the arrival of the regiment, constantly exposing himself to severe machine-gun fire in order to ascertain the exact position to which the enemy had retired.

During a raid he was the first to lead his men into the enemy trench, and he successfully accomplished the object of the enterprise, capturing prisoners and inflicting heavy casualties. He conducted the difficult withdrawal with great skill, evacuating all casualties and leaving no identification behind. Throughout the operation he displayed admirable courage and coolness.

Lt. Reginald Leake Gale, Cent. Ont. Regt. (Hubert, B.C.)

He rendered most valuable services as intelligence officer, previous to a raid, the success of which was largely due to his skilful and daring reconnaissances of the enemy's positions. On the morning of the raid he guided the parties to their different points of assembly, and then proceeded to take part in the attack, in which he displayed conspicuous gallantry.

Lt. David Gibson, M.M.—killed.

This officer, who was battalion scout officer, guided a raiding party of considerable numbers with great skill to their objective. Having previously reconnoitred the ground with the utmost care, he was able to lead them across some 800 yards of "No Man's Land," making a complete change of direction in the course of doing so, with admirable accuracy; when the engagement began, his qualities of leadership, and his cheerful courage under shell and machine-gun fire, were a fine example to everyone, and his behaviour throughout largely contributed to the success of the enterprise.

Lt. Donald Archie Grant, R.C.D. (Toronto).

He led his advanced troop with great dash and ability under very heavy machine-gun fire, and took his objective. He then organised and held his position until the arrival of the regiment, exposing himself recklessly in order to obtain information as to the enemy's position. Later, when in charge of a patrol, he showed the greatest coolness under heavy fire, and brought back most useful information.

Lt. Sidney Grimble, Alta. Regt. (Edmonton).

He led his platoon with great dash to their objective and established a block in the enemy trench. Leaving a guard line, he took two men and proceeded 200 yards further and destroyed some enemy dug-outs. He brought his party back without casualties, and throughout the operation displayed very high qualities of initiative, resource and good leadership.

Capt. Benjamin Lyon, C.A.M.C. (Kingston).

After a charge by two squadrons up a road this officer followed on foot and attended and evacuated the wounded under heavy artillery and machine-gun fire, remaining there until all the wounded were brought in.

Lt. Alfred Dudley Mason, M.M., C.F.A. (Calgary).

He went forward with one of the attacking battalions as liaison officer during an engagement, and by his carefully prepared plans succeeded in keeping up communication with artillery headquarters throughout the operation and during the two succeeding days. He went forward on his own initiative with a telephone wire under very heavy fire, and directed our artillery on to hostile machine guns and strong points which were causing many casualties to our infantry. He sent back reports of great tactical value, and his courage and great determination were a fine example to all who were with him.

Lt. Mark Harold McKay, C.F.A. (Galt.)

He was acting as liaison officer with one of the attacking battalions during an engagement, and remained with them ten hours after the final objective had been reached, sending back information of the greatest tactical value. By his timely calls for artillery fire from our guns, he silenced hostile trench mortars and machine guns which were causing our infantry many casualties. He was constantly under heavy shell and machine-gun fire, and his gallant determination and strenuous devotion to duty made a great impression on all around him

Capt. Walter James Ellis Mingie, C.A.M.C. (Montreal)

He maintained close touch with all the regiments, and under heavy shell and machine-gun fire he evacuated all casualties with wonderful rapidity. Hearing that an officer was seriously wounded in the front line trench, he immediately went forward and succeeded in dressing and removing him. He showed the greatest coolness and resource throughout

Lt. James Meredith Morris (Montreal).

He rushed an enemy post about 800 yards from his lines, personally shot three out of the eight enemy killed, and brought his party back without casualties. Two nights later he raided the same post, and finding on his return that a man was sniping, he returned with four men under heavy machine-gun fire to the post and brought him back. He showed splendid courage and determination.

Capt. Albert Edward Nash, Railway Troops (Edmonton).

For very gallant conduct. While proceeding with a tractor he observed a building containing ammunition fired by enemy shelling. Adjacent buildings full of explosives were thus threatened with destruction. He at once organised a party to save the ammunition, which was moved in spite of a very heavy bombardment to a place of comparative safety. The burning building was a source of constant peril, but the operation was carried out without loss of life, valuable ammunition was saved, and a serious and damaging explosion averted.

He led the leading troops of an advance guard squadron through the tanks, and went on and brought back twenty-five prisoners. A few hours later he led his troops on a special reconnaissance, and under very heavy rifle and machine-gun fire entered a village and took twenty-five prisoners, also inflicting great loss on the enemy who tried to surround him. He did fine work.

Lt. Leonard Rowley, M.M.

On two separate occasions he has led daylight patrols with exceptional daring and resource to points about a mile in front of our position, locating enemy posts and securing the most valuable information. The example of this officer's aggressive spirit and initiative has had a very fine effect throughout the battalion.

Lt. Matthew Maurice Wallace (Toronto)—killed.

He was in command of a patrol of six proceeding to reconnoitre the enemy wire, when they encountered a hostile patrol of thirty strong in three groups. Lt. Wallace instantly disposed his small party with great skill, and waited till one of the groups were within easy bombing distance. Then, shouting as if in command of large numbers, he and his small party attacked the enemy with bombs and revolvers. This daring behaviour had the desired effect, and the whole enemy party fled in disorder and demoralisation, leaving a wounded prisoner in our hands. Lt. Wallace's party had no casualties. The success of this brilliant little exploit was largely due to the dash and initiative displayed by him.

Lt. Frederick Roy Watson (Souris, Man.)

He made a daring reconnaissance to locate enemy posts, and during the raid that followed personally maintained communication between the raiding parties, greatly contributing to the success of the raid. In many previous raids he has distinguished himself by his courage and ability.

Lt. William Lee Young, Railway Troops (Calgary).

When a gas train was being pushed up a very heavy gradient a short distance behind the front-line trenches this officer, who, with four other ranks of his platoon, was stationed there as an emergency repair party, seeing that the success of the intended gas attack was likely to be endangered by the heavy casualties suffered by the party pushing the train from machine-gun fire, volunteered his services with his party and guided the train to its destination. It was undoubtedly to his intrepidity and devotion that the success of the operation was largely due.

He advanced with the brigade and established his collecting posts, dressing and evacuating wounded horses under intense machine-gun fire, in addition to shell fire and bombing from enemy aeroplanes. By his fine example and encouragement to his men he was enabled to dress and evacuate some 250 horses which would otherwise have been lost

THE BEAVER HUT THEATRE.

Canadian Y.M.C.A.'s Enterprising Social Policy.

DARING innovations to achieve success require proportionate courage. Such a scheme was that recently inaugurated at the Canadian Y.M.C.A. Beaver Hut in the Strand.

The Canadian Y.M.C.A. has from the start of its activities in London never failed to realise the big proposition it has had to face. Nor has it in any way shirked its responsibilities The social problem, in so far as it affects the soldier on leave, is full of snares and pitfalls for the unwary. Until the Canadians were provided with a central home in London that is, until the Beaver Hut was thrown open—the Y.M.C.A. authorities could not hope to cope with a problem which has always called for strong yet delicate handling. With the centralising, as it were, of its activities, the situation altered greatly for the better. Men from the camps and from France naturally gravitate to the Beaver Hut. Once they come under its influence the less chance there is of the tawdry, tinsel attractions of the Strand making appeal to them.

The soldier on leave must have companionship. If it is not forthcoming on conventional lines, it is in the nature of things that he will seek it in the garishness of the streets. The Beaver Hut was built to supply morally clean companionship and entertainment.

CANADIAN Y.M.C.A. REPERTORY COMPANY.

What should be done with the Little Theatre after it had fulfilled its first purpose of providing accommodation whilst the Beaver Hut was building was for long a moot point. It was recognised that it might be used as a cinema hall, with occasional shows put on for the benefit of the Beaver Hut patrons. No concrete proposal had, however, been considered when Lt. T. Gordon Mason, ex-membership secretary of the Broadview Y.M.C.A., Toronto, was appointed social officer at the new Canadian rendezvous in the heart of London.

Someone conceived a brilliant idea. It was argued that with a fully-equipped theatre already to hand, why should not a company be secured and the theatre utilised? The question of expense was found to be almost prohibitive—but not quite. The Y.M.C.A. chief executive is happily composed of officers who are also business men and something more. Fortunately for the Canadian soldier, the Y.M.C.A. authorities set a true value on the moral as well as the material result.

Thus the first " Y " Repertory Theatre came into existence, and in the short time it has been run it has more than justified the audacity of the scheme. A company of more than average talent plays throughout the week at the Beaver Hut Theatre. Drama alternates with comedy, the twain being varied by motion pictures. Twice a week—Wednesdays and Saturdays—there are " vaudeville nights," and ever since the close of the first week, when the soldiers of all Allied nations came, saw, and approved, " House Full " has been the invariable rule.

The soldier is no mean critic. He is both discerning and liberal-minded, but demands " shows " that are both good and up-to-the-minute. He gets them, and the fact that there are never any vacant seats in the new soldiers' theatre proves beyond doubt that the young " Y " officer and his associates builded even better than they knew when they decided to inaugurate their daring scheme. All the shows are free to soldiers in uniform. The expense is heavy, but the authorities have wisely decided that this expenditure is furnishing a moral turnover, the value of which is incalculable.

There is also a professional orchestra, which plays in the big lounge in the afternoon and is available for the theatre in the evening. This innovation has also been a great success, and the lounge has, in consequence, proved entirely inadequate to accommodate all the soldiers who desire to pass a restful hour in the big, comfortable chairs with which the place abounds.

Hand in hand with the theatre go other activities which are controlled from the tiny office of the social welfare officer The theatre takes care of only a section of the huge crowd which continually throngs the Beaver Hut. Counter-attractions to the temptations of the Strand were still needed. Thus it came about that dances were started, small affairs to which from 30 to 35 soldiers, chiefly men on Overseas leave, were invited. They were asked to come alone, but there has never been lack of partners. Ladies from the voluntary staff of workers at the Beaver Hut were invited to co-operate in the new scheme, and thus the men meet members of the opposite sex for an evening's innocent pleasure. These dances, which are always under the direction of a responsible lady as hostess, have proved that controlled entertainment can be always conducted in a manner above criticism.

LT. T. GORDON MASON,

LT. D. J. RUSSELL, R.A.F.
(Wounded and Prisoner.)

Other features of the social work of which the Beaver Hut is the pivot are private house parties, afternoon teas, and social evenings, all designed for the purpose of enabling Pte. John Canuck to spend his spare hours in a clean and wholesome way. There is no suggestion of patronage, that ghost of Mrs. Grundy which has done incalculable harm in the past. The spirit of the Canadian soldier, free and independent as the breezes which sweep over the Western prairies, would never brook this thinly-veiled form of arrogance.

A feature of the winter programme will be the institution of whist drives, so that no Canadian on leave in London will be able to say that provision of some kind has not been made for him.

Nor do the social measures I have enumerated exhaust the activities of the Beaver Hut welfare department. Theatre tickets can be secured at reduced prices, or the machinery may be set in motion to locate a soldier's long-lost relatives.

One special event will take place on Tuesday, November 5—a big dance in the Lesser Queen's Hall for " boys " on leave from France. On this occasion the voluntary lady workers at the " sign of the maple " will act as hostesses, and at least one lady of title has accepted an invitation to be present.

Lt. Mason is assisted in his splendid work by Miss Walwyn, of Toronto, formerly a V.A.D. worker in this country.

A last and brief word. Although the Beaver Hut has not yet been formally opened—(thank goodness, formalities count so little in the real scheme of things!)—over 300 men have already participated in the dances. By means of other entertainments, including the theatre, approximately 14,000 soldiers have had good cause to bless the great work of social welfare emanating from Canada's new rendezvous in the Strand.

R. W. T

The Beaver Hut will be officially opened by the Duke of Connaught on Wednesday next, at 3.15 p.m.

The New Canadian Victory Loan.

"Behind the Gun the man—Behind the man the Dollar" is the arresting headline to the prospectus of the new Canadian Victory Loan of $300,000,000 5½ per Cent. Bonds, particulars of which are published in this issue of Canada for the information and benefit of members of the O.M.F. of Canada. Both from patriotism and because of its attractions from its investment point of view, it is certain that this new Canadian Loan will receive whole-hearted support. The subscription of $400,000,000 for last year's loan so little affected Canadian bank deposits that at the end of last June they actually stood at a higher total than ever before. But not only must direct war expenses be defrayed, but the agricultural, industrial and commercial prosperity of the Dominion depends largely upon her ability to finance the purchase of supplies in Canada by the Allies, and in this regard it is most noteworthy that the whole of the proceeds of this new Loan will be spent in Canada.

The attractions of the loan as an investment are obvious. The security is the credit of the whole Dominion of Canada; the rate of interest is 1 per cent. per annum higher than that afforded by the American 4¼ per Cent. Liberty Loan; it is free from all taxation—including income-tax—imposed by the Dominion Government; it is also specially exempted from British income-tax. Subscriptions are payable in very easy instalments, and special arrangements have been made for support by the Canadian banks, which are permitted to advance up to 90 per cent. of the face value of the bonds at the same rate of interest. While the five-year bonds will suit those who desire a short term investment, the 15-year bonds will be attractive to many who will be glad of a high-yielding, gilt-edged investment for some years after the war.

* * *

Measures have been taken to ensure quick delivery of the bonds in Canada when subscriptions are fully paid. Most of the overseas subscribers to this loan will doubtless prefer to have their bonds delivered to their banks in Canada, or left with the Minister of Finance until they are required, as they will thus avoid the risk and expense of taking them back to Canada on their return. It should be noted in this regard that the bonds should be saleable at par at any time in Canada through any bank or stockbroker, while, not being listed on the London Stock Exchange, they will not be freely marketable in Great Britain. Members of the Overseas Military Forces of Canada will no doubt specially note the arrangement under which they may invest in these war loan bonds a large proportion of their deferred pay, which will thus increase itself by means of the interest accruing. Those who avail themselves of this opportunity will accordingly receive a portion of their deferred pay in bonds on their return to Canada.

* * *

Weekly Reports from Our Own Correspondents

Stock Exchange Settling Days—

CONSOLS PAY DAY, Monday, Nov. 4.

Tues., Oct. 29.	Wed., Oct. 30.

LONDON, Tuesday.

In the Canadian section dealings have been on a moderate scale, and a steady tone has predominated. Among the gilt-edged issues the Dominion Fours have risen a point to 84, while the 3½ per Cents. have been firm at 73 and the 4½ per Cents. at 96. There has been no variation among Canadian municipal bonds, but quotations have been hard at previous levels.

In the railroad group Canadian Pacifics continued their rise to 182 on Wall Street advices and the publication of a traffic increase of $191,000 for the second week of the month. The stock, however, is now under best at 181. Grand Trunks made little response to a traffic gain of £91,381, and quotations are practically unaltered on the week.

As regards land shares, Hudson's Bays have scored a further good advance to 8¼, and lower-priced descriptions have been hard.

The industrial group has been spottily better. Canadian General Electrics at 113½ are a point better. Canadian Cars and Canada Cement issues have been steady without variation. Dominion Steels hold around 65, and Lake Superiors at 21. Cities Services Common has been marked forward to 295.

Brazilian Tractions are fractionally higher, but under best at 58 on balance, but Mexico Tram and Mexican Light and Power issues register fresh advances of 2 to 3 points.

TORONTO, October 2.

As you will have gathered from my other letters, September was, on the whole, a good month on the Canadian Exchanges, as, apart from two comparatively short intervals, the general tone continued strong, while a considerable number of stocks reached new high prices for the year. A feature of the month was the activity and strength of Brazilian Traction and Montreal Light, Heat and Power, the former of which gained 8 and the latter 4½ points during the month. Among industrials, the flour milling and pulp and paper groups came in for most attention, a good many notable gains being recorded. On the other hand, the steel stocks as a class closed the month rather lower than they began it. In general the month closed with a good deal of strength, markets being cheered by the favourable war news. On Monday Brazil Traction, responding promptly to the news of the armistice with Bulgaria, was the feature of activity in both Toronto and Montreal, but, meeting with a good deal of profit-taking, closed with only a fractional gain. Steamships common also was active in Toronto. Yesterday, commencing October, markets were irregular, with declines more numerous than gains. The flour milling group continued strong, led by St. Lawrence Flour and Maple Leaf, both of which registered gains. Lake of the Woods, whose common stock has just been placed on a 12 per cent. per annum basis by the declaration of 3 per cent. for the quarter ending November 30, continued firm, though the price did not respond to the announcement. Several other stocks of comparatively little market interest showed strength, notably Woods Manufacturing and Macdonald, but the steel stocks and also the power and paper group were somewhat weak.

At the annual meeting of Spanish River Pulp and Paper Mills, Ltd., Messrs. G. H. Mead, P. B. Wilson, C. E. Read, B. Tooke, W. E. Stavert, T. W. Sims, and Major T. Gibson were elected directors, Messrs. Mead, Wilson, and Gibson being subsequently elected president, vice-president and comptroller, and secretary respectively.

Among current prices, Dom. Steel is 60¼, Steel of Canada 70½, Scotia 66, Can. Car 34, Cement 67½, Can. Forgings 206½, Can. Loco. 63, Brompton 60½, Riordon 120, Laurentide 184, Wayagamack 52, Spanish River 14½, Lake of the Woods 161, Maple Leaf 129, Ogilvie 185 ex div. and bonus, St. Lawrence Flour 95½, Brazilian 48½, Steamships 47, Macdonald 22½, Montreal Power 87, Russell Motors 90⅞, Pref. 91.

The mining markets closed the month with trading fairly active and broad. Big Dome was firm at $10.75, Hollinger advanced to $4.99, and McIntyre was in demand, closing at $1.50. Among the silver shares, Nipissing sold at $8.85 and Kerr Lake at $6.10; Temiskaming, 30¼; Adanac, on fairly heavy transactions, declined to 10¾. During the week which ended September 27 eight Cobalt companies shipped ten cars of ore, aggregating more than 750,000 lbs. Of these, McKinley and Nipissing shipped two cars each.

ONTARIO PROVINCE.

OTTAWA.—The Dominion public revenue for the six months ended September 30 shows an increase of $13,300,000.

According to the Labour Gazette of Canada, there were 30 strikes in the Dominion last month, which affected 7,511 persons and involved a total time loss of 103,238 working days.

-It is estimated that the 200,000,000 acres of arable land in Canada alone may ultimately require some 10,000,000 tons of nitrates per annum to maintain their fertility, and this in itself would necessitate the absorption of an appreciable portion of the whole hydraulic energy of the Dominion.

—Following the recent Order-in-Council offering a bonus to Canadian manufacturers installing machinery and producing Canadian-made linen threads and yarns is producing results, the Dominion Linens, Ltd., of Guelph, has arranged with the Government and the War Trade Board to start the new industry, and negotiations are now progressing with other Canadian textile manufacturers. Raw material from Canadian flax is to be used.

The Motor Vehicle Registration for 1917 consists of 78,061 passenger cars and 4,929 commercial cars, which is nearly twice the registration for 1915. There is now in Ontario one car to each 39 people of the population. The average in the United States is one car to every 20 persons. In Saskatchewan there is one car for each 12 people in the Province.

TORONTO.—The new assessment roll in Ward 3 shows that the Dominion Bank site corner of King and Yonge Streets is assessed at $97.46 per sq. ft.; the Royal Bank, $107.04 per sq. ft.; the C.P.R. building, $102.50 per sq. ft.; the N.-W. corner, partly occupied by the G.T.R., is assessed at nearly $120 per sq. ft. The highest rate per foot frontage is $16,500 for the 26 ft. of the Dominion Bank.

——Lt. Aubrey Francis Blackwell, M.C., who was killed in action in Belgium on June 2, 1917, left estate valued at $705,734. His mother, Mrs. Louisa Anna Blackwell, The Cedars, Harrow Weald, England, receives an annuity of $5,000 and a legacy of $2,500. Harrow School is left a legacy of $10,000 and Oriel College, Oxford, $5,000.

——Mr. Chas. H. Rust, the former City Engineer, who for six years has occupied a similar position in Victoria, has returned to the city to join the staff of the Toronto Railway Co.

HAMILTON.—The Police Magistrate, Mr. Jelfs, commenting on the second anniversary of prohibition in Ontario, said:—"One beneficial result has been the great decrease in the number of offences which arose from the use of liquor." Up to date this year only 221 have been charged with being drunk, as compared with 1,452 in 1915.

LONDON.- The new $400,000 demobilisation barracks was started on Carling's Heights. The contract is in the hands of the Bate-McMahon Co., headed by Col. Robert Low. The new building is to face Quebec Street, and the contract calls for completion in ninety days.

TRENTON. -The trinitrotoluene plant of the British Chemical Works here, which is one of the local plants of the British Explosives, Ltd., was destroyed by fire and explosions on October 14. Fortunately, there was no loss of life, and no person was seriously injured. The failure of one of the employees attending the nitrator to explicitly obey instructions as to the quantities of the various chemicals used was responsible, but the man had no criminal intent.

PORT DOVER. During his visit here the Minister of Public Works, Mr. Carvell, said that he would provide in the next estimates for harbour improvement work here.

PORT ARTHUR. The third of the mine sweepers built by the Canada Car Co here for the French Government has been launched

QUEBEC PROVINCE.

QUEBEC.—Mr. Arthur Amos, chief hydraulic engineer of the Provincial Government, in a report submitted to the head of the Department, makes an analysis of the horse-power developed from natural waterfalls in Quebec Province. Hi report indicates that at the present date 850,000 horse-power is furnished by water-power throughout the Province.

——The fifth cargo steamer built for the account of the Britis Government at the Canadian Vickers plant was successfully launched on September 29, the Governor-General performin the ceremony of christening the s.s. War Faith, 7,200 tons; length, 393½ feet; breadth, 49 feet; depth, 39 feet.

MONTREAL.—The new Military Hospital at St. Anne de Bellevue has been officially opened for 150 patients. Men suffering from shell shock and other nervous disorders will be treated first. When the series of buildings is completed the hospital will have accommodation for 2,000 patients. Col. Kenneth Cameron, C.M.G., is the M.O. in charge of the new institution.

——Mr. Louis Gosselin, K.C., has been appointed Assistant Judge-Advocate-General here in succession to Lt.-Col. F. W. Hubbard, who has resigned.

NEW BRUNSWICK.

FREDERICTON.—Mr. E. H. Scammell, secretary of the Invalided Soldiers' Commission, has been here during an inspection trip of the various hospitals operating under the Commission in the Maritime Provinces.

ST. JOHN.—Lt.-Col. A. A. Powell, who has been appointed Base Commandant of the Siberian unit with Capt. Warner and Lt. Brooks, the officers of the New Brunswick quota of that unit, were the guests of Major Wetmore and the officers of No. 9 Siege Battery, and Capt. Thomson and officers of No. 3 C.G.A., at a dinner.

——The Hon. E. A. Smith, Provincial Minister of Lands and Mines, announces a change of policy in the sale of timber on Crown lands by which the bidding will be on the basis of a straight stumpage rate instead of on a mileage basis. Larger revenue to the Province is expected under the new plan.

MANITOBA PROVINCE.

WINNIPEG. — Instructions have been issued by the Dominion Government for the prosecution of those persons r sponsible for the freight handlers' strike in Western Canada, which still progresses, despite the Order in Council making strikes illegal until the war is over.

—A fire in Grant, Campbell, Carey and Co.'s building here has caused a loss of $375,000.

-On Belgian Flag Day here $31,000 was collected.

DAUPHIN.—Two new 40,000-bushel elevators are being erected.

REGINA.—The Provincial Government will increase the wages of all telephone employees throughout the Province.
——After conference with the Mennonite Bishops in Saskatchewan, Sir Thomas White, Dominion Finance Minister, has addressed a letter to the Mennonite pastors, agreeing to set aside an amount equal to all the Victory Loan subscriptions from Mennonites for hospitals, convalescent homes, and relief purposes, in order to remove the scruples of Mennonites against contributing to military objects.

SASKATOON.—About 360 students and graduates of the University of Saskatchewan have enlisted; 40 have been killed and over 80 wounded. The following military awards have been made:—D.S.O., 2; D.C.M., 4; M.C., 7; M.M., 5.

ALBERTA PROVINCE.

EDMONTON.—During last year there were 541 deaths in this city, or 33 less than the previous year. The rate was eight per 1,000.
——The City Council has fixed the tax rate at 30 mills.

CALGARY.—There was an increase of $100,000 in the building permits issued here during August compared with the figures for the same month a year ago, the total amount being $127,000.

RAYMOND.—Farmers of Coaldale and Chin districts will have no reason to complain of shortage of water next season. The C.P.R. have let a contract for deepening the Coaldale lateral canal, and when completed it will probably have twice its present capacity.

TABER.—The Board of Trade here has been reorganised with Mr. B. Hassett as president, Mr. Maynard vice-president, and Mr. E. Westlake secretary.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

VANCOUVER. — The Northern Construction Co. secured the contract for the P.G.E. extension in the direction of Soda Creek.
——Drilling for oil has begun in the Burnaby district.

NEW WESTMINSTER.—Engaged to be married to a New Westminster soldier, a French girl has written Mayor Gray asking as to the financial position of the family of her fiancé, and requesting other particulars.

PENTICTON.—Penticton, hitherto known as a fruit producing district, is likely to be benefited by recent mining developments.
——A nugget of gold valued at $27 is reported to have been recently discovered in the Leech River district west of here, where some fifty years ago a famous placer rush took place.

PRINCE RUPERT.—The plant of the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Co. here will be enlarged to provide space for 5,000,000 lbs. more fish.
——The biggest catch of codfish ever known on Alaska banks is reported this season. The fish have run closer to shore than in normal years.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

N B.—All letters asking for information or advice must contain an enquiry coupon from the current issue of "Canada," except when the enquirer is an annual subscriber.

Detailed replies by letter are not made except to annual subscribers. Non-subscribers desiring detailed or exhaustive replies by letter must enclose a P.O. for 5s., which will cover three questions.

Copies should be kept of questions, and these should be numbered when more than one is asked.

The fullest particulars of special investment opportunities in Canada mentioned from time to time in the column headed "Investment Notes and Opportunities" are supplied on request to readers who are annual subscribers.

E. S. F. (Durrington Camp).—We have replied by letter.

Sister R. N. (Kingswood).—We have passed your enquiry on to the Canadian Red Cross Society headquarters.

H. G. (Witley).—The answer to your first question is "No," and so far as any official records published show it is also "No" to your second query.

C. V. B. (Bexhill).—(1) You should send us your full name and address as a guarantee of good faith. (2) Write to Lt.-Col. W. A. Bishop, V.C., Argyll House, London, W., through your C.O.

Whiz-Bang (Seaford).—(1) Apply to your Paymaster (see advertisement in this week's Canada). (2) See note on "C.T.S. Cadets to rank as sergeants," which appeared on p. 92 of last week's issue. The new order applies to cadets now on course.

H. M. (Shorncliffe).—(1) In any future communication, send your full name and address, as an earnest of good faith. (2) It is not essential for you to return to France in order to qualify for a commission in the A.S.C., but you should at least hold the rank of corporal. You can be sent to a cadet unit direct from your reserve unit if the War Office ask for you.

DOMINION TRUST ECHO.

Late Managing Director's Suicide

The question of whether W. R. Arnold, the late managing director of the Dominion Trust Company of Canada, took his own life and thereby forfeited his rights under policies with three life insurance companies (New York Life, $100,000; Mutual Life of Canada, $50,000; Sovereign Life of Canada, $10,000) was finally decided by a judgment of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council last week.

Arnold died from a gunshot wound in the heart in his garage at Vancouver in October, 1914. The trial-judge rejected the idea of suicide and gave judgment against the insurance companies. The Court of Appeal took an opposite view. Lord Dunedin now said their lordships were driven to the conclusion that death was self-inflicted by the deliberate intention of the deceased. Judgment must be entered for the insurance companies, and the actions dismissed with costs in the Courts below and before the Board.

C.P.R. CHANGES.

Two New Vice-Presidents Appointed.

Mr. E. W. Beatty, the new president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, announces the appointment of Mr. A. D. Mactier as vice-president in charge of the lines east of Port Arthur with his office in Montreal, and of Mr. D. C. Coleman as vice-president in charge of the line west of Port Arthur with his office at Winnipeg. Both Mr. Mactier and Mr. Coleman will (says Reuter) report to Mr. Grant Hall, vice-president of the company, at Montreal.

Mr. A. D. Mactier was born at Blairgowrie, Scotland, while Mr. D. C. Coleman is a Canadian born. Both have risen from the ranks of the Canadian Pacific service.

Other appointments include the transference of Mr. Alfred Price from the managership to the vice-presidency of the Eastern lines; Mr. Allan Purvis to be general superintendent of the Ontario district in succession to Mr. J. T. Arundle, who has resigned; and Mr. J. M. Woodman to be general superintendent in succession to Mr. Purvis. Mr. Chas. Murphy has been appointed general manager of the Western lines of the C.P.R. in charge of maintenance and operations. The position of assistant general manager has been abolished.

Central Canada Loan and Savings.—The usual quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent. has been declared.

Temiscouata Railway.—The balance of net earnings for the year to June 30 last, after providing for the Prior Lien bond interest and redemption fund, has been retained to meet special improvement expenditure. Consequently no dividend will be paid this year on the provisional certificates issued by the committee.

Six Reasons Why You Should Learn
Dutton's Shorthand

1. Dutton's Shorthand has only 6 rules and 29 characters. Complete theory learned in 24 hours, after which practice quickly gives highest reporting speeds.

3. Dutton's Shorthand is a one-session system. London County Council Institute Dutton students, after three hours tuition weekly last winter, reached a Business Correspondence Speed of 100 words per minute by the end of the session. Apply for list of Dutton Classes to be held in L.C.C. Institutes during the coming winter.

4. Dutton Shorthand writers gained a much higher percentage of passes in the 1918 Spring Examinations of the Royal Society of Arts, London Chamber of Commerce and Union of Educational Institutions than any other system, thus proving the high-speed and easy transcription of "Dutton." Certificates were obtained at all speeds set, 50 to 140 words per minute First Place in the Kingdom in the U.E.I. Examination was gained by a Dutton writer in an entry of 3,000 candidates (all speeds).

5. Dutton Shorthand writers are now engaged in many important Government Offices, and this system has recently been selected—in preference to all others—to be taught in the Women's Royal Naval Service, Women's Royal Air Force, and Queen Mary's Army Auxiliary Corps. In many instances these clerks, beginning as novices, have been transferred for service as qualified Dutton stenographers within four to six weeks.

6. A 16-year-old girl shared the £100 Dutton's Shorthand Scholarship award (July, 1918), by reaching 130 words per minute in five months. The test was set by Sir James Yoxall, M.P.

The "Valet" AutoStrop is the only safety razor with a self-contained automatic stropping device, and for this reason its blades last, on an average, four times as long as those of the "no-stropping" type. Probably because of this advantage, and also of the cheapness of "Valet" blades, the public do not always exercise economy in their use. The following hints will enable users to get even more than the two months' service which is claimed as the average life of a single "Valet" AutoStrop blade.

There is no shortage of "Valet" blades at present, but in view of constantly increasing manufacturing difficulties, reasonable judgment and economy should be exercised in their use.

A QUESTION OF TERMS.

PERHAPS the most dangerous, as well as difficult, crisis in the war has now arisen. There have been other critical periods, but they have mainly been military, and, dark as the outlook has been at times, the Allies' determination always rallied and coalesced under the stimulus and example of the inflexible will of the British Empire. To-day the danger is more subtle. Every possible hypocrisy, subterfuge, and lie which the Prussian can employ to cozen the German tribes and to cause dissension among the Allies is being employed. On the military side we have less cause for apprehension. Admiral Beatty and Marshal Foch are certainly prepared to present their irreducible terms when the Hun comes properly accredited to sue for an armistice. It is from the Allied statesmen and the varied interests they represent that danger may arise. So many rocks and shoals can be seen to-day, with the knowledge that many others will inevitably protrude as discussion gets more detailed, that in the opinion of many the only safety lies in the insistence on unconditional surrender and a general determination to push on until that is obtained. In spite of all pacifist croakings, it is quite certain that the Allies have this in their power to obtain. The temptation to snatch at any seemingly satisfactory peace is very strong; but it must be more strongly resisted. This time we must make sure. Prussianism must be utterly uprooted and cast down, never to rise again. There are no signs that France, the United States, and ourselves are not in complete harmony on this point; but it can be more safely and surely achieved by arms than in the council chamber.

The fourteen points of Mr. Wilson's peace programme are excellent and essential. They are very good medicine for a sick Hun, but they are not all the medicine he has to take. The French have a few cuppings and blisterings to apply, and he must by no means leave the surgery until he has received all the treatment necessary for his deplorable state. Then there is the question of surgeons' fees. So far, we have been too exercised with the health of the patient to think of our fees, but, as Lord Morris well reminds us, we must think of the bawbees. The loss of money, ships, and trade is the least of the damage inflicted on us by "a people with the heart of beasts." In material things Belgium and France and Serbia have suffered grievously more than we. But in the stilled hearts of our million dead—many of them tortured and mocked in their dying agonies—and in the millions mutilated on account of the insensate ambition of a brutish people, we have an abiding loss, entirely irreparable.

We hear it urged that we must not impose on the Hun such terms as will leave him with a rankling sore. In common justice to the living and in duty to our gallant dead, is it not more necessary that we and our Allies should be freed from the rankling sore of an inadequate punishment for all his infamies? If strict justice were done a bloody assize would be held throughout Germany and her confederate assassin States until every offender against the laws of humanity had been brought to trial and strictly judged. Who but a fool concerns himself with the rancour felt by the malefactor when at last he is brought to justice? We may very rightly concern ourselves with the burning resentment of those who have brought the murderer into the dock if he escapes his full sentence through the timidity of his judges.

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

The Enemy Pays. There is sound horse sense about certain American methods in this war which is stimulating and encouraging. We learn from a Times despatch from New York that the Custodian of Enemy Property is preparing a Bill for Congress which will authorise him to pay out the money he obtains from German property to make good American losses from submarines. The amount realisable he estimates at £400,000,000. There is no mention made of holding the money till the end of the war, or balancing it against American property in Germany. So the Huns' submarine atrocities will be liquidated in cash forthwith. Uncle Sam will doubtless see that his property in Germany is most fully accounted for.

There must be a few millions of German property in Canada, but we have seen no official statement regarding it. The United States have given a lead which we might well follow. In England international finance is so complicated and interwoven that vast sums of German money must be still hidden. Penal servitude for concealment after a given date and 25 per cent. to the informer might have a surprising effect.

No Indemnity. Apparently in Canada as well as in England, any hope of obtaining repayment by Germany of our war expenses is neither held nor considered. This is based on the belief that Germany is bankrupt, and the claims of Belgium and France rank first. Lord Morris—who so well steered the ship of State in Newfoundland—is doing good public service in pointing out what "no indemnity" means. As he well puts it, "We have justly mortgaged the nation to purchase a great principle," and Germany must be made to relieve us of part of the huge burden of debt she has hung around our necks.

She can pay to us but a small part, as she has many creditors—but the liquidation of a certain part should be insisted on over a term of years and on a sliding scale which will provide for larger payments as her economic condition improves.

Good Fruits of Victory. Satisfactory as it is to make the Hun give ground, it is a far better reward for all this bitter fighting to see the glow of deliverance on the faces of those liberated from his loathsome domination. All the letters from the Front speak of the joy and gratitude of the civil population at last set free. The colonel of a famous Canadian battalion writes:—

> The reception we have had from the French people, whom we have liberated after four years, is truly touching; it fetches the lump up into one's throat. What a picture I saw. A shrine lit up, the cure offering up his prayers for the deliverance of the people, who were standing out in the rain at dusk, and all of them with a wonderful expression of content and happiness on their faces, and in the midst of their devotion they turned to give a smile of welcome as we passed. I never expected to be in the midst of such emotional scenes in war. The Canadians have had a triumphal procession so far. Wreaths of flowers have been placed upon officers and men as they pass through the liberated towns and villages. The Prince of Wales was over to see us, and he had a chat with some of the people. He is a very fine young chap, and lacking side. We like him very much.
> We have had some tough, uphill work since I saw you last, the worst we have had to contend with since the beginning, but we got there just the same.

A Royal A.D.C.

It was a happy idea to arrange that the future head of our Empire should serve for a time on General Currie's staff, where already he has won golden opinions by his unaffected friendliness and good sense. The head of all Britons here and beyond the Seas is King by the grace of God and also by the will of the people. It is the pride of our Commonwealth of Nations that while our system of government maintains a hereditary kingship, it provides more real liberty for the individual than in republican countries.

The tie of a common Crown is the only possible link that can hold together our far-flung Commonwealth, and we believe that it is for the benefit of all that we should continue to be linked together. The more widely known and esteemed throughout the Empire the members of the Royal House become, the longer will the link endure.

Delivered by the Canadians.

The Canadians have had the good fortune to be the deliverers of some 170,000 Frenchmen and Frenchwomen during their victorious advance of the last few weeks. For the past four years these people have lived under the heel of the Hun, and at his mercy in every respect. How galling has been their lot can be better imagined than described. A significant index of the character of the men from whose hands they have been rescued is to be found in the state of the towns and villages into which the Canadians have come close on the heels of the fleeing foe. Vandalism, incendiarism, filth, and filthiness, and cruelty of every imaginable description—these have been the mark of the Hun, and it has been visible everywhere.

How great the contrast when the Canadians came upon the scene! The welcome showered upon them on all hands was eloquent of much, and it is not likely to be forgotten by General Currie and his veteran troops. Particularly moving must have been the civic reception given to them at Denain, so graphically described by the special correspondents on the spot.

Canada's Airmen.

A further announcement regarding the Canadian Air Force was made by Sir George Perley at Glasgow last Saturday, when the City presented an aeroplane to Canada. Two Canadian squadrons, to be manned and staffed by Canadian officers and men, are being provided to go to the Front as such. Those who know—and who does not?—the keenness and daring of Lt.-Col. Bishop and his officers will receive this announcement with satisfaction, and with the hope that the gallant V.C.'s ambition to bomb Berlin may yet be realised.

In a letter read by Lord Desborough, Lord Weir, the Air Minister, said no praise could be too great for the achievements of Canadians against the enemy. He emphasised the vital influence which the Royal Air Force ("destined one day to become our first line of defence") is able to exercise in determining the length of the war, and pointed out that our glorious series of victories has brought about a situation wherein our operations by air can be rendered even more valuable than before. Unfortunately, our squadrons on the Western Front are hardly likely to have the same chance as their comrades in Palestine recently had, when they played so large a part in the rout of the Turkish forces. But they may be depended upon to keep up their own fine record.

Lord Beaverbrook's Resignation.

The announcement that, owing to ill-health, Lord Beaverbrook has found it necessary to resign his post of Minister of Information will be received with sincere regret by the great majority of Canadians. Naturally, they have been proud of a fellow-countryman who has come so prominently to the front during the stress and troubles of the Great War. Few public men in England have so unsparingly sacrificed their health during the past four years.

His constant and varied activities have greatly overtaxed a not over-strong physique, and the doctors now insist on a rest which is long overdue. Everyone will share the Prime Minister's hope for a speedy recovery, and that some opportunity may then be found which will enable his "great energy and ability" to be again used in the service of the State.

A Difficult Problem.

Among the many complex and difficult problems that will have to be met once demobilisation begins is the case of the junior officer. Boys of eighteen who had only commenced their training for their professional career in their college course will be just where they were at the age of twenty-two. But their ideas have changed. They have acquired tastes and habits which are more expensive than they had at eighteen, and they will want to earn enough to enjoy those things they have been accustomed to while drawing their officers' pay.

But how are they to earn money before they have learnt their professions? The Hohenzollern and all the Boches are going to be very heartily cursed during the very difficult years that are ahead of so many of our young men who return to their interrupted studies.

Soldiers' Settlement.

The development of the schemes of the Soldiers' Settlement Board for placing returned men, who desire to take up farming seriously, on suitable homesteads, appears to be progressingly satisfactorily. The Hon. J. A. Calder, Minister of Immigration and Colonisation in the Dominion Cabinet, during a tour of the Western Provinces to consult the Provincial Ministers in regard to systematic co-operation and co-ordination in the matter between the Dominion and the Provinces, made the important statement that the legislation contemplated "involves the settlement of privately-owned lands, abandoned farms, and leased farms, and the employment of both Provincial and Federal credits for the purpose."

As previously pointed out in these columns, any settlement scheme would be unsatisfactory which did not make use of some of the millions of absentee-owned or untilled acreage which is situated within easy reach of existing railways, schools, and villages. The amount of profitably cultivatable free grant land still at the disposal of the Dominion or Provincial Governments is mainly located in districts at present more or less remote. To a minority the life of isolation, exploration, and enterprise led by the old-time pioneer may still appeal, but not to men with families or about to marry.

Progress Being Made.

In the meantime some progress has been made, particularly in the Province of Ontario. Already nearly 1,000 returned soldiers, most of them with farming experience, have been provided for through the Settlement Board, and loans aggregating $1,000,000 advanced to tide them over until crops can be produced.

It is interesting to note that the Dominion Minister of Immigration and Colonisation looks forward to the machinery organised in connection with the Soldiers' Settlement Board being useful in providing for the renewed stream of settler immigrants from Britain which may be expected to be resumed in greater strength when peace conditions permit of normal transportation facilities.

Canada and Siberia.

Canada's interest—or prospective interest—in Siberia is not confined to military operations. The great land across the Pacific is also being looked to to furnish fresh trade opportunities after the war. With this in view, an important step has been taken in conjunction with the sending of an expeditionary force to Siberia. A Canadian economic commission has been appointed, consisting of Mr. C. F. Just, Canadian Trade Commissioner to Russia, Mr. W. D. Wilgress, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Vladivostok, Col. J. S. Dennis, liaison officer to the Canadian Siberian Expedition, and Mr. Ross Owen, Canadian Pacific Railway transportation officer to Russia.

This is not, of course, the first time Canada has examined the trade conditions in Siberia—a country in very many respects resembling the Dominion. Mr. Just and Mr. Wilgress have already drawn attention to the opportunities presented to Canadian manufacturers and other business men. Special geographical and economic factors tend to make the Eastern section a region apart, and, with its development, there will exist there a growing demand for agricultural machinery and implements in particular.

THREE MORE CANADIAN V.C.'s.

Sergeant, Corporal and Private.

For most conspicuous bravery and self-sacrifice when, during an enemy counter-attack, his platoon was isolated. Thereupon Sgt. Spall took a Lewis gun and, standing on the parapet, fired upon the advancing enemy, inflicting very severe casualties. He then came down the trench directing the men into a sap seventy-five yards from the enemy. Picking up another Lewis gun, this gallant N.C.O. again climbed the parapet, and by his fire held up the enemy. It was while holding up the enemy at this point that he was killed.

Sgt. Spall deliberately gave his life in order to extricate his platoon from a most difficult situation, and it was owing to his bravery that the platoon was saved.

For most conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty in attack, when, despite severe wounds, he refused to withdraw. He rushed an enemy machine-gun post single-handed, killed the entire crew, and turned the gun on the enemy.

Later, with two others, he attacked another enemy machine-gun post, and succeeded in putting the gun out of action.

Cpl. Miner then rushed single-handed an enemy bombing post, bayoneting two of the garrison and putting the remainder to flight He was mortally wounded in the performance of this gallant deed.

2075467 Pte. Thomas Dinesen, Quebec R.

For most conspicuous and continuous bravery displayed during ten hours of hand-to-hand fighting, which resulted in the capture of over a mile of strongly garrisoned and stubbornly defended enemy trenches.

Five times in succession he rushed forward alone, and single-handed put hostile machine guns out of action, accounting for twelve of the enemy with bomb and bayonet. His sustained valour and resourcefulness inspired his comrades at a very critical stage of the action, and were an example to all.

THE NEW V.C.'s.

The late Sgt. Spall was born at Ealing, Middlesex, on March 5, 1890, and enlisted in the 90th Winnipeg Rifles at Winnipeg on July 28, 1915. He was a Customs broker. He went to France in February, 1916, and was killed on August 13 last. His father, Mr. Charles Spall, resides at 2642, St. Urbain Street, Montreal.

The late Cpl. Miner was born at Cedar Springs, Ont., on June 24, 1891, and was a farmer. He enlisted in the 161st Bn. at London, Ont., on December 1, 1915, and went to France in November, 1916. He was awarded the Croix de Guerre on September 14, 1917, and died of wounds on August 8 last. His father, Mr. John Miner, lives at Ridgetown, Ont.

Pte. Dinesen, who is now training for his commission at the Canadian Training School, Bexhill-on-Sea, was born at Rungsted, Denmark, on August 9, 1892, and enlisted at Montreal on June 26, 1917. He has been serving in France with the Royal Highlanders of Canada since March 10, 1918, and has been awarded the Croix de Guerre. Before enlistment he was a civil engineer.

GENERAL CURRIE AND COMING VICTORY.

Replying to a message of congratulation from the people of Ontario, Lt.-Gen. Currie has cabled to the Premier, Sir William Hearst :—

" Please accept my sincere thanks for your kind message, which is much appreciated by all ranks. After four years of gallant and most successful fighting, during which many hardships and privation have had to be endured, we are at last in sight of final and complete victory, and the attainment of a peace which will ensure the safety of the civilised world against despotism."

In reply to General Turner's message of congratulation on the fourth anniversary of the landing of the Canadians in England, General Currie says :—" Very many thanks from myself and the Corps which I have the honour to command for your kind message, which we all deeply appreciate."

Among the " Our Day " donations announced from the Red Cross Headquarters are £82,176 from Canada, including £20,544 from the Nova Scotia branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society, £30,816 from the Manitoba branch, and £30,816 from the Saskatchewan branch; £6,000 from Newfoundland; and £5,000 from Lady Strathcona.

When peace returns " Canada " will require to increase its staff. There will be openings which offer good opportunities to initiative and ability. The General Manager will be very glad to discuss the matter either personally (by appointment), or by letter with anyone interested

RETURN OF SIR EDWARD KEMP.

Canadian People's Determination to See War Through.

Sir Edward Kemp, Minister of Overseas Military Forces of Canda, has returned to London after spending a month in Canada. In the course of his visit Sir Edward discussed with his colleagues in the Government at Ottawa various matters relating to the Canadian Overseas Forces, and before sailing from New York he spent a day with the Canadian Prime Minister, Sir Robert Borden, at Hot Springs, Va.

Sir Edward returns once more impressed with the enthusiastic interest shown by the people of Canada as a whole in the prosecution of the war, having seen on all sides evidences of Canada's organised determination to see the conflict through to that peace with honour which to-day permeates all the fighting people of the Allies.

As a result of his trip, Sir Edward's health, which, at the time of his departure six weeks ago, was a subject of some anxiety, is to-day very greatly improved.

CLOSING IN UPON VALENCIENNES.

Canadians' Hold on the City—Feeding the Released Civilians.

WITHIN one week the Canadian Corps has advanced on the Valenciennes front a depth of 23 miles, and has captured 28 towns and villages, in which there are thousands of French civilians (writes Mr. Fred James, the official correspondent of the Overseas Ministry on Friday, October 25).

At the present time the Corps is feeding over 73,000 of the people freed from German rule entirely from its own resources, and has organised and established a special department for providing comforts for the women and children who are still living in these centres. Add to the huge family of 73,000 civilians the thousands of fighting troops that make up the Corps, and it can readily be appreciated that to meet the combined needs of both presents a problem that is one of the biggest the Canadian authorities in the field have had to face in their long experience in France. Yet it is being handled smoothly and satisfactorily to all concerned.

In the large town of Denain there were over 20,000 civilians, who greeted our men with indescribable enthusiasm when they entered the place on the heels of the retreating Germans. As soon as the occupation of Denain had been definitely established, a well-known French-Canadian officer was sent forward as the Town Commandant. Earlier in the war this officer was awarded the Legion of Honour by the French authorities for gallantry in the field, and when the civilians saw the ribbon of this Order on his tunic, and found that he was a French-Canadian, he was given a welcome and reception that could not have been more demonstrative or sincere to the President of the French Republic or the King of the British Empire. The men shook his hands until his arms ached, and the women kissed him in the most liberal and unabashed manner. He is now regarded by them as a kind of President or King. His word is law, and his instructions are obeyed with a cheerful willingness.

The Canadian Corps have, to date, occupied the northern portion of Valenciennes, and are continuing their advance beyond that town.

"DELIRIOUS ENTHUSIASM" IN DENAIN.

There was an impressive scene in Denain on Sunday morning (says Reuter's special correspondent), when, on the invitation of the Mayor, the Prince of Wales, General Sir Arthur Currie, and the General Officer Commanding the Canadian Division whose troops were the first to enter this place when the Germans were driven out, attended High Mass and afterwards took part in a commemorative procession in which a large force of Canadian troops, headed by their bands, marched through the streets. The occasion was marked by scenes of almost delirious enthusiasm.

NEAR THE BELGIAN BOUNDARY.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 23.

This morning our troops occupy the line of the Scheldt Canal, immediately north of Valenciennes, and are closing into the area contained within the angle the Canal makes in its sharp bend north-west at Conde. We are, in fact, only a few miles from the Belgian boundary.

Since we crossed the Canal de la Sensée, south of Douai, many of our troops have marched over 30 miles over almost impassable roads, and in miserable weather. To-day the sun shines for the first time in ten days, but our men have been consistently cheerful, for in their progress they have witnessed at last the fruits of four years' fighting. They have seen tens of thousands of French people released from slavery, and immensely valuable property, in the way of coal mines and factories, restored to the French nation.

This advance has not been without opposition. Our aim has been to prevent the enemy getting away at leisure, and we have trodden on his heels day by day, our outposts feeling their way along and driving in his rearguards. Thus his main body has never been more than four to six hours ahead, and we have prevented his wrecking the country in his passage. Villages are intact, but systematically sacked and looted, while the dirt and stench the Hun leaves behind him are indescribable. Everywhere he has blown up railway and road bridges, and left huge craters at corner roads.

All this adds to the difficulty of getting up transport and supplies, but the men have received their rations regularly, thanks to the fine exertions of the Army Service Corps, while the Canadian Engineers, Railway Troops, and Labour Battalions are working feverishly in the restoration of communications.

The enemy is clinging obstinately to the right bank of the canal, no doubt as a pivot for his retirement elsewhere, though our airmen report that the city itself is evacuated except for a few posts. We could enter it from where we are now firmly established on the canal to the north, this position having been stormed by a Toronto battalion this morning, but this would afford the enemy an excuse for shelling the town. Also, he still holds the right bank of the canal south-west as far as Miang and Thiant, where English troops on the right of the Canadian Corps are meeting a strong body of resistance. Canadian troops hold the left bank opposite this line, thus forming a right flank for the Corps. Another unit is pushing around Valenciennes through Beuvrages to the canal of the north, and Canadian troops are new working through the Forest de Raismes in the direction of Conde, and are also closing down on the canal at Escaupont. A day or two may see our outposts established on Belgian soil.

The only complaint our men have is that they are getting perilously far from their leave bases. They begin to turn their eyes towards Brussels and Antwerp.

Canal System Flooded.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 26.

As reported several days ago, Canadian troops are in the western outskirts of Valenciennes, but that is far from being in the city itself, for the Boches have now flooded the canal system, and there is a wide watery waste between us. Some adventurous spirits among the Canadians sought to cross into the city from the south in a boat, but returned with her sides riddled by machine-gun bullets.

THE CHATEAU OF BOURLON.
Canadian War Records Photograph.

The German engineers certainly know their job. All through these operations they have skilfully made the most of the opportunities provided by the canal system for flooding the country. Apparently now they have dammed across the Scheldt and the Canal de Conde in the neighbourhood of Conde, backing water up well south of Valenciennes. So we sit opposite one another sniping and machine-gunning, with an occasional duel of artillery, though we are scrupulously careful not to damage the cemetery or villages, concentrating our fire on communications and areas of support. The enemy still controls the dominating heights east and south-east of Valenciennes, with, in front of him, the flooded area. Pressure from either north or south may make him fall back any day to what seems his prepared strong line between Mons and Maubeuge, or, in other words, between the water basins of the Scheldt and the Sambre.

Meanwhile, the Canadian Corps is better billeted than ever before in its history.

Prince of Wales as Staff Officer.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 27.

The Canadian Corps is charmed with its young Staff officer, the Prince of Wales. His simple manners, keen interest and gay youth win him friends wherever he goes, and this is pretty well everywhere. For from dawn to dark he visits divisions, brigades and battalions. It is an open secret that he is never so happy as when up in the forward area, and his A.D.C. must be the most worried man in France. He pops in unexpectedly, and his natural vivacity soon sets everybody at ease. He bids fair to become the most popular young officer in the Corps.

Commenting on the embarrassment caused by one of his sudden incursions, he remarked, "They cannot be afraid of me; it is only the name." It is a happy augury that our future King should be loved and honoured rather than feared.

CANADIAN CAVALRY'S HARD FIGHTING.

Fort Garry Horse Enter Le Cateau.

Nearly two weeks ago British infantry occupied Le Cateau, which was a centre of strategical importance to the enemy, but the first troops to enter the town were patrols of the Fort Garry Horse, a regiment of the Canadian Cavalry Brigade, on the night of October 9-10. Their entry marked the attainment of the final objective given to the Brigade on the morning of October 9, and the culmination of a brilliant operation in which all the four units played a conspicuous part.

In less than twenty-four hours the Canadian cavalrymen, with other troops, advanced eight miles on a three mile front, cleared that section of the country of the enemy, and thus opened the road for the infantry to forge ahead without hindrance, except from a limited volume of shell fire, into Le Cateau; captured 400 prisoners, several artillery pieces of different calibres, a few trench mortars, tank rifles, two motor cars, 100 machine guns; and killed a large number of Germans.

There were six villages between the point where the Brigade went into action and Le Cateau, in all of which the French civilians were still living, and these hailed the Canadians as their deliverers. Officers and troopers were almost pulled from their horses as they passed up the streets by the women, who seemed to believe that the best way they could show their gratitude was to kiss every khaki-clad figure, mounted or dismounted, irrespective of rank or anything else. They were delirious with joy. They laughed and cried almost at the same time. In one village men and women rushed out of their houses with cups of coffee and bottles of wine while machine-gun bullets from enemy positions ahead spat about the street. Immediate danger seemed of small consequence in the face of the fact that deliverance had come after four years of serfdom, which the entry of the Canadians had brought to an end. One officer of Lord Strathcona's Horse was pulled from his charger and forced to submit to a heavy barrage of kisses and embraces.

A Romantic Experience.

This advance to Le Cateau is quite the most romantic experience the Canadian Cavalry Brigade has had so far in the present war. But the incidents with the French villages were only pleasant, or well-meant punctuations in an operation that produced some spectacular features, such as dashing charges on small garrisons that tried to prevent the carrying out of our plan. Several times the troopers used their sabres generously. One squadron of the Fort Garry Horse charged at the gallop into Gattigny Wood, where machine guns were making as much noise as a busy boiler factory produces, and before the wood was finally cleared, approximately 100 Huns were killed with the sabre, and those who escaped death, numbering 200, were taken prisoners. The wood and neighbouring ground also yielded 40 machine-guns, one 5.9 howitzer, one tank rifle, one trench mortar, and a small quantity of miscellaneous material. An officer of the Fort Garrys said that he counted in and about the wood 54 dead Germans, all victims of the sabre.

An officer with a troop of the Fort Garrys in another case galloped down on a nest of 15 machine-guns. The Boche stood to his guns for a time and directed such a fire on the charging cavalrymen that soon nearly all the horses were casualties. Undaunted, the troopers pressed forward on foot. By this time the Huns' nerves could not stand any more, so they turned and fled, and kept going eastward until rounded up by supporting forces on the right.

To the left of the Bertry-Clery road machine-gun fire spat angrily from a little factory building and farmhouse. A squadron of the Lord Strathcona Horse was told off to stop the annoyance. There was a charge, skilful wielding of sabres, and the 42 Germans who were not killed were taken prisoners, and the five machine-guns that had been used to help defend them were captured.

As the Royal Canadian Dragoons were advancing on Reumont waves of the enemy were seen to be coming forward with the evident intention of delivering a counter-attack. The Dragoons first dismounted and used their rifles, and then finished off the job with their sabres. One sergeant and three men in this regiment charged a small pocket with three machine-guns in it, and netted 30 prisoners, among whom was an officer and three sergeant-majors.

During the whole action the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery were engaging targets with excellent results. In the time the gunners were in action they fired over 2,800 rounds of ammunition.

A squadron of the R.C.D.'s cut off a party of the enemy retiring from Reumont, and salvaged one officer, twenty other ranks, and three machine-guns from the wreckage after the charge with drawn swords.

The Garrys entered Reumont during their advance in the afternoon, and the Strathconas captured Troisvilles about the same time. The total casualties in the Brigade—of which very few were killed—was well under half the number of prisoners captured.

A MODEL CANADIAN Y.M.C.A. HUT.

The Beaver Hut and Its Many Activities.

THERE is only one fault to be found with the Beaver Hut, the Canadian Y.M.C.A. rendezvous and rallying point for all Canadians who come to London from France or from the big training camps. The Beaver Hut could be trebled in size and accommodation and yet prove inadequate to the needs of the moment.

Even with this apparent handicap, the Beaver Hut is a model of all that a Y.M.C.A. hut should be. Its accommodation and the arrangements made for the welfare of the troops are in every way excellent; indeed, they cannot be excelled in any other Hut in London. I have spoken to many men in order to get their opinions on the Hut, and in every case the answer has been substantially the same. " It can't be beat," they say, in the terse language of men who have definitely made up their minds on the subject.

"It Can't be Beat."

That is the soldiers' tribute to this great effort on the part of the Canadian Y.M.C.A., and as the Hut has been built to satisfy the soldier, the verdict is entirely satisfactory.

On Sunday evening I heard a very fine tribute paid to the Overseas work of the Y.M.C.A. Two men on leave from France, one from Nova Scotia, the other from Nelson, B.C., were holding forth on the merits of the " Y." " Those fellows back in Canada who kick at the work of the ' Y,' " said the Nova Scotian, " were evidently men who were in France before the Y.M.C.A. got properly going. I can tell you that they are doing fine work over there. Why, even before the shell holes around Cambrai were dry the ' Y ' people were in the town and had opened up temporary branches." The other heartily agreed. These men had been right through the recent heavy fighting, from Amiens to Arras, and from Cambrai on to the outskirts of Valenciennes, and knew what they were talking about.

A SCENE FROM " WE SHOULD WORRY,"

"Y" Work on the Home Front.

If the Y.M.C.A. is doing magnificent work among the troops in France, in no less a degree is it making good in London and the home camps. And here let me say a word about the men who form the personnel of the Y.M.C.A. Their job is, on the whole, not unpleasant, but there are occasions when thoughtlessness on the part of the men they seek to help renders their job very difficult. After all, the Y.M.C.A. officers are only human, and they perform their duties with tact and wonderful patience.

The Beaver Hut was erected this summer at an approximate cost (building and equipment) of $120,000, and so far as one can judge, every cent of that money has been well invested. The genesis of the Beaver Hut may be said to date back to Col. Gerald Birks' trip to Canada last June, whither he went to assist in the big " Y " campaign, which had for its object the raising of money for work in England and Overseas.

Although the formal opening of the Hut only took place on Wednesday—the day Canada goes to press, and, therefore, too late for a report to appear this week—it has actually been " carrying on " for the past three months. The experience gained in that period has given the executive committee a good idea of the limitations of the Hut, for so popular has the rendezvous become that were it possible for the place to be replanned, it would certainly be on a basis of treble the present accommodation.

A Tour Round the Hut.

The Beaver Hut emanates cheer and good fellowship, due in large measure to the infallible kindness, courtesy and patience of the officials and the small army of nearly 600 blue-frocked ladies who act as voluntary workers at the Hut. The lay-out of the Hut is well arranged. On the right, as one enters the hall, there is an enquiry and money-changing bureau, and here also the soldier in need of lodging can book his bed (at ninepence a night), and leave his money and valuables in safe keeping. To the left is the handsome billiard room, the four tables of which are in constant demand at fourpence for the half-hour.

The main lounge—where one may rest, or write, or listen to music, which is a feature during each afternoon—leaves nothing to be desired in the way of comfort, and at the extreme end of the lounge is the "shop," which does a thriving business in tobacco, cigarettes and candies, retailed at minimum cost to all-comers in uniform. Five hundred men on an average make purchases at the shop each day. This feature, together with the enquiry bureau and billiard room, is under the direction of Mrs. George Davidson.

Upstairs there is the smallest, but possibly the most popular, room of all—the "quiet room"—for reading and writing, which on occasion is given over to the entertainment of the boys at afternoon tea. Here, also, are to be found Home newspapers. These are eagerly devoured by the boys, but more are urgently needed.

The dining room is always filled during regular hours, that is, from 7 in the morning until 9.30 at night. There men can, for ninepence, secure a rationed meal, consisting of meat, vegetables, bread, sweets and tea—a menu which, from the point of view of quality and cheapness, the average housewife would consider with covetous envy. The dining room is really open for the full round of the 24-hour clock, as bona fide travellers are entitled to secure meals at whatever hour of the night they arrive in London.

The dining room, together with the modern and well-managed kitchen, is under the direction of Mrs. Sturgis, and somewhere around 2,800 meals are served daily. This wonderful service is only possible through the indefatigable labours of the voluntary staff. Whenever I have visited the Hut there has been a long queue waiting for tickets to sample those good things which are almost beyond the reach of civilians.

The Dormitories and Kit Store.

The dormitories are located in the basement, and the ventilation of these rooms is a great compliment to the work of the architect, Mr. S. Phillips Dales, M.S.A. The dormitories contain a total of 148 beds, and there are never any vacant beds. The beds cost ninepence a night (which entitles a man to the use of the baths and showers), and are usually fully booked by noon each day. The shower baths are tremendously popular, and other conveniences include a barber shop and shoe-shine parlour.

The large kit store is one of the busiest departments of the Hut, so much so, indeed, that the accommodation is being enlarged to take care of 700 kits, which is done entirely free of charge. It naturally goes against the grain when, as frequently occurs, men have to be turned away because there is no further bed or kit store accommodation. To cope with this difficulty, which daily becomes more pronounced, the Beaver Hut is linked up with the Maple Leaf Clubs and other Y.M.C.A.s by a motor transport service. A car is available between 10.15 p.m. and 3 a.m. and collects the personnel of such " overflow " and distributes them to Huts where beds are known to be available.

There are other valuable features, including the Social Welfare and the Leave Departments. The activities of the former I described in Canada last week, and at some future date I hope to refer to the excellent work being accomplished by Lt. J. F. Mountain's section.

Some Prominent Beaver Hut Workers.

The organisation of the work of the Beaver Hut is naturally in many hands—executive, heads of departments, captains of shifts, etc. Capt. James S. Summers, as Supervisor of the London Area, and Lt. Walter C. Rean, as business manager, have an important part in its success. The executive officers are Capt. Robert J. Moore (Officer-in-Charge), Miss Helen FitzRandolph (Lady Superintendent), Lt. T. Gordon Mason (Social Officer), and Lt. J. F. Mountain (Leave Department).

The voluntary women's organisation is in charge of the following:—Lady Superintendent, Miss Helen FitzRandolph; hon. secretary, Mrs. Henry Sturgis; advisory committee, Lady Perley, Mrs. Alfred Cole, the Marchioness of Donegall, and Mrs. John Hope.

Miss Marjory Plumer, Mrs. Donald Macmaster, Lady Sybil Grey, Mrs. Wolfe, Miss Roome, Mrs. Walter Rogers (Victoria), Lady Evelyn Farquhar, Mrs. George Bird, Lady Barclay, Lady Kennard, Miss Bowie, Lady Beaverbrook, Mrs. Gillman, Miss Aldred, Mrs. Hume Blake (Toronto), Mrs. Willie Dobell (Quebec), Miss Caulfield, Miss Springbett, Miss Loveridge, Mrs. Crosskey, and Miss Cunnington. All the night shifts are headed by Miss Bradley.

This issue of " Canada " is increased by 8 pages in order to enable us to give the full and complete casualty lists, our biographical notes on officers and all the regular military news of the week. This is the only newspaper providing this service for Canadians in khaki. The postage on this issue to addresses in the United Kingdom is ½d.; Canada, 1d.; Abroad, 1½d.

Overseas Military Forces of Canada.

Lt. Harold J. Blair, Sask. (killed), was formerly an undergraduate at the Saskatchewan University, and came overseas as a private in the 195th Bn.

Lt. William E. Brown, C. Ont. (killed), came overseas from Toronto with the 227th Bn., and was a graduate of Osgoode Hall. He leaves a widow and child.

Lt. William J. Donald, W. Ont. (killed on September 28), came overseas as a private with Lt. Col. Gunn's Montreal battalion. He was 24, received his commission last June, and in civil life was an employe of Tooke Bros., Ltd. His widowed mother lives at 2345, St. Urbain Street, Montreal.

Lt. William Forbes Ferrier, M.M., E. Ont. (killed on October 12), was 23, and the only son of the late Mr. Alex. Ferrier, of Leith

Capt. J. R. Ferris, Alta. (died October 12), was chief instructor in a Corps Bombing School from July to November, 1917, when he was sent to England to do special work at the Guards' Bombing School for four months, afterwards returning to the Corps. Capt. Ferris had completed the Senior Officers' Course at Aldershot just a month prior to his death, and had been back in France but two weeks when he succumbed to acute heart disease following influenza. One of Capt. Ferris' inventions, a degree scale for the Stokes gun, is in use, and two others have been accepted by the War Office for testing. He had lost one brother in the war and two others are still serving. His widow, formerl, Miss Helen Cawthorpe, of Thamesford, Ont., has been engaged in hospital work in London for some months. He enlisted as a private, and his military career was one of great promise. His mother resides in Edmonton.

Lt. Allan Gray, B.C. (killed on September 28), was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Gray, of Burford, Ont., and was 29 years old.

Lt. William T. Hall, C. Ont. (killed), belonged to Gerrard [illegible], Toronto, and came overseas as a signaller in the 75th Bn [illegible] Alfred C Hannaford, M C., Que. (died of wounds on October 3), came overseas as a ranker with a Montreal unit, and was awarded his M.C. for gallantry at Vimy Ridge last April. He was 23, and before enlistment was employed by Messrs. John Millen & Sons, Ltd.

Lt. Francis R Harker-Thomas, C. Ont. (killed on September 27), was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Harker-Thomas, of Brynmyrddin, Kew Gardens, London. He was 33

Lt. Frank W. Harris, C. Ont. (killed on September 29), was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harris, of Ottawa, and brother of the Rev. Fr. P. Harris. Deceased, who was an athlete of repute prior to joining his father in business, enlisted in the C.A.S.C. in 1916. At the close of 1917 he was given his commission, and had joined his new unit only three weeks before his death.

Lt. R. Ross Hartman, C. Ont. attd. T.M.B. (killed), was the third son of Mr. J. R. Hartman, formerly postmaster of Aurora, Ont. He came overseas last year.

Lt. (A/Capt.) T. Ball Inglis, B.C. (killed on October 18), was for nearly four years city editor of the Victoria (B.C.) Daily Times, and came overseas in 1916 with the 11th C.M.R. A native of Middlesbrough, Yorkshire, he had a wide knowledge of modern languages. He had previously been wounded.

Lt. Alex. S. Macfarlane, C.T.M. Btty. (killed on September 27), was the son of Mrs. Macfarlane, of Chatham, Ont., was 22, and had been in France 18 months. He was slightly wounded on September 2.

Lt. John MacKay, E. Ont. (died of wounds on October 3), was a native of Stornoway, Scotland, and has a sister living there. Prior to enlistment he was a steward at the Prince Albert Penitentiary, Sask.

Lt. James McDonald, B.C (killed), belonged to West Point Grey, Vancouver, his address being 4309, Thirteenth Avenue. He emigrated from Forres, Scotland, two years before the outbreak of war, and enlisted as a private in the 72nd Seaforths in September, 1916. He was wounded in 1917 whilst bringing in a wounded man, and spent several months in hospital. His company O.C. says of him :—"He was a big man among big men." He leaves a widow and three sons.

Lt. G. W. Megan, Que. (killed), belonged to Toronto, and enlisted with the 148th Bn. A graduate of Toronto University, he was on the staff of a Montreal journal at the time of his enlistment.

Capt. Edward Ramsay Milne, D.C.M., Alta. (drowned at sea on October 10 through enemy action), was a passenger on the Irish mail steamer Leinster, and was on his way back to England from a visit to his father, Mr. W. N. Milne, of Cashel, County Galway. Deceased, who was formerly farming at Wadena, Sask., where he belonged to the 20th Border Horse, enlisted in the 32nd Bn. in September, 1914, reaching England the following February, and France a month later. He had served three years at the Front, and was wounded in February, 1916, May, 1917, and on August 9 last. He had won the D.C M. and Bar, being the first Canadian to secure the double decoration. He leaves a widow. The funeral was the largest ever seen in Galway.

Lt. Robert Morton, B.C., who died at Templeton House Hospital, Roehampton, on October 19 of wounds received on August 9, was 39 years of age.

Lt. P. Richard Pae, C. Ont. (died of wounds on October 1), was 27, and the son of Mrs. Pae, of Barrie, Ont. He was a teller in the Sault Ste Marie branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce when he enlisted with the 119th Bn.

Capt. F. M. Pulford, Man. (killed on October 1), was the only son of Mr. Pulford, wholesale druggist, 86, Lenore Street, Winnipeg. He was an original member of the 27th (City of Winnipeg) Bn., and received his commission about 18 months ago. A civil engineer by profession he was in civil life employed on survey work in North-Western Canada.

Lt. G. H. Rochester, C. Ont. (died of wounds on September 28), was the son of the Rev W. M. Rochester, Toronto, general secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, and was the second member of the Rochester family to give his life. Deceased was 24, and is survived by a widow and son, resident at Dauphin, Man.

Capt. Andrew Ross, M.C., C.A.M.C. (killed on September 29), belonged to Huron, Ont., and graduated at Toronto University in 1904. He came overseas in April, 1916, as a private in the C.A.M.C., and went to France the following June. After serving with a Field Ambulance, he was given his commission in July, 1917. Since then he had served in a General Hospital and a Field Ambulance. Capt. Andrew Ross's name should not be confused with that of Capt. Albert Ross, M.C., C.A.M.C. (of Blue Mountain, N.S.), who is serving with No. 15 General at Taplow.

Lt. Edgar Rule, C.M.R. (killed on September 29), was the only son of Mrs. Rule, of Harrogate, and The Nook, Long Lane, Finchley. Deceased was 21.

Lt.-Col. Charles Turner van Straubenzee, Cav. (killed on October 9), was the youngest son of the late Col. B. van Straubenzee, of Kingston. He was 42, was gazetted to a commission in the R.C.D. in April, 1898, and received promotion in November, 1905 (captain), January, 1911 (major), and July, 1915 (lt.-colonel). He served in the South African War with the 1st C.M.R., and was awarded the medal with five clasps. For some time he was commandant of the School of Cavalry at St. Jean, P.Q.

Lt. Fred. A. Werden, C. Ont. (died of wounds), belonged to Mimico, Ont., and was wounded in August. He came overseas with the "Pals" Battalion.

Lt. (A/Capt.) Wilfrid Whyte, M.C., Alta. (died of wounds on October 21), was born in Leeds, P.Q., and in civil life was an accountant. He served with the Strathcona Horse two years as a ranker, was wounded, and returned to Canada, where he was given a commission in the 194th Bn. (Edmonton Highlanders). He was awarded the M.C. in September for gallantry and leadership.

Major J. C. Lawrence Young, Alta. (killed on October 13), was the son of Lt.-Col. James Young, R.A.M.C., of 6, Alexander Square, S.W.3, and was 23. He was on a Divisional Staff, and was married in Paris on August 23 last to Miss Phyllis Ernestine Beaufort, of Ottawa. Deceased enlisted as a private in an Edmonton unit, but came overseas as a lieutenant. In 1915, while serving with an Alberta battalion, he was wounded and reported killed. After furlough to Canada he returned to England as second in command of the 202nd Bn.

Imperial Forces.

Capt. (Rev.) John Dall, B.D., H.L.I. (died suddenly at Secunderabad, India, on October 12, at the age of 37), was formerly Professor of Ecclesiastical History at Queen's University, Kingston. He was a graduate in Arts and Divinity of St. Andrews University, and before going to Canada was minister of Rothesay New Parish Church. He obtained a combatant's commission whilst on his vacation in 1916. His parents reside at Cupar, Fife, and he leaves a widow and child. Mrs. Dall has during the war been acting as assistant professor of Greek at St. Andrews University.

Lt. Gordon Oliver Forsyth, M.G.C. (killed), enlisted in the 182nd Battalion, and came overseas with an Imperial draft in June, 1917, obtaining his commission the following September. He was a 1917 graduate of Toronto University, and was engaged in teaching before joining up.

Sec. Lt. Harry W. Press, R.A.F., was killed on September 23 in an aeroplane accident while on patrol duty over the North Sea. He enlisted in the Cyclists about two years ago, later transferred to the R.A.F., and came overseas last April. His father, Capt. W. J. Press, is now in Atlantic City supervising some construction work for the United States Government.

Capt. Francis Granger Quigley, D.S.O., M.C. (and Bar), R.A.F. (died on Sunday, October 20, at Liverpool), was the youngest son of the late Mr. R. J. Quigley, of Toronto. A second-year student at Queen's University, Kingston, he enlisted as a private in the Engineers in May, 1915, and subsequently secured his commission in the R.F.C. In that branch he had had a brilliant career, being promoted flight commander and temporary captain last January. All his honours were awarded during the first six months of the present year—the M.C. in February, a Bar in May, and the D.S.O. in June. He was wounded in the ankle in March, and it is presumed he was on the point of embarking when he was stricken with fatal illness. He was 23, and three brothers are on service.

Sec. Lt. W. Percy Smith, R.A.F. (killed), was serving in Egypt when he met his death. In September, 1915, he enlisted as a private in the 9th Field Ambulance, prior to which he was employed by the Grand Trunk as a mechanical draughtsman. His parents live at 155, St. Lawrence Street, St. Lambert, P.Q.

Sec. Lt. Roy T. Steward, R.A.F. (killed), joined the Air Force in Vancouver in October, 1917, trained at Toronto and Texas, and reached England last April. His home was at Kitsilano, B.C.

Sec. Lt. E. De Wind, R. Irish Rifles (killed), was previously reported "missing, believed killed." He was the son of Mrs. De Wind, of Cumber, Ireland, and was on the staff of the Ulster Bank, Cavan, prior to going to Canada. He enlisted on the outbreak of war, gaining his commission in October, 1917.

WOUNDED, MISSING, AND PRISONERS.

Lt. C. R. Hall, Que. and R.A.F. (prisoner), is now at Ingolstadt.

Lt. J. H. Molson, Que. (missing), is the son of Mr. Fred. Molson, of Montreal.

Lt. Walter Molson, Que. (wounded), is a son of the late Mr. John Molson, of Montreal, and son-in-law of Mr. Abner Kingman. He came overseas with "Kitchener's Own" with the rank of Major, and reverted in order to go to France. He was wounded on September 29, sustaining multiple gunshot wounds, and is now reported out of danger. He is a brother of Lt.-Col. Herbert Molson, M.C., now at G.H.Q. in France, and another brother, Capt. Percival Molson, M.C., was killed in 1917 whilst serving with the P.P.C.L.I.

Lt. H. Robin Watt, M.C., who had been holidaying with his mother (Mrs. Alfred Watt, M.B.E.) at Brighton during his convalescent period, returned to the I.O.D.E. Hospital at Hyde Park Place to undergo an operation for the removal of his tonsils. He has been very ill, but is now improving.

Capt. Lewis Younger, M.C., Alta. (wounded), is the only son of Mr. Younger, of Marchmont, Kinghorn, Fifeshire. He enlisted as a trooper in the First Contingent, but later transferred to the infantry. Capt. Younger has been three times mentioned in despatches, was awarded the M.C. in March, 1916, and a Bar to it last January.

Imperial Forces.

Lt. Andrew J. Battle, R.A.F. (missing since July 9), is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Battle, of Caron, near Moose Jaw, Sask. He came overseas last winter. According to a letter which his parents have received from the officer commanding his squadron, Lt. Battle fell in a fight with a German airman, and crashed behind the German lines, and it is hoped that he may be a prisoner.

Sec. Lt. H. A. C. Breuls, R.G.A. (wounded), came overseas with a draft of the Toronto University O.T.C., being one of the 27 members of the corps selected by General Gwatkin, Chief of the General Staff at Ottawa, for commissions in the Imperial Army.

Capt. R. F. Browne, R.A.F. (wounded) obtained his commission in April, 1916, and was gazetted a flying officer in December, 1917. He was previously a private on the H.Q. Sub-Staff of the 2nd Canadian Division.

Lt. W. A. Carveth, R.A.F., who was referred to in our issue of September 7 as missing since July 25, is now reported a prisoner in Germany. He is the son of Mr. J. A. Carveth, of Birch Cliffe, Ont., was educated at Malvern Collegiate, and is 20.

Lt. Robert V Irwin, R.A.F. (prisoner), was previously reported missing, and, according to unofficial information now received, he is seriously wounded. Lt. Irwin, who was born in Ireland, went from Vancouver to Toronto to join the flying arm, and acted as instructor for some time before coming overseas last November.

Lt. W. J. McN. Ramsay, R.A.F. (missing), is one of three sons of Mr. W. M. Ramsay, of the New York Branch of the Merchants' Bank of Canada, now on active service, while a fourth son, Lt. Lisle C. Ramsay, was killed at Vimy Ridge.

Sec. Lt. T. T. Smith, R.A.F. (missing), is a graduate in Arts (1917) of McGill University, and held an appointment as chemist with the Imperial Ministry of Munitions, at Trenton, Ont., before joining the R.A.F. He came overseas last March, and went to France a few weeks ago. He is the son of the Rev. W. T. Smith, Methodist minister at Metis Beach, P.Q.

Sec. Lt. H. C. Telfer, R.A.F. (missing), is the son of Mr. H. C. Telfer, of Westmount. He joined the Air Force in September, 1917, coming overseas last March. He obtained his commission in June, and took part in the Amiens-Ham engagements. He was a teller in the St. James Street office of the Royal Bank of Canada before joining the Forces.

Repatriated Officers

Capt. B. L. Johnston, 3rd Bn. (of 49, Woodlawn Avenue, Toronto), who was taken prisoner at the Second Battle of Ypres in 1915, has arrived in England, having been released from internment in Holland on compassionate grounds. Capt. Johnston was for twelve years on the staff of the Dominion Bank at Toronto.

Capt. Trueman W. Morse, C. Ont. and R.A.F., has been repatriated on account of injuries, and is now a patient at the Prince of Wales' Hospital. Capt. Morse is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Morse, of 361, Bathurst Street, Toronto, and was taken prisoner on November 20 last year.

Three out of the four heroes decorated with the Victoria Cross at Buckingham Palace on October 24 had Canadian connections. They were Lce.-Sergt. Alexander Brereton and Cpl. Frederick Coppins, both belonging to the same company of the "Little Black Devils" (Manitoba Regt.): and Pte. Robert Cruickshank, London Regt., who was born in Winnipeg 30 years ago. The last-named won his V.C. in Palestine.

Brig.-Gen. George McCuaig was on October 24 invested with the insignia of a Companion of the C.M.G., and also received a Bar to the D.S.O., and the following were invested with the D.S.O.:—Col. John White and Lt.-Col. John Donnelly, Forestry Corps; Lt.-Cols. Chilion Hervey and Blair Ripley, Railway Services; Lt.-Col. Alfred Le Fevre, Engineers; Majors Samuel Birds and Rykert McCuaig, Infantry; and Major Theodore Lomer, C.A.M.C.

* *

Officers decorated with the M.C. were:—Capts. Ernest Benjamin, Frank Bown, Cuthbert Coatsworth (Eng.), Charles Fenwick and Emmett McCusker (C.A.M.C.), Maurice Roberts, Ernest Young (Eng.), and Rev. Thomas Colwell, Lts. Benjamin Allen, Ernest Hoskins, John Lownsborough, and Humphrey William (C.M.R.), and B.S.M. George Allen (C.F.A.).

Among the recipients of the D.S.O., Col. J. B. White, Director of Canadian Forestry Corps operations in France, is in private life a director of the Royal Pulp & Paper Company of Canada, and Lt.-Col. J. B. Donnelly, Deputy-Director of Forestry operations in France, was formerly on the staff of the Merchants' Bank of Canada.

At the Investiture on October 29 Mr. John Ferguson, London manager of the National Bank of Scotland, received the honour of Knighthood (K.B.E.). Lt.-Col. Paul R. Hanson, O.C., Canadian Discharge Depôt, Buxton, was invested with the insignia of an Officer (O.B.E.), and Capt. William H. Fox, C.A.M.C., Quartermaster at the Ontario Hospital, Orpington, received the insignia of a Member (M.B.E.).

Lord Beaverbrook, who has for the last month been suffering from an enlarged gland in the neck, and has had to undergo a serious operation, has resigned his post as Minister of Information. Writing to Mr. Lloyd George, he says: "I have spent my strength in the organisation of the Ministry, and it is with deep regret that I find myself unable to continue the work." The Prime Minister has reluctantly accepted his resignation.

Mr. P. B. Mignault, K.C., of Montreal, has been appointed to the Supreme Court to succeed Sir Louis Davies as Chief Justice, and has consequently resigned from the International Waterways Commission.

Dr. Philippe Roy, Canadian Commissioner in Paris, is staying at the Savoy Hotel.

Mr. Geo. M. Bosworth, Chairman of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services, Ltd., has arrived in London from Montreal, and is staying at the Ritz Hotel.

Mr. Bosworth was born at Ogdensburg on January 27, 1858, and educated there. He entered the railway service of the Ogdensburg and Lake Champlain Railway in 1875, becoming General Freight Agent of that road in 1881. In 1882 he joined the Canadian Pacific Railway as Assistant General Freight Agent of the Ontario and Quebec Lines. After various promotions, he became Freight Traffic Manager of the entire system, and in December, 1901, was appointed 4th Vice-President of the company. He took a particularly active part in the building up of the shipping interests of the company, and on the formation of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services, Ltd., took charge of that company, of which he is Chairman. Mr. Bosworth is a director of La Banque Provinciale, the Dominion Dry Dock Company, and the Crown Trust Company. Mrs. Bosworth is a daughter of Mr. W. D. Birchall, of Montreal.

MR. G. M. BOSWORTH.

The position occupied by Mr. Bosworth is a natural result of the growth of the shipping interests of the Canadian Pacific system, which has now, in its owned and chartered ships, one of the largest mercantile fleets operated by any single corporation—a fleet which is actually greater to-day than it was at the outbreak of the war. So great indeed have these shipping interests become that they can no longer be considered a side issue, and Mr. Bosworth retired last August from the Vice-Presidency of the Canadian Pacific Railway in order to devote the whole of his time to the development of this important branch of the Canadian Pacific system.

* *

Mr. Bosworth announces the appointment of Mr. C. E. Benjamin, General Passenger Agent, Trans-Pacific Lines, as Passenger Traffic Manager, in full charge of passenger services on the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, with headquarters at Montreal. Mr Benjamin has also arrived in London from Montreal.

A marriage has been arranged, and will take place shortly, between Lt.-Col. Hugh Knox-Niven, Military Secretary to the Governor of Newfoundland, and eldest son of the last Major-General Knox-Niven, and Lois, only daughter of Sir William and Lady Reid, of Montreal and Newfoundland.

* *

The marriage has taken place, at the Bramshott Church, of Miss Rita Armstrong, eldest daughter of Mrs. Geo. C. Armstrong, of Medicine Hat, Alta., Canada, to Capt. Lloyd D. MacLaurin, C.A.D.C.

A marriage of considerable interest to Canadians in this country took place in London on October 9, when Capt. R. H. Bradfield, M.C., C. Ont. Regt., formerly of Toronto, was married to Grace (Dadie) Andrew, the only daughter of Guy R. Andrew, of Vancouver, B.C. The wedding was a very quiet one on account of the recent death of the bride's mother. Capt. Bradfield, who has just recovered from wounds received in the Cambrai offensive, has seen continual service in France for nearly three years. Miss Andrew has been engaged as a private secretary at Canadian General Headquarters, Argyll House, for the past two years. The many friends of Capt. and Mrs Bradfield join in wishing them bon voyage.

CANADA'S OVERSEAS MILITARY FORCES.

THE new Canadian Loan will be offered to all ranks through the Pay Office, London Special provision has been made for N.C.Os. and men to encroach on their accumulated deferred pay up to 75 per cent., and use current deferred pay, for the purpose of investment in the Loan. The subscription lists will remain open until November 16.

Proposed Increase in Allowances.

In his speech at Vancouver on October 10, already referred to in Canada, Major-General Mewburn, Minister of Militia, said he would suggest to the Government that the separation allowance to dependents of non-commissioned officers and men be increased by $5 a month, bringing it up to $30, to first-class warrant officers' dependents an increase of $5, bringing it up to $35; and to lieutenants an increase of $10 per month, bringing it up to $40. The Minister further intimated that he would recommend the Patriotic Fund should be charged with cases in which the increased allowance was. for special reasons, still inadequate.

Facilities for Swearing Affidavits.

It is notified for the information of all concerned that officers or soldiers of the Overseas Military Forces of Canada desiring to swear affidavits, etc., on deeds of court documents, or to make solemn declarations under the Canadian Evidence Act, for use in Canada, may do so free of charge before the Officer i/c Estates Branch, O.M.F. of C., Pembroke House, 133, Oxford Street, W.1. It is further notified that authority has also been given in Canada for the taking of affidavits or solemn declarations overseas by the following persons :—(1) Affidavits, affirmations, or declarations, under the Canada Evidence Act by any major or officer of higher rank in the O.M.F. of C. (2) Affidavits or affirmations for use in the Provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, or Ontario, before any field officer of the O.M.F. of C. (3) Affidavits or affirmations for use in the Province of Nova Scotia before the officer commanding the regiment to which the soldier is attached. Such officer shall sign a certificate endorsed upon or attached to the instrument of such acknowledgment having been made or oath administered. (4) Affidavits for registry purposes in British Columbia before the commanding officer.

The Young Soldiers' Bn. has been moved from Bramshott to Kimmel Park, near Rhyl, where is located the Canadian Segregation Camp.

The Canadian authorities are taking over Bordon Camp, near Aldershot, and the contemplated move is expected to be put into effect this week.

Every member of the O.M.F. of C. who is of Scottish birth or descent, may, on application to his C.O., receive a miniature Scottish national flag for wear on St. Andrew's Day, November 30 next. The St. Andrew's Society, Glasgow, are furnishing the emblems for distribution to units.

During the month of September 69 applications by "other ranks" of the O.M.F.C. for commissions in the R.A.F. were put in.

During the month of September 71 female clerks were taken on the strength and 42 military clerks released.

During the first eight months of this year the Canadian Forestry Corps in France produced 1,065,889 tons of forest products, equivalent to 455,000,000 ft. board measure. It is estimated that by the end of December the production will reach 680,000,000 ft.

Capt. W. H. Gilroy, Man., has returned to Canada, having resigned his commission.

Lt. George Cyril Gwynne. C.F.C., has been dismissed the Service for drunkenness.

The New Outfit Allowance.

The conditions under which the additional outfit allowance to officers and nursing sisters is made are enumerated in Routine Order No. 4844, published on October 25. The allowance is payable under the same conditions to officers who are prisoners or who are interned in neutral countries.

A handicap golf tournament, open to all officers in the O.M.F.C., will be held on the course of the West Surrey Golf Club, at Milford, Surrey, to-morrow (Sunday, November 3). Entries, which will be accepted by telephone, should reach the secretary of the club by this evening. The committee is composed of Major A. G. Gill, C.F.A.; Capt. R M. Gray, C.C.D., Witley; Capt. D. Grant, 12th Res. Bn.: and Capt. Innes-Taylor, secretary, Officers' Club. Milford.

6 PELMANISTS GAIN M.C.'s.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM THE FRONT.

Reference has been made in Pelman announcements appearing in these columns to the striking fact that Pelmanists in the Army frequently report not only promotion, but honours, gained as a direct consequence of a Pelman training.

Captain ——

"From Pelmanism I have gained three stars and an M.C.—stronger health and a clearer head."

Captain ——

"It may interest you to know that since commencing your Course I have been awarded a D.S.O., an M.C., and a Mention in Despatches. This success has undoubtedly been materially assisted by your lessons. Hence my anxiety to continue."

Captain ——

"Apparently my Pelman methods have borne fruit, for I have been awarded the M.C., and am told that the efficiency of the Battalion is largely due to my organisation and administration. If this is so, I point to Pelman methods which I have applied. Many thanks for the excellent help the Course has given me."

Lieutenant

"I am glad to be able to tell you that I have been awarded the M.C. for a successfully executed task. I feel that Pelmanism supplied much of my ability to do the work, although I had reached only the 7th lesson at the time."

Sec. Lieutenant ——

"I have been informed to-day that I have got the M.C. for a bit of show during the retreat, and this I think I may attribute to Pelman.

"I lost all my kit and other stuff in the retreat, and so should be very glad if you could let me have No. 1—7 as well, as I like to read over the back ones every now and again."

(Rank Not Stated) ——

"I feel I owe a big debt of gratitude to the Pelman Institute. My work has improved greatly since taking up Pelmanism, and first of all a 'Mention in Despatches,' and then an M.C. were the results."

Of course, the foregoing must be taken simply as typical cases. Quite a large number of Army and Navy Pelmanists have gained distinctions, and almost every day brings letters reporting promotions and other substantial benefits gained through the Course.

"As a direct consequence of Lesson 2," writes a Lieut.-Colonel, "I have gained a step in rank."

A Brigadier-General writes:—

"The Pelman Service Exercises are most useful, and have helped me very much on Active Operations."

A Rear-Admiral writes:

"The Course has been of great help to me. The regular study, and having to answer set questions has been a capital disciplinary exercise. I have been taught to look at persons and at things, and to listen to sounds with more intelligence. Memory strengthened; and by your methods a means to remember has been put into one's hands to act on for remainder of life. A lot of information obtained. Many new thoughts. A greater incentive to exercise self-discipline and self-control. I have felt, too, that there is a lot of kindly feeling resident at No. 4, Bloomsbury Street, and the world has come to look all the brighter in consequence."

From a Lieut.-Colonel of a very famous Scottish regiment the following letter was received: permission being given to disclose the writer's name if desired. (This, however, is contrary to the fixed policy of the Pelman Institute; all correspondence being treated as confidential, and no names ever being published):—

"I cannot tell you how immensely impressed I am with the boundless possibilities of Pelmanism, which I did not realise in the least before I started.

"Your priceless instruction needs no advertisement from a simple soldier, but you are at liberty to take what extracts you like, and also use my name. It is excellent as an auxiliary training for my scouts, and in short, instead of thinking it a bore I really look forward to the lessons."

Such letters as the foregoing make it very clear that there is nothing surprising in the fact that there are now over

100,000 Pelmanists in H.M. Army and Navy:

(including 150 Generals and Admirals). The evidences of direct advantage are so clear and so numerous that all units and all ranks of both services have come to regard a Pelman Course as essential to success: in addition to which, Pelmanism is of almost boundless utility in preparing officers and men for a return to the tasks of civil life. Many and many a writer has declared that his Pelman books—those famous "little grey books"—have been the means of saving him from "mental rust" and intellectual stagnation.

Numerous articles have appeared during recent months from the pens of eminent men in all circles of national life: some of them being written by famous Admirals and Generals. From these the following excerpts are taken as lending point to what has already been said here as to the invariable value of the Pelman Course to everybody, whether in naval or military life, or in any business or profession.

The Pelman Institute, as I understand the matter, does not profess to work miracles. What it does profess to accomplish is to enable a man to make the best use of the abilities he already, consciously or unconsciously, possesses. The first condition of success is willingness to learn. The student must be prepared to do his part. It is not always an easy part, but it is fair to say both that it is always possible and always interesting.

Major-Gen. Sir F. Maurice, K.C.M.G., C.B.:

I can think of no better method than the Pelman Course either for keeping the mind fit in times of leisure or slackness, or for restoring mental vigour to a soldier whose mind has become flabby from overstrain or physical weakness, and I can recommend no better investment than a Pelman Course to the soldier on convalescent leave.

The Pelman System is not cram, or trick, but a scientific method of training which has proved its value to the soldier in war, and it would, I am certain, be of the greatest benefit if it were adapted to Army training generally.

"Mind and Memory" (in which the Pelman Course is fully described, with a Synopsis of the lessons) will be sent gratis and post free, together with a full reprint of "Truth's" famous Report on the Pelman System and a form entitling readers of CANADA to the complete Course for one-third less than the usual fees, on application to the Pelman Institute, 21, Pelman House, Bloomsbury Street, London, W.C.1.

457392 C.S.-M. A. Bailie, Infy.

Throughout operations he has shown a fine example of coolness under fire and been of the utmost value to his company commander. His example has raised the morale and efficiency of the men.

231 Sgt. J. M. Bain, Rly. Con. Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in keeping his men steady and pushing on the work under heavy shell fire. At all times he displayed great energy and courage.

404012 Sgt. J. E. Barker, Engrs.

The services rendered by this non-commissioned officer during the whole time—over two years—that he has been in France have been of great value, and on one occasion when the construction of important dug-outs had to be carried on, under most adverse circumstances and heavy enemy shell fire, the example of his courage and determination inspired the men working under him, and the work was completed in spite of every difficulty.

74310 Sgt. G. Blake, Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty as orderly to the commanding officer. He made careful reconnaissances, often under heavy shell fire, of routes to headquarters and the battalion front allotted to the battalion, so that battalion headquarters were guided to the positions without casualties. After the capture of the objective he made a reconnaissance of the forward area under heavy fire, and brought his commanding officer valuable information. At all times he showed great initiative and resource, and his work was invaluable to his battalion.

This non-commissioned officer has rendered faithful and devoted service whilst in charge of the water supply. During the year he has lived continuously in the forward area. His conduct under heavy shell fire and under trying and arduous conditions has always been a fine example to the parties placed in his charge, and it is largely owing to his courage, energy, and ability that the water supply has been carried so far forward and so satisfactorily maintained.

301212 Cpl. B. L. Broughton, Fd. Arty.

When his gun position was hit by heavy enemy barrage and the gun put out of action, it was largely through his efforts that the gun was placed in action again. By his fine example of coolness he maintained the morale of the gun crew, and made it possible to maintain the service of the gun at a critical period. Throughout he has rendered excellent service.

3 Sgt. J. D. Burnet, G. Arty.

This non-commissioned officer has been on active service in France for nearly three years, commanding his gun detachment with exemplary courage and coolness under heavy fire during some of the most severe fighting of the war. He has set a high standard to his men, maintaining the efficiency of his sub-section at a high level by his skill and resource both in and out of the line.

47323 B.S.-M. F. Butler, Infy.

During nearly two years' service in France with the battalion he has at all times set a high example to the men, his courage under heavy fire and adverse conditions being as admirable as his efficiency. On one occasion, during a particularly severe engagement, he rendered extremely valuable service in organising under heavy shell fire the supply of ammunition, water, and rations to troops holding the front line, the circumstances under which this was done being of the most arduous.

While in charge of the collecting and transfer post during an attack he displayed great courage during very heavy shelling, and exercised a splendid influence over the men. On one occasion, when a battery was under heavy fire, he rushed out with one or two men and stretchers, rendered first aid, and brought in all the wounded.

489181 Pnr. J. W. Chaddock, Engrs.

Seeing three artillerymen wounded without anyone attending them, he passed through heavy enemy barrage and unassisted dressed all three men and got them all carried to an advanced dressing station. Both as a stretcher-bearer and a pioneer he has throughout shown great judgment.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty under circumstances which involved great personal danger. He was frequently in charge of ration parties under trying circumstances. Whatever duty his men were employed on his cheerfulness and determination caused them to successfully carry it out owing to the fine example he set them.

432940 Sgt. M. Dempsey, Infy.

It was largely due to his personal courage and sound judgment that communications after attacks were established and maintained under the most difficult circumstances. In one attack he was in charge of the signal station, and carried out his duties most efficiently with cheerfulness and determination. Throughout he did fine work.

This warrant officer has served continuously with the battery, and has been in France for nearly two years, displaying great courage and coolness in some of the most severe fighting of the war. He has never been away from duty except for the usual periods of leave, and his example has been a valuable factor in the efficiency of the battery.

28534 Sgt. Frank Douglas, Infy. (Canadian Scottish).

This non-commissioned officer has served for three and a half years on active service with the battalion in France, during which time he has taken part in every action in which the battalion has been engaged excepting one, when he was on leave. As transport sergeant he has never once failed, in spite of enemy fire or any difficulty, to bring the stores and rations to the battalion in the line, and his determination and resource in dealing with difficult situations have been as admirable as his courage in circumstances of danger. The marked efficiency of the battalion transport is the result of his efforts and zeal.

207116 Sgt. D. Dunbar, R. Can. R.

During an attack, when two platoon commanders in his company had been wounded, he reorganised the platoons into one, and continued to carry on under intense bombardment the difficult task of supplying the attacking battalion with supplies. He showed fine courage and devotion to duty, more especially as he was suffering from the effects of gas.

453028 R.S.-M. J. Farr, Infy.

His company officers having become casualties, he was in command during a counter-attack by the enemy, and under heavy enemy barrage brought up his Lewis gun crews to a position whence they could bring fire to bear directly on the advancing enemy. This greatly assisted in the complete repulsion of the enemy's attack. This warrant officer has previously rendered valuable service.

234319 Pte. W. C. Ferguson, Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in repelling a raid on his trenches, when he coolly kept his Lewis gun in action under intense enemy barrage and used it with such good effect that the raiding party was dispersed, leaving six prisoners behind. On various occasions he set a fine example of courage and determination to his comrades.

65328 Sgt. A. Findley, M.M., Infy.

When his battalion signal officer became a casualty Sgt. Findley took charge of the communication section. He frequently went out and repaired wires under heavy enemy shelling, and also maintained communication by Lucas lamps. When the Lucas station at battalion headquarters was destroyed by shell fire he established a new one and resumed communication with the front line. Throughout he set a fine example of courage and devotion to duty to those under him.

86910 Sgt. S. G. Fogg, F. Arty.

This N.C.O. has on many occasions voluntarily undertaken difficult and complicated tasks in the forward area, which with a high and determined sense of duty he has never failed to bring to a successful conclusion. His coolness and resource under fire have been a very fine example to the men under him, and he has rendered the greatest assistance and valuable service to his officers.

636022 Pte. S. T. Foster, Mtd. Rif.

As battalion runner, he repeatedly carried messages to and from a captured position in face of extremely heavy rifle and machine-gun fire. After three messengers had been killed he succeeded in getting messages through to the advanced troops at a critical time. He did splendidly

After his platoon commander had become a casualty he took charge of the platoon and led it through to its objective, which he consolidated and maintained under the most trying conditions. By his cheerfulness and determination he set a splendid example to his men.

During the three and a half years he has served at the front, rising by merit and force of character from driver to battery sergeant-major, his example of coolness in action, untiring zeal and devotion to duty, has set a high standard to the battery, and has been of the greatest assistance to his officers.

During the three and a half years this N.C.O. has been serving with the battalion, he has given many proofs of gallantry and conspicuous good leadership as a bomber, and then in command of a platoon when the officer had become a casualty. As company quartermaster-sergeant he performed his duties in an admirable manner, particularly on two occasions, when, under trying conditions the delivery of rations and stores was a matter of great difficulty and danger, he maintained the supply to the battalion in the line.

He and another corporal were responsible for work in connection with the mounting of 7.5 guns in an area continually subjected to heavy bombardment. He displayed great courage during an arduous time, and although slightly gassed on several occasions, remained at work with his unit, and worthily upheld the fine traditions established by the Overseas troops.

75611 Sgt. D. R. Honeyman, Infy.

He took over the duties of company sergeant-major before an attack, and was responsible for the outfitting of his company for action in face of great difficulties and enemy shelling, and for maintaining supplies and ammunition after the attack. His coolness and determination at all times had a most inspiring effect on his men.

426202 Sgt. H. W. Hopkins, Infy.

Under extremely hard conditions his untiring efforts as signalling sergeant of the battalion were responsible for the maintenance of signalling supplies in the forward area. During a raid he maintained communication from a post in front under intense minenwerfer bombardment. On occasions when enemy barrage has obliterated all lines, he has established and maintained visual communication from forward situations. His cheerfulness and devotion to duty have been a constant help to his men.

During the three and a half years this N.C.O. has served in France he has on many occasions displayed great courage and determination in supplying his battery with ammunition and stores, often under conditions of great danger and difficulty. His disregard of danger and resolute endurance of fatigue have been a fine example to all ranks of the battalion.

He has rendered particularly valuable service as non-commissioned officer in charge of divisional wireless stations when there was a shortage of officers, and a large part of the organisation of the wireless system was left to him. On several occasions having established stations in forward areas, he himself has made several journeys under heavy shell fire to maintain the supply of technical stores, and his energy and intelligence in training a very efficient station have been worthy of great praise

During the two and a half years this non-commissioned officer has been serving in this capacity in France he has set a very fine example of a high standard of conscientious devotion to duty under difficult conditions. When the office in which he was working was continuously exposed to shell fire and bombed by hostile aircraft every night for three weeks, he worked night and day with imperturbable composure and unremitting diligence in the compilation of urgent and important reports, setting a very admirable example of coolness and courage to the remainder of the office staff.

58012 Pte. H. Kift, Infy.

As runner, on various occasions he succeeded through heavy artillery and machine-gun fire, in re-establishing communications between battalion headquarters and troops in the front line; and the information thus obtained caused gain of additional ground. He always showed great devotion to duty.

1081853 Sgt. A. E. Lang, Rly. Troops.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in supervising the construction of standard-gauge railway in the forward area. On one occasion nine men of his platoon were killed and nine wounded. He assisted his company commander, under very heavy shell fire, in removing the wounded to a place of safety. Perfect discipline was always shown by his platoon while under shell fire and during bombing raids, which were very frequent.

He has rendered conspicuous good service in action. On one occasion when he had brought the rations up to his battery, he found the arrangements for the supply of ammunition had become disorganised. On his own initiative he organised and himself conducted carrying parties under very heavy shell fire, thus maintaining the supply of ammunition and enabling the guns of his battery to continue in action.

During operations this warrant officer displayed fine courage and ability, and throughout his service with the battalion he has been distinguished by his untiring devotion to duty.

475137 Sgt. F. A. Lyons, Mtd. Rif.

Under heavy fire he repeatedly repaired [signal] lines. Throughout his initiative and devotion to duty were most marked under most trying circumstances

A CURE FOR PESSIMISM.

Second Division Theatrical Troupe's London Debut.

Recent visits of French troupes prove that France can send to England quite as good theatrical material as England can export to the areas at the rear of the fighting line. Following the successful visit of "The Dumbells" (Third Division), there is now in this country "The See Toos" (Second Division), and their show is a certain cure for pessimism and kindred ills.

"We Should Worry" is a revue in two acts—a medley (well ordered, it is true) of rollicking humour, which appeals especially to men who have learned the idioms of active service. Capt. Edmund Burke, of Montreal, well known to all lovers of music, is in charge of the troupe, and the all-round excellence of the company is sufficient to secure for it a lengthy engagement, provided the Division in the field could spare their favourites for so long.

The cabaret scene offers great opportunities (all taken full advantage of) to Sergt. Jack Hagan, of London, Ont. (who as Professor Pumpernickel is the centre of bubbling humour, and who also acts as producer). Sergt. Major Clapham (Lachine, P.Q.) is immensely droll as a lonely soldier, and Alex. McKee (Montreal), in the rôle of Aby Muskolovitch, apes a Yiddish theatrical agent to the life. The ladies of the company—Cpl. Leslie Benson, Winnipeg; Sergt. Harry Ashton, Toronto; and Gnr. Albert Bulman, Bothwell, Ont.—will make many a woman envious of their frocks and voices.

Act 2 gives further scope to Jack Hagan, who, indeed, is the main pillar of the show. Other artistes contributing are Johnny Small, stage manager (Winnipeg), Harold Watts (Toronto), George Curtis (Edmonton), Percy Fowler (Winnipeg), Dick Finney (Toronto), Chalmers Murray (Hamilton), Ben. Charlton (Montreal), George Stewart (Regina), and Bill Marr (Arnprior).

An important accessory to the show is the orchestra of 27 pieces, under the direction of Mr. W. H. Foote, A.R.C.M.

At Dr. Barnardo's Boys' Garden City, Woodford Bridge, Essex, there are at present in residence 646 boys, and the numbers are constantly increasing. In five weeks recently the Homes admitted 195 children, of whom 95 were the children of soldiers and sailors. A generous friend has just presented the adjoining Roding House estate (purchased for £3,250), making 50 acres in all. The new house provides accommodation for 32 to 40 boys, and an endeavour is being made to endow the beds as soon as possible. Donors of £500 can have beds named personally after themselves in memory of someone killed in the war, and smaller gifts will go towards endowing one of the 20 other beds, named after the King and Queen, a famous soldier or sailor, etc. There is a British Empire bed and a Canadian bed.

When an outpost received a direct hit during heavy enemy bombardment, he left his trench and went through rifle and machine-gun fire to the outpost. He brought in three wounded men, all of whom had been seriously injured, thereby probably saving their lives. He showed fine determination and devotion to duty.

196 2/Cpl. W. F. Marsh, Engrs.

He rendered excellent service during recent operations in maintaining communication on the buried cable routes, which were being continually broken by enemy shell fire. He has always set a splendid example of devotion to duty.

This warrant officer has been serving at the front in France for three and a half years, being three times wounded. His services have always been of the greatest value, and his coolness and courage under heavy fire have been as conspicuous as the example he has always set to the men of devotion to duty and of a high standard of conduct, both in and out of the trenches.

33246 S.-M. C. E. McArthur, A.M.C. (Fld. Amb.)

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty over a long period of active operations. During an attack he was in charge of the stretcher-bearer squads, and by his wise direction was largely responsible for the rapid evacuation of the wounded over a difficult area.

301646 B.S.-M. J. McNamara, Fld. Arty.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty while in charge of ammunition park animals. Several times he led the trains through heavy shelling to the guns, and his energy and determination were the means of keeping up the supply of ammunition at critical times. He did excellent service.

During an attack, he assumed command of the remnant of his company, and, in face of very heavy fire, led his men with great skill and gallantry, and at a critical time inspired his men to a show of force which deceived the enemy as to the continuity of the line until such was restored. He also assisted the battalion on his left to capture a pill-box.

103244 Sgt. S. G. Moore, Infy.

He kept intact wire communications with the companies, and, under heavy shell fire, personally supervised the repair of breakages. His command of the section under him has been excellent.

434740 C.S.-M. T. C. Morrison, Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in consolidating a difficult position captured. His leadership and control of the men during the heavy counter-attack which followed were largely responsible for retaining the position. Throughout his work has been of a high order.

504932 Sgt. H. J. Mortimer, Engrs.

This non-commissioned officer has on several occasions gone out under heavy shell fire to repair telephones. The cheerful alacrity with which he has undertaken such tasks, under dangerous and difficult conditions, his coolness under fire, and his unremitting devotion to duty have been a very fine example to his men.

He and a stretcher-bearer went out into "No Man's Land" to recover a wounded man. They searched for an hour though subjected to heavy machine-gun fire, and finally found and brought him in, saving his life by early evacuation. Throughout operations this warrant officer showed great gallantry and disregard for personal safety.

282252 Cpl. R. S. Murphy, Infy.

When half-way to the objective his Lewis gun was put out of action, but he led his men to the objective successfully and found and put in position, with all the ammunition he could collect, another gun. After carrying a wounded officer through heavy barrage, he returned to this new gun post, where later enemy fire buried him and three others. He extricated himself, however, and dug out his comrades. Throughout he showed courage and determination of a high order.

6105 Sgt. B. Nelson, Fld. Arty.

During the period under review, this N.C.O. has shown great courage and devotion to duty on many occasions, especially when during an offensive he delivered many hundreds of rounds of ammunition across an area swept by an intense enemy shell fire to batteries in the line. The plank road having become impassable from concentrated fire, and it being imperative that ammunition should reach the batteries, he never relaxed his efforts, displaying great gallantry and excellent judgment, until he succeeded in repairing the road and delivering the ammunition to the guns.

1684 Sgt. C. Norris, C.L.I. (P.P.C.L.I.)

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty while acting as company sergeant-major during an attack. At a critical moment in the advance, when the left flank became exposed, he reconnoitred the situation at great personal risk and obtained valuable information for his company commander. Throughout he set a fine example of gallantry and determination.

453101 Sgt. (Actg. C.S.-M.) W. Nye, M.G.C.

As a section sergeant he has always performed his duties with the utmost zeal, and in a most exemplary manner, and the example of his cool courage under the most severe bombardment, and his devotion to duty, have been of the greatest value to the men under him.

214323 Sgt. W. Older, Mtd. Rif.

He went forward under heavy rifle and machine-gun fire to a position from which, with his rifle, he could command an enemy pill-box which was causing casualties. For five hours he sniped this pill-box and rendered material assistance to the assault. He has ever set a fine example to his men.

809 Sgt. C. Olmstead, R.C.D.

419055 R.S.-M. J. Page, Infy.

Throughout this warrant officer's services have been of an outstanding character, and his example of courage and devotion to duty has proved a most valuable influence to the battalion. His services have been invaluable.

189994 Pte. B. Pay, Infy.

As a company runner, he has taken messages on many occasions in the front line through heavy enemy barrages. He displayed fine determination and courage, and set at all times a splendid example to his comrades.

This warrant officer, by his intelligent understanding of his work and the devotion to duty with which he has performed it in very severe actions, has rendered valuable services to his battalion. He has on several occasions performed the duties of quartermaster with great credit and has greatly conduced to the efficiency of his branch

551037 Cpl. S. Pearson, L. Strath. H.

126325 Pte. H. Puddle, M.G.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in charge of a Vickers-gun crew during an attack. His gun being in a most exposed position, owing to the nature of the ground, his crew became casualties and the gun was hit and damaged; but he kept it firing continuously under very heavy shell fire in support of the infantry His work throughout was characterised by great coolness and courage

When his company were engaged on the construction of an important plank road, tramline and infantry duckboard walk, this warrant officer was untiring in his efforts and rendered valuable assistance to his commanding officer, thus enabling the work, which had to be conducted under heavy shell fire, and in full view of the enemy, to be completed rapidly and successfully. The example of his cheerful endurance and entire disregard for his own safety were a very fine example to the junior N.C.Os. and sappers of his company.

85565 B.Q.-M.-S. J. F. Reed, Fld. Arty.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty while convoying ammunition and rations to gun-pit positions. When a shell landed in the middle of his convoy killing two men and wounding others, his fine example of coolness steadied his men and prevented any confusion. The wounded were sent to the nearest dressing station and the convoy made its way to the battery position.

117515 Sgt. (Sig.) P. Rogers, Mtd. Rif.

As signaller he went forward repeatedly through heavy shell fire and repaired lines, thus enabling communication to be kept up during the action, which was at the time of vital importance.

He displayed great gallantry and fine qualities of organisation and leadership in a successful raid against an enemy advanced post, and since then he has taken part with distinction in all the severe actions in which the battalion has fought for the last year and a half. Under most adverse circumstances his cool disregard of danger and his devotion to duty have been admirable, and his example has inspired the confidence of all ranks.

He and another corporal were responsible for work in connection with the mounting of 7.5 guns in an area continually subjected to heavy bombardment. He displayed great courage during an arduous time, and although slightly gassed on several occasions, remained at work with his unit, and worthily upheld the fine traditions established by the overseas troops.

460371 Sgt. F. B. Smith, Infy.

During two and a half years' active service in France this N.C.O. has given many proofs of gallantry and devotion to duty in the severe actions in which the battalion has taken part. He has set a high example of courage to the men of his company.

124738 Pte. F. Stevens, Infy.

When the N.C.O in charge of his section became a casualty he assumed command and maintained his Lewis gun in its position in good working order under continuous and heavy shell fire. By his coolness he set a fine example to the men of his platoon.

19919 Sgt. H. C. Stone, Infy. (Alta.)

During three and a half years' active service at the front, this N.C.O. has on many occasions displayed great gallantry and unremitting devotion to duty. His determination as a leader has been conspicuous in trying circumstances and under heavy fire. He has rendered most valuable service in evacuating wounded men from the forward area without casualties under hazardous conditions, and this successful result has been due to his judgment and ability. His example of hard work both in and out of the trenches has been worthy of the highest praise

On one occasion when 200 feet of track (light railways) was blown out by shell fire, and it was necessary to get it repaired at once to allow ammunition trains to proceed forward, he volunteered to take a party to do the work, and although it was three times driven from the track by gas and high-explosive shell fire, he succeeded in getting it in running order in an incredibly short space of time.

During the three and a half years this warrant officer has served in France, he has rendered valuable services to the company, to whom his courageous leadership in action his devotion to duty, and all those qualities which are characteristic of a good soldier have been a fine example.

302465 Sgt. A. Westlake, Fld. Arty.

On one occasion, when in charge of the work necessary to render the plank road in rear of his battery practicable for moving the guns, he showed the greatest energy and devotion to duty in overcoming difficulties of weather conditions and mud, and his cool courage under the heavy shell fire of the enemy was conspicuous. During the period under review these qualities have been very marked features in the conduct of this N.C.O. at all times, and his example has been of great value to his battery.

171703 C.S.-M. T. White, Infy.

He has served with great distinction in many severe engagements, setting a fine example of cool and cheerful courage to all under him, since he joined the battalion at the front two years ago. His gallantry in action has been no less conspicuous than his initiative and capacity

820181 Pte. E. W. Winnebeck, Infy.

As a stretcher-bearer he went out alone in front of the line and brought in an officer wounded by snipers. He dressed wounded for many hours under machine-gun and rifle fire. He made a reconnaissance and brought back valuable information of the ground in front. He showed a fine example of courage and devotion to duty to all.

NEWFOUNDLAND FORCE.

During the period under review this man has proved himself a reliable and gallant soldier, and his devotion to duty has been remarkable on many occasions. He is an energetic and very efficient Lewis gunner, and has rendered valuable services in that capacity

WITH GRATITUDE TO CANADA

The Serbian Relief Fund acknowledges the great assistance it has already received from the Canadian Red Cross and the people of Canada. The Committee of the Fund knows that it may rely on the continuance of their interest in the unfortunate Serbian people.

> "Have just returned from visiting reoccupied regions. There is much distress among population. Whole villages destroyed. Thousands without homes, clothes, or food, and in the greatest misery. Need for help is urgent. I am opening immediately soup kitchens and dispensaries in Ghevgheli, Doran and Kavadar, and hope to open others elsewhere. Principal hospital will be moved shortly to either Uskub or neighbourhood of Nish. We shall have great need of funds for development of work in new regions. In addition to money, warm clothes and boots in unlimited numbers are urgently needed. Please make immediate fresh appeals to generosity of public."—FRANK CLEMOW.

The amazing story of Germany's schemes and plots in the near East and a startling account of the attempt on the Dardanelles

" . . . Wangenheim . . . . burst into the room.
"We've got them," he shouted to me
"Got what?" I asked
"The Goeben and the Breslau have passed the Dardanelles."

"Of the Canadian disciples of Kipling, by far the best is Robert W. Service. His 'Songs of a Sourdough' have run through many editions. Much of his verse has a touch of real originality, conveying as it does a just impression of the something evil and askew in the strange, uncouth wilderness of the High North."—THE TIMES.

"In the Whirlpool of War," by Isabelle Rimbaud.—T. Fisher Unwin.

"A Padre in France," by George A. Birmingham (1s.); "Armenia and the War," by A. P Hacobian; "The Curtain of Steel," by the author of "In the Northern Mists" (6s.); "The Navy Eternal," by "Bartimeus" (6s.).—Hodder & Stoughton.

"Candlelight," by Mrs. Henry Dudeney (6s. 9d.); "Cecily and the Wide World," by Elizabeth F Corbett (6s. 9d.). Hurst & Blackett.

"The Silver Bridge," by Helen Prothero Lewis (6s. 9d.).—Hutchinson

"The Man Who Lost Himself," by H. de Vere Stacpoole, is a particularly well-managed story, describing the adventures of an American in London, who gets mixed up with a peer who is his double. It is full of whimsical situations, and is highly entertaining. London: Hutchinson & Co. (6s.)

In "The Rough Road," W. J. Locke tells of a sick young Englishman, coddled by his womenfolk, who "makes good" in the war while serving as a private. His love story with a French girl is charmingly told, and the book is sure to be popular. London: John Lane. (6s. 6d.)

THE ROUGH ROAD.

Fourth Edition in the Press.

"This is the best novel that Mr. Locke has written for many a year. . . . 'The Rough Road,' indeed, is sunny and human."
—Daily Express.

"As capably, as cunningly as ever the story is told."—Observer.

MR. MURRAY'S NEW BOOKS.

Three New 7s. Novels NOW READY.

MOON OF ISRAEL.
By SIR H. RIDER HAGGARD. Author of "Jess"

The story of the Exodus of the Israelites from Egypt, as it might have appeared to an Egyptian, Ana, who took a leading part in that tremendous event. To him they seem to represent a war between the God of Israel and the gods of the Egyptians. The love interest of the tale is furnished by its heroine, a Hebrew maiden named Merapi, Moon of Israel.

MINNIGLEN.
By AGNES and EGERTON CASTLE. Author of "If Youth But Knew," "Diamond Cut Paste," etc.

Although "Minniglen" being a present day story, the war inevitably forms its background, the authors strike in it an unexpected note. A mystic atmosphere permeates both its vivid social pictures and its passionate love tale.

CHILDREN OF THE DEAR COTSWOLDS.
By Mrs. L. ALLEN HARKER, Author of "Miss Esperance and Mr. Wycherly," "Mr. Wycherly's Wards," "Jan and her Job," etc.

The children in Mrs. Harker's books are very familiar and valued friends of the reading public who in this new volume will be introduced to several new and attractive members of the same large family.

HIS ALIEN ENEMY.
By the HON. MRS. WALTER FORBES. Author of "A Gentleman," "Unofficial," "Leroux," "Nameless," etc.

"Certainly one of the best stories dealing with the effects of international marriages in war time that we have read. Mrs. Forbes' characters are interesting and very human."—Pall Mall Gazette. 7s. net.

THE SECRET OF THE NAVY.
By BENNET COPPLESTONE. Author of "Lost Naval Papers," "Jitny and the Boys"

"Gives an excellent impression of the spirit of the Navy and the part which a high tradition has played in bringing it to its present efficient state. Mr. Copplestone's series of articles will heighten our confidence in the ability and devotion of the service to which we are so deeply indebted."—Everyman.

BANKING AND FINANCE.

Cockshutt Plow's Improved Results. There is a hopeful ring about the annual report of the Cockshutt Plow Co., just to hand, which will be very comforting to those holders of the company's securities whose confidence in the future of this important industrial undertaking has been maintained during the past four years. In the report, which is dated September 30, Col. Cockshutt tells the stockholders that "the outlook for the present year is excellent, and a steady and satisfactory business is anticipated." So far as the business of the year under review is concerned, the increase reported would probably have been greater, but for the continuance of difficulties in connection with labour and materials due to the war. A gratifying circumstance has been the much larger proportion of business transacted on a cash basis, a reflex of the prosperity of the farming community. This healthy condition was reflected in increased collections in respect of past business. A point which will impress European holders of the company's securities is the fact that the company's foreign business reached a higher point than ever previously in its history.

Preference Share Prospects. The net profit, after allowing for depreciation and for certain appropriations deemed necessary, amounted to the very respectable total of $553,214. The directors have not considered it advisable to reinstate the Preference shares on a 7 per cent. basis—there is still 24 per cent. in arrear—but have limited the payments to 4 per cent. The balance brought forward was $491,786, and the available total $1,045,001. The dividends on the Préference absorbed $258,600, and the directors propose the addition of $200,000 to the contingent reserve, making that fund $1,000,000, and also recommend that $500,000 be transferred to the capital reserve, raising that to the handsome figure of $1,500,000, the merchandise reserve remaining at $500,000. These reserve accounts, aggregating a total of $3,000,000, represent as much as 26 per cent. of the total issued capital of $11,465,000. The position generally is so healthy that, with a return to normal conditions during the present fiscal year, there is no reason why the company should not be able to place the Preference shares on a 7 per cent. basis, and with a little luck, even clear off the balance of 3 per cent. in arrear for the year 1914-15. These shares, at about 85, are distinctly attractive. They now show a yield of only about $4\frac{3}{4}$, but as a 7 per cent. security give $8\frac{1}{4}$ per cent., whilst the ever-present prospect of a bonne bouche in connection with the arrears of interest adds to their attractiveness.

In the Canadian section conditions have been generally steady. Dominion gilt-edged issues have not varied materially, though they have enjoyed a good undertone. The 4 per Cent. Loan remains at 84, and the 4½ per Cents. at 96, while the 3½ per Cents. have met quiet support around 73. Canadian municipal bonds have also developed no pronounced tendency, but have been hard at previous levels, owing to the scarcity of stock.

In the railroad group, Canadian Pacifics hold around 181, but Grand Trunks have maintained their stronger tendency, and on balance show gains of ½ to 1, while the 1st and 2nd Preferences register average advances of 2. The company's traffic for the third week of the month shows a gross gain of £77,938. Canadian Northern Inc. Debs. have risen a point, to 48½.

Hudson's Bays, among land shares, have displayed buoyancy, and have been up to 9. Lower-priced shares are also inclined to move forward.

As regards industrials, Canada Cement have risen 2, to 70. Canadian Cars hold firm at 56, and General Electrics, at 113½. Lake Superiors, at 21, are unaltered. There has been a moderate reaction in Brazilian Tractions, to 56½, but Mexico Trams and Mexican Light and Power securities have recorded several fresh advances of a point. The Cockshutt Plow report, dealt with elsewhere, shows substantial improvement.

Among Canadian silver mining shares, Mining Corporation of Canada are back to 11s. 3d. on a poor monthly return. Townsite Extensions are also lower, but Casey Cobalts have gained the turn.

The activity in the pulp and paper and the flour milling groups, which was such a marked feature of trading last week, has slackened off lately, and this week only Maple Leaf, among the milling stocks, has been notably active. This week markets have been much quieter, and though the tone generally has been firm, the steel stocks and those of other enterprises associated with munition work have been noticeably under the restraint of the prospect of peace foreshadowed by the German armistice proposals. There is, however, some divergence of opinion as to the probable effect of peace upon the steel stocks, and the contention that the market valuation of these stocks has never discounted their great earnings during the past few years, finds a good deal of support. This belief found expression in the fair amount of support accorded to these stocks following their weakness early in this week. Attention has continued to be turned towards stocks which may be expected to benefit through peace, Brazilian Traction continuing to show noteworthy strength, being, of course, helped by the good statement of earnings for August. There has also been some demand for Barcelona Traction, and in the last day or two Canada Car stocks have been more active, while among specialities Forgings, Ames-Holden, Laurentide Power and Spanish River have shown strength.

The annual statements of Ogilvie, Lake of the Woods and St. Lawrence Flour have now been issued, and, as anticipated, the respective companies all report record earnings. Lake of the Woods' net profits, at $857,914, for the year ended August 31, were nearly 50 per cent. more than those for the previous year, the surplus, after payment of bond interest and Preferred dividends, representing earnings of over 33 per cent. on the Common stock. Ogilvie's total net profits for the year to August 31 were $1,955,414, of which profits from flour milling were $832,910, the balance being from other sources and investments. This was nearly $600,000 in excess of the previous year's profits, and even exceeded by $435,820 the profits earned by the company in 1915, previously its record year. The surplus, after payment of Preferred dividends, equalled rather over 72½ per cent. on the Common stock. St. Lawrence Flour Mills' net profits for the year which ended on the same date amounted to $268,737, the surplus, after payment of bond interest and Preferred dividends, equalling 17.9 per cent. on the Common, which compares with a rate of 7.3 per cent. for the previous year. The Russell Motor Car Co. also reports satisfactory earnings for the year which ended July 31. Net profits at $628,581 were $15,000 less than those for the previous year, but as the arrears of Preferred dividends have been wiped off, the surplus applicable to the Common stock was much greater, being at the very high ratio of 68 per cent.

Among current prices Dominion Steel is 59¾; Steel of Canada, 65; Can. Forgings, 208½; Can. Car, 32½; Pref., 86½; Cement, 65½; Pref., 94¼; Can. Gen. Electric, 103; Can. Locomotive, 63½; Lake of the Woods, 158; Ogilvie, 186; Maple Leaf, 130; St. Lawrence Flour, 95½; Montreal Power, 85; Laurentide Power, 59½; Brompton, 60½; Laurentide, 182; Spanish River, 16½, Pref., 58; Wayagamack, 50; Brazilian Traction, 49; Barcelona Traction, 14⅛; Quebec Rly., 20; Toronto Rly., 58½; Steamships, 48½, Pref., 76½; Ames-Holden, 26½, Pref., 68; Asbestos, 32, Pref., 59; Dominion Textile, 95.

The mining markets have continued fairly active and strong, the gold stocks being regarded as peace issues, showing strength. Big Dome is firm, $10.50, and Hollinger at $5.10 and McIntyre, $1.53. Among the silver shares, Nipissing is strong, at $8.55, some lots selling at $8.75; Temiskaming is .30; La Rose, .51. During September sixteen Cobalt Co.'s shipped 31 carloads of ore, containing altogether 2,319,515 lbs. Shipments from Cobalt during the week ending October 4 totalled 13 cars, containing 912,802 lbs. of ore. Eight companies contributed to this total, McKinley-Darragh leading with three cars, containing 211,609 lbs.

Ontario after the War—WATER POWER.

The whole industrial success of Ontario may be said to depend upon the development of its water power.

The water power of Ontario is cheapened and made generally available by Government control and operation, and nearly every city and town in Ontario has already been provided with hydro-electric power both for lighting and manufacturing purposes.

The importance of this phase of development may be realised from the fact that Ontario to-day has 16,000 factories depending upon water power, with an annual output amounting to $579,000,000.

The enormous reserve of Ontario's water power may be realised from the fact that, of the many millions of horse-power available, only about 10 per cent. has, up to now, been brought under control.

OTTAWA.—Savings deposits in Canadian banks increased by $22,200,000 during September, and reached a total of $1,037,000,000.

——An order has been passed giving the War Trade Board power to take possession of and operate for a period of five years, if necessary, any mines in Canada producing chrome ore.

TORONTO.—A preventive vaccine for influenza has been discovered at the Connaught Laboratories of the University of Toronto, and is being distributed throughout Ontario.

Ontario's metalliferous production for the first six months of 1918 showed an increase of more than $7,000,000 over the same period of last year, the value being $40,082,914.

The United Farmers' candidate has been elected to the Provincial Legislature for Manitoulin by a 300 majority over the Conservative candidate. Almost the only issue (says the Times) was the conscription of farmers' sons for military service. For 15 years Manitoulin has been represented by a Conservative.

LONDON.—The number of houses which are now being shared by two families in London is enormous. It is the middle-class householder who is particularly affected.

KINGSTON.—Over 900 graduates of the Royal Military College of Canada have served in the war. Of this number 127 have been killed in action, while 340 have had honours and decorations awarded to them.

BRANTFORD.—Messrs. Ker and Goodwin have accepted a contract from the U.S. Government for the construction of 175,000 semi-steel gas shells. The contract is subject to cancellation June 30 next year. The contract involves the expenditure of $1,500,000, and the erection of a new plant.

TRENTON.—A big explosion occurred last week at a chemical establishment near here, but fortunately there was no loss of life.

FORT WILLIAM.—The Canadian Car and Foundry Company has secured a number of new contracts for mine-sweepers for the French through the American Government. It is stated that these contracts will be sufficient to keep the plant running for the next six or eight months. The Great Lakes Dredging Company has secured orders for more wooden boats.

HALIFAX.—The old Trappist monastery at Tracadie, N.S., has been sold to a syndicate which includes Hon. A. Sevigny, Messrs. A. Bergevin, John A. Sullivan, barrister, and Legarie. It is the oldest Trappist monastery in the Dominion, and the grounds cover 700 acres.

LIVERPOOL.—The 2,000-ton ss. War Halifax was launched on September 21. At Hantsport a schooner of 1,050 tons has been launched, and other large schooners at Parrsboro', Shelburne, and Meteghan.

SYDNEY.—The first battery of the Dominion Steel Corporation's new coke ovens is now in operation. The entire plant will cost several million dollars.

NEW BRUNSWICK.

ST. JOHN.—At a memorial service at St. John's Church, a brass memorial tablet was unveiled to the memory of Lt. Frederick C. Manning, son of Dr. J. H. Manning, by his brother, Lt. J. Harold Manning, who has returned home wounded. A third brother, Cadet Laurence Manning, R.A.F., was present.

——The exports from this port in 1918 are valued at $200,783,647, compared with $190,586,561 in 1917, and $120,042,590 in 1916. Imports in 1918 $16,787,200, in 1917 $15,500,659, in 1916 $11,165,463. The Customs receipts have grown from $2,706,891 in 1916 to $3,333,982 this year.

MONTREAL.—The War Earl, War Duchess, and War Joy are nearing completion by the Canadian Vickers, each over 7,000 tons, and four more cargo steamers are in course of construction.

—The War Niagara, a wooden steamship of 3,100 tons, has been launched by Fraser, Brace & Co., at Lachine, who are building eight steamers for the French Government.

——Influenza, which is rife all over the Dominion, has been so severe here that the Board of Health closed all theatres, schools, and public gatherings, while the clergy of all denominations suspended services. Stores are called upon to close at 4.30 p.m. in order that the congestion of traffic may be less, and afford thereby healthier conditions in the street cars. McGill University, which had just got to work for the session, is closed.

——The Mount Royal tunnel, connecting the heart of this city with the Canadian Northern Railway's model city behind the mountain, has been opened for traffic. Through trains are also running between Montreal, Toronto, and Ottawa. The city terminus of the tunnel is situated in Lagauchetiere Street, near the C.P.R. Station. The tunnel is three and a half miles in length. The line is electrified for the first eleven miles out of the city.

MANITOBA PROVINCE.

WINNIPEG.—The Gray, Campbell, Corry & Co. building here has been destroyed by fire; damage estimated at $375,000.

——The organisation of the Western Canada Development bureau has been completed by the Board of Trade. Mr. W. R. Ingram was appointed chairman, and Mr. C. H. Webster secretary. This section of the Board of Trade has a membership of about 200.

Col. B. G. Winans, formerly manager of the Royal Bank of Canada and later with the Bank of Commerce, in Montreal, has been elected vice-president of the Dominion Loan and Securities Co.

SASKATCHEWAN.

REGINA.—Lt. J. D. Cameron, a returned soldier, now with the British Recruiting Mission in the United States, and formerly of the law firm of Carman & Cameron, in this city, has been appointed Provincial Administrator of deceased soldiers' estates in this Province. Lt. Cameron will preside over a branch of the Attorney-General's department, which will be an information bureau for any returned soldier, or soldier on active service, concerning the condition of his property and affairs. Any soldier desiring information regarding the condition of his farm chattels, difficulties arising out of taxation laws and other matters of a similar nature, should apply to him.

——In the Estevan by-election, Mr. E. M. Dunbar (Liberal) has been elected by a majority of nearly 500 over his opponent, Mr. Bryce.

-The first G.T.P. train ran into this city on October 7, arriving at the C.P.R. depôt. A party of civic officials travelled from Duro on the train. Mr. H. H. Brewer, general superintendent, Winnipeg, and Mr. A. E. Rosevear, general freight agent, Winnipeg, were on the train. Space has been assigned the G.T.P. for both freight and passenger business at the C.P.R. (now the Union) Station.

N B.—All letters asking for information or advice must contain an enquiry coupon from the current issue of "Canada," except when the enquirer is an annual subscriber.

Detailed replies by letter are not made except to annual subscribers. Non-subscribers desiring detailed or exhaustive replies by letter must enclose a P.O. for 5s., which will cover three questions.

Copies should be kept of questions, and these should be numbered when more than one is asked.

The fullest particulars of special investment opportunities in Canada mentioned from time to time in the column headed "Investment Notes and Opportunities" are supplied on request to readers who are annual subscribers.

R. B. W. (Seaford).—Write the Officer-in-Charge, Estates Branch, O.M.F. of C., 133, Oxford Street, London, W.

M. G. C. (France).—You can obtain the "King's Regulations" from H.M. Stationery Office, Imperial House, Kingsway, London, W.C.2, for 2s., post free.

Ex R.N. -W.M.P.—We naturally have every sympathy with your suggestion, but the case of Imperial Reservists is entirely one for the British War Office.

ANXIOUS (Bramshott).—(1) It is possible, but the authorities are not keen on it. (2) If you are discharged in Great Britain you renounce your right to transportation to Canada.

SUBALTERN (France).—The present policy of the O.M.F.C. regarding draft conducting officers is that no officer who joined the C.E.F. after September 1, 1916, will be eligible for that work.

J. A. B. (Basingstoke).—(1) A man generally gets leave before he proceeds overseas. (2) He may or may not; it depends upon the recommendation made. (3) As many times as he has been wounded.

A. F. C. (Shorncliffe).—Your suggestion would do away with the whole point of the distinction, which signifies that its wearer came to England with the First Contingent in 1914.

A CONSTANT READER.—Your letter is not quite clear. If the land you refer to is occupied by Germans and Austrians they have presumably obtained Canadian naturalisation, or are known to be so well-disposed that there is no desire to intern them.

W. M. J. (France).—(1) It is a moot point on which we cannot advise you. (2) An order was issued saying that any officer who had lost an eye or a limb could not be sent to France unless in a non-combatant capacity; we cannot say if such an order applies to the Imperial Forces, but presume it does. (3) Very little chance, as you would have to be "A" category to return to the firing line.

D. K. D. (Market Drayton).—The first gazetting of Canadian V.C.s took place on June 22, 1915, when No. 1539 C.S.M. F. W. Hall (Winnipeg), No. 24066 Lce.-Cpl. F. Fisher (St. Catharines), and Capt. F. A. C. Scrimger, C.A.M.C. (Montreal), were awarded the decoration for gallantry at the Second Battle of Ypres. Both Hall and Fisher were killed, but Capt. (now Major) Scrimger is alive and well. These three were jointly the first Canadian V.C.s of the present war.

American Dentistry for Canadians.
at 137, Oxford Street, London, W.1.

The wonderful advance which has taken place in dental methods in recent years is strikingly illustrated by the work of Mr. L. D. Botibol, the West-End Dental Specialist, whose moderate fees have brought modern scientific dentistry within the reach of all.

Mr. Botibol studied under a famous Russian Professor before taking up a practice, first in America, where he became thoroughly au fait with American bridgework, and then in London, where his skill and knowledge rapidly established for him an influential connection.

What Mr. Botibol does not know about stopping, crowning, and painless dentistry generally is not worth knowing.

The Overseas Forces can therefore place full confidence in Mr. L. D. Botibol, whose dental surgery is at 137, Oxford Street, London, W.1 (next door to Pembroke House, Headquarters of Canadian Overseas Medical Services). Canadian Forces receive special and immediate attention, and they and their friends will always receive a downright Canadian welcome. Telephone: Museum 2736.

ALBERTA PROVINCE.

CALGARY.—Addressing the Calgary Rotary Club, Dr. D. B. Dowling, of Ottawa, traced the geological formation of Alberta and the present formation of the coal and oil areas of the Province. He stated that if the present gas extraction plant at the Dingman well came up to expectations there was reasonable prospect of a production of at least 100 barrels a day. He also said that the wells operating were at present producing some 50 barrels a day. The districts which he referred to as possible oil producing areas were the Dingman field, South Alberta, Viking, and Peace River.

-Mr. W. G. Soltau, a former law student, who enlisted in the University Corps in 1915, has been admitted to the Alberta Bar, but has returned to the Front.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

VICTORIA.—Mr. D. N. Ross, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Melbourne, reports that had it not been for the efforts of paper mills in this Province many Australian journals would have been in serious difficulties.

- Major John W. Clark has been appointed Superintendent of Soldier Settlement in this Province in connection with the Department of Lands, of which the Hon. T. D. Patullo is the Minister.

VANCOUVER.—Damage of four-tenths of one per cent. was all that was sustained by the trial shipment of wheat grown in Western Alberta, and shipped from Vancouver to England by way of the Panama Canal, according to the report of Mr. F. J. Birchard, chemist in charge, which has reached the local Board of Trade. The success of the shipment justifies further trials.

THE CANADIAN AIR FORCE.

Speaking at Glasgow on Saturday, at the presentation of the "City of Glasgow" aeroplane to the Dominion of Canada, Sir George Perley said they were now making preparations for providing two Canadian squadrons to go to the Front as such, and to be manned and staffed by Canadian officers and men. At the present time they had something like 15,000 Canadians in the flying forces. He read a cablegram from Sir Robert Borden, expressing to the Imperial Air Fleet Committee and to the Lord Provost of Glasgow the Canadian Government's deep appreciation of the gift aeroplane.

Sir George acknowledged the toast of "Canada and the Imperial Air Fleet Aeroplane, 'City of Glasgow,'" proposed by Lord Desborough and supported by Maj.-Gen. Cayley; and Brigadier-General Rennie, as representing General R. Turner, and Lord Morris also acknowledged the toast.

After the formal presentation by the Lord Provost, Lady Perley attached a beaver and maple leaf mascot, and a number of souvenirs were presented.

CANADIAN PACIFIC LINER LOST WITH MANY LIVES.

A wireless message from Juneau states (says Reuter's Vancouver correspondent) that the Canadian Pacific steamer Princess Sophia (2,320 gross tons; Capt. Locke), from Skagway, foundered on the night of Thursday, October 24, with the loss of 268 passengers and 75 crew.

It is believed that nearly all aboard were Alaskans, who had boarded the steamer at Skagway after coming up the Yukon River from the interior.

CANADIAN NORTHERN RAILWAY.

The first annual meeting of the Canadian Northern Railway as a Government system was held at Toronto last week, but the minority stockholders were not represented at the meeting. The president, Mr. Hanna, however, announces that English stock amounting almost to £2,000,000 had been nearly all turned over to the Government.

The directors of the Canadian Northern, who have just completed the inspection of the system, are (says the Times) much impressed with its prospects and possibilities.

Mr. M. M. MacLeod, for many years general manager of the C.N.R. west of Port Arthur, with headquarters at Winnipeg, has been appointed vice-president of the entire system, and he will be moved to Toronto.

THE PROVINCE OF PROSPERITY.

Vast natural resources and an industrious, thrifty, and enterprising population have brought unexampled prosperity to this Province.

No Province of the Dominion offers more startling opportunities for the investor. Immense water powers, now running to waste, will produce electricity for industrial purposes in unlimited volume; vast forests will supply an enormous cut of timber and wood pulp; rich mineral deposits hold out alluring opportunities to the prospector; extensive tracts of fertile land suitable for general farming and dairying await settlement. Next to its lands and forests, the Fish and Game of the Province are among its most valuable assets, providing splendid commercial opportunities and incomparable sport. Quebec is the Sportsman's Paradise, the Holiday-maker's Elysium, and a land of opportunity for all.

'7 o'clock' Safety Razor.

A really dependable razor at a popular price. It opens flat, and can be stropped without removing the blade. This construction also overcomes the difficulty of cleaning, which is the bugbear of so many safety razors.

Strongly made, heavily silvered, and with blades that cannot be surpassed, it is used by many men who could afford a far more expensive razor, but prefer the simple efficiency of the "7 o'clock." The Standard Set consists of heavily silver-plated stropping razor, six finest lancet steel blades, the whole in handsome case, with strop in hinged partition, and the price is 10/6.

NO RESPITE.

UNTIL the German lines are broken through, and the German military machine is at least partially smashed by force of arms, the fighting in France and Flanders must continue.

These are heavy and difficult days for the fighting men who have been advancing with such sustained tenacity ever since Foch commenced his great attack. They see victory clearly in sight, and they must yearn for a respite from the reek of blood and destruction. The hardships of campaigning are now daily aggravated by the approach of winter, and it may seem to many that the Allies might now safely hold the beaten Hun on lines of our own choosing, and wait for the full reinforcement from America.

Such thoughts must be even more strongly felt by those wounded in recent battles, and now convalescent, and awaiting orders to rejoin their units. They have cast dice with fate, and have won out, though not scatheless. They will go back bravely if required, but with so many fresh men arriving, many do ask why should this further demand be made upon them. This is one of the most cruel features of the war. If it could be, the Allied commanders would not ask that wounded men should return to the battle again and again—but the stake is too great and the foe too strong for even this relief to our fighting men. It is not a desire for mere military success that impels General Foch to pursue his retreating foe so hotly and relentlessly, and at the daily cost of many brave lives.

It is more than the reputation of generals that is at stake to-day. The lying and dangerous conception of the German super-man as the world conqueror must be destroyed by the armies of the free peoples. There must be no shred left of Prussian pre-eminence in the field of war. Their efficient organisation and methodical staff-work are acknowledged and realised, but it is also to be realised that the soldiers of the Allies who have never become the automata of a soulless military despotism are their superiors in gallantry, in endurance, and in the finer discipline.

That the whole world may see and understand these things, it is necessary to fight on without respite until the laboriously constructed edifice of Prussian military pre-eminence is completely and finally shattered. To achieve this many of the most famous units in the British and French Armies have been thrown into the attack again and again during the last three months. The Canadian Corps has faced as much stubborn fighting as any. It has won great glory, it has inflicted great losses on the enemy, and it has suffered heavy losses itself. It truly deserves respite from its great efforts, but if, by a few more successful attacks, the whole line of the enemy can be rolled up, and a winter in trenches avoided, it is for the general good that no effort should be relaxed.

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

Valenciennes. The name of Valenciennes has been added to the honours of the Canadian Corps. Operating in conjunction with Imperial units, the Canadians had the honour of entering the ancient city last Saturday morning, after stiff fighting, which involved heavy losses to the enemy. It is satisfactory to learn that the Canadian casualties were relatively light. The achievement on the part of the Corps is described as brilliant, and General Currie and his men are to be congratulated on their fresh victory.

While, comparatively speaking, Valenciennes has been spared by the enemy, nevertheless, here again the mark of the Hun has been left behind. The Germans' treatment of the civil population has been characteristically merciless. For them these have been four years of slavery and oppression. Mr. Philip Gibbs tells of one woman who cried to him with a strange mingling of rage and grief, "O my God! those devils have gone at last. What have they not made us suffer!" "Sir," added her husband, "they have stolen everything, broken everything, and have ground us down for four years. They are bandits and brigands." To the very last the Huns were true to their reputation. Whatever purported to be their official orders, there has been plenty of looting, and great quantities of the famous Valenciennes lace have been carried off. And when the Canadians entered they found buildings on fire and the inhabitants unable to put them out, because the Germans had let all the water out of the pipes, flooding the cellars and robbing the poor people of their refuge from bombardment.

Canada and the War. Sir George Perley gave a telling address to the British Women's Patriotic League in London on Monday, on "Canada and the War." The facts are, of course, well enough known to Canadians and Anglo-Canadians, but there are still many in this country who do not fully realise Canada's position and achievements. Those who listened to the High Commissioner enjoyed the advantage of having clearly and convincingly placed before them the attitude of the Dominion, the proud record of her soldiers, and the success with which she has met all her financial requirements.

As far as Canada's position is concerned, Sir George Perley, who paid a high compliment to the Imperial statesmanship of Sir Robert Borden, pointed out that when war broke out this country was unprepared, but Canada was even less prepared. Canada did not, he emphasised, "come to the assistance" of the Mother Country, but came into the war because it was part of the British Empire and because the Canadian people were prepared to fight for their liberty and the principles of democratic government which they hold so dear. Out of the war Canada expects to get nothing, declared Sir George, except security and the preservation of her rights and liberty: "We do hope that as a result of the experiences of this war some practical way will be found for making the Empire more self-contained, so that never again may we be dependent on any foreign country for any of the necessities of either peace or war."

The Proof of Discipline. At G.H.Q. much interesting information is extracted from carefully compiled statistics. The records of military crime in the various units are preserved and tabulated, and various deductions are made therefrom. Military crime, like the monkey-jacket of the midshipman, covers a multitude of sins—many of a very trivial character. But whatever the value of such records in peace time, with an army in the field they certainly give some indications of character and proclivities of the various units. The eye of G.H.Q. regards a clean crime sheet as a proof of discipline, and when it is discovered that the Canadian Corps has less military crime on its sheets than any other combatant unit of its size, it is credited with possessing the highest discipline. We may take the award without too meticulous dissection of the premises, as it is obvious that the Corps could not have won to its high prestige without fine discipline. But, as human nature is much the same in all Britishers, credit for these exemplary battalion records must be given to the good sense of officers and men, and the absence of much red-tape.

The Victory Loan. The response to the $300,000,000 Canadian Victory Loan promises to be thoroughly satisfactory. From Atlantic to Pacific the reports are eloquent of the determination of the Canadian people to bring about an early assurance of victory. Provinces and cities are vieing with each other in friendly rivalry, and individuals and great corporations are sending in their subscriptions in proportion to their means. At the end of the first week the hundred-million-dollar mark had been easily passed.

Even with full and complete victory within sight, the loan is a national and Imperial necessity. The conclusion of a final armistice with Germany—when it comes—will not put an end to Canada's financial commitments. But the immediate necessity is, in General Currie's words, "to redouble our efforts to make the final issue of the war absolutely certain." "If ever there was a time when the people of Canada should subscribe to the Victory Loan," he says in a message to General Mewburn, "it is now; I am confident that the people will support it everywhere and put it over big."

The Outfit Allowance. The official announcement in regard to an annual allowance of $100 to officers towards renewal of outfit was issued in Routine Orders on October 25, though passed by the Military Council on September 12. It is retroactive to August 1. This is a concession which Canada has strongly urged, and which we are very glad to see granted, as it gives some relief to those who most need it. We have not seen any official announcement in regard to field and separation allowances, both of which are equally urgent; but these, we understand, have been favourably considered, so it will, we hope, not be long before another popular announcement appears in Routine Orders.

France and the Dominions. The recent departure of M. C. E. Bonin, the French Consul in Montreal since 1912, and the reception of M. Auguste Ponsot, was the occasion of a notable speech by the former. Referring to the use of the French language in the Province of Quebec, M. Bonin said that French-Canadians represented the strongest homogeneous element of their language outside the Mother Country; Montreal, indeed, being the fourth French city in the world, following after Paris, Marseilles, and Lyons. Canadian soldiers who had gone overseas, said M. Bonin, now knew France otherwise than by legend, and having learnt to understand and respect the French mentality, would greatly help to cause the disappearance of various prejudices, just as their presence in France would set that country right in regard to Canada.

The increased trade intercourse between France and the Dominion, as a result of the war, is indicated by the fact that since March, 1917, its value has risen from $15,000,000 to over $70,000,000. The possibilities of Canada as an exporting manufacturing country have been better realised in France, as in Britain, during the last four years, and the view expressed by MM. Bonin and Ponsot that there will be a marked permanent increase in the trade done between the Dominion and France is endorsed by representative business men.

Sir Auckland Geddes. Not only McGill University men but many other Canadians as well, have watched with great interest the rapidity with which Sir Auckland Geddes has "made good" in London during the war. A keen Volunteer in his Edinburgh days, the Professor of Anatomy at McGill came over and became Director of Recruiting at the War Office, with the rank of Brigadier-General. When the work transferred to a civilian department, he relinquished his military status, and became Minister of National Service, entering the House of Commons as member for Basingstoke and receiving a Privy Councillorship and the honour of K.C.B. On Tuesday it was announced that Sir Auckland had been appointed President of the Local Government Board, in place of Mr. Hayes Fisher, who has received a peerage and succeeds Lord Beaverbrook in the nominal office of Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster.

Sir Auckland Geddes is to hold the duties of both posts. From an administrative point of view, his appointment is taken, not only to indicate that the work of the National Service Department is now drawing to a close, but to have an important bearing upon the establishment of a Ministry of Health. On its personal side his many friends regard it as another well-merited tribute to his brilliant gifts.

The Constitution of the States. The difference in the constitution of the United States from that of Britain and her self-governing Dominions is forcibly illustrated by the fact that the tenure of office by the President remains unaffected by the election of a new House of Representatives. The House of Representatives, which corresponds to our House of Commons, is elected every two years on the fixed date of "the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November." At the same time one-third of the 96 members of the Senate retire and offer themselves for re-election, but it is only every fourth year that, on the same date, the electorate of the United States selects its President, who does not actually assume his office until the following March 4. Thus, President Wilson remains President until March 4, 1921; while, in the event of his death before that date, the Vice-President would automatically, by the Constitution, become President for the balance of the term, and the Vice-Presidency be in abeyance.

It will be seen that, under the U.S. Constitution, it is possible for the President to be in office during part of his term, when the House of Representatives or the Senate contains a majority of his political opponents. Such a case occurred, we believe, during the second presidency of Grover Cleveland, and notably in the period when Vice-President Reverdy Johnson succeeded Abraham Lincoln after his assassination.

The Power of the Senate. Another notable feature of the constitution of the Great Republic is that it is the Senate—the Second Chamber—which has the greatest power to lessen the executive action of the President. The Senate, given a two-thirds majority of those present and voting, can reject any treaty negotiated by the President, while by a similar vote, it can reject any cabinet or other appointment he may make.

The principal interest in the election of last Tuesday lay in the result of the elections to the Senate. Up to Tuesday it contained 52 Democrats and 44 Republicans, and 38 new Senators had to be returned, six of them to replace members who had died. As regards the House of Representatives, its 435 members were divided into 215 Democrats, 209 Republicans, and 11 independent members.

The Emigration Bill will not be proceeded with this Session.

Flight Cadet J. F. Stephen, of Vancouver, has left for service in Egypt. He enlisted in the C.A.S.C. (M.T.), and served in France 23 months.

Approximately 46,000 recruits have been secured by the Canadian Recruiting Mission since it began its work in the United States, of which two-thirds went to the Canadian Expeditionary Forces, and the rest to the British Armies.

INCREASE IN PRICE OF "CANADA."

On and after November 23 it will be necessary to increase the price of "Canada" from 8d. to 9d.

For some time past it has been necessary to increase the size of "Canada" in order to include the complete casualty lists, awards, biographical notes, and the full official announcements. This has added considerably to the heavy cost of production, and it is considered better to make a slight increase in the price than to curtail the full and complete service which has been maintained by "Canada" ever since the outbreak of war.

OBITUARY.

The death took place in London last Sunday of Mrs. Wallis, wife of the late Mr. J. M. Wallis, of Peterborough, Ont. (son of Mr. James Wallis, of Merino, Peterborough), for some time manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at San Francisco. Born on November 4, 1863, she was the third and youngest daughter of the late Mr. S. S. Macdonell, Q.C., LL.D., D.C.L., of Windsor, Ont., and Ellen Guillot Macdonell, eldest daughter of Col. D. D. Brodhead, of Brooklyn, Boston. She was the mother of Major J. H. Wallis, Capt. H. M. Wallis, M.C., and Miss Kathleen Wallis, and was the only surviving sister of Major-General A. C. Macdonell, G.O.C. the 1st Canadian Division. Mrs. Wallis came to England two years ago, and with her daughter had been actively engaged in hospital work.

Six additional steamers have been contracted for by the Dominion Government—three to be built at Vancouver, one at Kingston, and two at Port Arthur.

Up to the present 240 Rhodes Scholars from the Dominions and Colonies of the British Empire have taken part in the war. Of these, 83, or nearly 35 per cent., have gained honours and distinctions, and 46, or nearly 20 per cent., have died in action.

Mrs. Watts, until recently in charge of the canteen at the Canadian Red Cross Society's Headquarters, Hotel York, Berners Street, W., has joined Mrs. C. G. Henshaw in Paris to engage in refugee work. Mrs. M. Field has succeeded Mrs. Watts in charge of the canteen at the Hotel York.

A very interesting series of articles is now appearing in the Canadian Press describing the life of the O.M.F.C. in France. These are from the pen of Mr. Lacey Amy, who is to be congratulated on his work, which will convey to the folk at home a vivid picture of life at the Front. It is the greater pleasure to praise this recent work of Mr. Amy's, as Canada has, unfortunately, had to criticise the tenor of some of his earlier comments on the war.

BEAVER HUT FORMALLY OPENED.

Ceremony Performed by Sir Edward Kemp.

The inability of the Duke of Connaught to be present on Wednesday of last week at the formal opening of the Beaver Hut in the Strand was a keen disappointment to many. His Royal Highness himself was disappointed, as was evident from a letter which Sir George Perley read to the meeting.

In the absence of the Duke, Sir Edward Kemp performed the opening ceremony in a short speech in which he eulogised the work of the Canadian Y.M.C.A. Sir Edward said they had watched with interest the work of the Y.M.C.A. since the start of the war, and the opening of that Hut was one of the crowning acts of their work. To a man without friends, England could be as lonesome a place as a Canadian forest, but that Hut would enable a man to feel thoroughly at home. The work of the Y.M.C.A. at the Front, continued Sir Edward, was known to all the soldiers, and those activities supplemented the fine work of the Army. In closing, he spoke of the Duke of Connaught's deep interest in everything Canadian.

Sir George Perley said the valour of our fighting men proved this generation to be equal to their ancestors of a thousand years. Nothing that could be done by themselves or by the people in Canada for the comfort of the troops was too much. He counselled that they should make no relaxation of effort at this stage in order to make sure that they should secure proper results from their great sacrifices.

The Rt. Rev. A. H. de Pencier, Bishop of New Westminster, offered a dedicatory prayer, after which Capt. Edmund Burke sang "O Canada."

Following the ceremony, Capt. Summers gave a most interesting address on the work of the Y.M.C.A. in the London Area, supplementing his talk with pictures thrown on the screen.

Among those present on the platform were Col. Gerald Birks, Y.M.C.A. (in the chair), Princess Alice (Countess of Athlone), Lady Perley, Miss FitzRandolph, Lady Donegall, Lady Drummond, Mrs. Sturgis, Mrs. Carey, Mrs. John Hope, Lt.-Gen. Sir Percy Lake, Major-Gen. Sir H. E. Burstall, Sir Henry Proctor, Brig.-Gen. J. G. Ross, Brig.-Gen. Hugh Dyer, Mr. Abner Kingman, Mr. Perceval Ridout, Col. Tory, Col. (Rev. Canon) Almond, Col. Valentine Matthews, Col. Gerald White, Lt.-Col MacDonald, and Dr. Philippe Roy.

THE WRECK OF THE "PRINCESS SOPHIA."

The C.P.R. states that the number of persons aboard the wrecked s.s. Princess Sophia totalled 336. Of these 268 were passengers, and the crew comprised 68. All were lost when the vessel foundered. One hundred and eighty-seven bodies have been recovered.

The passengers included several prominent citizens of Dawson City, and 87 of the steamship employees of the White Pass and Yukon Railway Co., who, at the close of the Yukon season, were on their way to the Pacific coast. Among them were Capts. Green, Broomquist and Douglas, five engineers, four pursers and three stewards.

WAR GRAVES IN THE UNITED KINGDOM.

The Imperial War Graves Commission had before them at a recent meeting—at which Sir George Perley represented Canada and Dr. E. F. S. Green Newfoundland—the report of the committee appointed to consider the question of war graves in the United Kingdom. The report recommended that the Commission should be responsible for the maintenance of all war graves in the United Kingdom which were not maintained by the relatives, and that the same form of memorial headstone as in war cemeteries should be erected over war graves in this country.

The Commission took the view that, so far as possible, the memory of officers and men dying in this country as the result of the war should be honoured equally with those dying in other lands, and that it should be carefully considered how far this principle of equality of treatment could be applied to graves in the United Kingdom, regard being had to the different conditions prevailing outside the theatres of war.

Canada's total wheat crop is estimated at 210,315,600 bushels. It is estimated that Western Canada has from 90,000,000 to 100,000,000 bushels for export or use in the Eastern mills. The yield in Manitoba and Saskatchewan is much higher than was expected.

The thirteenth number of La Vie Canadienne (Canadian Section, G.H.Q., 3rd Echelon) is described as the "anti-hoodoo" number. Its contents in prose and verse—are full of variety, a good deal of space being devoted to sport. The editor is now Lt. W. V. Ross Winter.

Pte. W. J. Mitchell, of Saskatoon, who enlisted with a McGill University draft and served in France with the P.P.C.L.I., is now Physical Director of the London Colle of the Khaki University. As a former manager of some of the Hudson's Bay Company's posts in the Far North, Pte. Mitchell acquired great knowledge of scouting, and is now putting that knowledge to practical use by acting as Scoutmaster of the 113th (South London) Troop of Boy Scouts.

CANADIANS ENTER VALENCIENNES.

LAST Saturday the Canadians entered Valenciennes, after what Mr. J. F. B. Livesay, the Canadian Press correspondent, describes as one of the most brilliant achievements of the Corps. At 7.50 a.m. General Currie despatched the message :—" I have the honour to report that Valenciennes is completely in our hands."

On Friday, November 1, Sir Douglas Haig reported :

At dawn this morning English and Canadian troops attacked on a front of about six miles south of Valenciennes. After sharp fighting, in which exceptionally heavy casualties were inflicted on the enemy, we forced the passage of the Rhonelle, capturing the villages of Maresches and Aulnoy, and reached the line of the railway in the southern outskirts of Valenciennes. Strong opposition was met with, particularly north of Maresches and in the village of Aulnoy. Later in the day several determined counter-attacks were delivered by the enemy on the high ground west of the Preseau-Valenciennes road. In spite of these attacks, our troops successfully maintained their positions on the ridge. This evening further counter-attacks are developing north-east and north of Aulnoy. In the course of these operations we have captured between 2,000 and 3,000 prisoners.

On Saturday it was stated :—

A VIEW OF VALENCIENNES TAKEN JUST BEFORE THE CANADIANS ENTERED THE CITY.

11 a.m.—The fighting yesterday south of Valenciennes was of a very severe nature, and was continued until this morning. On the battle front of six miles large numbers of the enemy were killed, many hostile counter-attacks repulsed, and 4,000 prisoners taken. The 17th Corps, under General Fergusson, and 22nd Corps, under General Godley, gained the high ground south-east of Valenciennes, and this morning pressed forward and seized the village of Preseau. To the north the Canadian Corps, under General Currie, after hard fighting on the outskirts of Valenciennes, have now passed their troops through that town, which is wholly in our possession.

7.30 p.m.—Determined fighting of a local character has continued during the day on the battle front south and east of Valenciennes. Our troops have made good progress north-east of Maresches and east and north of Preseau, capturing the hamlet of St. Hubert and the farms in the vicinity. East of Valenciennes we hold the village of Marly, and our advanced detachments have entered St. Saulve

10.15. a.m.—Yesterday evening the steelworks south-east of Valenciennes, which the enemy had defended during the day with much determination, were taken by our troops. Our line was advanced for a distance of one and a half miles east of the town, and the capture of the village of St. Saulve was completed. As the result of the two days' fighting on this front, we have captured 5.000 prisoners, four tanks, and a few guns.

7.40 p.m.—Following upon the severe defeat inflicted upon his forces on the Valenciennes front in the fighting of the past two days, the enemy has to-day withdrawn from his positions east and south-east of Valenciennes. This movement was at once observed, and our troops have pressed the enemy closely during the day, maintaining constant touch with the German rearguards and taking a number of prisoners. Our advanced detachments have entered the villages of Villers-Pol, Jenlain, Curgies, Estreux, and Onnaing.

Monday's report stated :—

On the extreme north-east of Valenciennes Canadian troops have made progress along the right bank of the Scheldt, and have passed beyond Estreux and Onnaing.

THE CANADIANS' ARRIVAL.

The various Press correspondents mention the extraordinarily powerful concentration of artillery which supported the Canadians, literally blowing to fragments the enemy defences in the narrow strip of ground between the Scheldt and Rhonelle Rivers.

The Morning Post correspondent gives a graphic description of the entry of the Canadians :—" When the first Canadian patrols entered Valenciennes in the uncertain light of dawn, wading ankle-deep through flooded streets, the town seemed deserted save for a handful of machine-gunners sniping from upper windows and improvised barricades. German shells splashed aimlessly on the roofs and outer thoroughfares. Presently the Canadians became aware that pallid faces were peering at them through the dusty windows and that hands were waving a ghostly welcome. The remaining inhabitants of Valenciennes, 5,000 in all, still afraid to leave the shelter of their homes, thus signalled their joy and gratitude, and gradually they came into open doorways and watched the men in khaki creep from corner to corner."

SHORT, SHARP AND DECISIVE.

SATURDAY, 8 P.M.

To the Canadian Corps has fallen the honour of restoring the ancient city of Valenciennes to the French nation, together with 5,000 civilians and as many more in adjacent villages.

Compared with Cambrai, or even Douai, the town has suffered little. The Hun has here stayed his vandal hand. Private houses have not been systematically sacked, and any looting done has been by individual soldiers in face of stringent orders issued by the German Army Command. Nevertheless, most of the fine statues have been removed from the museum, some remaining ready addressed to a German city. The museum itself has been used as a workshop. Except on the outskirts, where the battle was fierce, the streets have suffered little. But no sooner were we in the city than the enemy began shelling, hitting, among other buildings, the eastern chapel of a fine Gothic cathedral.

On their arrival, every Canadian soldier was surrounded and embraced, and the inhabitants shouted, "Tell the people of Canada how grateful we are; how happy we are." Were it not for the horrors of evacuation, the people would have suffered little. On October 12 there was posted an evacuation order ordering all inhabitants to be out of the city by noon of October 13, or they would be thrown out by force. They went, but finding the roads impassable, many filtered back. So late as yesterday morning all young men were ordered to parade in the Grande Place preparatory to marching out. They assembled, but the Boches were so much engaged repelling the Canadian attack that they presently hid themselves in cellars. Many of the people in the city are from Cambrai, Douai and elsewhere.

A Brilliant Achievement.

Short, sharp and decisive was the battle of Valenciennes. It will rank as one of the most brilliant achievements of the Canadian Corps.

The situation offered an extremely difficult problem. Until three days ago the entire Canadian Corps was on the west side of the Scheldt, with its battle front cut off from the enemy by a flooded and impassable area. His flank thus protected, the enemy was able to hold fast to the high land south of the city, of which Mont Houy was the key. Two attempts by troops operating on our right to storm this position had failed.

The Canadian Fourth Division was entrusted with the entire operation. The 10th Brigade kicked-off at dawn on Friday morning, and by 8 o'clock had carried all objectives, including Mont Houy and intervening villages up to the southern outskirts of the city. Much of this initial success was due to the remarkable work of the Canadian artillery, which laid down a barrage mixed with smoke that simply devastated the enemy defences. Our advancing infantry came upon enemy machine-gun posts blown to pieces with all their crews. Sufficient remained, however, to put up a stout fight, bitter opposition developing at Aulnoy steel works, at Marly, and elsewhere, and the enemy dead exceeds anything of the kind seen since the height of the battle of Cambrai. Happily, our own casualties throughout the entire operation are relatively light.

While the 10th Brigade thus engaged on Friday, the 12th Brigade, from the west, attacked and succeeded in crossing the canal. At one point the only practical crossing was commanded by a strong machine-gun post just across the canal. Wrapping the wheels of an 18-pounder with carpet, the gun was brought down secretly at night to the house just opposite this post and then knocked through a wall. At zero hour this gun opened point-blank fire at a range of a few yards, and at the first discharge blew guns and crew into the air.

An Eastern Ontario battalion crossed over the locks south-west of the city by a footbridge under heavy enfilading machine-gun fire, and with the first section there went over a Canadian official photographer, who took pictures of this operation under fire. The battalion proceeded to consolidate the southern end of the city, holding that night the line of the railway.

During the same day a British Columbia battalion crossed over the canal farther down, and after sharp fighting succeeded in making good the line on the north-west outskirts.

Early this morning the same Ottawa battalion pushed its way right through the city and took up a line before noon on the eastern boundary, being supported on the left by British Columbia troops and on the right by units of the 11th Brigade, which went through the 10th Brigade.

Two Canadian gunners, with two French interpreters, at 10 o'clock swarmed up the tower of the Hôtel de Ville, cut down the German flag and hoisted the Tricolour.

This afternoon the enemy still clung tenaciously to the ridge immediately east of the city, whence he directed a harassing fire. We attacked in force again and drove him out of a strong position he held between St. Saulve and the Chateau Souris. Our airmen report considerable activity behind his lines, and the expectation is that he will counter-attack heavily to-night.

Valenciennes, because of its strong natural defences, aided by our refusal to direct shellfire upon the city itself, has proved a very strong pivot for the enemy's retirement, but possibly the stand he has made here has already served its purpose, permitting his evacuation elsewhere. We now hold the village of Estreux, and have pushed out along the Mons road towards Onnaing.

Fourth Division's Good Work.

Tuesday, November 5.

This morning we are in contact with the enemy on the line from whence Canadian troops on the left have crossed the Scheldt two miles south of Condé, thence just east of Quarouble, thence south of Quievrechain up to the Grand Hennille River, to midway between Rombies and Angre, where we join hands with troops who are in the village of Gebourg; thence the line runs fairly direct to Le Quesnoy. We have thus pushed the enemy out of his improvised line of rifle pits, where he fought yesterday a delaying action to enable him to evacuate his material. The whole country is bisected with rivers running through swamps and ditches, and on our left front this has been flooded, and going is very difficult. Here the enemy counter-attacked last night, but met with no success.

As the battlefield of last Friday and Saturday south and east of Valenciennes is mopped up that operation redounds more and more to the credit of the troops engaged and of the very effective work of the Canadian gunners. The 10th Canadian Infantry Brigade alone buried over 800 Boches and took 1,400 prisoners, and other brigades of the Canadian Fourth Division have also done remarkably good work, having fought their way with hardly a break from south of Douai to their present position on the Belgian border.

Remarkable work was done by Canadian Engineers. Their unflagging efforts and those of the Canadian Railway Troops and Labour Battalions have succeeded in restoring communications in a country where the enemy has blown up every bridge and causeway. The present advance is only made possible by the energy with which the Engineers push ahead their bridging and pontoon work right into the firing line, enabling the bringing up of guns and ammunition.

Our Signallers, too, deserve the highest praise, for throughout these operations they have established and preserved telegraphic and telephone communication. Such a feat has never been contemplated in text-books on open warfare, which in the pursuit of the enemy lay down that reliance must be placed on cavalry. They have paid in casualties, particularly in officers, the price of their temerity, but their efforts have saved the lives of many of our men by enabling constant liaison between infantry, gunners and Staff.

CAPTURED DUMPS AND ENGINEERING MATERIAL.

A Variety of Useful Engineering Material.

France, October 29.

When the official communiqué briefly states, "We captured large quantities of engineering material," only those who see what the dumps contain have any conception of the variety and quantity of useful material we have inherited.

In the past two weeks the Canadian Corps has captured fourteen large dumps, or what the Hun calls "pioneer parks." To give an idea of what one of these dumps or parks contains, the following are some of the principal items taken from the inventory made soon after the capture of one quite close to Valencennies a few days ago:—Six steam locomotives and tenders; 1,700,000 feet of unsawn timber and 2,007,000 feet of prepared small lumber, such as battens; hundreds of wood chairs and forms, several dozen farm implements, 72 general service trestle and other wagons, 14 dummy tanks, 100 cases of glass, 2,500 tons of steel plates, 500 coils of wire, 100 tons of angle iron, 1,000 steel machine-gun emplacements, 6 hydraulic hammers, a large quantity of woodworking machinery and several tons of nails, steel rails and bolts of all sizes.

At another dump 3,000 tons of excellent coal was stored alongside 1,000 tons of slack and 6,000 cords of wood—a most acceptable legacy at this time of the year—1,200 tons of crushed stone, and a collection of every conceivable article from blow fans to trench mats.

The product of the 14 dumps has a market value of many thousands of pounds sterling, and will help to meet some of the demands of the troops in the Corps for some time to come, and will, incidentally, save tapping our own supplies and save transport, which, owing to so many bridges being blown up by the retreating enemy, is being taxed particularly heavily just now.

WHERE "CANADA" IS WANTED.

"Since leaving Seaford last August we have been well-nigh lost without Canada. In the time spent in England I had come to depend on it without realising it at the time, so that now I seem to be absolutely out of touch with all the doings of our chaps over here.

"I was wounded on September 30, and all the way down the line I tried to locate a copy of Canada, but all I could scare up was an early August copy at a Canadian C.C.S.

"Believe me, it would be worth while if some organisation would see to it that Canada was supplied regularly to our officers and men, or, rather, to the places they pass through on their way down the line after being wounded. A great many of us from the —— Canadian Division, wounded in the September show, were cleared through to No. — General Hospital (British), and most of us were there for a week. There wasn't a Canadian paper or magazine of any description to be had and all of us were wild to know how things were going. However, I hope now to ensure my own supply"

The "See Toos" (Second Divisional Theatrical Troupe) have been booked for a two weeks' run at the London Coliseum, commencing on Monday.

The Canadian Army Service Corps is at the present time feeding approximately 300,000 people. This number includes thousands of civilians in the French towns and villages lately freed from enemy occupation.

The third winter's session of entertainments given to wounded soldiers by the Cunard Line and staff was opened on Saturday afternoon in the Cunard Building, Pier Head, Liverpool. There were close upon 400 wounded soldiers and a number of nurses present.

Lt. John Henry Barnes, M.C., N.B. (died of wounds on November 2), was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Barnes, 260, Washington Avenue, Winnipeg. He left the city with the 61st Bn., but later transferred to another unit, and had seen a great deal of service. Lt. Barnes was awarded the M.C. last March. Before enlisting he was an employé of the Winnipeg Oil Company.

Capt. C. S. Burrows, C. Ont. (killed), had previously been reported missing. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Burrows, of Close Avenue, Toronto, he came overseas in 1916 with the 180th Bn., and went to France shortly afterwards. He was wounded and gassed in May, and wounded again in August. He was formerly in the Roadways Department at Toronto.

Hon. Capt. and Q.M. William McC. Calder, For. Corps. (accidentally killed in France on November 1), was the son of Mr. George Calder and Mrs. Calder, of Lachute, P.Q. He came overseas as a private in the First Universities Company, and saw considerable service with the P.P.C.L.I. before receiving his commission in the Forestry Corps. He was about 24.

Lt. Alex. C. Campbell-Johnston, Man. (killed), was the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Johnston, of Vancouver, and enlisted at the age of 15. His eldest brother, Ronald, was killed the following day.

Lt. G. P. Chisholm, Sask. (killed), was the son of Dr. Murdoch Chisholm, of Halifax. He came overseas two years ago with a Dental Corps draft, but last year was given a combatant commission.

Lt. R. W. E. Christie, Eng. (killed), was a second-year student of McMaster University, and received his preliminary training with the C.O.T.C. before coming overseas in 1916. He was the son of Mr. G. R. Christie, of Aylmer, Ont.

Lt. Vincent R. A. Crombie, C. Ont., wounded on October 11, died on October 26 at No. 20 General Hospital. He was the youngest son of Mr. R. B. and Mrs. Crombie, of Toronto, and was 21. His elder brother, Lt. C. S. G. Crombie, died in July, 1917, of wounds received at Vimy Ridge.

Lt. Donald Gibson, M.C., C. Ont. (killed), was the son of Mrs. R. G. Gibson, of Olds, Alta. He had spent most of his life in Toronto. A brother is serving with the 2nd Canadian Railway Bn.

Lt. Elwood H. Gorman, N.S. (killed), was the son of Mr. J. Gorman, Burtt's Corner, N.B. He enlisted in the 6th C.M.R. in 1915, and was slightly wounded before receiving his commission. He leaves a widow.

Capt. Charles H. V. Smith, C.A.M.C. (died on November 1 of lobar-pneumonia, following influenza), belonged to Montreal. He was 32, and graduated at McGill University in 1914. He went to France in July, 1916, and returned to England for duty the following December.

Lt. Ernest Grant Stevenson, M.C., C.R.T. (died on November 2 of influenza), was a brother of Dr. T. B. Stevenson, of Wetaskiwin, Alta. Lt. Stevenson came overseas with the Engineers as a sapper. He was awarded the M.C. in August for gallantry in an attempt to save two 12-in. railway howitzers.

Lt. William Stewart, Que. (killed on October 20), was a partner with his brother in the law firm of Stewart & Stewart, Montreal. He came overseas as a captain in the 148th Bn. under Lt.-Col. A. A. Magee, and was employed on Staff work in England and in France until October of this year. His widow was formerly Miss Tingling, of Montreal, who has lost both her brothers in the war.

Capt. Frank H. Tingley, M.C., C.F.A. (died on October 14 at an Anglo-American Hospital in France), belonged to Moncton, N.B. He was twice wounded, after which he returned to Canada on leave. On returning to France, he lost a leg as the result of an enemy bombing raid, and succumbed to the injuries then received.

Lt. Claud Handley Trotter, Alta. and R.A.F. (accidentally killed in Essex on October 13), was the youngest son of the Rev. J. C. Trotter and Mrs. Trotter, Ardrahan Rectory, Co. Galway, and was 23. Enlisting as a trooper in the Alberta Dragoons on the outbreak of war, he soon won his commission. He was twice wounded, once with the Alberta Regt. whilst rallying his men in a bombing raid, and again as an observer in the R.F.C., when his machine crashed and his pilot was killed.

Lt. Royland A. Walter, Alta. (died of wounds), belonged to Goderich, Ont., and was a Toronto University student before enlistment in the 161st Bn.

Lt. H. de Blois Wetmore, C. Ont. (killed), was the son of Mrs. Wetmore, of Cowan Avenue, Toronto. He was employed in the Dominion Bank of Canada before enlistment in the 134th Bn. early in 1916.

Lt. J. H. Wight, Man. (died of wounds), was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wight, 620, Thirty-second Street, Saskatoon, and enlisted as a private with the 36th Bn. three years ago. He was 21, and prior to enlistment was in the freight department of the C.P.R. at Saskatoon.

Imperial Forces

Lt. C. S. Booker, R.A.F. (died of wounds), was the son of Mayor Booker and Mrs. Booker, of Hamilton, Ont.

Capt. Peter H. Broughton-Adderley, Scots Guards (died on October 10 of wounds received the previous day), was the eldest son of Mr. and the Hon. Mrs. Broughton-Adderley, of Tunstall Hall, Market Drayton, and Barlaston Hall, Staffs. Educated at Eton and Oxford, he went to Canada in 1914, and, unable to enlist, he joined the R.N.W.M.P. at Prince Albert, Sask., and served for two years. Joining the R.N.A.S., he had to give up flying owing to a bad crash, and then transferred to the Scots Guards.

Capt. W. L. G. Foster, A.S.C., attd. South Wales Bord. (killed on July 2), enlisted in England in August, 1914, while acting as Canadian agent for a London firm.

Sec. Lt. Joseph Charles Lumsden, Northumberland Fusiliers (killed on October 12), was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lumsden, of Plessey Hall, Stannington, Northumberland, and was 30. He went to Canada in 1913, but returned early in 1915 to join the Yeomanry. He obtained his commission in the Northumberland Fusiliers last July.

Lt. George Alexander Moir, R.A.F. (accidentally killed on October 18), was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. James Moir, of Duke Street, Montreal, and was formerly on the pay office staff of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Sec. Lt. Cyril Lloyd Moubray, R.E. (killed on October 20), was the youngest son of the late Arthur Rolland Moubray and of Mrs. Moubray, of Kelowna, B.C., and was 23. Mrs. Moubray's eldest son, Major A. R. St. John Moubray, M.C., of the R.G.A., died of wounds some months ago.

Sec. Lt. Lamont L. Paterson, London Regt. (killed), was the only child of Judge and Mrs. George Paterson, of Furby Street, Winnipeg, and was 24. He came overseas with the 196th Bn., and gained his commission in the Imperial Forces in the autumn of 1917, going to France last August. Before enlisting Lt. Paterson was a law student with Messrs. Richards and Sweatman.

Sec. Lt. Frederick C. Robinson, R.A.F. (killed on August 17), was the youngest son of Mrs. James Robinson, of Ossington Avenue, Toronto, and was a student at the University. A member of the O.T.C., he joined the Flying arm in September, 1917, coming to England last April. Lt. Robinson was killed in an aeroplane accident in the South of England while acting as instructor.

Capt. James Arthur Stanley, M.B., R.A.M.C., attd. R. War. Regt. (killed on September 27), was the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Stanley, of Lucan, Ont., and was 25. He graduated from Toronto University in the spring of 1916, enlisted in the C.A.M.C., and subsequently obtained a commission in the R.A.M.C., with which unit he went to Macedonia. He returned to England last July and shortly after crossed to France, where he met his death.

Lt. Bernard H. Stata, R.A.F. (killed on September 28), came overseas about a year ago, and had been flying in France some four months when he met his death. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Stata, of Pretoria Avenue, Ottawa, was 22 years of age, and was employed by the Continental Bag and Paper Company, of Ottawa, before joining the forces.

WOUNDED, MISSING, AND PRISONERS.

Overseas Military Forces of Canada.

Lt. S. S. Bayles, M.M., Sask. (missing, believed killed), belonged to Winnipeg. He left that city in May, 1916, as a private of the 90th Regiment, was promoted sergeant, and was awarded the M.M. for gallantry at Vimy Ridge.

Lt. H. Campbell, M.M., Que., who was previously reported missing, is now unofficially reported a prisoner.

Capt. William J. Preston, C. Ont. (wounded and missing), enlisted in the 126th Bn., and went to another unit in the Field as signalling officer. He was 22, and received his captaincy last April. His mother lives at 234, Garden Avenue, Toronto.

Capt. Lewis Younger, M.C., Alta. (wounded), is the only son of Mr. Younger, of Marchmont, Kinghorn, Fifeshire. He enlisted as a trooper in the First Contingent, but later transferred to the infantry. Capt. Younger has been three times mentioned in despatches, was awarded the M.C. in March, 1916, and a Bar to it last January.

Imperial Forces.

Sec. Lt. Arthur M. Allan, R.A.F. (missing since September 29), was born in Toronto 21 years ago, educated at Upper Canada College, and was employed by the Canada Life Assurance Co. before joining the R.A.F. in October, 1917. He came overseas last May, and had only been in France about three weeks when he was reported missing.

Sec. Lt. Thomas Emerson Babbitt, R.A.F. (missing since July 15), belongs to Fredericton, N.B., and before enlistment was a jeweller's assistant in Boston, Mass. He enlisted a year ago, came to England last January, and had been in France a month. No information is available regarding Sec. Lt. Babbitt's fate, save that he is "missing." He has three brothers serving, namely, Lt. B. H. Babbitt, 1st C.M.R. Bn., France; Driver W. Le B. Babbitt, M.T. Coy., C.E., and Spr. S. B. Babbitt, C.E.R.D. The first-named asks that any information concerning his brother should be sent to him.

Writing from Orpington Hospital on October 26, No. 2393532 Pte. Hubert Elver says:—

> On looking through Canada of October 19 I came across the name of Lt. Sam. Kemp, Central Ontario Regiment, posted as missing. I believe I can give you some little information regarding Lt. Kemp, as I was with him at the time he was wounded; in fact, I dressed his wounds and was myself afterwards wounded whilst going for help to get him out. Mr. Kemp was first wounded in the right groin, and whilst dressing that wound on the field he was again hit in the muscle of the left arm. With the aid of another man and a brave effort on the part of Mr. Kemp we were able to get him on a rubber ground sheet, and to drag him on our stomachs to cover in a bivouac. There again I dressed his wounds, which were bleeding profusely. At the request of Mr. Kemp I started out for help, and finally located one of our stretcher-bearers, who offered to go back with me. It was whilst returning that I got hit in both thighs with shrapnel, thus putting an end to my mission. After dressing my wounds I told the bearer where to locate Mr. Kemp, but I judge from your report that the poor fellow never reached him. My equipment was left on the top of the bivouac, so if that was found Mr Kemp should also have been found

30 YEARS OF AGONY

A Human Barometer

"Curicones," the remarkable discovery of a London Manufacturing Chemist, is giving such successful results in expelling Uric Acid from the human organism, that all sufferers from any form of Gouty or Rheumatic trouble should write to-day for "The Story of a Rheumatic Cure." It tells how the most painful and chronic ailments can easily be cured at home by means of this new scientific combination. With every book a free trial package will be given, so enabling sufferers to give "Curicones" a free test. There is now no need to suffer or walk about like a cripple. Amongst the so-called hopeless cases which have been cured may be mentioned :--

GOUT

See what "Curicones" have done for Mrs. Watt.

"I have great pleasure in informing you that after 30 years of agony (Rheumatoid Arthritis) I am quite free from pain. I seem now in a new world altogether and cannot praise your 'Curicones' enough. I tell all my friends what they have done for me, hoping they may try them and so get the same benefit."

Can you doubt the efficacy of this new and simple home remedy with such evidence as this? Just realise what this lady feels like after being cured of such a distressing ailment—no more pain, stiffness, or swellings. "Curicones" will cure you as they cured her. Try them and see for yourself. They not merely relieve pain, but eradicate its very cause pleasantly, quickly, and surely.

have sanctioned "Curicones"—in our opinion one of the greatest distinctions in the annals of medicine. They cure when everything else has failed.

FREE. Just write, giving name, address, and ailment, and we will send you a sample package and an interesting little book.

"Peace with an unrepentant Germany would be treason to God and to our heroic dead, who gave their lives for the vindication of righteousness. . . . A Germany intact and unacquainted with invasion, while France and Belgium lie in ruins, would be a Germany cynically triumphant."—Toronto Globe.

Sir Edward Kemp, speaking last week at the Mansion House meeting on behalf of the Chevrons Club in St. George's Square, said the club was particularly appreciated by the men from Canada. It offered to our N.C.O.s, who have been rightly described as the backbone of the Army, a home in London where they might really enter without feeling that they were in any way the recipients of charity, and where they might be sure of finding congenial companionship amongst their fellows.

From several quarters requests have reached us that we should publish Routine Order No. 4844 respecting the payment of an additional outfit allowance to officers, matrons, and nursing sisters. The Order makes provision that :—

> An additional outfit allowance of $100 shall be paid annually to officers on the strength of and issued with pay and allowances by the O.M.F.C., who have completed 12 months' service since the last payment of outfit allowance was due, provided, however, that if an officer has received compensation for loss of kit, during any such period of one year, one half the amount of such compensation paid him will be deducted from the $100 allowance above mentioned. Matrons and nursing sisters of the Canadian Nursing Service C.A.M.C., on the strength of the O.M.F.C., shall be granted an additional outfit allowance of $100 at the expiration of each and every two years' service from the date the last payment of outfit allowance was due. The first payment is authorised as from August 1 last. Officers holding honorary commissions are not eligible for the extra allowance. The allowance will be paid to officers who are (a) prisoners, (b) interned, and (c) who may subsequently be so situated.

Notes on Officers.

Capt. D. Dewar, C.F.C., has returned to Canada on compassionate grounds.

Capt. F. D. Smith, B.C., has been transferred to the 2nd C. Ont.

At the request of General Currie, Capt. Ed. Archibald, the well-known Y.M.C.A. officer and patentee of a new military tump-line equipment, has left London for France.

Capt. "Bob" Rogers, of Winnipeg, late A.D.C. to General Turner, is on leave from France and is staying at the Carlton Hotel. Capt. Rogers is Adjutant of a Railway Troops Battalion.

Capt. A. B. Smith, who has for some months been employed in the A.G.1.B. Branch at London Headquarters, has returned to France to join his unit, a battalion of the Saskatchewan Regt. Capt. Capt. A. E. McKeever, D.S.O., M.C., of Listowel, Ont., who has been assisting Col. Bishop in the organisation of the Canadian Air Force, was this week taken ill whilst at Witney, Oxfordshire. Capt. McKeever, who has a brilliant reputation as a fighting airman, is said to have been selected to command a squadron of Canadian fliers.

Capt. John McNaughton, M.C., who was invalided to England last month, following an attack of dysentery contracted after the Amiens battle, has been appointed assistant to Capt. Sinclair in the A.M.S. Branch at the Records Office. Capt. McNaughton came overseas with the 42nd Bn. in June, 1915, and has served in France two years. After gallant front-line service, he was appointed A.D.C. to the G.O.C. First Division, and for two months acted as D.A.A.G. Prior to his illness he had been attached to Corps Headquarters. Capt. McNaughton was formerly an employé of the Royal Trust Company, Montreal. Capt. Sinclair, it is satisfactory to note, is making good recovery from his recent attack of influenza.

Lt. John Hodgson, P.P.C.L.I., who came overseas as a captain in the 135th Bn., is seriously ill with influenza and pneumonia at the 2nd London General Hospital, Chelsea. He was formerly with Messrs. Murray, Mather & Co., Toronto, and married Miss Dorothy Murray, daughter of Mr. Angus Murray, of Toronto.

DEEDS THAT WON THE D.C.M

439738 Pte. W. R. Blyth, M.M., Infy.

He made a daring reconnaissance prior to a raid, and in the raid itself led his section with great dash to the objective. Finding the enemy had withdrawn, he joined a party of one officer and six other ranks, and with them worked in several hundred yards, and lay and waited for the enemy, who appeared three-quarters of an hour later. In the fight that followed he was forward in the attack, and received a painful bayonet wound. Notwithstanding this, he seized one of the enemy and tried to bring him back as a live identification, but had to kill him The success of the raid was largely attributed to the firm courage and determination of Private Blyth.

He was in advance of his company as scout, and single-handed he rushed an enemy machine gun and killed the crew, thereby saving many of the lives of his own company and permitting the advance to proceed unchecked. He showed splendid gallantry and determination.

757048 Cpl. (Actg. Sgt.) R. Dunning, Infy.

His party suddenly encountered at close range a machine-gun crew of five. He immediately charged, and shot two of the enemy himself, two were bayoneted, and the fifth captured. Later, a dug-out containing eight of the enemy was found. These put up a stiff fight, but, by skilful leadership, he succeeded in killing them all. His section of seven accounted for nineteen of the enemy, with only two casualties to themselves.

476311 Pte. W. C. Gawley, Cav.

His horse having been killed, he immediately attacked on foot an enemy machine-gun detachment, capturing the complete crew of four men and the gun, and bringing the complete detachment back to his lines under heavy fire. His performance was splendid

MILITARY MEDALLISTS AT ORPINGTON.

71478 Sgt. F. A. Griffin, M.M., Infy.

During three days' hard fighting his reconnaissances were conducted with a complete disregard for his own safety, and yielded valuable results. His reports of our situation from time to time largely contributed to the successful handling of the troops in action. His energy and determination under heavy fire were admirable.

79399 Actg. C.S.-M. A. J. Gunning, M.M., Infy.

He was in charge of the mopping-up parties, and on reaching the first objective he entered a dug-out and himself killed two of the enemy. He led his party through to the final objective, supervising the mopping-up thoroughly. During the withdrawal he organised stretcher parties under machine-gun fire, and assisted in evacuating the wounded. He set a splendid example of courage and determination to his men.

16225 Pte. G. D. Hays, Infy.

When his platoon was suddenly held up by machine-gun fire, he rushed forward and threw a grenade into the emplacement, and, in company with another man, who was immediately wounded, he charged with the bayonet, and killed three of the enemy, taking three others prisoners. During the whole time he was under enfilade fire from another enemy machine gun. His conspicuous gallantry and dash were worthy of very high praise.

19495 Actg. B.S.-M. C. H. Hiscott, M.M.G. Bde.

With his motor machine-gun battery and attached cyclists he captured an enemy strong point that formed an important obstacle between ourselves and Allied troops on our flank. He reconnoitred the enemy positions personally under heavy fire, and his conduct of the whole operation was marked by great personal gallantry and sound judgment and determination.

2574306 Cpl. A. Jackson, Rail. Troops.

Though slightly wounded, he, with a sapper, went to the assistance of a battery near his railway line, which had had its camouflage wood and sandbags ignited by heavy enemy shell fire, and after fighting the flames for half an hour under continuous shell fire, they smothered the fire. They then repaired the line, which had been damaged by shell fire, and re-railed the train. Cpl. Jackson's fine devotion to duty saved the light railway train and much battery ammunition.

106315 Sgt. J. W. Johnson, Cav.

After his squadron had taken a village he located an enemy machine gun in the church, which was causing casualties to the squadron. With a small patrol he attacked the position, and by his courage and good leadership succeeded in capturing eleven prisoners and the gun.

931156 Sgt. R. Kidd, C. Ontario R

He was in charge of a section of an important raiding party. He rallied his men when some confusion occurred in getting through the enemy wire, and led them on to the trenches, where he took prisoners and dispersed the enemy with many casualties. He was indefatigable in his efforts to bring in our wounded under heavy fire Throughout the operation he was conspicuous for his courage and devotion to duty

45578 Pte. G. Kirkham, M.M.G. Bde.

He penetrated the enemy lines on his armoured car under intense machine-gun fire, and was able to obtain very valuable information. When the driver was wounded Pte. Kirkham drove the car himself and conducted operations for four hours under great difficulties. His gallantry and determination were admirable.

808065 Sgt. J. W. Loader, Infy.

For carrying out daring reconnaissances and definitely establishing the position of enemy posts prior to a raid; also in locating and taping the jumping-off line, a distance of 500 yards. During the raid, seeing one party held up, he went to their assistance and single-handed rushed the post killing two of the enemy. He set a splendid example of courage and determination.

He commanded the leading section of a raiding party. He displayed conspicuous courage and determined leadership, and was the first to get into the enemy trench, when he drove in the sentry and killed the non-commissioned officer himself.

When his officer fell he assumed command of the [raiding] party, and successfully led them to their objective. Here he pushed ahead down a small trench, found some of the enemy, and bombed them, inflicting casualties and returning with two prisoners. He displayed great courage and skilful leadership.

425266 Sgt. F. J. Rodwell, M.M., Infy.

In a raid he climbed on to the top of an enemy surface dug-out, from which the enemy were bombing freely, and dropped a bomb into it, killing twelve of the enemy. He then bombed two other dug-outs and killed eighteen more. Throughout the operation he set a splendid example of courage and leadership.

258409 C.S.-M. F. Scott, Rail. Troops.

When an enemy shell set fire to a dwelling-house containing petrol he fought the fire and extinguished it. He helped to carry out wounded from the débris and placed them in a field, where they were medically attended to. But for his prompt and gallant efforts the wounded would have perished in the burning house.

When his squadron leader was injured [in a charge] he greatly assisted in rallying parts of the troops who got mixed up in wire entanglements. When both troop leaders were put out of action he took command of the remainder of the two troops and held the position until relieved by the infantry. He set a splendid example to his men of determination and cool courage.

He successfully led the party to their final objective, and beyond the objective he inflicted considerable casualties on strong parties of the enemy by rifle fire; he also personally searched for a large dug-out under heavy machine-gun fire which the sappers were to demolish. He showed great gallantry and determination.

874279 Cpl. (Actg. L.-Sgt.) R. E. Watson, Infy.

He took command of the platoon when his officer had been wounded, and captured the objective in spite of intense machine-gun and rifle fire. Several enemy machine guns which were holding up our advance were taken. The very gallant and prompt manner in which this N.C.O. dealt with a difficult situation greatly contributed to the success of the attack.

Lt. A. F. Kemble, Suffolk Regt., who was wounded and taken prisoner in the Ypres fighting early this year, has been repatriated. Lt. Kemble was formerly an employé of the Royal Bank of Canada.

Trumpet-Major Smart, of the Fort Garry Horse, asks us, on behalf of Canadian soldiers, to express their thanks to some of the friends who have shown them kindness in Folkestone. In particular he mentions the hospitality of the Misses Upton, Mrs. Seath (Park Farm), and Mr., Mrs. and the Misses Logan. "Some of us," he says, "have been to France for two years, some three or more, and have returned to what seems like home."

C.T.S. LIGHT OPERA COMPANY.

"Live Rounds" Proves Excellent Entertainment.

The C.T.S. (Bexhill) Light Opera Company achieved quite a brilliant success with "Live Rounds," a "revusical operetta," presented to an enthusiastic audience. The operetta, we are told, was written "in a moment of despondency" by Lt. Arthur B. Baxter, but the production rather suggests that the librettist wrote it in a fit of mirth.

The first act depicted "A Cabaret in Torottowa," and was made the excuse for several excellent characterisations. Lt. J. Perkins as a "Pelmanist" sent the audience into fits of laughter, and others prominent in the cast were Lt. E. Le Messurier (as "Lilian Rustle"), Capt. P. Jerdan, M.C., Lt. J. Stevenson, Sergt. T. Murtagh, Major G. Paterson, M.C., Cadet L. Laurier, Pte. J. Clarke, Cadet G. Thompson, D.C.M., and Sergt. J. Foster.

Act 2 revealed a front-line trench, in which the "slackers" of the first act were translated into mud-stained warriors "doing their bit." Here French-Canadian cadets took a prominent part, the artistes including Cadets W. Irwin, C. Norbert, E. Des-Rosiers, and C. Becigneul, together with several of those already named as previously taking part.

Two of the features of the entertainment were the work of the chorus under Lt. Baxter, as musical director, and the violin solos of Lt. Le Messurier. The chorus consisted of the following:—Cadets M. De Laurier, P. Contier, G. Nicholls, W. Wright, F. Waters, G. Becigneul, S. Cook, H. Gaskin, S. Anderson, G. Sawley, L. Gatier, W. Hall, J. Foster, C. Nobert, Staff-Sergt. A. Wlison, Sergt. G. Grostick, Cadets W. Harrison, A. Driver, and W. La Rue.

Chief credit for the excellent show was due to Lt. Baxter, and he was ably seconded by Capt. R. N. Lyon (business manager), Major Paterson, M.C. (stage director and scenic artist), Lt. Lewis, Cadet W. D. Munro, and C.-S.-M. Jennings (scenic artists), and Sergt. Lee (property master).

NEW CADETS' CLUB AT SEAFORD.

Owing to its distance from any town of considerable size, the Canadian Training Area at Seaford is dependent in large measure for amusement on the recreational huts and clubs provided within the area by the Canadian military and Y.M.C.A. authorities. The opening last month, under Y.M.C.A. auspices, of the new Cadet Club was therefore an event of some importance.

The club is a wing of the home of a Greek prince, and possesses picturesque grounds. The cadets' comfort is guaranteed by the voluntary services of a number of English and Canadian ladies. Mr. Fennel (president) has spared no effort to make the club an ideal home for members, and Mrs. G. R. N. Collins, of the Toronto Branch of St. John's Ambulance, is in charge.

FEEDING THE LARGEST FAMILY IN THE WORLD.

An urgent appeal is being made by Dr. Barnardo's Homes for their annual collection of half-crowns for the Food Bill Fund. The provision of food for the Largest Family in the World (over 7,000 children) is a serious problem in these times of high prices. Last year 232,304 half-crowns were raised for this Fund as birthday gifts in memory of the late Dr. Barnardo, and the Homes are looking to the generous public in all parts of the British Empire to raise more this year, because the need is greater.

Gifts will be welcomed by the Honorary Director, William Baker, Esq., M.A., LL.B., at Headquarters, 18 to 26, Stepney Causeway, London, E.1. Cheques and orders payable "Dr. Barnardo's Homes Food Bill Fund," and crossed. Treasury notes should be registered.

OUR OBJECTS ARE:

1. To boycott the Huns after the War until they have made full atonement and reparation for their crimes against humanity, including the cold-blooded murder of 15,000 non-combatant sea-faring men.

2. To assist patriotic Labour to counteract the Bolshevik, Defeatist, and Pacifist influences which are helping the enemy.

Will YOU not Help ?

The Bolshie Bosses have plenty of money and they are asking for another £100,000.

We cannot believe that we shall appeal to the patriotic public in vain.

HONOURS FOR CANADIAN AIRMEN.

Stirring Records of Bravery and Initiative.

The following awards to members of the Royal Air Force, notified in the "London Gazette" Supplement, dated November 2, illustrate to what extent Canadians in that branch of the Service are distinguishing themselves. Our list is necessarily incomplete, and readers who notice omissions in it will greatly assist "Canada" in its compilation of Canadians serving in or seconded to the Royal Air Force. Photographs of any of the heroes whose names are given in the appended list will be gladly received by the Editor, and will be returned to the senders after use.

BAR TO D.S.O.

Capt. (Temp. Maj.) William George Barker, D.S.O., M.C. (Rathwell, Man.)

A highly distinguished patrol leader whose courage, resource and determination has set a fine example to those around him. Up to July 20, 1918, he had destroyed 33 enemy aircraft—21 of these since the date of the last award (second Bar to the Military Cross) was conferred on him. Major Barker has frequently led formations against greatly superior numbers of the enemy with conspicuous success. (D.S.O. gazetted February 18, 1918; M.C. gazetted January 10, 1917; 1st Bar, July 18, 1917; 2nd Bar, September 16, 1918.)

Lt. (Temp. Capt.) Henry John Burden, D.F.C., Forestry Corps (Toronto).

Since joining his Squadron in February this officer has accounted for seventeen enemy machines—twelve crashed, two driven down out of control, and three destroyed in flames on the ground during an attack on an aerodrome. On the morning of August 10 he led his patrol in three attacks and himself destroyed three enemy machines. In the evening of the same day he destroyed two more. Two days later he attacked a large number of Fokkers, seven of which were destroyed, accounting for three himself. In this encounter Captain Burden led his patrol with exceptional skill and daring. (The award of D.F.C. is also announced in this Gazette.)

Lt. William Gordon Claxton, D.F.C. (Toronto)—missing.

Between July 4 and August 12 this officer destroyed ten enemy aeroplanes and one kite balloon, making in all 30 machines and one kite balloon to his credit. Untiring in attack in the air or on the ground, this officer has rendered brilliant service. (D.F.C. gazetted August 3, 1918; Bar to D.F.C., September 21, 1918.)

Lt. Stuart Douglas Culley, Sea Patrol (Montreal).

Ascended to a height of 19,000 feet, at which he attacked an enemy airship and brought it down in flames completely destroyed. This was a most difficult undertaking, involving great personal risk, and the highest praise is due to Lt. Culley for the gallantry and skill which he displayed

BAR TO D.F.C.

A very determined air fighter who has destroyed seven enemy machines and brought down nine completely out of control during the past three months. His skill and initiative as a flight commander have made his flight very successful. Last month he destroyed two machines and brought down two more out of control in one day, and the remainder of his flight, at the same time, succeeded in disposing of several more enemy aircraft without sustaining any casualties. (D.F.C. gazetted August 3, 1918.)

Lt. (Temp. Capt.) Joseph Leonard Maries White, D.F.C. (M.G.C.)

In company with another pilot this officer recently attacked a hostile formation of fourteen scouts. One of these he shot down in flames, and a second out of control. Captain White not only displays courage and skill of a high order in attacking machines in the air and troops on the ground, but he has rendered excellent service on reconnaissance duty, obtaining most valuable information. (D.F.C. gazetted August 3, 1918.)

DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS.

This officer performed most gallant and meritorious service on August 21 when on contact patrol. In the morning, flying in the mist at 200 feet, and subjected to heavy hostile fire, he located our cavalry and the enemy positions. In the afternoon he made a most valuable and accurate report and situation map. While on this duty his pilot was wounded and forced to land just west of our lines; Lt. Anderson extricated him from the machine under heavy fire and carried him to a dressing station.

Lt. Herbert Axford, Can. Inf. (Winnipeg).

On August 16 this officer led his formation to bomb certain docks; these docks were exceptionally well guarded, and our planes were heavily handicapped by adverse weather conditions; moreover, the formation had suffered casualties, and his own machine was badly damaged; he nevertheless succeeded in reaching and bombing his objective in the face of an intense barrage. On the following day he again successfully bombed the same objective. Lieut. Axford has taken part in 34 successful bomb raids, inspiring all who serve with him by his personal courage and intense devotion to duty.

Lt. (Temp. Capt.) Gerald Gordon Bell, E. Ont. R. (Ottawa).

This officer has had numerous engagements with hostile aircraft, invariably displaying marked gallantry and leadership of a high order, notably on June 1, when he, accompanied by another pilot, attacked a formation of 12 enemy scouts; he shot down one in flames and drove down others out of control, only breaking off the engagement when all his ammunition had been expended.

Lt. (Temp. Capt.) William Otway Boger, Strathcona's Horse (Winnipeg)—missing.

This officer has taken part in 28 offensive patrols and 12 combats, accounting for four enemy aeroplanes—two destroyed in flames and two driven down out of control. As a leader he shows marked coolness and bravery, notably on a recent patrol when, as he was leading his four machines, he saw nine Pfalz scouts. Unable to rise to their height he led his patrol just beneath them in order to tempt them to attack. As the enemy did not respond he repeated the manœuvre; the scouts then came down, and in the engagement one was shot down out of control. Reforming his patrol, he met two more scouts, one of which he destroyed in flames.

This officer took a prominent part in a most successful low bombing attack on an aerodrome. He obtained a direct hit on the objective allotted to him. He further set fire to three enemy machines on the ground with machine-gun fire. On the return journey he attacked a canal boat, in each case flying at a very low altitude. A gallant and able patrol leader, who has destroyed three enemy aeroplanes and driven one down out of control, in addition to the three destroyed on the ground. (The D.S.O. awarded to Capt. Burden is also announced in this Gazette.)

Lt. (Temp. Capt.) Frank Morley Carter.
